Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; it restores the growth; and always gives perfect satisfaction to the color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the active organs to healthy activity, and prevents baldness. Thus it restores both the hair and its beauty. Thus brittle, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable, and strengthened; loss of regrowth with lively expression; falling hair checked and established; thin hair thickens; faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is mild and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft. Thus it prevents diseases of the scalp, which, under other conditions, would be impossible.

As a dressing for the hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful, and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft beauty and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy that is in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable it is, it does not represent a thousandth part of the recommendations which unsolicited offered by friends to friends in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but shrink from the publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, is an outspoken indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen.—I have for some months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 20 years I have been afflicted with the very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies known to the regular medical profession, but gain no benefit. Last fall the disease had spread at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by the change of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 50—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me incalculable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS, Auburn, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Fairs.

At the Wilmington Methodist Conference a resolution has been unanimously adopted, condemning "gift enterprises," and "gambling at church fairs." It is somewhat surprising that these practices, thoughtlessly indulged in and encouraged by a great many good people, have not been discountenanced by all church authorities. Though they do not seem to regard those lotteries and "chances" adopted to raise money for good purposes, in the light of gambling, yet they are in reality nothing else; and they are calculated to do great mischief in familiarizing young people with a species of demoralizing influences from which they should be seduously guarded. It is a long time since we felt obliged to banish all favorable mention of them from the columns of this paper, together with fairs generally. It would be a good thing, now that the movement has begun, for the leading people in our church congregations to try to find some other way to raise money than by "fairs" and "bazaars." They interfere sadly with the regular course of retail business; they injure the trade of a worthy class of retail dealers who are mostly women; they generally come at a season of the year when these poor people should be reaping their harvest after the long dull season of summer and fall; and they bring ... ry and gratuitous labor ... lies into competition with the labor of ... hav...

—"Do you believe in eternal punishment?" asked an inquisitive friend of an honest farmer. The farmer scratched his head in a meditative way, and then said slowly, "No, I don't; I'm a democrat."

—"Captain" said a fashionable lady to an old-fashioned naval officer, who stood up to go through a country dance with her without gloves; "Captain, perhaps you are not aware that you have no gloves on." "Oh, never mind, ma'am," answered the captain, "never mind, I can wash my hands when we're done."

—The introduction of compressed paper for railway wheels has been followed by the adoption of the same article in the manufacture of chimney-pots. These latter are made in Breslau, Germany, and are light and durable. Before the paper pulp is moulded and compressed into the required shape, it is treated with chemicals which render it non-inflammable.

—At the Whittier dinner Col. Higginson, speaking of the growth of Whittier's fame, referred to a time when a neighbor of the poet's on being asked about him said: "Oh, Whittier! He's the man what keeps a parrot." It was some one else, Col. Higginson said, who confessed at a later date that Whittier had won considerable renown as a poet, but attributed it entirely to Whittier's delicate health, which "prevented his giving his attention regularly to business!"

—The discovery in a Swiss lake dwelling of stone hatchets made of nephrite, a mineral which is now found only in China, leads Prof. Desor to descant upon the probability that the lake dwellers came from Asia, and brought these implements with them. The rarity of objects in nephrite is accounted for by the difficulties of the journey, and the fact that they were brought at all is considered to be proof that they were rare in China also, and accordingly looked upon with veneration. All this theorizing is gone into in order to avoid the hypothesis that there were formerly localities of nephrite in Europe which are now exhausted or covered up.—Galaxy.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 28th.

Lieut. Walton, Assistant Inspector of life saving service on the North Carolina coast, in obedience to orders to thoroughly investigate all the circumstances attending the loss of the Huron, has made his report after first examining, under oath, a large number of witnesses. Two of the points seemingly established by this investigation are that if the station nearest the wreck had been manned there would probably have been no loss of life; and that if the crew nearest had been promptly notified of the disaster, when one Evan O'Neil, a fisherman, first saw the vessel ashore a few moments after the Huron struck, there would have been sufficient time for it to have got to the vessel in season to have rescued most of the stranded crew. But instead of taking that course O'Neil seems to have leisurely landed, attended to all the details deemed requisite to insure the most ample returns possible from his fishing trip before informing any one of the drowning men on the beach, and then to have waited for his breakfast at home before going to the scene of the wreck. This man appears to have been as heartless and impervious to the promptings of humanity as the veriest savage that ever lived. While some of the fishermen that gathered on the beach when the men aboard the ill-fated ship were perishing, did their utmost to save the lives of those washed ashore, those of the O'Neil type appear to have been sufficiently numerous to have stripped every body that was finally rescued from the waves, of everything of the lightest value about their persons, the hands of some of the corpses being found shockingly mutilated by the violence used in stripping them of the rings worn. Lieut Walton says that on the ninty-one bodies found there remained not one trinket, such as the surviving friends would have cherished as relics of priceless value; and he finally concludes with a recommendation that precautions be at once taken against the disgrace of employing O'Neil in any capacity in the life saving service. From the tenor of the report it would appear that the names of quite a number of the other wretches who utilized the ghastly occasion to enrich themselves, might well and properly have been included in the list of those who have forfeited every right to the consideration and sympathy of their fellows.

Mr. Chandler has had a good many readers; and men of all parties appear united in the belief that nothing could be better calculated to drive President Hayes more to the opposition than for the the position taken by Mr. Chandler. Indeed, that would appear the only alternative that would be left him by such a declaration of a want of confidence in him from the party nominally supporting him. There seems no doubt that a portion—perhaps a majority—of the republican leaders would privately agree with Mr. Chandler in his condemnation of the alleged anti-republican measures of Mr. Hayes; but they regard such a public promulgation of their views as Chandler has given of his, as premature, and to the last degree impolitic under present circumstances. The impression is growing that the House will undertake a general revision of the tariff law. If so, we may expect to see republican arrayed against republican, democrat against democrat; for there are few statesmen extant with whom the appeals of the pocket would not be more potential than those of party were they called upon to decide between them; and with our vast extent of territory and our diversified industries it must be expected that the views of members of the same party will vary with the interests of the locality represented; that the distance between the extremely orthodox and the superlatively heterodox in theology, for instance Prime and Ingersoll, would not be found greater than that between the protectionist of Pennsylvania and New England and the free trader of the South or West. The press representatives of localities where vast amounts of wealth are massed are giving out notes of alarm over the indications they think they have discovered of a purpose on the part of representatives from those identical communities that have clamored loudest for remonetization, to re-enact the income tax law. If the inquisitorial features of such a law could be avoided in its execution, and the provocation it affords for lying could be reduced to its minimum through regard for public morality, I believe from what I see and hear that poor people and those of moderate means would regard the passage of any law which would certainly extort the proportional part the very rich should in equity pay, with a tolerable degree of resignation.

The response of some one evidently interested in the good name of the members of the Washington Monument Association, to some strictures of Clark Mills, tacitly endorsed by the Star, seems to ignore the fact that contributions have been constantly made since the last stone was laid on the uncompleted shaft; and it must be regarded as unsatisfactory.

KNOX.

The Eastern War.

Mukhtar Pasha has left Erzeroum. One account states he has been recalled to Constantinople, another that he has taken command of the small force in the field with which he will endeavor to keep his communications open. Ismael Hakki Pasha is in command of Erzeroum. The Russians have suspended the concentration of troops against that place on account of snow. They are making roads by tunnelling through the snow.

The London Advertiser publishes the following in official form: "We understand that the Sultan has solicited the British government to approach the Czar with a view to bring about negotiations for peace, and the British government has consented to do so." This statement is officially confirmed.

A special to the London Post from Bucharest says that the reinforcements ordered for the Russian army exceed 250,000 men. The army of the Baltic, numbering 90,000 men, is also being formed. Russia has bought 200,000 rifles in Berlin.

News and Notes.

U. S. S. Kearsarge arrived at Boston on Sunday, from Gibraltar Dec. 12th.

George Kimball, eighteen years of age, committed suicide by shooting, in Boston on Friday last.

Two silly young couples, all between the ages of sixteen and nineteen years, were walking on the streets at Woonsocket, R. I., recently, when one of the party "stumped" the rest to get married, and married they were within a very few minutes. The parents of the children were disposed to make a fuss at first, but finally concluded to make the best of it.

At one of the club dinners in Boston on Saturday a gentleman making a humorous speech read two extracts, and then said, "Gentlemen, one of these is cut from a lecture by Rev. Joseph Cook and the other from Daniel Pratt's last circular, and I defy any one of you to tell which is which." Singularly enough no one present was able to solve the riddle.

The case of Surgeon Draper, who was restored to the navy recently, after thirteen years' resignation, has received an unexpected check. Draper made informal application to the Fourth Auditor of the Treasury to have his name placed on a paymaster's books for pay, and for pay for the time from his resignation, in February, 1865, to the first of July last. The Auditor has shelved the application, and refuses to take action, on the ground that the action of the Secretary of the Navy was illegal, and there exists no power to so restore Draper to the service except an act of Congress.

Colonel of the Ninth United States Cavalry, and Colonel of the Thirteenth Massachusetts Regiment during the war, has just been tried at Fort Union, New Mexico, for disobedience of orders, disrespect to his superior officers, conduct prejudicial to military discipline and being drunk on duty. The trial was completed on the 19th ult., and lasted twenty-four days. Letters received from Fort Union state that every charge was fully proved, and that Gen. Dudley has undoubtedly been sentenced to dismissal.

Some years ago, Professor Maury prophesied that any alteration in the direction of the Gulf stream would reverse the history of the world. According to European meteorologists this change is taking place, and the mighty oceanic river is slowly but surely moving west. The temperature of America is gradually growing warmer at the expense of northern Europe.

Eugene N. Hultman, captain of the barque Roebuck, is held for trial before the United States Commissioner at Boston on a charge of brutal treatment of the steward, George Burdon, from which he died.

Confederate General Tucker, now democratic Congressman from Virginia, surrendered his sword in 1865 to Union General Keifer, now republican Congressman from Ohio, and Mr. Keifer is going to give it back to him.

Judge Pierce has denied the motion to re-open the case of the negro Brown, who shot the son of Hon. Wm. D. Kelly, in Philadelphia on Thanksgiving day, saying it would appear like vengeance, but he added another year's imprisonment for carrying concealed weapons and ordered that he be held in $2000 bail to keep the peace for a year after the expiration of his sentence. His former sentence was two and a half years imprisonment.

The Lawrence Eagle learns that the ex-engineers of the Boston & Maine Railroad, lately convicted at Portland for a conspiracy to obstruct the mails, have been notified by the District Attorney that if they will re-imburse the government for its expenses in the trial the motion for sentence will not be made, and it is understood the Court assents to this disposition of the cases. The amount is about $1500. If the offer is not accepted sentence will be pressed for, and will be from $1000 to $10,000 in each case, and imprisonment.

Theories of the so-called explosion of the candy manufactory in New York are yielding to the belief that there was really no explosion at all. The evidence tends strongly to prove that the floors of the adjoining building were heavily laden with goods, and that the walls giving way, carried down those of the candy factory. This tallies exactly with the statement of persons who were in the lower part of the building when the accident took place, and escaped, that it seemed to them that some heavy body struck the building from above, and crushed it to the ground. The walls of these buildings, it seems, were but twelve inches thick above the second stories.

John Murphy fell from the roof of the Deer Island Reformatory in Boston harbor, Friday, while attempting to escape, and was fatally injured.

Rev. Albert Case, a canvasser for the Golden Rule, was killed by the cars at Woburn, Mass., on Saturday.

There was another big fire in St. John, N. B., Saturday, by which $60,000 worth of property was destroyed and 200 men thrown out of employment.

Thomas Durkin, a Molly Maguire, has been arrested at Wilkesbarre, Pa., for complicity in the murder of Mine Superintendent Smith in 1863.

New Hampshire Items.

There is great excitement at Laconia on account of the liquor prosecutions. All the apothecaries have been arrested and bound over for trial. A man named Shaw, hailing from Lowell, and employed by the Reform Club as a spy, has been arraigned on a counter-charge of selling liquor at a house of prostitution near Lake Village, of which he is said to be a frequenter. He was held in $400.

Wm. S. Curtis, residing two miles from Hopkinton, was assaulted early Sunday morning in his kitchen, as is supposed by tramps. He was found by the neighbors covered with blood, and with severe gashes on the head. He was unable to give an account of the affair. It is thought he may recover.

The sixteenth semi-annual meeting of the Directors of the New Hampshire Fire Insurance Company was held Saturday, and the usual semi-annual four per cent. dividend was declared. The company paid during the year 215 losses by fire, amounting to $94,611.98. The receipts for premiums were $171,623.68; and from interest on securities $27,500.

H. D. Pierce, counsel for the women crusaders, on the war-path again, at the last regular meeting of the Nashua city government, presented claims of the complainants for one-half the fines that have been paid by the liquor dealers, which, he claims, they are entitled to. Those that have settled paid a fine of $50 and costs, which has been paid into the city treasury.

Writing For the Press.

Waste no time on introductions. Don't begin by laying out your subject like a Dutch flower garden, or telling your motives for writing. The key-note should be struck, if possible in the very first sentence. A dull beginning often damns an article; a spicy one whets the appetite, and commends what follows to both editor and reader. Above all, stop when you are done. Don't let the ghost of your thought wander about after the death of the body. Don't waste a moment's time in vindicating your production, against editors or critics, but expend your energies in writing something which shall be its own vindication.

—A Sign of Indigestion—"Gone to dinner. Be back in five minutes."

—"Is Governor Rice in?" inquired a seedy-looking man of the clerk of the Brunswick Hotel, Boston, a few nights ago. "Yes," said the clerk, "yes, he is." "Well," said the man, walking out, "I'm glad of it; it's a wet night and he might catch cold if he was out."

Books, Magazines, Etc.

ESSENTIALS AND NON-ESSENTIALS IN RELIGION.—This is the title of a neat publication of six lectures, delivered in the Music Hall, Boston, by Rev. James Freeman Clark, issued by the American Unitarian Association. These lectures were listened to with great interest and have been extensively read. The increased demand for their perusal, and other decidedly warm approval expressed by persons of various denominations, has led to their publication in the present neat and economical form. They are sold for the low price of fifty cents in cloth binding, or twenty-five cents in paper covers. The subjects of the lectures are: Faith and Belief, Christ and Christianity, The Bible, The Church and Worship, Christian Experience, and The Future Life.

THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC for 1878, is a political manual adapted for use among all classes—business men as well as politicians. It contains election returns from every State and Territory, a record of the Constitutional changes in various States, the most significant planks of the Party Platforms adopted in the leading States, the President's Inaugural and Civil Service order, list of diplomatic, judicial, and department officers, and statistical tables relating to foreign commerce, internal trade, banking and Government finance. A special feature is an elaborate series of tables relating to gold, silver and coinage. The Almanac has been compiled by Hon. Edward McPherson, for many years Clerk of the House of Representatives, and now at the head of an important bureau of the Treasury Department. The Tribune Almanac for 1878 is a hand-book that every one interested in public affairs will refer to a thousand times in the course of a year. Price 25 cts.; published by the Tribune Association, New York city.

THE CITY.

Happy New Year!

Write it 1878, now.

Don't forget your January dividends.

The pleasantest New Year's call to-day will be when you call and pay the little bills.

Wanted, at this office, two copies of the CHRONICLE of date Oct. 3, 1877, to complete files.

The post-office will be open to-day as follows: general delivery from 8 to 11:30 A. M. and 5 to 6 P. M.; box office open all day.

The plank walk on Miller avenue is appreciated at this season. Let us take off our hats to Mr. Tebbetts, the prime mover in this progressive idea.

Now that the mill-ponds are frozen over there is less of the felt presence of the bad odors from these unhealthy spots, and perhaps less interest in the removal of the cause of the offense. Both will revive by spring time.

The Children's Home was on Monday moved to the new quarters No. 9 Court street, the large house having been thoroughly prepared for the accommodation of the little people and those who have personal supervision of their welfare.

Mr. Nathaniel K. Raynes, of this city, has accepted a position as private tutor in the family of Mr. Leonard C. Cook, of York, Me., and will probably remain there until he is ready to go to Texas, where he formerly for some years resided and to which place he proposes to return.

Assistant Engineer Frank B. Randall, of the United States Revenue Marine, has been detached from the cutter Seward, stationed on the Texas coast, and ordered to the Dallas at Portland, Me. Mr. Randall is on a visit of a few days' duration to his friends in this city, and looks rugged and hearty from the effects of his sea airing.

The new vessel, building at Newburyport, to be owned by Capt. John S. Pray, William R. Preston, John T. French and others of this city, and M. F. Pickering & Co., of Boston, is to be barque rigged and named "Harvard." The engine of the Harvard is being built by the Corliss Co. Capt. Samuel Gray of this city, who is to command her.

A wagon driven by Master George Marcy and a buggy driven by Mr. Chas. Card of Newcastle met in a collision Monday morning at the junction of Pleasant and State streets. One wheel of Master Marcy's wagon was broken to pieces and the wagon otherwise damaged, and the driver was thrown out, but escaped unhurt.

Saturday evening, as a team occupied by Miss Esther Stringer and a companion was turning the corner of High and Hanover streets at a rather fast gait, it ran against the house on the corner and both women were thrown out. Miss Stringer's collar bone was broken. The team which they were driving belonged to E. W. Cochrane, and was badly smashed.—Times.

The closing entertainment by the Hutchings Association at the Universalist vestry takes place on Thursday evening, when the cantata "Fairy Bridal," from "Midsummer's Night's Dream," is to be presented with abbreviation. The Association will have the assistance of outside talent, and as rehearsals have been held for several weeks, the public can be sure of a fine entertainment.

A large number of coasting schooners and steamers were anchored in the lower harbor on Sunday afternoon, having run in for shelter from the storm which was threatening on Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning. Sunday night the wind blew brisk and cold from the north and east, and the clouds portended snow, but the sun rose clear on Monday morning, and December went out without a snow storm having occurred from its beginning to its ending.

THAT GREENBACK CLUB.

Ed. Chronicle: I wish to correct a statement or two made in Saturday's CHRONICLE. A Greenback Club has not yet been formed in this city, that I am aware of, but there is to be one. Personally, I am not in favor of repudiation, either public or private. I believe all honorable people (and I trust the vast majority of the people of this country are honorable) mean to pay their just debts, both public and private; but I do think that there should be a uniform currency based on the credit of the United States, and issued direct from the Treasury, a legal tender for all debts, public and private. Being based on property, every man will gladly give property for them. I can see no reason for the assumption that they will ever be "worthless," or that there can be any depreciation in them, if the law will make them a full legal tender for all purposes. When greenbacks were worth but forty cents on a dollar in gold, bonds were worth no more. It was because of the uncertainty of the result of the war. Now the bond buyer will give 110 cents for a bond, and the people will give 100 cents' worth of their property for a greenback dollar; and they want them and they will have them for the currency of the country, as long as the national debt hangs ever them. We are determined to reduce the interest-bearing debt, have money cheap and labor and products dear, instead of dear money and cheap labor.

Wishing to disseminate my views, and those of others who go farther, I invite all in sympathy with this movement to meet at the office of George E. Hodgdon, Esq., this (Tuesday) evening, for the purpose of forming an Independent Greenback Club.

G. J. GREENLEAF.

A Turk on the Terms of Peace.

A Paris telegram to the London Times under date of Dec. 6th, says: I have today received the following letter, dated Constantinople, November 29, the writer of which holds a position of trust connected with one of the highest personages of the Ottoman Empire:

"We are beginning here to open our eyes to the gravity of our disasters. Our military honor, patriotism, and fidelity to our faith are saved; but our cause we deem lost. We may still have a gratifying moment; we may still make our enemies pay dearly for their ultimate success; but that success we know we can no longer prevent. Our means are exhausted, our treasury is empty, our provisions are consumed, and our soldiers feel that they are advancing toward privation and death. As long as Kars held out our courage did not sink, but it fell with the walls of Kars, and the enemy, in passing them, dealt us a mortal blow. Plevna is now resisting, with heroic despair, and Erzorbrum is trying to arrest the enemy's march; but before these lines reach you, both will have undergone the fate of Kars; Osman will be vanquished or killed, and Mukhtar will no longer presume to style himself "the Victorious." What will then remain for us to do? Europe has abandoned us; nay, worse, it has condemned and delivered us up, because we preferred death to dishonor.

Germany hands us over to Russia. She is repaying her debt of gratitude at our expense. Austria would not mind if her complaisance were requited with slices of the Turkish body; but her insatiable desires will be balked. France played a Russian policy as long as she had a voice in the matter. Now she says nothing, because nobody listens to her any longer. Italy is watching Austria. She too, would like something, and she is waiting for Austria to furnish her with a pretext. The two nations will some day avenge us on each other. As to England, with her we are at present most angry of all. We hate her more than the Russians, and we would infinitely prefer to see a Russian fleet in the Bosphorus to an English one. We do not know whether those who call themselves Tories have done us the more harm, both parties have done their best to hasten our destruction.

The Russians are well aware that they will never enter Constantinople. We would sooner set fire to it ourselves, and recross the Bosphorus by the light of the flames. It might soon be done; from Stamboul to Pera, and from Pera to Galata, every one would lend a hand in it. Do not think these lines are written under the influence of a transitory and desperate state of mind. No, we think it, we wish it; we would do it, and we should carry with us the conviction and hope that from the heart of Asia, sooner or later, we should become mere menacing for Europe, cowardly Europe, than we are now in our capital, threatened with every misfortune, and abandoned to the rage of our conquerers. But you know us. In a week the wheel may turn; another Osman may restore our courage, and then we should regain hope, and perhaps victory. But alas! I cease to believe in it, and nobody here henceforth believes in it."

How Conkling Lives and Works.

Since Morton died, Conkling is the hardest working man in the U. S. Senate. Since the session of Congress began he has given eighteen hours out of every twenty-four to labor. His correspondence is more voluminous than that of any public man except the President alone, and besides the hundreds of letters that he answers with his own hand every week, he employs two private secretaries, who are both continually busy. At his seat in the Senate, Conkling is almost uninterruptedly engaged in answering letters. He generally comes into the chamber with his hands full, and while business is progressing, he reads them one by one, and as each is finished makes a memorandum on the back for the use of his secretaries in framing the reply. When the Senate adjourns he gets into his buggy, generally alone, and enjoys a short but rapid drive after his horse Douglass, a large black gelding with a coat like a mirror, and of this animal Mr. Conkling is very fond. He returns to his room, dines about six o'clock, and works till long after midnight.

He lives this winter in a couple of rooms in a house adjoining Wormley's Hotel, which he formerly owned. His quarters are neither sumptuous nor spacious, and merely come under the term comfortable, where he spends his evenings dictating to short-hand writers, writing himself, and entertaining company. He is quite exclusive, as so busy a man must be, and it is difficult to see him; but an hour in his society is a pleasure that a great many people envy. As a conversationalist Mr. Conkling has no equal. His recent visit to England made him famous there, and the London papers were full of his brilliant bon mots and repartees. In his habits he is as temperate as a monk, making tea his only stimulant, and eating only the plainest food. He uses tobacco only in the form of what is known as "a dry smoke"—that is, chewing the end of an unlighted cigar—a habit General Butler is also noted for. During the midst of his writing at night he often stops to swing a pair of thirty pound dumb-bells for a few moments, and will put on a pair of boxing-gloves whenever he can find an antagonist willing to stand up with him. At Utica, his home, he is a frequenter of a gymnasium, and has a great reputation as an athlete. If Gordon had challenged him, and if Conkling had accepted the challenge, the choice of weapons would have been his, and he would have chosen small swords, with which he is an expert.—Washington letter.

—"Yes, my son," said a fond parent to his attentive son, "the very hairs of our heads are all numbered." "Huh!" exclaimed the youth, gazing inquiringly upon the baldness of the aged parent's head, "that's nothing."

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 22, 1877:

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

This clear space is kept open till the police arrive and form a cordon.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all spurious dressings, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur
Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of old long standing cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.
J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest curers of all beasts, birds and human kind. Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers concerned, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S
STANDARD
REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If your feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness," In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

Dr. Pierce's
Pleasant
Purgative
Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Bilious Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a grand purging, but sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The use of Dr. Pierce's Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

It is a nervine of unsurpassed efficacy, and, while it quiets nervous irritation, it strengthens the enfeebled nervous system, thereby restoring it to healthful vigor. The following diseases are among those in which the Favorite Prescription has worked magic cures, viz: Leucorrhœa, or "Whites," Excessive Flowing, Painful Menstruation, Unnatural Suppression, Weak Backs, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion, Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensation, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, and Kindred Symptoms, common to those peculiar to women, but not mentioned here.
The following Ladies are a few of the many thousands who can testify to the benefit they have derived from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, from experience and observation:

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft texture and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And yet, whenever it is found that a great part of the recommendations which are to-day flowing from private friends into its favor. Prejudice and wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but which the publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, is an outspoken indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston.—Gentlemen:—I have for some months felt it to be a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 20 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 70—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me incalculable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at least arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable them to get this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS,
AUBURN, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Ages of Senators.

The correspondent of the Cleveland Herald in Washington, writes that the Senate of the Forty-fifth Congress contains, on the whole, a fairor average of talented men and wholesome physique than has any of its predecessors in American history.

The deceptive appearance, however, of advanced age worn by some of the young Senators, such as Edmunds, for instance, has caused your correspondent to look up the matter, and the following chart will doubtless be scanned with interest:

Sorrowful Story of a Depositor.

She descended the steps of the savings bank, and her eyes, red and inflamed, were full of tears. The woman, about thirty-five, had been weeping in the bank and her woe seemed to be too deeply seated to leave her at once. She was asked her story. In her trembling hands she clasped a well-kept bank-book in an envelope musty and brown. It showed a deposit of $167. Her thin lips quivered and a fresh deluge of tears came as she tried to tell of her troubles. "It was all we had in the world, sir. Days and nights Dennis and I have worked and worked and saved, sir. Every penny we saved together, and we did without clothes and things so that we might save something for us and the children when we're old. Dennis has been away these three weeks looking for work, and he brought me the news that the bank was shut up. I heard that a bank had shut, but I never dreamed it was ours. O Lord! this is a terrible blow to us. They just told me they could give no money to me—that they had none." The poor woman could say no more. Her tears told the remainder of her story, as she wept as though her heart would break. There have been many such scenes about the Reading Savings Bank this week. —Reading (Pa.) Engle.

An Appropriate Hymn.

The Rochester Express says: "The story is told, and it is said to be entirely true, that at the recent dedication of a Baptist church in this county the ceremony of immersion was performed for the first time in that church by a well-known Baptist minister of this city. When he had entered the water, and while waiting for the candidate, the minister suggested that somebody should sing an appropriate hymn. One of the deacons who stood near by heard the suggestion, and without thinking, struck up the familiar hymn, 'Pull for the shore.' The hymn proved to be so suggestive that neither the minister nor congregation could restrain an audible smile for some time, and the ceremony had to be postponed until the preacher could recover his gravity."

—Dr. L. B. Woolfolk of Lexington, Ky., says that the present mild winter vindicates his well-known weather theory that heavy cannonading draws the Arctic currents to the place of firing, taking with them cold weather and great snow-fully, and giving to the other part of the world mild weather and no snow. The cold at the Crimea in 1854-5 gave to this continent an open winter, and now the bombardment of Plevna is bringing us the same condition of weather as then.

The Eastern War.

A report from Bogot says: "After an exceedingly difficult passage over snow-covered mountains and frozen foot-paths, the vanguard of a Russian division has occupied the Balkan Passes between Arabkonak and Sophia, and cavalry have already been stationed on the Sophia road. The Turks were taken by surprise and consequently the Russians lost only five wounded. Along the eastern front, namely, the river Lom, the Turks have withdrawn from all their positions, leaving only small armed bodies, composed of troops and inhabitants. The latter, with arms, retire to the woods after burning their own villages."

Negotiations for the surrender of Antivari are broken off because the commandant demanded that the garrison be allowed to leave with all their arms, and even the artillery, and go to Scutari. The Montenegrins have recommenced the bombardment of Antivari.

It is rumored that the Turks have retreated from Sofia after burning it, and are marching toward the Ichtiman defile to bar the Russian advance upon Tatar Bazardjik. A despatch from Sofia to the London Telegraph reports a large Russian force already deployed on the plain in front of Sofia.

Storm Signals.

An order has been issued that hereafter an additional cautionary storm signal shall be displayed, as the occasion may require, at all the active signal and display stations of the Signal Service. The signal shall be displayed at and on the regular place and staff, and will consist of a white flag with a square black centre shown above a red flag with a square black centre by day, or a white light shown above a red light by night. This signal will be known as "cautionary off shore signal," and will indicate when shown, that while a storm disturbance is considered at the office of the chief signal officer as not yet passed for the port or place at which the signal is displayed, and the winds may yet be high and there may be danger, the winds are expected to blow from the northern or western direction or "off shore." At or near the port, or place where the signal may be, the display will often follow and must be distinguished from the display of the usual "cautionary signal," i. e., "a square red flag with a square black centre by day or a red light shown at night," which retains, whenever shown as above, its usual meaning. The display of either signal is always cautionary.

News and Notes.

Philip Martz, of Monroeville, Ind., was married Thursday. He gave a wedding reception Friday night. Uninvited guests gave the couple a "belling," whereupon the friends of Martz fired into the crowd, wounding nine persons, three seriously. Two of the firing party were arrested.

Prof. Henry of the Smithsonian Institute reports that Prof. Forrester of Berlin announces the discovery by Polisa, the 29th of December, of a planet of the eleventh magnitude, in seven hours eight minutes right ascension, 39 degrees 37 minutes north declination, possibly Eva.

George B. Bigelow, a well known Boston lawyer, has been arrested for embezzling trust funds to the amount of $40,000.

The dividends payable in Boston in January amount to over ten millions of dollars.

Gen. Geo. W. McCook, who died in New York, Friday, was an active democrat, who ran for Governor of Ohio on the democratic ticket, and was beaten by Governor Noyes, the present minister to France. He has been prominently mentioned in connection with the next United States Senatorship from that State. He served in the army of the Cumberland and Tennessee under Generals Rosecrans and Thomas, and took part in the battles of Stone River, Chickamauga and other notable engagements. Like his father and brothers he was noted for his bravery and was extremely popular among the officers and men of his command.

Indications are that England will soon have another Kaffre war on hand. The Nineteenth Regiment and a battery of artillery have been ordered to the Cape of Good Hope at once.

A heavy storm of wind and rain prevailed along the coast from New Jersey to North Carolina, Sunday, and many railroad bridges were carried away by freshets in the rivers.

A woman in a trance was recently buried alive in Naples. From the evidence brought before the Appeal Court it appears that she was interred with all the usual formalities. Some days afterwards, the grave in which she had been placed being opened for the reception of another body, it was found that the clothes which covered the unfortunate woman were torn to pieces, and that she had even broken her limbs in attempting to extricate herself from the tomb. The Court sentenced the doctor who had signed the certificate of decease, and the Mayor who had authorized the interment, each to three months' imprisonment for involuntary manslaughter.

John Mason was arrested at Perry, Me., Monday, and will be taken to Boston to answer the charges of bigamy and obtaining money under false pretences. The warrant is to issue for the first wife, for aiding and abetting. Mason deserted his second wife after the birth of a child, (the first wife acting as nurse during her sickness,) taking with him $300 of her money, and with the first wife returned to their native town, where they were found again living as man and wife.

New Hampshire Items.

No traces have been discovered of Jonas Brooks of Claremont, who recently disappeared mysteriously. On Sunday morning, Dec. 23, he rose at the usual time and went down stairs, and after opening the stove passed out of the door in his stocking feet, and has not since been heard from. Hundreds of people have searched for him, but without success. All hopes of his being alive are now given up, and it is believed he drowned himself. Mr. Brooks was about sixty years of age, a bachelor and a well-known citizen.

The following pleasant story of family affection comes from Plymouth, where dwell a father and son in one house. Two years since, while repairing the building, they got into a dispute, and both quitted the staging on which they were at work and left the tools sticking in the cracks, where they remained until recently, when the son finished the job. While at work they removed the windows of a sleeping room, whose female occupants, not to be outdone in stubbornness by the male members of the family, hung up quilts and occupied the room through heat and cold.

The Manchester Art Association is now giving its annual exhibition at the rooms in the Court House block. This is the only organization of the kind in New Hampshire, has been in existence quite a number of years, has very attractive apartments adorned with pictures and statuary, and enjoys the patronage of the community.

John M. Corliss, a highly-respected citizen of Oxford, by mistake took a dose of poison recently. Immediate and active efforts saved him.

Simeon Garland of Enfield, aged eighty-two years, astonished the people of that town on Wednesday by skating on Mascoma lake with the apparent elasticity of vigorous youth.

Work on the Hillsboro' and Peterboro' Railroad has been suspended for the winter. The grading, masonry and bridging are well advanced, and the rails will all be laid next season.

Eugene Farnham, twenty-seven years old, committed suicide in Boston on the 25th ult., by filling his pockets with stones and then jumping overboard. He had been living in Manchester, and was undoubtedly insane when he committed the act.

Political.

Senator Cockrell of Missouri is reported to be preparing a proposed amendment to the Constitution, declaring that no pension or compensation in any shape shall be granted to rebel soldiers, widows or descendants; that no compensation shall be paid for damages by either Federal or Confederate soldiers in the rebel States; and a third clause prohibiting secession.

A little more than three years ago, Senator Jones of Nevada declared in the United States Senate that "the sooner we come down to a purely gold standard, the better it will be for the country." At another time in the Senate he asked: "Does this Congress mean now to leave entirely out of view and to discard forever a standard of value? Did any country ever accumulate wealth, achieve greatness, or attain a high civilization without such standard? And what but gold can be that standard?" When Mr. Jones uttered these beliefs, for there is no reason to think that he did not believe them, silver had not suffered any large depreciation. It is worth ten per cent. less now than it was then. Although rolling in his silver millions Senator Jones demands that the whole country shall share with him the depreciation of his silver mines, for that is what it amounts to, and shall also change its view that something else than gold shall be the standard. In other words, Senator Jones wants this people to became a nation of demagogues because he is one himself.—Nashua Telegraph.

The closer we come to a real knowledge of the attitude of parties in the State, the clearer it is that the democratic party means the repudiation of debts and the spoliation of the National Government, both to be effected by the men who fought against the Union in 1861, and who now make the Solid South. The State of Tennessee is the latest instance in point. A letter, given on another page, makes it as clear as day that the same brave men of East Tennessee who were faithful to the Union are now faithful to the credit of their State and their country, and just as clear that the same men who betrayed the Union are now bent on repudiating in large part the debts of a State which is able to pay them all. Of the twenty-five representatives of East Tennessee in the two Houses of the Legislature, only five are now for repudiation, and all five are democrats. It is safe to say that all five, with their colleagues from Western Tennessee, are in favor also of repealing the Resumption Act, of raiding upon the National Treasury for subsidies and claims, and of repudiation, partial where it must be, total where it can be, and above all, of still further solidifying the Solid South. The writer of this letter asks the country to remember that East Tennessee is not responsible for this repudiation. The request will be granted, and it will be remembered also who is responsible.—N. Y. Tribune.

A Tramp Convention.

A convention of prominent citizens of Maryland has recently held a two days' session, at Baltimore, to consider the question of dealing with the hordes of tramps now overrunning the State. The result of its deliberations was the appointment of a committee of seven to urge upon the Legislature the enactment of more stringent laws for the suppression of trampism. The purpose of the legislation asked for is to make tramps and vagabonds liable to arrest and imprisonment, at hard labor on the roads or other public works at the discretion of the county commissioners, to secure the completion of houses of correction and the discontinuance of the habit of lodging and feeding tramps in alms houses and police stations. In short, it is the purpose of these laws to make Maryland the most uninviting State in the Union to a tramp, and to drive all of the breed into other commonwealths where the laws are less severe. The following definition of a tramp was arrived at: "Every person who wanders from place to place, having no permanent home, and lodges in barns, outhouses, or in the open air, and has no visible means of support, and begs for a living."

A Young Wife's Story.

On the 17th inst., Levi Short of Bethel found a female infant on the doorstep of his dwelling. The mother, who had abandoned her child, was traced to the residence of her parents in Morris and arrested. She said that she had no means of providing for the child, that her husband was without money and that it was arranged by them in Brewsters, N. Y., that she should go to her parents while he went in search of work. The parents were not cognizant of their daughter's marriage, and, fearing that she might be turned away if she carried the infant home the mother abandoned it in Bethel. When arrested, her mother asked her why she didn't bring the child home with her, as it would have been all right. Upon learning this the daughter was almost crazed with joy. She recovered her child and went happily back to Morris without being prosecuted. She had walked many miles, and suffered from cold and hunger. She is but twenty years of age and her husband only nineteen.—Waterbury (Conn.) American.

Refused to Join Forces.

Saturday night, about midnight, a widow woman, living on Montcalm street, heard a man fall on on the walk in front of her house, and raising a chamber window, she called out to the prostrate form to know if he was hurt.

"Noz much—thaz 'er way I allus come down in 'er winter sezen!" replied a thick voice.

"Will you, mazam? Shanks! I've been lookin' all 'roun' f'r more'n two hours! Shoon's you commence ter holler I'll join in, so's t' get him 'ere 'fore I freeze my ears any further! Now, zhen—oo-oo-ooop!"

But she wouldn't.—Detroit Free Press.

Divorced and Remarried.

Some time ago the citizens of Mendota were surprised to learn that a married couple, who had apparently lived in peace and harmony in Illinois, had been divorced in Kansas. The mystery is now explained. The husband had homesteaded 160 acres of fine farming land, and there was another 160 acres adjoining not yet taken up. The pair were divorced, the widow entered the vacant quarter section, and established her claim as the head of a family. When it was done the pair were remarried, and now have a fine farm of half a section.—Ottawa (Ill.) Times.

—A Covington, Ky., grocer brought a table castor for a Christmas present to his pastor. It cost a dollar, and he put a tag marked fourteen dollars on it. Next day the reverend gentleman brought the castor (with tag attached) back to the grocery-man, and said to him, "I am too poor in this world's goods to afford to display so valuable a castor on my table, and if you have no objection I should like to return it and take fourteen dollars worth of groceries for my family in its stead." The merchant could do nothing but acquiesce, but fancy his feelings.

What a Paper Costs.

It costs less than half a cent a day to take a weekly paper; less than a diligent hen would earn in a month at the market price of eggs; less than a cigar a fortnight, and a very cheap one at that; less than the barber would charge by the year to keep one's hair trimmed; less than a good-sized Christmas turkey; less than an energetic kitchen girl will waste in a week. A penny a day can be saved in many a better way than by stopping your paper.

THE CITY.

The Fairy Bridal!

The Hutchings Association close their course of entertainments Thursday, with the cantata "The Fairy Bridal."

The Jackson Hill street extension was laid out on Monday, the County Commissioners having decided that it should be done.

There was no work on the navy yard, New Year's day, that being (and having for some years been) a recognized government holiday.

Mrs. Frank P. Hill and Mr. Stacy G. Moran received the prizes as being the best dancers at the New Year's eve dance, at Mechanics' Hall.

The W. T. L. Lyceum entertainment at Franklin Hall this evening should be largely attended, for the music will be superior and the proceeds are to be devoted to helping the families of reformed men.

Naval Constructors Theodore D. Wilson, Edward Hartt and Frank L. Fernald will hold an inquest on the U. S. S. Ticonderoga, at the navy yard to-day, to determine the nature and extent of the repairs required upon her.

U. S. S. Tallapoosa arrived at the navy yard from Boston, Tuesday evening. She left Boston Monday, but put in to Gloucester for a harbor Monday evening, leaving there after noon on Tuesday and arriving as above. She brings stores for the navy yard.

Sheriff Kent will sell at auction at his office, at ten o'clock this (Wednesday) forenoon, one of Dugall's (of London) celebrated double-barrelled, central-fire, breech-loading fowling-pieces, with all gear complete. It is one of the finest guns in the country, and cost between $400 and $500 in London.

The first entertainment (musical) in the W. T. L. Lyceum course will be given this evening, by Miss Alice I. Carl, and a male quartette. Season tickets $1; evening tickets 20 cts.; for sale at Kimball's drug store, Myers' and Goodrich's bookstores, of the committee, and at the door of Franklin Hall, where the entertainment is to be given.

The republicans of Ward Three held their caucus on Tuesday evening, and elected the following delegates:

State — Clarence B. Mason, William Sladen;

Councillor—Jacob Haddock, Charles H. Hayes.

Senatorial—Elijah Clough, Samuel S. Whidden;

County—Charles A. C. Gray, Jonn Turner.

The number of arrivals at this port from foreign ports for the year ending Dec. 31, 1877, was 36, viz: 1 steamer, 3 brigs and 32 schooners, with a registered tonnage of 6260 tons. During the same period 638 vessels arrived from coastwise ports, viz: 26 steamers, 2 barques, 3 brigs and 607 schooners with a registered tonnage of 118,432 tons. Total number arrivals, 674, with an aggregate tonnage of 124,692 tons—an increase over 1876 of 70 vessels and 34,231 tons.

Sagamore Lodge, No. 258, Knights of Honor, on Monday evening elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Dictator, Edwin H. Leslie; Vice Dictator, Stephen W. Clarke; Assistant Dictator, Charles H. Marston; Reporter, Clarence B. Mason; Financial Reporter, Shirley B. Cunningham; Treasurer, George A. Mudge; Chaplain, William C. Newton; Guide, Oliver M. Knight; Guardian, Alfred M. Lang; Sentinel, John S. Perry; Representative to Grand Lodge, Clarence B. Mason; Trustees, E. G. Pierce, Jr., Plumer D. Norton, William C. Newton.

In accordance with an invitation from the Pearl street Free Will Baptist church of this city, a council met here on Tuesday to advise that body in reference to the settlement of Rev. Eleazer Owen as their pastor. Mr. Owen, who was recently an Advent preacher, has changed his doctrinal views and become a Free Will Baptist. The council was organized by choosing Rev. O. T. Moulton of South Berwick, moderator, and Rev. G. C. Waterman of Dover, clerk. After a searching examination of the candidate the council voted unanimously to recommend him to the fellowship of the denomination and to advise his settlement as pastor of this church. In accordance with this finding, Mr. Owen will commence his pastorate next Sunday.

The following vessels are engaged in winter fishing out of this port: Schooners Sarah E. Babson, Mitchell; Forest Maid, Post; Miantonomah, Bradley; Comet, Pierce; Ella M. Johnson, Furlong; Nettie M. Adams, Thurlow; Mary J. Adams, Perkins, and Mary E. Smith, Short, all of Newburyport. Schooner Lightwing, Bowdy, of Gloucester. Schooners George Linwood, Burke, and Blanche Creamer, Creamer, of Biddeford. Schooner Pluribuster, White, of Kittery. Schooners Julia A. Tarlton, and Norma, Baker, of Salem. Schooners Can't Come It, Robinson; Rover's Bride, Caswell; Flying Cloud, White; Mary S. Hontvet, Hontvet; Grace Choate, Anderson; Mary E. Caswell, Randall; Celia, Allen; W. H. Y. Hackett, Jameson, and Anabel, Haley, all of Portsmouth.

The owners of the brig Clara J. Adams, we are informed, express themselves entirely satisfied with the manner in which the repairs have been made under the superintendence of Mr. Wm. F. Fernald, and consider the brig now quite as good as when she first came off the stocks. When she entered this harbor she was rated A 1, and since her repairs were completed she has been re-rated A 1 1-4, the inspector acknowledging that she was just as good as ever, and that only the fact of her having been wrecked prevented him giving her her original rating. She is coppered eight inches higher than formerly, and other minor improvements have been made. She will go from this port to Halifax and there load shooks for Havana; at the latter port she will take in a cargo for Liverpool. She will be commanded by the captain who had charge of her when she was wrecked, and is expected to sail on the 3d inst.; but whenever she goes she will take a tow down the river, having had all she wants of fooling around our harbor ledges without a tug-boat.

The Fairy Bridal!

THE CITY GUARDS.

On Monday evening we were present, by special invitation, at the inspection of the Portsmouth City Guards by Col. D. J. Vaughan, Inspector of State Militia, at their armory hall on Congress street. This company was organized five years ago, and Major Vaughan chosen as the first captain; previous to this there had been no military company in this city, but the organization of the Guards seemed to arouse the military spirit here and other companies were soon formed, drawing largely from the membership of the Guards, until now the company has but five of its original members. For two or three years this company did not show the discipline and proficiency in drill which has characterized and given reputation to other military organizations of Portsmouth; but the inspection Monday evening showed that a new spirit has been infused into the company, Col. Vaughan expressing himself as more than pleased with the soldier-like bearing of the boys and their improvement in drill, and complimenting them on the excellent care taken of their arms, as evidenced by the good condition in which he found them. The uniforms, having had five years' wear, do not command the pride of the company; but the State has lately awakened to an intelligent interest in the militia, and new uniforms and improved arms will be distributed which will put our militia on a level with that of most other States. The City Guards number fifty-two active members, thirty-three of whom were present at the inspection. The officers are: Captain, James E. Ford; First Lieut., L. T. Burnham; Second Lieut., Edward F. Hickey; Company Clerk, Charles E. Pindar. There is to be a competitive drill among the members; and at their next public parade we shall look to see them take their place high up among the best-drilled organizations of the State.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. Jerry Keefe, a resident of Greenland, who for a long term of years has been baggage master at Newmarket Junction, has been appointed a machinist in the navy.

The physician attending Mrs. Charles A. Bennett of Newmarket Junction, who was shot by a tramp named Ryan, announces that she is now slowly improving. Should any change for the worse occur County Solicitor Small will take her ante-mortem statement.

The republicans of Newcastle organized for the campaign on Monday evening, Dec. 31st, the officers of the club being as follows: President, William A. Meloon; Vice Presidents, John W. Amazeen, John W. Bickford; Chairman of Executive Committee, John Ed. Yeaton; Secretary, Charles E. Whitehouse.

We find the following in the Boston papers of Tuesday: "The case of Joshua Drake and his sons Justin and Elmer, of North Hampton, who were recently arrested for an assault with intent to kill Freeman Drake of that town, who is a brother of the first named, has been privately and satisfactorily adjusted by the referees to whom the case was given. Freeman has now nearly recovered from the terrible injuries then sustained." This "private and satisfactory adjustment" of a grave criminal charge is something we do not fully understand. County Solicitor Small (if we remember aright) caused the arrest of Freeman Drake's alleged assailants on a charge of assault with intent to kill; if they were guilty, we fail to understand how any person can "privately" allow them to escape punishment, any more than he can "privately" punish them—it is a question for the courts, either way. The whole case is a most unhappy one, but the compounding of a felony on account of the previous respectability of the parties engaged in it does not seem the proper thing to do. If an attempt to kill can be "privately and satisfactorily adjusted" without recourse to the courts, why cannot murder cases be disposed of in the same way? We are inclined to think there is some error in the statement quoted.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The dwelling house and stable of Stephen Grant in Berwick, Me., were burned Monday night. Loss $5000; insured $4000.

Mr. Donnell Weare, of Cape Neddick, had three dandelions in full bloom in his garden on the 31st day of December, 1877. Not a bad crop to be able to display on the last day of the year, in bleak New England.

Mr. George T. Bragdon, of York, who has been engaged in the meat business for a year past, is preparing to erect a large ice-house. Mr. Bragdon is an energetic young man, and deserves to be a successful one.

The young ladies and gentlemen of Cape Neddick called on Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Grant, Thursday evening, to tender their congratulations and good wishes, and were very agreeably entertained by the apparently happy couple.

AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC is now ready for delivery by the druggists, and we are free to say that we have read this welcome visitor with satisfaction and profit. It contains an astonishing amount of information which is useful to everybody, and shows how to treat nearly all the diseases from which people suffer. It invariably recommends the best remedies to be employed, irrespective of Ayer's Family Medicines, and furnishes, indeed, the best medical advice by which a great majority of ailments can be treated successfully. The anecdotes, witticisms and jokes are the best compilation that comes under our notice, and the book is a refreshing contribution to our enjoyments every year.—St. Clair Observer.

That honesty is the best policy is shown by the unprecedented success attendant upon the determined efforts made by the Louisiana State Lottery Company to establish a rigid and inflexible rule as to the conduct of the monthly distributions made without ever any scaling or postponement at New Orleans on the second Tuesday of each month. The public have everywhere recognized that this organization has done everything possible to secure fairness, and given its well earned approval. The next distribution is on the 8th of January, 1878, and memorable as the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans.

Health is an inestimable jewel. The cough that deprives you of it may take your life too. One bottle of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar will avert the evil, and save you from consumption. Will you weigh Life against a half-dollar? Sold by all Druggists.

Has been in use over forty years. Price, 25, 50, and 75 cents per bottle.

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 22, 1877: "A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

Josh Billings on Grandpas.

The grandpa iz an individual, aged somewhere between fifty an a hundred years, of a promiskous temperament, and is a kommon occurrence in all well regulated families. Next to a healthy mother-in-law, they have more business on hand, than any other party in the household. They are the standard authority on all leading topics, and what they don't kno about things that took place sixty-five years ago, or will take place for the next sixty-five years to cum, iz a damage for any one to kno. Grandpas are not entirely useless; they are handy to hold babies, and feed the pigs, and are very smart at mending a broken broom handle and sifting coal ashes; and are good at putting up the close line on wash days. I have seen grandpas who could churn good, but i konsider it a mighty mean trick to set an old fellow of eighty years to churning butter. I am a grandpa myself, but I won't churn butter for no concern, not if I understand myself. I am solid on this konklusion as a graven image. I am willing to rock the baby all the time while the wimmen are biling soap. I am willin to kut rags to work up into rag carpets, they can keep me huntin' hens' eggs on wet days, or picking currents, or I will even dip kandles, or kore apples for sass, or turn grind-stun, but bi thunder i won't churn. I have examined myself on this subject, and i will bet a jak knife, so long as he remains in his right mind Josh Billings wont churn. As a general thing grandpas are a lot of konceited old phools who don't seem to realize that what they have themselves iz the result ov experience, and the young people have got to get their knollege in the same way. Grandpas are poor help at bringin up children; they have got precept and katekism enuff, but the children seem to understand that grandpa minds them a heap more than they mind grandpa.

—Gold is like a good book. It opens and closes and is much quoted.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment. The White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest conquerors of all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? Can anything cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have contributed all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only some of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Nature in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attack, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair their efficacy of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, the daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

IT IS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition will turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often restores the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for lighter hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered. We feel offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, and valuable as it is, it must not represent a thousandth part of the recommendations which are to-day offered by friends to friends in its favor. Economy of wealth and refinement in philanthropy may daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but aside from publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, is an outspoken indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen—I have for some months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 20 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome disease. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Lately the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The change of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 70—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me incalculable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If the statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS,
AUROA, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Alone in the World.

The man who has no family ties, no sympathizing companions, no genial relations with his fellow-men, is properly said to be "alone in the world." But such utter isolation can only be the result of will. Even the unfortunate who has outlived all who were nearest and dearest to him, and can say with Logan, "Not a drop of my blood runs in the veins of any living creature," may find friends who will, in part at least, supply the places of the dead. We hear sometimes of people who have been soured by misfortune or injustice, retiring from the world. The more fools they. The world can do without them, but they cannot do so well without the world. The more they mope in solitude, the more unhappy they must necessarily become, for man is constitutionally gregarious and social, and cannot live a hermit's life without violating the conditions upon which his mental health depends. The most terrible punishment which the law can inflict upon a criminal is the living death of perpetual solitary confinement. What downright idiocy, then, it must be to seek in loneliness a balm for sorrow. It will be said, perhaps, that the consolations of religion may be enjoyed by those who abandon the active duties of life, and seclude themselves from their fellow men. We doubt the truth of the theory. Religion, real religion, is active, social, beneficent, not inert, morose and selfish; it seeks to soothe the sorrows of others, and not waste itself in idly moping over its own grievances.—Ex.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1878.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 31.

A shocking outrage was recently perpetrated in the northeast section of this city. The victim, a girl about sixteen years of age, was waylaid soon after dark, dragged into an alley, and left nearly dead from the brutal treatment to which she was subjected and from fright. The better class of the residents were much excited, and lynch law was openly advocated. A negro suspected of the crime was arrested and tried, but the evidence was not sufficient to secure conviction. The impression was made that had it been much more conclusive, the colored jurymen would have resisted a verdict of guilty. This appears founded on a generally prevalent feeling that the matter of color would have unconsciously influenced them, even were they conscientiously striving to render a verdict in accordance with the law and evidence. The acquittal of the accused exasperated many, and this feeling of distrust seems to have extended to the whole colored population. Last Friday evening a somewhat similar outrage, but more brutal and revolting, was committed in the same neighborhood. The girl was knocked down and beaten until unconscious, and she was found in that condition hall sunk in the mud-bed where she had been dragged by her miscreant captor. The barking of a dog first attracted the attention of some one happening by, who immediately summoned police aid. The girl is very seriously, though probably not critically, injured. This new provocation aroused the vicinity, and had the offending beast been caught he would have been summarily punished at the nearest lamp post or tree. Of the two men arrested, the first was liberated when the victim declared him innocent of the assault; she was not satisfied as to the identity of the other, and it was only this doubt she expressed that saved him. He now awaits her recovery, in a station house; and should she then decide him guilty, only the most ample police protection will insure him against bodily harm. A large meeting of the residents of that section was held Saturday, at which many speeches were made, openly or tacitly encouraging this lynch law spirit. The colored residents are to be warned by 500 conspicuously posted notifications that they must disprove the suspicions now harbored against them by zealously co-operating in the efforts to capture and punish the brute, or they will be accounted in sympathy with him and treated accordingly. Volunteer patrolmen were designated for duty in addition to the insufficient police force allowed that part of the city; contributions were solicited and made to carry out the various suggestions adopted by the meeting, and Congress is to be memorialized to change the penalty for this crime from imprisonment to hanging. The fact is, these are only incidents of the general spirit of reckless criminality largely dominating the National Capitol. Hundreds of respectable people declined leaving their homes Christmas day—were virtually prisoners in their own homes—because of the control exercised that day by the ruffian element. Drunkenness is rampant and on the increase. Gamblers are warned of every raid meditated against their establishments in some mysterious manner, and altogether morals are rarely at a lower ebb. KNOX.

News and Notes.

Brigantine Nebo, which sailed from Prince Edward's Island Dec. 20th, has been lost with all hands, nine in number. She was wrecked on the island, and several bodies have been found.

There was a severe snow-storm in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick on the 1st inst., and railroad trains were greatly delayed.

The two missing daughters of Mrs. Bliss of Fairlee, Vt., who were supposed to have committed suicide by drowning, are now known to have taken a downward train of cars on the night of their disappearance, and it is feared they are still travelling the downward road.

A despatch from Garland, Col., Jan. 1st, says: "A reign of lawlessness and bloodshed prevails here. Four men were shot yesterday in a saloon, and last evening George M. Clay, a lawyer, entered Concert Hall, and had a dispute with the bar-keeper, whom he cut with a knife, and was then himself shot through the temple."

The champion jury has made its appearance at Shawneetown, Ill. There was a decided difference of opinion between the members as to the guilt or innocence of a man who was on trial for murder, and so they agreed to draw lots for the man's life, the majority to rule. They pulled straws and nine out of twelve pulled for conviction, and so the unfortunate man was sentenced to be hanged. The secrets of the jury room leaked out, however, and a new trial was ordered.

The Boston Herald has been struggling to frame a definition for a "tramp," which should not include too many people. After long deliberation, it proposes the following for the dictionary of the future: Tramp—An impecunious gentleman of superabounding leisure, who perambulates the country ostensibly in search of employment, but in reality a vagabond, demanding money and food, and giving no recompense, either in money, labor, or ideas, therefor. An unauthorized forger on the country at large. Synonyme—Beat, dead beat, bummer, swinger around the circle, etc.

It snowed all day at Halifax, Jan. 1st, and in the western part of Virginia there was snow enough to delay the trains.

The widow Oliver, upon inflection, is not satisfied with the amount paid her by ex-Senator Simon Cameron, as settlement of the alleged breach of promise, but has carried the case into court again and wants more money. She has engaged several lawyers to conduct her suit. It is the general belief that it is simply an attempt to levy blackmail.

In the old burying-ground at Newport, R. I., is a curious head-stone, which chronicles the death of a son and daughter of William and Desire Tripp, "also his wife's arm," amputated Feb. 20th, 1776. The age of the arm appears to be omitted, but it was doubtless interred with decent ceremonial. A portrait of the arm is cut upon the gravestone.

R. D. Yates, the checker champion, played thirty-two games of checkers in Springfield on Tuesday and won twenty-six, the rest being drawn. His ten games with George B. Allen, the local champion, stood: Yates, seven; drawn, three.

The Milwaukee Sentinel says that the venerable Mrs. Hennessey of Eldorado, Fon du Lac county, Wis., aged 104, hung up her stocking for the hundred and second time on Christmas eve. She is very feeble, and doubts if she will see another Christmas.

Mrs. Lois Hastings, the wife of Elder Robert Hastings, formerly of Vermont, is now living in Groton. She has a daughter who has a daughter, and that daughter has a daughter (the youngest of four daughters) who has a daughter, making five generations, all smart, and they often meet together and have a jolly time. Mrs. Lois is 87 years of age.

The Concord Monitor mentions the discovery of a very large bowlder in Nottingham, at the foot of Pawtuckaway Mountain. It is 62 feet long, 40 feet wide and 50 feet high, containing about 70,000 cubic feet and weighing nearly 6000 tons. Within a quarter of a mile of this huge stone are eleven other bowlders, each estimated to contain about 50,000 cubic feet. The same journal is authority for the statement that the so-called Green Mountain Giant, on a hill in Whitingham, is the largest bowlder in the State of Vermont. Its estimated mass is 40,000 cubic feet.

One of the happy households at Concord, Christmas, was that of Mr. J. B. Rand, whose little ten-year-old granddaughter, Emma Rand, had come all the way from Chicago alone to make him a visit. She was put under the care of the conductors, and made the various changes without making mistakes until she reached Montreal, where she missed one train, but came on in safety in the next, and reached her destination without mishap. When she gets ready to go back, she will very likely be able to make the 1100 miles journey without so much as the conductors' aid.

Political.

The South Carolina "rifle clubs," having effectually put down republicanism in that State by murdering the leaders and intimidating the rest, have now turned their attention to the national officials. A "rifle club," one hundred strong, recently surrounded the U. S. revenue officers in the northern part of the State, and compelled them to release two men who had been arrested for evading the payment of the internal revenue tax on tobacco. These rifle clubs want to be conciliated some more.

The Tennessee legislature has adjourned without making any provision for payment of the interest on the State debt, thus virtually repudiating it for the present. The creditors offered to take fifty cents on a dollar, but the State refuses to pay them anything. It goes without saying that the Tennessee legislature is overwhelmingly democratic—as has been the case with every repudiating legislature of every State since the declaration of American independence.

There is a strong effort to prevent the re-election of Senator Dennis from Maryland, on account of his inflation ideas, and his bearing towards the remonetization of silver, and the shrewdest politicians in the State express a belief that Dennis will be defeated.

Col. F. W. M. Holliday was inaugurated Governor of Virginia on the 1st inst., at Richmond, with a vast deal of display and pomp. Gov. Holliday's inaugural address is an able document, and takes the strongest grounds for the maintenance of the State credit, making the points that the debt was created to provide improvements which the State now possesses, and from which it daily derives a profit; that the war effected no charge in the relations between the State and its creditors; that no one should question the obligations of the debt, the laws under which it was created, or the benefits conferred upon the State by the prosperity its proceeds brought, and that the General Assembly should direct its utmost efforts to the question how to pay, and denounces the course of those who seem to strive to show how not to pay. The address declares that Virginia cannot escape her liabilities, which all men acknowledge, except by a process similar to a schedule in bankruptcy, with the surrender of the assets, and concludes the subject with a declaration of the belief in Virginia's ability to meet these, her obligations. Great applause greeted these sentiments. The Governor seemed to consider the debt question the only one of real importance before the people of the State.

The annual message of Gov. Robinson to the New York legislature is squarely in favor of resumption of specie payments at the time specified in the Act of Congress of 1873, and of a sound currency.

Another county in South Carolina has been carried by the republicans, in spite of the great work of reconciliation developed by the gentle process of bulldozing. So soon as enough votes had been counted to reveal the result, the magnanimous democrats seized upon several ballot-boxes, under a thin pretence of fraud, and we are gravely informed that the election will not be decided till the Legislature meets in January. It is feelingly remarked by the editor of the Charleston News that "it is rather disgusting that a democratic defeat in Beaufort should be succeeded by a democratic defeat in Sumpter," but he stands up stoutly for a lawful abiding by the result.

A Million Stamps.

It has been often said that patience and perseverance will accomplish wonders, but it is not often illustrated so forcibly as in the following instance. A case has just come to light where a lady over sixty years of age has collected, with her own efforts and the help of her friends a million of old postage stamps in the short space of three months. The facts of the case are as follows:

Some time in October, an aged lady in New York city, finding herself without the means to procure the necessaries of life, made application to various parties for assistance in obtaining admission to the Saint Luke's Hospital for women in that city. One gentleman to whom she applied asked her if she were willing to make a great effort to obtain the desired end. She replied that it was not much that she could do, but her will was good, and she would try. The gentleman then replied: "If you will collect one million of old postage stamps I will pay you the $300 needed to obtain admission to the home."

The old lady was at first discouraged, and thought that she would never be able to gather the required number, even with the assistance of her friends, the gentleman giving her permission to obtain the stamps from whatever source she was able. However, as she was a person of much energy and courage, she began in earnest. She first sought the assistance of some friends of better days, when she was known and blessed by the poor of the city for her charity and benevolence, days when her husband was a rich and honored merchant and she had enough and to spare.

She was fortunate in finding two ladies noted for their energy in works of charity, Mrs. Gibbins and Mrs. Halstead of New York. To these ladies she stated her desire and they promised to aid her. Their plan was as follows: To call at many of the offices in the city and ask that all the stamps on the letters received might be saved. Mrs. Gibbins also wrote to the wife of Mr. E. G. Champney, the artist, of Boston, requesting her assistance. Mrs. Champney at once commenced work. She informed her friends of the scheme and requested their assistance.

The enthusiasm with which this idea was received was wonderful. Children commenced to watch for letters that came to their houses with almost as much impatience as any lover watches for the dainty, perfumed notes from his heart's idol. Men and women on receiving letters would proceed to cut off the stamp before reading the epistle. From hundreds the number became thousands and ten thousands.

Last week all that was wanted to complete the amount was ninety-four thousands. On receiving the contributions from various sources this week, it was found that they had one million and five thousand, and on informing the gentleman who takes the stamps of the fact he offered to give another free bed in Dr. Burghart's Hospital for a second million, the bed to be disposed of by Mesdames Gibbins and Halstead to the most deserving person known to them.

On being informed that her home for life was ensured the lady expressed her gratitude to the kind friends who had assisted her. Although having had the assistance of many, the lady has gathered by her own personal efforts over three hundred thousand stamps in the past ten weeks, or an average of thirty thousand in a week or five thousand in a day.

The stamps on being received were counted and tied up in packages of one hundred each, and then ten of these packages were tied together, and in this form they were sent to the gentleman who has agreed to furnish the money.

What final disposition was to be made of the stamps was for a long time a matter of much curiosity. It was then ascertained that they are to be sent to Europe to be used in the manufacture of papier mache goods, the paper of which the stamps are made making them very desirable, and the mucilage also adding to their strength. The million stamps, packed in the manner described, fill an ordinary Saratoga trunk.—Boston Post.

THE CITY.

See the Fairy Bridal to-night!

Some of our best local musical talent will assist in the rendering of the cantata —"The Fairy Bridal"—to be given in the Universalist vestry this evening.

The U. S. S. Kearsarge arrived at this port on Wednesday afternoon, from Boston. Her crew will be paid off here and discharged, and the ship put out of commission.

The Independent Greenbackers did not succeed in permanently organizing their club on New Year's evening, as they proposed. A number of them met in the office of George E. Hodgdon, Esq., but adjourned to the evening of the 7th inst., without electing officers.

After many days, a snow-storm set in on Wednesday, Jan. 2d. It was no great of a snow-storm, not much over an inch in depth having fallen before night; but it was the best one of the season, so far. There was a thick fog with it, and the Whale's-back trumpet was tooting throughout the day. During the night the storm did better, and a good coat of snow was spread out before morning.

We are requested to make a correction regarding our account of Rev. E. Owen's affiliation with the Free Will Baptist denomination, and his assumption of the pastorate of the Pearl street church. Mr. Owen, we are assured, has not in any way changed the belief he held when pastor of the Advent church, though his belief was found to be entirely in unison with that of the examining council of Free Will Baptists.

The fishermen say the fog-horn is a "big thing" in their favor, helping them wonderfully in making the harbor in thick and stormy weather. They are now able to run for the entrance with confidence, feeling assured that they will be able to pick up the sound of the horn before being themselves picked up by the rocks; in any moderate storm they can hear its friendly boo-o-ing several miles away, and in light weather have heard it outside the Shoals.

The Dover Democrat of Monday says: "The Strafford Guards of Dover are to be inspected to-morrow evening by Assistant Inspector General Daniel J. Vaughan of Portsmouth, and the Light Battery on the following Friday." We have noticed the bestowal on Col. Vaughan of the title "Assistant Inspector General," by quite a number of the State newspapers. There is no such office as the one thus designated. Col. Vaughan is "Inspector and Mustering Officer of the Militia," is not an "Assistant" at all, and has no assistant in the execution of a duty he is thoroughly qualified to himself perform.

See the Fairy Bridal to-night!

MASONIC INSTALLATION.

On Wednesday evening R. W. P. M. John R. Holbrook installed the officers of St. John's Lodge, as follows:

Thomas J. Mitchell, W. M.;
John S. Whidden, S. W.;
Thomas R. Martin, J. W.;
Isaac Dow, Treas.;
John H. Cheever, Sec.;
Robert King, Chaplain;
Alfred J. Hill, Marshal;
William H. Lovell, S. D.;
George H. Tripp, J. D.;
John Macrombe, S. S.;
Langdon M. Perkins, J. S.;
William B. Randall, Tyler.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

The Board of Instruction met on Wednesday evening. Present, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Wilson, and Messrs. Gardner, Pender, Shannon, Wendell, Sherburne, May, Hackett and Hutchinson.

Reports of grade committees were read and accepted.

Dr. Sherburne presented request of the writing-master that a team be furnished him to visit the suburban schools. Voted that he be excused from attending those schools for the present.

Dr. May reported that the High School Committee recommended that Miss Hoopers's salary be raised from $500 to $600, and Miss Magraw's from $350 to $400. All matters pertaining to the High School being by law left with the High School Committee, no action was necessary on the part of the Board.

Adjourned to the 16th inst.

THAT PRIVATE ADJUSTMENT.

"Dick" of the CHRONICLE, after copying our item that the Drake imbroglio at Hampton Falls has been privately and satisfactorily settled, sees fit to add: "We are inclined to think there is some error in the statement quoted." In reply, we can confidently say to "Dick" that it cost only $62.50 to "privately and satisfactorily settle" that murderous assault case, which sum was paid to Mr. Freeman Drake.—Times.

Our neighbor seems to have slightly got hold of the wrong end of the stick. In the first place we didn't copy "our item" from the Times at all; we took it from the Boston Post of Tuesday morning, and gave due credit to "the Boston papers of Tuesday," the item not appearing in the Times until Tuesday evening, —and then without credit being given. And what we questioned was, not the probability of the parties to the quarrel having settled the matter so far as they were concerned, but the compounding of a felony by the officers of the law,—for that is just what it seems, to the non-professional mind, to amount to. An assault with intent to kill is felony; this charge was made against certain persons, the ante-mortem deposition of the assaulted person having been taken at a time when it was thought his injuries would result fatally; the County Solicitor moved in the matter, and the accused persons were arrested; and what puzzles us is, to know how the case can be settled by the payment of money, outside of the court. Right here is where the wonderful knowledge of the Times will be appreciated,—if it will only tell us why, if the County Solicitor or Sheriff or anybody else can "privately and satisfactorily adjust" a case of attempt at murder, they cannot "privately and satisfactorily adjust" a case of murder, as well?—But perhaps the Times and CHRONICLE refer to two different affairs; the assault the Times speaks of it says occurred in Hampton Falls; the one we referred to occurred in North Hampton.

THE VICINITY.

The new school-house at South Seabrook was dedicated on the evening of New Year's day, the officers of the town and the clergymen, school committee, former teachers and others, participating in the services.

YORK, Jan. 1, 1878.

Ed. Chronicle: Messrs. S. W. & C. H. Junkins, for eight years successful merchants at York Corner, have sold out to Messrs. Willis G. and Allen C. Moulton, —brothers, and young men, natives of York. The transfer of goods takes place to-day. The cause of this sudden and unexpected sale is unknown to the public.

In my last communication your types make me say "S. W. Norton is Postmaster." It should be "S. W. Junkins."

Happy New Year to all your readers.

Yours, P.

The Supreme Judicial Court of York county (January term) opened at Saco on the 1st inst., Judge W. Wirt Virgin presiding. George Manent of Kittery, Leonard C. Cook of York and Joseph Allen of Wells are members of the grand jury. Isaac D. Phillips of Kittery Point, Joseph J. Sawyer of Kittery and Samuel S. Littlefield of Wells, are drawn to serve on the Second Traverse Jury. William H. Sweet of York and Howard Staples of Eliot are drawn among the supernumeraries. Over five hundred cases are on the continued docket, with a large number marked for trial.

An old gentleman of Kittery, ninety-one years of age, who won't allow the good old times to be outdone, says that in the winter of 1818-19 no snow fell until the last of February, and that on Feb. 10th, 1819, he saw "living green grasshoppers crawling among the grass." Another old gentleman of Kittery, who is over eighty years old and is in very comfortable circumstances, but who cannot break off the habit of industry he has followed throughout his long life, has for some little time past been engaged in digging a well for a neighbor, going to work each day as soon as it is light enough to see, and sticking to the work until dusk.

Life in California.

Says a returned Californian:—Yes, it is a wonderful country—wonderful! Big trees—enormous centipedes, every leg a sting, stinging while they crawl over you —fifty legs—making five thousand stings while they crawl over your leg. Enormous crops when they get 'em—once in two or three years. Wind in San Francisco? Blows a gale in San Francisco every summer day from nine o'clock in the morning until four in the afternoon. Sand and desert? No grit, gravel and pebblestones; and as for sand alone—pure sand—it drifts four feet deep over the pavements and covers lamp posts. Yo Semite? Grand, sublime, and half a dollar toll every forty rods. Rattlesnakes —long ones in the mountains, short on the plains—short and thick—look like Bologna sausages, and lying by dozens about the puddles. Country parched and dry as a brickbat in summer—no sod—no grass—and hot! Cook an egg out of doors anywhere.

Cool in Francisco? Yes; too cool half the time for comfort—and fog every day, morning and night—fog, thick, damp, nasty, and clammy. Scorpions in the country—sting with their tails—feels like a red-hot knitting needle run through you—they get into your boots at night, and start you out of them on the double quick in the morning. Yes, delightful country; so much that is new to see, feel, and think about all the time—especially feel. There's the yellow jacket, a cross between the wasp and the bumble bee—settle on the table while you're eating—bores holes in the beefsteak, and carries off half an ounce at a time, and stings like fury if interrupted. Stocks—mining stocks? Yes. People are frequently bitten by them awfully—half the cases are fatal. Such a variety of the works of nature in California. Mosquitoes? Yes. Going by river to Sacramento, clouds on clouds of them. Verdure in the country? Yes. Poison oak—touch it and your hand swells to the size of a peck measure.

Old California? Old miner and '49er? Grand, noble, generous, large hearted. Western man? Yes. Always drinks when asked, lives much of the time in saloons, trousers ten years old, tied about the waist with rope yarn—hat no rim, not much crown—came round the Horn in '49, hasn't washed himself since—lives in a cabin hard by, 9x12, on salt pork and flour—gray shirt, never washed—can talk of nothing else but the "ounce a day he made in the winter of '50"—splendid type of manhood and smells like a distillery. Wonderful country—garden of the earth —everybody calling out for Eastern capital to come and develop our mines. Dust on road? Yes, much fine dust, red, like pulverized brickbats. Land of gold and everybody ready to take your greenbacks. Live there? Yes—when I can't live anywhere else.

—There is a tramps' cave at Meriden, Conn., and a very merry-dert they make of it.

—The Supreme Court of Georgia has decided, in the case of a murderer that "to be too drunk to form the intent to kill, he must be too drunk to form the intent to shoot." This decision will not be welcome to those criminals who steep themselves with liquor when they wish to do some dastardly deed.

—It is related as actually true, that a young lady, recently walking in the country lanes near Tennyson's home, met a gentleman who at her approach deliberately took out a handkerchief and spread it over his face. Having had no intention of staring at the stranger, she marvelled at the evident measure of defence and hurried past, not without trepidation; but the daughter of Eve, of course, turned round before she was out of sight, and beheld Mr. Tennyson going on his way unveiled.

Pain Talk.

There is a preservative principle in Sozodont that effectually preserves the teeth from decay. Chemists pronounce it wholesome. Rich and poor endorse it. No lady ever tried it without approving its cleansing and purifying properties. It outsells all other dentifrices. Ask for it and take no substitute.

Every live man believes in Spalding's Glue.

AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC is now ready for delivery by the druggists, and we are free to say that we have read this welcome visitor with satisfaction and profit. It contains an astonishing amount of information which is useful to everybody, and shows how to treat nearly all the diseases from which people suffer. It invariably recommends the best remedies to be employed, irrespective of Ayer's Family Medicines, and furnishes, indeed, the best medical advice by which a great majority of ailments can be treated successfully. The anecdotes, witticisms and jokes are the best compilation that comes under our notice, and the book is a refreshing contribution to our enjoyments every year.—St. Clair Observer.

That honesty is the best policy is shown by the unprecedented success attendant upon the determined efforts made by the Louisiana State Lottery Company to establish a rigid and inflexible rule as to the conduct of the monthly distributions made without ever any scaling or postponement at New Orleans on the second Tuesday of each month. The public have everywhere recognized that this organization has done everything possible to secure fairness, and given its well earned approval. The next distribution is on the 8th of January, 1878, and memorable as the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans.

Health is an inestimable jewel. The cough that deprives you of it may take your life too. One bottle of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar will avert the evil, and save you from consumption. Will you weigh Life against a half-dollar? Sold by all Druggists.

Has been in use over forty years. Price, 25, 50, and 75 cents per bottle.

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 22, 1877:

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and we gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

Growth of the Telegraph Business.

Mr. W. J. Johnson, speaking of the early days of the electric telegraph in a work on telegraphic matters, called "Lightning Flashes," says: The first public telegraph line in this country was erected in 1844, and ran from Baltimore to Washington. In the following year—thirty-two years ago—a single wire was erected to an obscure office beneath the "Express" office at 16 Wall street, New York, and two wires from Washington terminated in a small room over the ferry house in Jersey city, where three operators easily, and not very continuously, performed the whole telegraphic system of the city of New York. The entire telegraphic system of the United Kingdom consisted at the same time of a single line to Nine Elms, and a small office at 334 Strand, London.

Things have changed very materially since then. One company alone in this country now operates about 250,000 miles of wire, nearly 8,000 offices, and handles about 25,000,000 messages in a year. The Western Union main office in New York has 500 employees, including one hundred and twenty-five ladies. In the central office in London, as many as 1,500 persons find employment, including 850 ladies. The number of words which pass through this one office alone in a week, is equivalent to several hundred thousand messages. These immense establishments are but the growth of a little over a quarter of a century.

—Mexico ought to be called the "mothers of Presidents." She has had fifty-six of them in fourteen terms, an average of four to a term.

—When the Prince of Wales writes his autograph in full he adds to his other titles that of "Citizen and Mercer and Grocer and Fishmonger and Goldsmith and Merchant Tailor and Clothworker."

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of this eventful struggle has secured for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the consideration that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independence within the Republican Party, for the best way to the interests of the party is most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with which the Party first came into political prominence dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of Republicanism accomplished. It will maintain the highest standard of partisan obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the gradual readjustment of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and manufacture. It will not, however, oppose all plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by law, or to pay the national creditor on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve the credit of the nation, or to the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost earnestness the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrants in the South in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not delay to point out that Northern confidence and amnesty must find their return in the enforcement of even handed justice and scrupulous regard for the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

In influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The abundant excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has this advantage, that its resources, and how well they are made use of, are known to all the reading and thinking men of the United States. Its voluminous foreign correspondence for the last year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of a highly-important epoch. The events in Eastern Europe, where during the coming year will be treated with the same fullness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of events that now belong to the past.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No theories subversive of the principles on which the succession of the Republic and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated among the young. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper specially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a comprehensive view of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from stiff joints, Tumors, and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvelous. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.
J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Honey
To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverish-ness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castorin is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. When the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," as its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect a complete cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots in front of body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and loosey feeling, or unusual appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative influence. Age does not impair their efficacy, as they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden-boxed boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, in defiance of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the in ling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable as it is, it does not represent a thousandth part of the accompanying testimony which are to-day offered by friends to friends in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to us (the regular medical profession, but shun the publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'S EXPRESS, is an outspoken indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen,—I have for some months felt the duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 20 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age (over 70—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me incredible, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained. Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS,

AURORA, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

MARY'S LOVE LETTER.

"So you won't marry Hawkins Jessup," said Squire Bergamot, knitting his black eyebrows together, until they formed an ominous black bar across his forehead and nearly frightened his bright-eyed daughter out of her senses. But Mary Bergamot stood bravely to the guns of her little citadel.

"No, father," said she. "Oh, how can you ask me, father, when you know I don't love him, and never can." "Never is a long word," said the squire.

"Yes, papa, I know that," said Mary. "But, indeed, I mean it."

"You mean it, do you?" said the squire in low and measured tones. "Now, let me tell you what! It isn't that you don't like Hawkins Jessup, but that you have been goose enough to go and fall in love with that young idiot, George Lake!"

Mary turned very red.

"Papa!"

"There's no use mincing matters," said the irate squire. "An artist, indeed! Why don't he go into white-washing and painting and get a decent living?"

"But papa—"

"Needn't attempt to argue with me, miss!" said Squire Bergamot, sternly. "I'll have none of it, and so I tell you. If George Lake comes into my house, he'll be put out very quick! And so you may tell him."

So saying, the squire strode out of the room. Mary looked after him with soft, sorrowful eyes. She was a delicate, oval-faced girl, with sunny brown hair and straight features, as unlike the rotund and positive squire's as light to darkness. But, as she put down the iron with which she was "doing up" her father's shirts—Squire Bergamot would have thought it a crying sin to employ a laundress while his daughter enjoyed her ordinary health—she leaned up against the window where the arrowy sunbeams came in through the tremulous veil of heart shaped morning glory leaves, and drew from her pocket a note written in a strong, masculine hand.

"My Dearest Mary.—I love you. Will you promise to be my own wife, spite of all opposition? Will you tell me so with your own lips?

Ever yours, faithful to death,

GEORGE."

How her eyes glittered as she read and re-read the short and simple lines, pressing them finally to her red lips.

"I do love him! I will be his wife!" she murmured. "And I will tell him so the very first opportunity I get. Only papa!"

A momentary cloud stole over her serene brow at this, but it was transient.

"I don't believe in elopements," said Mary Bergamot, still riveting her eyes on the sheet of paper in her hand. "I never did. But if papa still persists in opposing our marriage, I will leave my home and go out into the world, hand-in-hand with George."

Just as this revolutionary thought passed through her mind the door creaked on its hinges. A heavy, well known footstep sounded on the threshold.

"It's papa!" cried Mary.

In her consternation our poor little heroine could not find the entrance to her pocket in the multitudinous folds of her dress. For a second she was in imminent danger of detection; then she hurriedly thrust the incendiary document into the yawning mouth of a paper bag of choice seed-corn, which hung by the kitchen window. And the next instant Squire Bergamot was in the room.

"Mary," said he, "go upstairs to the left-hand corner of my middle bureau drawer and get me a clean pocket handkerchief."

And Mary went out with a dubious glance at the nail on which the bag of "Early Sugar Corn" hung.

When she returned the room was empty, and Squire Bergamot was just climbing up into his lumber box wagon, in front of the picket fence.

"Bring it out here," said the squire. "I'm going over to Miss Polly Pepper's to get my empty cider cask. She might had the sense to return it herself!"

He stowed the pocket handkerchief away in his pocket, and was just taking up the reins when Mary rushed out again, crimson to the very roots of her hair.

"Father, that bag of seed corn?"

"Oh, it's all right—it's all right," said the squire, placidly. "I promised a little to Miss Polly Pepper, and this is already shelled."

"But, father," gasped poor Mary, "let me tie it up first."

"Nonsense," said the squire. "I just folded over the top, and it'll go as snug as a thief in a mill, right atop of my bags of meal."

Away he rattled over the stony road a he spoke, and poor Mary ran back into the kitchen to cry herself into a second Niobe.

"Oh, my letter!" sobbed she; "why was I such an idiot as to put it there?"

* * * *

Miss Polly Pepper, a gaunt spinster of a very uncertain age and a very certain infirmity of temper, opened the bag of seed corn as the squire drove off.

"Might brought it before," said she. "Promised it to us last fall. I do despise these folks that are always putting off things. Mercy upon us! what's this?" as she drew out the note; "some receipt that that shiftless Mary's tucked away here to get it out of the way! No, it ain't. It's a love-letter!—and to me—'My dearest Mary,'—and signed at the foot George Washington Bergamot; and that's his name. Well, I do declare! Ain't he far gone? 'All opposition.' I s'pose he means Mary and my two brothers-in law, that think a woman over forty hain't no business to marry! But I'll see 'em furder afore I'll let 'em overturn my matrimonial prospects—see if I don't. 'Tell him with my own lips.' Of course I will! I'll go right over there at once. Delay is dangerous! And if he really is in such a hurry ——"

"Blue's the color of love," said she to herself with a simper, "and it was so romantic of my dear George to think of proposing in a bag of seed-corn!"

The squire was at his supper when Miss Pepper walked in, flushed with her long expedition on foot.

"Sit down and have a bite, won't you?" said the squire. "Mary, fetch a clean plate."

Miss Pepper took advantage of the momentary absence of her step-daughter elect to proceed directly to business.

"George," cried she, almost hysterically. "I am yours!"

"Eh?" said the squire.

"For ever and ever!" said Miss Pepper, flinging herself upon the collar of his coat.

"Are you crazy?" said the squire, jumping up.

"You asked me to be your wife;" said Miss Polly, meltingly.

"I didn't!" said the squire.

"Then what does this letter mean, eh?" demanded Miss Polly. "It's as clear a declaration of love as ever was write. And good ground to sue on."

The squire started at the sheet of paper as Miss Pepper waved it triumphantly over his head.

"But I didn't write it," gasped he.

"Then who did?" demanded Miss Pepper.

"Its mine!" she cried, with a sudden dyeing of the cheek and glitter of the eyes. "My letter! How dare you read it, Miss Pepper?"

"I got it out of the bag of seed corn," protested the spinster.

"And I put it there for safe keeping," blushingly acknowledged Mary Bergamot. And Mary confessed: "George Lake, papa."

Miss Pepper went home, crying very heartily, with mortified pride and disappointed expectations. And the squire came to the conclusion that true love would have its way in spite of all dissenting of the parents.

"Papa," said Mary, "please may I have George?"

"I don't care," said the squire.

And that in his case, passed for an affirmation. But the squire remains a widower still, and Miss Pepper's chances grow "small by degrees and beautifully less."

The Slaves "Not Constitutionally Freed."

The colored militia of North Carolina celebrated "Emancipation Day" (Jan. 1st) by a parade and review. The display at Raleigh was very fine, the drill and discipline of the troops being excellent. Gov. Vance reviewed them, and then in an address said he could not celebrate the day with them because he had done all that man could do to prevent the occurrence of this day in the history of the country, and that he and his party did not believe that the reconstruction acts were constitutional; therefore the negroes were not properly freed. But having acquiesced in the amendments to the constitution of the United States, the colored people had a right to demand the same protection at his hands that was accorded all other citizens. J. A. Englehard, Secretary of State, declined to be present and address the assemblage because he did not think the negroes constitutionally freed, and he would be doing violence to his conscience if he sanctioned the proceedings by his presence and making a speech. How charmingly the ex-rebels do conciliate, to be sure.

News and Notes.

It is stated that the Roman Catholic interest in Mexico is anxious for the annexation of that country to the United States. The Mexicans were so exasperated by the efforts of the Catholic clergy to sustain Maximilian that they have since reduced all connected with the church to a degraded position. All the Catholic colleges and communities, even including the Sisters of Charity, have been broken up, and the faithful followers of Rome long for the religious freedom and toleration enjoyed in the United States.

The total robypothecation villainies of John Bonner of New York, who recently absconded, reach $1,854,000. His whereabouts are yet unknown. His victims number twenty-seven, of whom fifteen were brokers, nine were banks, two were trust companies and one railroad. The local amount borrowed by Bonner & Co. on all the securities in the schedule was $2,026,000. John Bonner, who "stood high in the community and the church" before he was found out to be a wholesale thief, was very indignant when the Netters bursted up a week before he did, having squandered $400,000 of other people's money.

There was a marriage and a funeral in the same family within twenty-four hours in Newport, R. I., recently. Mr. Edward Newton was married one evening to Miss Mattie Bliss, daughter of W. H. Bliss. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Edward F. Newton, was buried from the same house on the day following, in compliance with the expressed wish of the deceased that the marriage should be consumated previous to the interment of her remains.

In Mexico, Oswego county, N. Y., the merchants formed a protective society against persons who contracted debts and did not pay them. They published a list of the dead beats in the village newspaper. Thereupon the house of the secretary of the association was burned, the president's drug store was set on fire, and the editor was warned that he would have neither house nor office if he published the list again. This happened in New York, not in Mississippi.

The heroes of a unique matrimonial bargain in Caledonia county, Conn., recently, prove to be Noble C. Smith, a United States whiskey detective, and Marcellus Colby. Colby became attracted by the charms of Smith's new wife, and offered him $10 cash and a note for $40 if he would transfer her to him. The arrangement was fully carried out, but when the note matured Colby wouldn't pay, and Smith, out of revenge, accused him of adultery. Colby was convicted, but the truth of the affair came out on the trial, and Smith is to be prosecuted if he can be found.

Mrs. Martha Durgin of Dixmont, Me., ninety-two years old, is the proud ancestor of thirty great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Willie and John McGowan, aged nine and ten years respectively, fell through the ice at Woonsocket, Mass., Wednesday evening, and were drowned. Another lad was rescued.

Mrs. Hannah Moulton of Scarboro, Me., eighty-eight years old, was attacked by a ram in her yard Dec. 29th, and so badly hurt that her recovery is doubtful.

Mr. Winston, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, says, "If the silver bill becomes a law, our $85,000,000 of assets will be payable in silver, a currency that will fluctuate greatly, and will work great hardship. I know of some large companies in the West that are buying silver at a discount to pay off employes with, and the workingmen have remonstrated and are beginning to see through the silver delusion."

While a Chicago and Northwestern box car was being loaded with nitro-glycerine at Jackson mine, near Negano, Ill., at ten o'clock Wednesday morning, the mass exploded, instantly killing seven men and demolishing the car. The locomotive was lifted into the air and thrown fifty feet, and landed in a confused heap of wood and iron. Of the killed, three were employed at the nitro-glycerine works, one being superintendent. These three were blown to atoms, no piece larger than two pounds being discernible. The other four were railroad employes, and were in the cab of the engine when the explosion came. Their blackened and mangled remains were there, with the flesh stripped from their faces and limbs, and their bones were broken. Ishpeming, three miles away, plainly felt the shock; the damage in Negano was probably $2500, and some persons there are reported seriously injured by the concussion.

Two vessels, one supposed to be a British brig, are reported to have been lost on Nauset beach, Cape Cod, Wednesday night, with all hands. The crews of two vessels are reported lost at Truro. A number of fishing vessels are ashore on the Cape.

The Eastern War.

A Vienna despatch says: The Russians achieved a rare feat of perseverance and endurance in crossing the Etropol Balkans, and though the force cannot be very numerous, and the whole movement seems to rather savor of a bold, adventurous raid like Gen. Gourkho's over the Han Koi Pass than of a regular advance, it cannot but hasten the withdrawal of the Turkish troops from the Balkan line, or, at any rate, from the western portion. Suleiman Pasha seems to have foreseen this when he took up his headquarters at Ichtiman, and to have thought that the stand made at the rallying point formed by the junction of Rhodope and the second Balkan chain might effectually bar all advance from the direction of Sofia. There is, however, a succession of parallel valleys to the north of Ichtiman, by which the Russian columns, descending from the Etropol Balkans, may press eastward, and uniting with the forces traversing the Schipka Pass turn the position of Ichtiman and march down upon Adrianople. The only question, therefore, is whether the Turks are strong enough to bar descent from Schipka Pass and hold Ichtiman with the defiles of Topolnica and the Gupso at the same time. If not, they must retreat still farther to the east.

It is stated that Turkey is to open direct negotiations with Russia. The reason why this step has not yet been taken is the impossibility of ascertaining Russia's conditions of peace.

Political.

The Massachusetts Legislature of 1877 organized on Wednesday; the officers of last year were re-elected. Hon. J. B. D. Cogswell, President of the Senate, made an address, and both branches listened to the annual sermon, preached in the Old South Church by Rev. Mr. Hill of Lynn.

The Maine Legislature organized on Wednesday. Warren A. Vinton was chosen President of the Senate, and Henry Lord Speaker of the House. The old State officers were re-nominated by the republicans.

Great unction is displayed by the silver advocates on the alleged fact that nobody showed any interest in the passage of the demonetization act of 1873. It is claimed that this proves its "surreptitiousness." A slight capacity for calmer judgment would show that the general indifference sprang from a unity of opinion in favor of the act Silver was not cheap enough then to excite the love of the inflationists —N. Y. Tribune.

The silver dollar men want cheap money. They don't want a dollar with a dollar's worth of silver in it; but they want the sort of dollars that have pewter mixed in, leaving only about ninety cents' worth of silver in each dollar. The object is to get something that will pay off their debts at the rate of $900 for $1,000, and they want a law passed making this ninety-cent dollar a legal tender for 100 cents. This they call "re-monetizing silver." It would be more honest to say "monetizing silver and pewter, for the purpose of cheating creditors." These silver dollar men would like to go a step further in the same direction, and "reconstruct the yardstick and bushel measure." They would make thirty quarts one bushel, with a law to force all creditors to take the short bushel of wheat, especially if a couple of quarts of mud should be thrown in. They would make yard sticks thirty inches in length, and force creditors to take the short yard of cloth at standard prices in payment of debts. This is the idea. This plan would tend to destroy confidence, to unsettle solid business, to induce capitalists to withhold their investments from business enterprises and would help to perpetuate hard times. Confidence is needed now, not pewter.—Patriot.

Learning to Play Poker.

Will Austin of the Chronicle attempted to teach Patrick Murphy of the Post how to play poker. Murphy learned rapidly, and the stakes, from a small beginning of beans developed into bullion. When the pot had risen to $16, Murphy got inquisitive. "S'poses a man's got two kings?" "Good hand." "S'poses he has got two more, is that double?" Austin exuded considerable perspiration and remarked: "Thunder! I throw up my hand. You are a big fool to have told me. You might have won all I had!" Murphy raked in the pot, laid down his hand and started for home. Austin then picked up the relinquished cards, ran them through and exclaimed: "Two sixes! by all that's holy!"—San Francisco Argonaut.

One of the Indispensables.

A bottle of spirits of ammonia at house cleaning. Keep the bottle tightly closed. Put a teaspoonful of ammonia to a quart of warm soap-suds, dip in a flannel cloth and wipe dust and fly specks. To a pint of suds add a teaspoonful of ammonia and dip your silver in it; rub with a brush and polish with chamois skin. It is excellent for washing mirrors and windows; put a few drops of the spirits on a piece of paper and rub off spots or finger marks on the glass. It will take out grease spots from every kind of cloth; put on ammonia nearly clear, lay blotting paper over the place and press a hot flat iron over it for a few moments. Use ammonia to clean muslins and laces, nail and hair brushes; put a teaspoonful of ammonia into a pint of water, and shake the brushes through the water; when they look white rinse them in clear water and put them in a warm place to dry. Five or six drops of the ammonia to a pint of warm water given once a week to house plants stimulates their growth.

—People who label their letters "in haste" are dropping off. A week after they mail their important letters they see them advertised as being held for postage, and the result is fatal. Thus another great tribe will soon become extinct.

—Here are some of the diseases declared by candidates for employment in the English post-office to be prevalent in their families: "Father had sunstroke, and I caught it of him." "Sister died of compulsion." "My little brother died of some funny name." "A great white cat drawed my sisters breath, and she died of it." "Aperplexity." "Burralger in the head." "Shortness of breadth." "Indigestion of the lungs." "Sister was consumpted; but now she's quite well again."

—"Young man," solemnly warns a temperance exchange, "beware of the first drink. It is the first drink that makes the drunkard." With all due regard for the morality and excellence of the advice, we are inclined to think that our esteemed contemporary has been misled as to the facts. If he will make a personal investigation he will learn that the first drink, unless it is an awfully big one, will not make him drunk; but about the time he gets outside of the tenth or fifteenth—wake up snakes and come to judgment.—Hawkeye.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

THE CITY.

The "Fairy Bridal" will be repeated this evening, at the Universalist Vestry.

The land damages allowed by the County Commissioners in the extension of Jackson Hill street, were the same as assessed by the Aldermen, and are as follows: Mr. J. Downing $1000, Mr. J. Woods $275, and Mr. S. M. DeMerritt $25, making a total of $1300.—Weekly.

The many friends in this city of Mr. Asa D. Waldron, now of Chicago, who married a fair daughter of Portsmouth, will learn with deep regret that he now lies in a critical and helpless condition, having been stricken a few days since with paralysis. He is under the constant care of two physicians.—Times.

The Portsmouth Weekly, referring to the opinion of the City Solicitor, communicated to the Board of Aldermen, that "a road surveyor has no legal right to purchase gravel for the city's use, of himself," says: "Perhaps not; but wouldn't he please tell us whether a Mayor has any legal right to purchase all the lumber for the city's use, of himself?"

The revenue steamer Dallas, Capt. Hodgsdon, on Monday last, when within one and a half miles of Portsmouth Light, discovered the American schooner Eliza J. Staples, Capt. Elbridge Strout, of Millbridge, Maine, on the rocks, flying a signal of distress. The steamer sent an officer and boat's crew to the schooner, and afterward pulled her off, and hauled her to a safe anchorage. The damage to the schooner was about $150.—Portland Advertiser, Jan. 2d.

Professor Sands of Saco, Me., gave a very interesting and instructive stereopticon entertainment at the Middle street church on Wednesday evening. The entertainment was especially for the benefit of the Sabbath School connected with the church but was enjoyed by many others. Views from almost every part of the world were thrown on the cloth, including some from our own immediate vicinity. All agreed that the entertainment was first class and hope the Professor may visit our city again.

The Times can "see no justice" in our crediting "the Boston papers of Tuesday" with an article which "was in the copy drawer of the Times, and set up," before it was sent to the Boston papers. Well, the fact is, we didn't look "in the copy drawer of the Times," or on its galleys, for the item referred to; we saw it in several Boston papers of Tuesday morning, and our neighbor published it on the evening of that day,—several hours after we had it "in our copy drawer," and "set up," and credited to "the Boston papers of Tuesday," and commented on. We had no idea, at the time we read it in the Boston papers, that it was "in the copy drawer" of the Times, or we should certainly have given the aforesaid copy drawer the credit, even if the Boston papers were twelve hours ahead on its publication.

The Boston papers say that just after the U. S. S. Kearsarge left that harbor for this port, Wednesday, orders arrived for her to remain in Boston to pay off her crew and be repaired. The last time a government ship paid off here, the runners for certain Boston slop-shops and sailor boarding houses (aided by some of the warrant and petty officers of the vessel) rushed nearly the entire crew off to Boston as soon as they were paid off, to the great disgust of some of the Portsmouth business men, who had calculated on getting a good share of the seamen's custom. The report was industriously circulated about the ship by their disinterested friends, the runners, that the city government of Portsmouth had requested the naval authorities not to allow the discharged seamen to remain here! and in the fulness of their sympathy for the wronged and insulted sailors, the runners and their assistants procured the placing of passenger cars at the Kittery depot for their accomodation, so that they would not have to step foot in Portsmouth at all. As a consequence the sailors went to Boston in a body—and also in a towering rage with this city—and "spent their money free" with the cute "sharks" of the Hub. The Kearsarge discharged her ammunition on Thursday, preparatory to hauling in to a berth at the navy yard; and it is hardly probable she will now be ordered back to Boston to pay off.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

A petition from the residents living on Union street, requesting that naptha lights be placed on said street. Referred to committee on gas lights.

Amos Pearson requested that a portion of the ledge in front of his residence on Broad street be removed. Referred to committee on streets.

It was reported to the Board that some parties owning land on the new road leading to the Wentworth House, were encroaching on the city's land. Referred to committee on streets, roads and bridges.

Applications were received from a number of dealers for licenses to sell kerosene. Referred to committee on gas lights.

A communication was received from the County Commissioners of allowance of land damages on the new highway, Jackson Hill street, amounting to $1200. Communication accepted.

Committee to whom was referred the petition of the Eastern Railroad, reported that a license be granted providing that the number of trips does not exceed twenty daily and to be made before 8:30 A. M. and after 4:30 P. M. The joint resolution in regard to the protection of the Green street crossing recommended to a second reading, which was done, and the resolution passed. Voted that a license be granted as recommended by the committee.

Voted that the committee on city land and buildings be requested to discontinue the use of the room now occupied as an engineers's office in the city building.

The committee upon the subject of widening Penhallow street, reported that the damage claimed by Mr. Gerrish would amount to over $10,000; report accepted and referred to the next Board of Alderman.

The committee to investigate the cause of the fire at the National House, reported, giving two theories as a result of their investigation, from such parts as could be gathered. From appearances the fire did not originate from kerosene, as they were told that none had been drawn from the barrel that morning. The committee were unable to trace the cause of the fire. The oil used in the house was Walker's brilliant oil, which will stand a test of 140 degrees. Report accepted.

Voted that a committee be appointed to stake out and have a survey of the proposed new highway from Rockland street to Edward street. Committee appointed are Aldermen Hadley, Sides and Norton of Ward 4.

The committee on streets reported that the petition for a plank side walk on South Summer street be granted. Accepted.

Committee to whom was referred the subject of granting licenses to sell petroleum, reported that they had notified the dealers of the law, and would issue a printed circular in proper form.

Committee on gas lights recommended that a naptha light be placed between the two Railroad tracks at the creek.

Adjourned for two weeks.

ODD FELLOWS' INSTALLATION.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 2d, the following officers were installed in New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., by L. E. Staples, District Deputy Grand Master, assisted by Past Grands and members of the R. W. Grand Lodge:

Orwin Griffin, N. G.;
Chas. E. Simpson, V. G.;
Thornton Betton, R. S.;
John M. Clark, Treasurer;
Arthur F. Pfeiffer, W.;
Chas. G. Locke, C.

After the installation and the business of the evening, by invitation of the Noble Grand, the officers and members of the Lodge, with visiting brothers, to the number of about forty, were very hospitably entertained at the residence of Bro. Griffin. After supper some very spirited remarks were made, and enthusiastically received. Another feature of the occasion was some fine singing by the members. All who were present went away with the feeling that it was an occasion long to be remembered.

THE TRAMP NUISANCE.

The glory of our country is its productions. Expansion produces cheap money; cheap money makes productions dear; dear productions make dear labor; dear labor makes good citizenship, general prosperity, and no tramps.

Presto, change! Contraction makes money dear; dear money makes productions cheap; cheap productions make cheap labor; cheap labor makes want; want produces beggars and tramps; banks fail; merchants go into bankruptcy; manufacturers close their mills; farmers and mechanics mortgage their estates and homes, and eat up their substance; and starvation almost if not quite overtakes the poor laborer; people fear to trust one another; goverment credit is good; but ..... EXIT GLORY.

THE VICINITY.

In the case E. C. Spinney, of Kittery, executor, vs. William Otis, Judge Hobbs, the referee, on Wednesday at Saco gave judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $880.

The York Institute, at its annual meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 2d, elected Hon. E. W. Wedgwood President, Hon. Ferguson Haines Vice President, George F. Calef Treasurer, and Rev. Dr. Nichols Corresponding Secretary.

In the Maine Supreme Court at Saco, on the 2d inst., judgment was rendered in a case in which Charles W. Fall resisted payment of a note given to the notorious C. B. Mahan, of "Granite Agricultural Works" fame, payment being resisted on the ground of fraud. The court ordered the note to be paid, the present holder (the Farmington Savings Bank) having obtained it legitimately.

Plain Talk.

There is a preservative principle in Sozodont that effectually preserves the teeth from decay. Chemists pronounce it wholesome. Rich and poor endorse it. No lady ever tried it without approving its cleansing and purifying properties. It outsells all other dentifrices. Ask for it and take no substitute.

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. A Powerful Foe.

Domesticated horses have no real knowledge of their own strength and power, fortunately for man. With wild horses it is different. In the steppes of Russia it is not rare to see a two-year-old colt rush singly to attack a band of four or five wolves, kill one or two of them, lame the rest, and spread the terror of his name throughout the country. The wild horses strike with their fore feet, like the stag, and not with the hind legs as is popularly believed. He draws himself up to his full height against his enemy, and pounds him beneath his murderous pestles; then seizes him between the shoulders with his formidable incisors, and tosses them to his mares, to make sport for themselves and their offspring.

—"My son," said a doting mother to her eight-year old, "what pleasure do you feel like giving up during the Lenten season?" "Well, ma, I guess I'll stay away from school," was the reply.

—A man with four wives was brought before a Dutch Justice for commitment on the charge of bigamy. "Four wives!" exclaimed the astonished Hans, "four wives? Dat is a most hiocious crime! Discharge him at vonst. Off he lif mit four wives he got punishment enough. I lif mit von, and I got too much punishment already."

—Amanda Tobey has been ejected from her lodgings in Philadelphia, and is now living by day on the curbstone among her effects and by night in the police station. She is a woman of fifty, intelligent, with no common education, and even traces of refinement. For twenty years past she has been known as a chronic beggar; her tenement floors were a foot deep with dirt and in some places grass was growing on them; yet she owns real estate of value both in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The New York Times

FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the subsequent critical and political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secured for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the consideration that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered beyond either. In attitude it will be independent within the Republican Party, for in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served. But it will be found as many of the great principles with which the Party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will retain its accustomed work of Republicanism unended. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of partisan obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the gradual establishment of the fiscal system to meet the changed conditions of labor and manufacture. It will steadily oppose all plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by law, to pay the national creditor or any other creditor, in anything but gold, to preserve imposts duties which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity and controversy, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrant in the full enjoyment of possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between the North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and kindness will find their return in the enforcement of even handed justice and scrupulous regard for the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

As heretofore, as the leading exponent of political opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. As a European and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same full-ness, fairness and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now be-long to the past.

In the subjects of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the intelligent and educated classes of the American people. It will be freely without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No theories or exercise of the principles set forth in the prospectus of 1851 will be abandoned, and no effort of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the public weal is sacrificed to the cupidity of a few. Its circulation is guaranteed to be in a position adequately fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. The former is perfectly safe; the Yellow is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is contained in all of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and Irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gage nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 8, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. Rose & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Sprainings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that insures healthy thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an accomplished remedy for Bilious ness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have a sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Nullum in Parvo Pastic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, blood-and-bone pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Side, Nervous Irritability, Costiveness, Dark Colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these pellets. They are hermetically sealed and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills whichare put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, the delicious mucilage of which is the most obstinate cause of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are lawyers, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

The remedial management of those diseases peculiar to women has afforded a large experience at the Hospital of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for their cure. Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus bereft, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable as it is, it does not represent a thousandth part of the recommendations which are to-day offered by friends to friends in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but shun the publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, an outspoken indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen.—I have for some months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 20 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The change of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 70—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me incalculable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at least arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS, Of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Who are the Dead Heads?

If editors were not among the most patient and best-natured people that inhabit the earth, they would long ago have exposed the charge of dead headism so flippantly and constantly made against the press. No end of carping persons think it a fine thing to sneer at the editors and reporters who, without paying, go to theatres, concerts, operas, miscellaneous shows, banquets, and the best seats in conventions and legislative assemblies, forgetting entirely that journalists go to all of these in discharge of their duties; that one and all of them would rather remain at home than go for labor where their more fortunate fellows repair for recreation. It is quite true that the places of journalists are too frequently usurped by a set of chronic, brazen sponges, who think it praiseworthy to thrust themselves in seats reserved for the members of the press, in order to enjoy themselves free of cost. This class it is that, by their unseemly behavior, bring disgrace upon the journalistic profession. Men so lost to all feelings of delicacy as to pass themselves off for what they are not, for the sake of saving a few dollars, cannot be expected to demean themselves like gentlemen. If these same persons were to try to palm themselves off as doctors or lawyers, they would be promptly exposed and punished. The good-natured editors suffer these real dead heads to usurp their own places and disgrace them besides.

Nor is the great paying and courteous public free from the charge of dead headism where newspapers are concerned. Every other man who subscribes for a newspaper is possessed with the idea that he becomes part owner of the journal that is as necessary to him as his daily bread, and which he obtains at a ludicrously low price. He insists that the editor, whose paper he buys, must support his ideas on all public questions; is in duty bound to fight his individual battles; must give free notices of all enterprises in which he is interested. That the editors have their capital invested in their newspapers; that they are compelled to work hard to secure a living from them, never occurs to the grand army of non-journalistic dead heads, who regard journals and journalists as public institutions that are not remunerated by the State, it is true, yet are public property, because they sell their literary wares at low prices, obtain free tickets to go to light places, which to them are glaring workshops, and are obliging and good natured.

The community of dead heads, not satisfied with their efforts to force the editors of the papers they read to serve them in all ways at no expense to themselves, unite in a chorus of protests against the high price of newspapers. These grumblers cheerfully pay ten cents for a cigar, or fifteen cents for a draught of whisky; but profess to regard five cents for a newspaper as an outrage on human rights. One cent is enough for a newspaper, they say. In their estimation, then, one cigar is equal in value to ten newspapers. They may never look at the question in this light, but they should do so, and also calmly think over the stale and unjust cry of journalistic dead headism.—Printers' Circular.

Weary amid the Glitter.

A lady in Washington whose husband held one of the highest places in the Government stood in her magnificent home attired for her weekly reception. "How gladly I would give up all this finery, show and insincerity of this public place and go back to the rooms we occupied when we were first married. I would throw all my silks and diamonds away and sit down to my supper of chip beef and tea, at sunset, and afterward take a long quiet walk with Will, and rest on the stump in the moonlight, and tell my little plans for the future, and what I had done every hour while he was gone, and knew that we were alone in the world, living only for each other. Those days seem like days in heaven. I work harder now than any slave, often three hundred calls to return in a single week, receptions or parties every night; see the same people; hear the same talk, eat the same things, come home disgusted, wonder what I am living for, where I will go when I die. 'Bettie, I must have Hon. —— and Secretary, and you must ask Hon. —— about monolith; monolith is his hobby. Do your best. I need their help." So it is always, help, influence, power—a smile in my face, interest in my manner, living a lie; feeding my soul on husks."

—A Pennsylvania lad gained a holiday for the whole school by dropping his rubbers down the heater, and ever since he has been enraged at himself for not economizing and dropping them one at a time.

Prohibitory Convention.

The Prohibitionists of New Hampshire will meet in Convention in Whitney's Music Hall, 864 Elm street, Manchester, on Wednesday, Jan. 23d, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of making nominations of candidates for the various State and county officers to be elected by the people on the 12th of March ensuing. The Prohibitory State Committee to the foregoing announcement add: "Let there be a grand rally of the friends of Prohibition. We have the only living issue of the day. Let political idolatry be abolished. Let the dead bury their dead. Reform never won a victory by acting as chief mourner in a political funeral. Come to the front!"

Wrecks.

Schooner Fred Fish, coal laden, sunk on Handkerchief shoal the same night, and the mate was frozen to death in the boat; others of crew saved.

British schooner Sea Lion was wrecked on Nauset; crew saved. An unknown vessel, supposed a schooner, was wrecked near by at the same time, and all hands lost; an arch-board with letters "J. G. H. ——Harbor, N. J.," was picked up on the beach.

Fishing schooners Miles Standish and Powow were lost near Truro, the captain and four men of the Powow being drowned.

Schooner Granite State cut away her masts to keep from going ashore at Chatham, and the crew were taken off on Thursday by a life-boat, leaving the vessel to founder at her anchors.

Schooner Addie P. Avery was wrecked at South Truro on Thursday, and all hands lost.

Many other wrecks are rumored.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2d.

The contrast between Jan. 1, 1877 and Jan. 1, 1878 meteorologically speaking, was very marked and the evident partiality in our behalf yesterday was thoroughly appreciated by the thousands crowding our streets from daylight till the day ceased at midnight. The first day of the year just consigned to the grave of dead years, was ushered in by a driving, blinding snow storm, rare for this latitude. The gale howled all day, and before its close twelve good inches of solid snow lay on the streets and house-tops. New Year's calls were made under the most unpleasant circumstances. Yesterday morning broke fair and gentle; and the genial face of the sun remained unclouded throughout the day. The air was crisp but not cold, and everybody that could be tempted out by favorable weather was early abroad.

The crowd at the White House rivalled those of war times in size and variety of make up. The decoration for the observance of the silver wedding of the evening previous had been left in situ and the great profusion of flowers everywhere visible about the rooms imparted a sense of tropical mildness. The regulation programme was observed throughout in the admission of callers. Members of foreign legations, Judges of the Supreme Court, representatives of the Army and Navy, officers of the District Courts, Court of Claims, survivors of the war of 1812, Senators and Representatives, the Oldest Inhabitants Association and the "sovereigns" by thousands were there and were admitted in the order of the precedence to which official etiquette has assigned them. The foreign diplomats were in "full court dress," with swords dangling at their heels, and covered with the decorations won in the military, naval or civil service by intrigue and finesse, or not won at all but accorded through favoritism. The show of gilt and brass and other tinsel trappings by the heroes of our own army and navy was quite sufficient for all the requirements of good taste and modesty. The manner and dress of the dignified legislator, clad in the black broadcloth deemed essential to establish his character as a gentleman, were in sharp contrast with the old Maryland or Virginia agriculturist who hurriedly got inside his home spun and home made "best suit," which has seen service on many similar occasions in past years, and forgetting to wash his face or hands or black his boots, came to town early, joined the throngs at the White House, marched up in his turn to shake hands with Mrs. Hayes and then to talk in the crowd loitering in the "East Room." There was also the snob and young swell "got up regardless" etc., his empty head already fuddled by his early potations, which finally floored him at a later hour in the day. The typical tramp was also present, filthy and ragged, but happy withal in contemplating the "creature comforts" that awaited his presence at the residence of those keeping "open house," and who, upon this day of days, could not well choose their guests. Representatives of the gentler sex were numerous and clearly established their ability to take care of themselves in a crowd.

The wives of all the Secretaries having such desirable encumbrances, were "at home" to all comers; and those deficient in that respect were able to rely on daughters to do the honors, or upon lady friends, who were temporarily and to the extent necessary, improvised as wives for the occasion. Other prominent citizens and sojourners here also announced through the papers that they would be happy to see their friends; and still others not prominent, but wishing to be thought so, made work for repentance by anticipating their means for getting through the winter to enable them to stuff a promiscuous company which went from its eating and drinking to ridicule and deride the efforts of these shabbily genteel, whose highest ambition is to be classed with the upper crust, and who made starving and pinching imperative for an indefinite time, by their silly expenditures for yesterday's entertainment; and the bitter reflection that no one was deceived by their pretentions; spread-eagle display, will ever and anon be thrust home by envious neighbors, who will be only too happy to repeat the verdict rendered by the beneficiaries of this kind of hospitality.

This very prevalent disposition among a portion of Washingtonians to shine in borrowed plumage and appear what they are not, asserts itself under such circumstances as would lead those less aspiring to shrink from all display and to court seclusion rather than publicity. Even in the matter of funerals the same spirit is shown. The means of eking out a miserable sustenance for a family deprived by death of its supporter are recklessly squandered on an unscrupulous undertaker, who cunningly appeals to this all-pervading weakness to stimulate more liberal orders in the premises, particularly as to the number of carriages to be provided for a special class of dead beats who always attend every funeral to secure a free ride; and everything else connected with the dismal business that is likely to be noted by the public, is provided on a scale of magnificence that could only be justified by the possession of ample wealth. Perhaps "Society," rather than the individual, is to blame for this; for its demands are potential even down to the tomb's entrance; and if the bereaved ones haven't one cent left from the inroads made in their little savings by long illness, there must be a certain amount of "style" observed in this closing act of life's drama, or they lose caste among their "set" and are assigned thereafter to a lower position.

The Rollinsford Savings Bank at Salmon Falls has given notice that no more deposits will be received for six months; but from sales of the most available securities it will pay to all depositors, on or before Feb. 1st, twenty-five per cent, on their respective accounts, and, realizing from the assets of the bank as fast as consistent with the best possible management, continue to reduce the debt due depositors. This course is decided upon under no heavy losses, or prospect of any, other than the depreciation of the times. The Bank Commissioners have been invited by the Treasurer to examine the bank's affairs and make a statement of its standing to depositors. The bank was started in 1852, and has $750,000 in deposits.

Adjutant-General Ira Cross, Capt. Wm. R. Patten, Col. D. M. White of Peterborough, Capt. F. F. Davis of Dover, and Capt. E. G. Pierce, Jr., of Portsmouth, the board appointed by the Legislature, Governor and Council to revise the militia laws of the State, held an adjourned meeting in Manchester on Thursday, at Capt. Patten's office, and during the next few days will be engaged in the work of revision. Col. White represents the infantry of the State, Capt. Davis the artillery, and Capt. Pierce the cavalry. Capt. Patten is judge-advocate. At present the militia of the State numbers about 1300 men.

The Commissioners to compile the statutes of the State and make them conform to the amended constitution held a meeting at Concord, Thursday, to compare their work and for consultation. They find a great deal of work to be done in arranging and codifying the laws, but it is progressing in a most satisfactory manner, and will be ready to be presented to the Legislature at the next session.

Townsend & Co. at Milton Mills have suspended, throwing thirty hands out of employment. They manufactured rubber linings.

The murderous assault upon farmer Curtis of Hopkinton, a few days ago, is as great a mystery as ever. He has recovered so far as to be able to talk coherently, but he can throw no light upon the affair. He saw no one when he entered the shed and heard no one approach him, and hasn't an enemy in the world, so far as he knows. That murder was intended is evident, for the blows of the club would probably have killed almost any man but one of Mr. Curtis' extraordinary vigor. There was no attempt at robbery, and there is nothing by which the assailant can be identified or even traced.

News and Notes.

Thomas Lord, aged 86, a very wealthy man of New York city, has married the widow Hicks, who was alleged some time ago to be affianced to Minister Schenck, when he was in London. The fair widow is about fifty years younger than her new husband, and has a number of step-sons much older than herself. A suit has already been commenced in the Supreme Court, by these "children," to prevent the alienation of the property from them in consequence of their father's marriage to Mrs. Hicks. A powerful array of counsel has been engaged and a large number of witnesses summoned, including Cardinal McCloskey, by whom the parties were married. The whole affair has created a great sensation in "society" in New York.

The sailors' wages at St. John, N. B., are extremely low on account of the scarcity of vessels West India bound. A vessel shipped a crew Thursday for $8 a month.

Reports from points in Louisa and Hanover counties, Va., state that a shock of earthquake was felt there on the evening of the 2d inst. The shocks were accompanied by a roaring sound like a chimney on fire.

Capt. A. H. Bogardus on Thursday undertook and successfully accomplished the feat of breaking 5000 glass balls inside of 500 consecutive minutes, — the balls being thrown in the air from traps and broken by shot. He had 19 minutes and 35 seconds to spare, after breaking 5000 balls. The affair took place at Gilmore's Garden. Great crowds were present throughout, and Bogardus was loudly applauded. He shot rapidly and with wonderful precision. He broke the first 500 balls in 38 minutes and 20 seconds; the first 1000 in 64 minutes and 40 seconds; first 2000 in 137 minutes and 10 seconds; first 3000 in 203 minutes and 15 seconds; first 4000 in 228 minutes and 35 seconds; and the whole 5000 in 480 minutes and 25 seconds. He rested frequently during the last 1000. He broke 100 balls in 5 minutes 25 seconds, another in 5 minutes 34 seconds, and another 100 in 5 minutes 36 seconds. Miles Johnson of Newark, acted as referee.

Promiscuous charity is often wofully wasted. A Philadelphia theatre gave away 10,000 loaves of bread on Christmas day. The larger portion of it was secured by bummers, who, getting fifteen or twenty loaves each, took them away to peddle them; while the newsboys obtained hundreds of loaves to play football and pelt each other with.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members, sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The parent should not neglect it, and the child will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

The Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. E. G. Peirce, Jr., was inspected Thursday evening by Col. Vaughan.

The fishing fleet left early Friday morning for the fishing grounds, and got to their trawls, but the weather was too thick to venture out with dories and they were obliged to return minus fish.

On Thursday Mr. John W. Randall, who is one of the active spirits on Tredick's fish wharf, made a misstep from the wharf into the water. John said he made the water look rather thick, and as it was about half tide we shouldn't wonder if he did.

During the storm of Friday, as the fishing vessels were returning from an unsuccessful attempt to haul their trawls, the schooners Jacob Haddock and W. H. Y. Hackett came into collision and the former had a portion of her taffrail carried away.

Friday was wintry enough to satisfy the most fastidious. A heavy gale blew from the southeast, and snow and fog made it impossible to see a hundred yards, at times during the day. A gentleman who heard the Kearsarge was ashore on the beacon ledge went to the end of Union wharf twice during the afternoon, and failed to see the vessel at all. After nightfall the snow ceased falling, and there was a heavy rain by way of a change, the wind dying away before midnight to a moderate breeze.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

The republicans of Ward Two held their caucus Friday evening, and elected the following named gentlemen as delegates to the various conventions:

State—William H. Sise, John H. Broughton, William A. Hodgdon, Titus S. Tredick, Thomas E. Call, John Laighton, Samuel Adams, Oliver S. Loomis.

County—Henry A. Yeaton, Daniel J. Vaughan, Edwin Underhill, Marcellus Bufford, Eben F. Brackett, Charles P. Abbott, Plumer D. Norton, Charles R. Oxford.

Councillor—John Dame, Moses Yeaton, Rufus K. Oxford, James B. Pray, Benj. F. Winn, William R. Foster, Wallace Hackett, Benj. W. Curtis.

Senatorial—William H. Hackett, Chas. H. Sides, Robert C. Sides, John W. Prior, George E. Stackpole, Lewis G. Davis, Charles H. Joy, Warren P. Webster.

CARELESS CRUELTY.

Late Friday afternoon a member of the S. P. C. A. noticed a horse hitched in front of Mr. Wm. P. Walker's custom clothing store, exposed to the full force of the driving snow-storm. Though the poor animal was blanketed he was evidently very uncomfortable, and was shivering and cowering before the storm in a pitiful manner. Learning on enquiry that he had been standing there many hours, the gentleman called the attention of the society's President, Hon. T. E. O. Marvin, to the case, and of course that gentleman at once proceeded to attend to the matter. Arriving at Mr. Walker's the two gentlemen found that Officer White had taken possession of the team and was just starting for a stable with it, and Mr. Marvin directed him to go ahead, and to order the team not to be given up from the stable except on his (Mr. Marvin's) order. The horse is a fine animal and the sleigh a good one, and in the sleigh were several bundles. The poor brute would have suffered even more than he did but for the humanity of one of the ladies employed in Mr. Walker's establishment, who when the blanket had blown off went out and replaced it.

THE KEARSARGE ASHORE.

The U. S. S. Kearsarge came up from below on Friday morning, and made fast to one of the big mooring buoys off the navy yard, to wait for slack water before hauling in under the sheers to land her battery. But instead of the moorings holding her she very soon walked away with the ring of the buoy toward Pumpkin Island, and had she been just put in commission she would probably have hit it, (as the Marion did under similar circumstances, shortly before she sailed,) but being just in from sea and everything being in working order, both anchors were promptly let go and brought the ship up. [The constant action of the tide had so worn the head off the bolt by which the ring was fastened to the buoy, that when the strain came on the chain the ring drew off over the bolt-head and left the ship adrift, her apparent hold of a substantial mooring being but a delusion and a snare. Boatmen who have frequent occasion to cross the river would not be inconsolable were some vessel to pull all the mooring buoys adrift, and carry them so far away that they could never be found again; they are a nuisance to boatmen and fishing schooners,—and not of any great use to government vessels, if we may judge from the fact that somewhat similar accidents have befallen the Plymouth, Huron, Monongahela, Marion and Enterprise, when hanging to them.]

A signal was then set for a pilot, who soon reported, and preparations were made to haul the ship in to her berth at the navy yard. Two hawsers were run out, one to a buoy and the other to the yard, and to the latter the yard oxen were hitched. As soon as a strain was got on the hawsers the anchors were tripped, when the shore hawser parted and the ship swung upon the beacon ledge, heading down stream, taking the ground about under her mizzen-mast, and hanging there. At low water she seemed to lay easily, being water-borne forward and not badly sewed aft. Where she went on is not far from the spot where the brig Clara J. Adams struck and bilged; she grounded at about a quarter before three o'clock, the tide being then at quarter ebb.

As soon as the unfortunate mishap was reported to Commodore Guest, he ordered the mustering of all the available yard force, sent to Kittery for more men, and had hawsers run from the ship to the yard in readiness to haul the vessel off at high water. It was a tough job for the officers and men of the ship, just off a three years' cruise in warm weather, to keep working all day and night in such a storm as that of Friday; but there was apparently no disposition on the part of any of them to shirk, all seeming eager to do everything possible to rescue the ship from her critical position.

As the tide rose the gale which blew during the day fortunately abated, and when the vessel floated, which she did between ten and eleven o'clock, she was soon warped in to a better berth, at the navy yard. The only tow-boat available to lend assistance was the Emerald, the Speedwell being in the dry dock and the Clara Batemen on the slip.

THE VICINITY.

During the year 1877 there were three births and seven deaths in Newington, and only one wedding.

Mr. John Foote, a noted gunner of South Seabrook, recently shot an eagle measuring seven feet and two inches from tip to tip.

Capt. Charles Perkins, of Wells Beach, on the 29th ult. shot an eagle measuring seven feet and six inches from tip to tip of the wings. He has had the bird stuffed.

Mrs. Bennett of Newmarket, who was shot in the thigh by a tramp to whom she had refused money, after giving him food, a few weeks ago, is reported to be just alive, with no hope of her recovery, from the erysipelas and inflammation which followed the wound.

The republicans of Rye caucussed on Thursday evening, and chose delegates to the various conventions as follows: State—J. T. Walker, Jenness Marden; Councillor—John T. Marden, L. E. Walker; Senatorial—John O. Foss, W. J. Foss; County—R. G. Shapley, W. C. Walker.

The small building formerly owned by Mr. Abbott Locke, near the Eastern railroad depot at Seabrook, has been purchased by Mr. Alvin S. Chase, moved a short distance and neatly fitted up as a store. It is a marked improvement to the appearance of things around the depot.

The wife of Edward L. Jordan, the young scoundrel and forger who recently decamped from Dover, has forsaken relatives and friends and gone with her husband to parts unknown. He visited Dover a few nights ago, in a carriage from some station out of town, and left in the same way.

Richard Fowler, of South Seabrook, has long had fish houses on the beach near the boundary line of Seabrook and South Hampton, the latter town claiming the site of the buildings,—Mr. Fowler's ancestors having had buildings in the same place before him. Some time ago the town of South Hampton brought suit for trespass against Mr. Fowler, who contested the suit, and as it was a sort of test case, involving the rights of quite a number of beach occupiers in that town and Seabrook, much local interest has been felt in the decision of the Court. The decision has been reached, and is to the effect that Mr. Fowler has not trespassed on any part of South Hampton, and that he can erect or move any buildings he chooses on the beach, regardless of the town.

The just closed Murphy movement has cost Troy, N. Y., $2,100, and over two miles of blue ribbon were used in decorating the 17,000 Trojans who signed the pledge, while the number of criminal cases in the city is said to have been reduced sixty-six per cent.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—A lady who objects to profanity because it is both wicked and vulgar writes to know what she ought to say when a clothes line breaks, and lets a week's washing fall into the mud. She ought to say: "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth," but probably she will not think of it.

—The hard times are teaching our people to do without the superfluities of life and content themselves with the necessaries. A lady went into a stove store one Saturday to see if a break in the back of her cook stove could not be mended. She said the old thing was all worn out and she ought to have a new one, but she had got to have a new set of jewelry, and the times were so hard she felt obliged to get along with the old stove another winter.

—A Washington correspondent, speaking of visitors to that city, says: The South is very fully represented, particularly Virginia and Maryland. They all belong to the "first families" of course. I discovered a brilliant exception at the Ebbitt House the other evening, however, which I must not fail to record. A fellow was making himself very numerous around there, and amongst other things remarked: "I am from Virginia, and I am the most remarkable man in that State." "How so?" said a bystander. "Why, I belong to one of the second families of Virginia; I was poo' befo' the wah, and I served as a private in the Confederate army." Great allowance must be made for him, however, for he was drunk. No Virginian in his sober senses would admit that he did not belong to the "first families." No Southerner was ever discovered, sober, who was not rich befo' the wah. And the Confederate army never before had a man in its ranks who was of lower rank than colonel.

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secured for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed it beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the conviction that the interests of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independence within the Republican Party, for in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with whose the Party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to sanction the work of republicanism, needed. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of Parliamentary eloquence in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the reconstruction of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and manufactures. It will steadily oppose all phases, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by law, to pay the national obligation on which the credit of the nation depends, to preserve important duties which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to revive sectional animosities, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the southern immigrants in the South in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and sympathy must be withheld from the enforcement of even handed justice and scrupulous regard to the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the Russo-Turkish war how ample are its resources, and how well and wisely it uses its enterprise. Its voluminous foreign correspondence for the last year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of a highly-important epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be recorded with the same fulness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, in scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will lively without being sensational, and will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No favors are accepted by THE TIMES which bring the secredness of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical advertisements and all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper especially adapted to the family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does a selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Its sales are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making thin hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pain in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast, but what some of the Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to miracles. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. Rose & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Sprains, Rheumatism—for the human family, the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Scruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If your feet ell, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternate with hot flashes, low spirits and a gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Nature's Purgative Physic, contains twenty times the medicinal power of ordinary Pills, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use. They are the best, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a single organ being disturbed in the operation. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of scrofula, Pimples, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They, however, recommend to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

IT'S NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth; and always strictly restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft — under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable as it is, it does not represent a tenth-tenth part of the recommendations which are to-day offered by friends to friends in its favor. Proof of worth and references in every part of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, which, by the publicity incidental to a published statement, forces the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, is as unexceptionable indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen.—I have for some months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 30 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the mucus so discharged, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 70—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me incredible, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS,
AURORA, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

The Telephonograph.

It has been reserved for an Atlanta man to discover a possibility beyond all these. We are not permitted at this time to state specifically all the points belonging to the invention in question, but we can say that an examination of the working model leaves no doubt of its successful application for the purpose designed. The gentleman of whom we speak has carefully watched the progressive movements heretofore mentioned, and from them he conceived the combination (for that is what he claims his instrument to be) whereby sound could be telephonically transmitted and phonographically registered in visible signs capable of certain and prompt translation into written language. This seems at first glance an almost inconceivable achievement, but a slight reference to the method employed should dispel all doubts. "The telephonograph" is the name of the new combination, and its points are as follows:

First—Telephones, as in common use for the transmission of the sounds of the speaker's voice.

Second—A telegraphic instrument of the same nature as the printing telegraph, whereby the sounds may be registered by phonographic signs upon slips of paper, as in the printing telegraph.

Third—A delicate and ingenious instrument which indicates the slightest or loudest tones, and produces currents that open the precise key that would indichte them.

Fourth—An alphabet of sounds arranged upon phonographic principles, by which every combination of sounds and inflection in language can be fully indicated.

The entire machine is electric and automatic, and the phonographic combinations, made in much simpler shape than in the primary stages of phonography, are easily made by electric action and as rapidly as the sounds are uttered. The main value of this instrument is, that it will do away with all necessity for telegraph operators, requiring only one man in an office, and abolishing a vast amount of intermediate red-tapeism to the telegraphy. Its greatest advantage, however, will be to the newspaper press of the country, for with one of these simple instruments in the composing-room, copy from the instrument can be furnished to the printers, whose only previous preparation will be a day's study of the phonographic alphabet in order to become familiar with the signs. Once familiar to to the printer, he can take a piece of this copy and set it up in type as readily as reprint. A person to whom a message is addressed, understanding the signs, could read it as easily as though printed in Roman type. The instrument is being rapidly perfected, and the inventor has no doubt of its great success and usefulness in the world's affairs.—Atlanta Constitution.

"Pie" or "No Pie."

The Dundee (Scotland) Advertiser says that the last ordinary meeting of the municipal year, was held by the Selkirk town council on Monday night, Dec. 31st, when a pre-election pie scene was re-enacted. Junior Bailie Millar occupied the chair, at the close of the business.

Bailie Millar—By the by, isn't this the night to speak about the pie?

Mr. Smith—Let us have use and wont; let us have our pie and porter; it tends to promote good feeling and harmony and chit-chat.

Bailie Millar—In the old way?

The Clerk—Out of the funds?

Bailie Millar—Yes. I would like if some o' 'e would propose it.

Mr. Scott—I feel very ill to do away with an old custom, and I move that we go back to the pie and porter, and have it on the Monday night before the election.

Mr. Coutts (after a prolonged silence)—There's no seconder; the business is done, there's nae use sittin' here.

Mr. Smith—Mr. Coutts, you's not chairman.

Mr. Coutts—I know that.

The Clerk—It's for the chairman to decide.

Mr. Coutts—Let him dae't thin.

Dean of Guild Trotter—I second the motion.

Mr. Coutts—I move that there be no pies and porter taen oot o' the burgh funds. The thing was dune wi' in 1874, after bein' a hert-breck for ten year, an' it's fullish tae bring 't back again. It's been a disgrace the way 'e've been lauched at up an' down through toon an' country.

Mr. Yellowlees—I second Mr. Coutts' motion that there be no pies or porter paid for out of the funds of the burgh.

Mr. Smith—I would like to understand the motion. Is it pie or no pie, from the funds, or is every one to pay for it?

Mr. Scott—I mean that it be paid out of the burgh funds.

The Clerk—Then the motion will require to be minuted this time. The motions will be "Pie" or "No Pie."

The roll was then called, amid the tittering of the public—Bailie Millar, Dean of Guild Trotter, Treasurer Henderson, Mr. Scott and Mr. Bond answering "Pie!" and Mr. Coutts, Mr. Smith, Mr. Clapperton, Mr. Hall, Mr. Sligh and Mr. Yellowlees "No Pie!"

The Clerk (after running up the division list)—Five for "Pie," and six for "No Pie"—majority for "No Pie," one.

The result was received with shouts of laughter.

News and Notes.

It is reported that official information has been received in St. Petersburg that the Chinese have massacred 15,000 men, women and children at the Kashgarian town of Manas, committing the most frightful atrocities. Manas is in one of the Russian provinces.

General Banning, of the House committee on military affairs, has a bill reorganizing the army ready to report to his committee. It makes a general reduction in the staff corps, but does not reduce the number of enlisted men very much. There will be an effort made by this committee to consolidate the quartermaster and commissionary corps, and a very material reduction is contemplated in the pay corps.

John Griffiths of Girardsville, Pa., has a wife and daughter who for many years have saved all the money they possibly could, and with it built a row of houses in Pottsville. Recently when all the houses had been completed and occupied, they not only told him what they had done, but made him a present of the property.

A material called "indestructible glass" has been patented in France, and the patentee uses it for making printing types that have been introduced into practical use among his countrymen, in Germany, and elsewhere. They are said to be preferable to metal types in many respects, and in no respects inferior to them. They are cast in the same moulds, and make an equally clear and defined impression. They suffer loss from wear, cost less, and are healthier for the compositors to handle.

It is gravely reported that Professor J. H. Kerr has found in the Garden of the Gods, near Pike's Peak, five petrified reptiles, the largest of which was 117 feet long, and had swallowed some smaller animals, one eight or ten feet long; another with six-inch teeth, and a third with a head two feet through.

A strange thing has just happened in Paris. The son of M. Prevost-Parodol—who, while French Minister at Washington, committed suicide by blowing out his brains—has destroyed himself in the same manner as did his father. He was only eighteen, and lived with his guardian, the dramatic author, Helevy. He is reported to have been for some time past in a depressed state of mind.

A large body of unemployed workingmen marched to the mayor's office in San Francisco Thursday, and a committee waited upon the mayor and demanded work or bread, suggesting that they be set at work on the streets or other public works. The mayor addressed the crowd, stating his inability to take such action and counseling application, when necessary, to the various benevolent organizations. The speech was received in sullen silence, and the crowd, to the number of several thousand, then marched to the new city hall lots, where they were addressed by agitators Kearney, Wellock and others, who set forth that they must help themselves by force, if other means failed.

A malignant type of diphtheria has prevailed in some parts of Ferrisburg, Vt., so fatal that it is stated that twenty out of twenty-one children attacked, the whole school population of one district, have died.

L. E. Dorian, city treasurer of Quebec, is a defaulter in the sum of $300,000.

Young Hickey, the infant in law, fourteen years of age, who deliberately shot a young companion in Boston, the other day, and is now indicted for a trial, which is very likely to cost him his life's imprisonment, acknowledges that he was in the habit of reading the dime novel literature until he was deeply impressed with a desire to emulate the bloody exploits which form their staple material. The boy fiend Pomeroy, now hopelessly walled up in a living tomb, confessed to a similar predeliction and influence. It is certain that the two passions of lust and cruelty are the ones most stimulated by reading, and the legal vigilance that prohibits the circulation of licentious literature, might well be extended to that which incites to bloodshed and violence. —Providence Journal.

New Hampshire Items.

The house and barn of Harvey Bartlett at Hillsboro' Bridge were burned Thursday night. Loss $2000.

A Suncook man went to a Catholic priest a few days ago and asked him to officiate at his wedding, but the priest declined on some religious technicality. The man then had the ceremony performed by a Methodist minister, which so incensed the Catholic population that a mob of them went to his house the same night, hurled clubs and stones against the windows and doors, and even went so far as to break in and damage the furniture. The police appeared at that point and dispersed the rabble.

The State Register of Des Moines, Iowa, speaks in almost extravagant terms of the wonderful temperance work done in that city and vicinity by Mr. John W. Drew of this State, the well-known Reform Club organizer.

J. S. Taft & Co's earthern and stoneware establishment in Keene was burned Friday night. It is supposed to have taken fire from the kiln. The loss is $15,000, with some insurance. The storehouse and barn were saved. This is the third time this pottery has been burned.

The Grand Jury at Manchester, after four day's session, reported about 300 indictments, the greater portion being Manchester and Nashua liquor cases. The criminals will be arraigned on Thursday.

A correspondent of the Concord Monitor says that a physcian in that city who was attending a sick musician during convalescence suggested to the latter that it would be agreeable to hear a little music during his visits. The musician fell in with the suggestion and frequently regaled the doctor with the concord of sweet sounds. Time sped rapidly away, and the day arrived for the presentation of that little bill for medical attendance, which amounted to about $100. The bill was presented, but the worthy physician was surprised and disgusted by the presentation of the following counter charges, which he was finally compelled to allow; For playing "Oft in the Stilly Night," six variations, $10; solo "Sweet Home," three variations, $5; "German Waltz," one variation, $2; "Yankee Doodle," six variations, $10; solo "Last Rose of Summer," six variations, $10; "Sweet Home," three variations, $5; solo "Arkansas Traveler," six variations, $10; solo six burlesque variations on "Pop goes the Weasel," $10; "Sweet Aileen," 50 cts.; "Money Musk," 50cts.; "New Century Hornpipe," 50cts.; "Fisher's Hornpipe," 50 cts.; "German Waltz," with one variation, $2. Total $66.

Political.

Senator Cameron of Wisconsin, who with Christiancy and Merrimon are a subcommittee from the Privileges and Elections Committee to investigate affairs in South Carolina, will be ready to report to the full committee at its first meeting. The document is most pronounced in the positions it takes against all the operations of Hampton, Butler and others acting with them, and southern republicans claim that it will declare the Legislature which elected Butler illegal.

The people of California are to vote at their next general election upon the question of continuing or prohibiting Chinese immigration.

Postmaster-General Key is talked of for Governor of Tennessee by the anti-repudiation party in the hopeful fight they will make at the next State election.

The silver men, who have relied upon the vote of Senator Ben. Hill, of Georgia, in the Senate, in favor of the Bland bill, are greatly annoyed at his authorized statement, as follows: "I am unwilling to have the democratic party take a position which will injure the national credit, and especially unwilling that the South should abandon all her old positions, prejudices and unquestionable interest, and join in this mad demand for unlimited free coinage of the silver dollar and the indefinite postponement of the resumption of specie payments. As a matter of policy I protest that the Southern people shall not be put in the attitude of even apparent hostility to the national credit."

The Boston Herald says: "Gov. Robinson, of New York, laments the plunder which has devastated the Southern States during the last dozen years. He needn't have gone outside of his own State if he wanted examples of plunder."

Bancroft Davis prints a four column letter in the New York Herald, in defence and in justification of Secretary Fish, in the Grant-Sumner St. Domingo affair.

Boss Tweed is to receive his reward for helping to crush the Tilden wing of the New York democracy, by his testimony before the Tammany committee of the New York Board of Aldermen. In the Board of Aldermen, Friday afternoon, a resolution was adopted declaring that greater benefit could be gained for the city by the discharge of William M. Tweed from imprisonment than by his longer detention, and recommending the Attorney-General and the Corporation Counsel to release him from imprisonment, after securing for the city such property as he now possesses, and after taking means to secure his testimony when necessary in any suits which might hereafter be brought by the city. Great is Democratic Reform, and Tammany is its Prophet,—sometimes spelled "profit."

"Join at Once."

A young sub-lieutenant left his regiment a short time ago on sick leave, and put up at the best hotel, not a hundred miles from Poonah, where he was immediately smitten by the attractions of a lovely young lady who was stopping there. He proposed, was accepted, and the happy day was fixed. The colonel, however, disapproved of sub-lieutenants getting married, and particularly of the marriage of the sub in question. As he happened to be a friend of the young man's father he thought to prevent the union of the fond couple by sending a peremptory telegram couched in the following words: "Join at once." The son of Mars was in despair. He presented himself before his intended with the fatal missive in his hand, and anything but a look of pleasure in his countenance: but the young lady was equal to the occasion. With a blush of maidenly simplicity and virgin innocence, she cast her eyes on the ground and remarked: "Dear me! I'm glad your colonel approves of the match, but what a hurry he is in! I don't think I can get ready so soon, but I'll do my best, because, of course, love, the commands of our colonel must be obeyed." The young warrior was puzzled. "Don't you see, my darling," said he, "that this confounded telegram puts a stopper on all our plans? You don't seem to understand the telegram. He says peremptorily 'join at once.'" The lady's blushes redoubled, but with a look of arch simplicity, she raised her lovely eyes to her fiance and replied: "It is you, my darling, that don't seem to understand it. Your colonel says plainly, 'join at once,' by which he of course means get married immediately. What else can he mean?" A look of intelligence replaced the air of bewilderment in the young hero's classic features, and bestowing a regular chaste salute on her rosy lips he accepted the explanation and was enabled to answer the colonel's telegram in forty-eight hours afterward in these words: "We were joined at noon."—Bombay Gazette.

Daniel Webster's First Plea.

When Daniel Webster and his brother Ezekiel were boys on their father's farm in New Hampshire, they were greatly annoyed one year by the ravages of the squirrels, and traps were set to catch them. Ezekiel brought the first capture to the house in triumph, and was, boy-like, eager to kill him at once, as a punishment for his misdeeds, or to make him a prisoner for life in a cage; but Daniel would consent to neither sentence, he wanted to set the poor, frightened little creature free. The dispute waxed warm, and the boys appealed to their father. He proposed to hold a court, and have the squirrel tried, Ezekiel appearing for the prosecution, Daniel for the defence. This was a grand idea—the court was organized in the family sitting-room, with the father on the bench. Ezekiel did his very best; he enlarged upon the iniquities of the squirrel, and the necessity for punishment, and supposed he had covered the whole ground. But Daniel rose, his young face lighted with enthusiasm, and his young heart full of pity for the helpless creature whose life he was to plead for. Boy as he was, he poured out such a flood of eloquent speech on the beauty and worth of life, even to a squirrel; on the great wrong of imprisonment for an unconscious offence; and on the charm of freedom, that when he sat down, his hearers wiped the tears from their eyes. The prosecutor was the first to deliver the bright-eyed little prisoner, and Daniel and Ezekiel set no more traps.—Cor. of Our Dumb Animals.

Protracted Lawsuit

In 1865, John V. Barron of Concord, Stephen Kendrick of Franklin, and Richard H. Messer of New London were chosen referees to adjust certain large disputed claims between Messrs Conant & Davis of Enfield, and the Church family of Shakers of that town, which claims had arisen from certain extensive business transactions between said firm and Orville Dyer, as agent for the Shakers. In 1871, after several protracted hearings, this Board of Arbitration made an award, but such award was subsequently set aside by the Court on the ground that it was improperly made under the articles of submission. The controversy was then renewed in the form of a suit at law by Davis, the surviving partner of the late firm of Conant & Davis, Conant having died during the pending of the proceedings. The present suit was referred to Judge Smith of Manchester, as Auditor to state the case and report the facts back to the Court, upon which a decision will be rendered, unless either party elect a trial by jury. Judge Smith called a hearing, which began last week at the Proctor House in Andover, and the case will probably occupy six or eight weeks in the presentation of all the evidence. The accounts in the case amount to about $200,000, and the suit involves large business interests. A. F. Pike and George W. Murray now appear for Davis, and Harry Bingham and John Y. Mugridge in behalf of the Shakers.

—It seems to be the ambition of all young wives to look well when any one calls. The other day a south side bride heard a loud ring at the front door. The maid was out and she rushed up stairs to "fix up" a little before admitting the caller. There was a moment of lightning work before the dressing case. Quicker than it takes to tell it, a ribbon was fastened at her throat, a flower stabbed into her hair, a flash of powder on her face, and she was at the door, all smiles and blushes. The gentleman said he had walked from Memphis, and couldn't remember that he had tasted food since he left Cincinnati.—Oil City Derrick.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

THE CITY.

Lieutenant E. H. Taunt, attached to this navy yard, has been granted leave of absence for three weeks from January 3d.

We notice a large number of sidewalks are in a very bad condition from not being shovelled off, and from ice. The City Marshal on Sunday morning sanded a number of the worst ones, and notified the owners of a number of others to do the same,—and announces that he is determined to enforce the law relating to care of sidewalks.

At the quarterly meeting of the Woman's Temperance League, holden on the 3d inst., the following officers were elected: Mrs. B. F. Thorndike, President; Mrs. A. W. Determined that the present winter shall not even momentarily have the reputation of being the most remarkable winter that ever was, a weather recorder says: "In the winter of '47-'48 no snow of any consequence fell until Jan. 12th; on New Year's day farmers were plowing and sheep and cattle were grazing. In 1853 sleighing did not commence until Jan. 18th, and much plowing was done between the 11th and 18th of that month. In the fall of '61 there was no snow of any consequence until Dec. 16th. In '63 no sleighing until Dec. 18th. In the winter of '65-'66 no good sleighing until Jan. 4th. In 1874 the ground was bare from Jan. 7th until Jan 15th, and on the 23d of January the thermometer was up to 70 at two o'clock, P. M.

The horse that was left standing on Market square in the storm of Friday afternoon, as related in Saturday's CHRONICLE, turned out not to belong (as was at first supposed) to some well-to-do farmer who had been beguiled by the fire-water into forgetting all about having hitched his horse where the storm could get at him so handily, but to a highly-respectable resident of a neighboring town who bears the reputation of being humane and is not one of those who "put an enemy in their mouths, to steal away their brains." But having recently been married, he drove into town that day and accompanied his bride on a little shopping excursion,—and every dutiful husband will understand how easy it was for him when thus blissfully engaged to become oblivious to snow-storms or horses.

THE VICINITY.

Within the last eighteen months Lewis Williams of Stratham has read the New Testament through eight times. What he wanted to do it for is not stated.

Last Friday Mr. George L. Emery brought into this office four as lively grasshoppers as one would wish to see. They were captured in a field near here, and Mr. Emery thought the catch worthy of a notice in the public prints, and so do we, for lively grasshoppers are not generally plenty on the 27th of December in this latitude.—Biddeford Journal.

The South Berwick Academy has closed, owing it is said to the death of Hon. John H. Burleigh, who was one of its principal supporters pecuniarily. It is said that Mr. Burleigh placed generous sums of money where they would really "do the most good," his charitable gifts being numerous and judiciously bestowed, though he never made any fuss about his good deeds.

On the evening of New Year's day the family of Mr. Benj. F. Shaw, of Birch Hill, York, had a "Christmas tree" and general good time, which was attended by a large number of people from all quarters—some of them from Portsmouth. Mr. Shaw himself was not present, having gone to the westward somewhere on a wedding trip with his newly-wedded bride.

The good people (and bad ones, too, if there are any bad ones there,) of Seabrook can pay their money, and take their choice of religions—or creeds—just now. Mr. Mills, spiritualistic inspirational lecturer, is doing missionary work there; the Seventh Day Adventists and the First Day ditto are running opposition and making things lively; and with these and the Congregational, Methodist and other churches, the Seabrookers must be hard to suit if they cannot find some kind of a religion to suit them among the lot.

The Seabrook fishermen assert that for some time past they have suffered from the depredations of the fishermen from "Joppa"—the boat-building and fishermen's district of Newburyport. They say that the latter can get off to the fishing grounds at times when boats cannot put off from Seabrook at all, and that on such occasions they (the Seabrookers) find their trawls "skinned" of fish; and they lay all the blame on the Joppa men. So to the number of twenty-five or thirty they held a meeting, on the evening of Dec. 29th, at the house of Richard Fowler in South Seabrook, formed a protective association, and appointed a committee to arrange for a guard boat to look after their trawls, with men to watch for trespassers and enforce the law against all depredators.

—A Canadian clergyman has been appointed coroner. His flock may be described as the Little Church Around the Coroner.

—A hopeful minister says that he has no doubt that the time will come when the members of a church choir will behave just as well as other folks.

—An English judge recently defined bankruptcy as "when a man owes a lot of money, and a lawyer and an accountant divide his estate between them."

—In repairing the old homestead of Capt. N. W. French, in the northerly part of East Bridgeport, Mass., shingles which have been on the house 120 years, having been laid two years before the battle of Quebec, were removed apparently as sound as when first laid. The shingles are of the kind known as shaved cedar shingles, and thirteen inches in length, and notwithstanding their exposure to the weather for so many years, the genuine cedar smell is still clear and distinct.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Rockingham, ss.

Taken by virtue of an execution in favor of John Bellows against Aaron P. Wingate and to be sold at Public Auction on Wednesday the third ensuing day of January next at ten of the clock in the forenoon at the late residence of Aaron P. Books, Magazines, Etc.

Messrs. Roberts Brothers, of Boston, the publishers, have sent us a neat little edition of poems by Louise Chandler Moulton. We always delight to read Mrs. Moulton's prose writings, as well as her poetical efforts, because she has by them won a reputation, not only in this country but in England,—and besides, she is the wife of a son of Portsmouth, a practical printer, and the successful publisher of a Boston newspaper. The volume makes a neat present for this season of the year.

Sheldon & Co., of New York, send us "Miss Misanthrope," a novel by Justin McCarthy, author of "Lady Judith," etc. The same publishers have also issued the "Narratives of a Blockade Runner," by J. Wilkinson, captain in the Confederate States navy; a book that will be perused with interest by many a naval man, who will enjoy its reminiscences, while to the general reader it will afford a vast store of information in regard to the way things were done in the rebellion, now happily past; so the yarns which the writer spins, can harm no one.

"Aunt Jo's Scrap Book," by Louisa M. Alcott, Vol. IV., comprising "My Girls," etc. Published by Roberts Brothers: Price $1.00. This book, like the other volumes of this series, is a collection of short tales and sketches by one of the most enchanting writers of stories for children. There is no more delightful present for the young people than one of Miss Alcott's books.

"Jolly Good Times at School" by Thorne. Published by Roberts Brothers. This, as its name indicates, is a story of school life, a subject very popular with the young, told in the author's best style and interesting to the whole family circle.

One of the difficulties of the mothers of the present day is the sifting the books, preserving at the same time an interest to the young folks, and doing without an injurious flavor from the bad. "The Doings of the Bodley Family in Town and Country," a pleasantly written book by H. E. Scudder, author of the Bodley books, is issued from the Riverside Press at Cambridge in an attractive form, and published by Hurd & Houghton, and certainly commends itself alike to the good taste and good sense of every book-buyer for the juveniles. Its profuse illustrations and interesting variety will charm the young reader, and compel a quiet a tention from the most irrepressible urchin, whose anxious mother, supplying this book to her hopeful, will find that

"Silence like a poultice comes—
To heal the blows of sound."

Dress Coats to Hire.

A regular business in New York city consists of loaning dress coats for balls, wedding parties, etc. First class swallow tailed coats are loaned at $2.50 per night, and vests to match at one dollar. As soon as the coats commence to look shabby, said a tailor, we sell them. Every summer we have a sale of the clothes used during the previous winter. We sell them off to waiters in the hotels and restaurants for $2.50 and $3 each. Those that are not suitable for waiters we get rid of to the second-hand clothiers, and then they are sold here and down South to deacons in colored churches, and so on. A coat may be made for some prominent gentleman in New York by some fashionable tailor; it does not fit; I buy it and hire it out for a season; then I sell it to a dealer and he sells it to some waiter and that waiter may wait upon the gentleman for whom the coat was made, in his own garment; so you see our trade unites all classes of society. The tailor proudly exhibited some of his swallow-tail coats; they were of the handsomest make, lined with the most expensive goods, some of them handsomely corded and others faced with costly satin and silk. "Ah," said he, holding up one of the garments, "you put that on a $10 a week clerk and you would not know him from the president of a savings bank a month after it had failed. This is a most useful business, sir; a most useful and benevolent business."—N. Y. paper.

—Christmas-tied—Those people married on the 25th of December.

—On the ice at Winnipeg the other day a two-mile race took place between a team of ponies and a team of dogs, owners driving. The dogs won easily, thanks in a great measure to the fact that whenever the horses tried to pass them they sprang at the horses' heads and forced them to break.

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that memorable struggle has secure for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the consideration that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independent criticism within the Republican Party, for in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with which the Party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of Republican reorganization. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of partisan obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the gradual readjustment of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and manufacture. It will oppose official plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by the law, or to place the national creditor on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve imposts or duties which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belongs the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost fidelity, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrants in the South in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not hesitate to let the fact that Northern confidence and amnesty must find their return in the enforcement at home of even handed justice and scrupulous regard for the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be strenuously exerted in all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the late Russo-Turkish war how ample are its resources, and how well directed is its enterprise. Its voluminous foreign correspondence for the last year or two has proved to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of a highly-important epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same fullness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which went before.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and refined classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being reckless; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No theories subversive of the principles on which the commonwealth of liberty and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper especially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the editorial columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is peculiarly adapted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Dropsicalness and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most concentrated and yet perfected purgative pills. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, and contain no mercury, nor purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every-day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all dandruff, eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clear.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur
Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bedridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Rheumatism, Fever-sores, Ulcers, Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvelous. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. The Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is so efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castorir is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. Not alone the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An article cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's 8 standard Medicines have outvoted all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness Tropid Liver, or "Liver Complaint" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and loss of flesh, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it off-sets perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's
Pleasant
Purgative
Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their searching influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years bring sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often restores a healthy growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and locks of gray hair assume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merits, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubtedly something unusual to propose. Has the remedy used, Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy that was in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable as it is, it does not comprise a thousandth part of the recommendations which are to-day offered by friends to friends in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but shrink from publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those who benefited for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of St. Paul, Fargo & Co's Express, can not be outspoken indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen,—I have for some months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 20 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 70—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me remarkable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS,
AURORA, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 193.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

Pelham was formerly in Rockingham County, but is now in Hillsborough. It is an old town, having had settlements in 1722, and was incorporated in 1746. Rev. James Hobbs of the Hampton family of that name, was the first minister, and was settled in 1751. Rev. Amos Moody of Newburyport, and of the long line of Moodys in the ministry, was the second. Rev. John H. Church, living but a generation ago, was the third.

Chief-Justice Merchant M. Richardson of Chester, who died in 1838, was a native of Pelham. He was in the legal practice in Deerfield long, was for a time High Sheriff of Rockingham County, and later an Associate Judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

But the special object of this number is to give a few sketches antiquarian in character, in connection with early affairs in Pelham.

In the family of Mr. Ryland J. Mack of Ray, are some few documents, relative to old time matters in one or two families in Pelham, which I have examined, and concerning which a few notes will be given. In copying, spelling, capital letters, etc., are preserved.

It appears that Edward Coburn was in the French and Indian war. A letter from his wife to him was dated Pelham, July 30, 1756. Here is an extract: "Loving Husband these are to let you know that I am well and our Children are well But Benjamin has had the fever ager But he is better and all our Relatives are well Blessed be god for it I should be glad to hear from you fare and wat you are Doing and whether there is any Hopes of your Coming Home soon I remain your Loving and affectionate wife until Deth Hannah Coburn."

There is a receipt, which was given thus: "Camp at Lake George ye 19 of October 1756 Then Received of Edward Colburn Teen Shillings In Full of all Accounts nots Bills Dues Debts Demands Whatsoever from the Beginning of the world to this Present day as Witness my Hand Attest James Sawyer Samuel Ayer"

Two years later, it appears Mr. Coburn was at home, as the following note was given him:

NEWBURY PORT Aug 3, 1758

For Value Recd I Promis to pay to Mr Edward Coburn five Pounds in New England Rum at thirteen shillings and sixpence Gallon at three months Cred on Bar rum & balance in Engls Goods.

JOHN BORDMAN.

Mr. Coburn was in the war of the Revolution and in the force of Gen. Stark at Bennington. The battle there was fought Aug. 16, 1777, the centennial of which was celebrated last August. Probably he was in that fight. A little later he was discharged, as the following shows:

BENNINGTON Sept 12 1777

Edward Coburn is hereby Discharged from the Service he being found unfit for Duty. By order of B. G STARK

John Ousey A D

But he was in the service later, as the following indicates:

"FISHKILL August 29 1879

Edward Coburn soldier has Liberty to Pass to Westpoint and Return to-morrow

ELIAS STILWELL Cap

EZRA BADLOURT Col Command

To all Concerned"

B. G. was for Brigadier General. A. D. for Aide.

It is well to examine some records of the past. We find the simplicity of style when destitute of much school training. We find also how some struggled to have our country free, and to lay foundations of prosperity and greatness.

—A little boy being instructed in morals by his grandmother, the old lady told him that all such terms as "by golly," "by jingo," "by thunder," etc., were only little oaths, and but little better than any other profanities. In fact, she could tell a profane oath by the prefix "by." All such were oaths. "Well, then, grandmother," said the hopeful, "is 'by telegraph,' which I see in the newspapers, swearing?" "No," said the old lady, "that is only lying."

—In a London court a few days ago, Moses Benjamin, a poor dealer in old clothes, well known in Houndsditch, was called as witness. The lawyer whose case was imperilled by his testimony, concluded to make something of the indefinable prejudices of a Christian jury, and asked with an unctuous flourish: "Well, Mr. Moses Benjamin, what is your religion?" The old man replied; "Since my name's Moses Benjamin, and I live in Houndsditch, and sell old clothes, I think you might know I'm—a Quaker!"

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5th.

There is an impression that it is one feature of the policy agreed on by some of the "last ditch" statesmen here, to make it so hot through mob and rifle club violence for republican Federal officers in the South that they will be terrorized into a neglect of duty; then their negligence can be urged as a basis for a "change," good Confederates being selected to succeed them. No one has forgotten with what effrontery and success a Southern Senator recently urged the appointment and confirmation of Confederate-Democratic Fitzsimmons on the ground that any republican would be about equally offensive to "the people" (democrats) of Georgia. The shameless admission was virtually made, pending the appointment, that it would be useless to appoint any other than a democrat, as there was a pre-determined purpose to so obstruct the enforcement of the laws by a republican official that the appointment of such would practically amount to nullification. These and kindred reasons appear to have been accepted as valid and binding by a sufficient number of republicans to secure Fitzsimmons' confirmation, against the protest of almost every republican Senator. Now comes the official report of the latest outbreak in the jurisdiction of that "great and good man" Wade Hampton. Several revenue officers were overtaken by one of his rifle clubs and forced to release a prisoner who was captured openly violating the law, under pain of death in case of refusal. It is further added that the leaders in this act of defiance to the Government authority, are "men of great influence in their communities;" and in the light of the wholesale release of political murderers in that State since last spring, and the quashing of all legal processes looking to their punishment, very few entertain any hope or expectation that the perpetrators of this latest crime will be brought to justice.

The political caldron, as we draw near the date of the re-assembling of Congress, has the movements of its contents accelerated by the fuel added from time to time by the politicians on each side, notably so by the large contribution of Chandler; and it is predicted that it will be in a state of furious ebullition directly Senators and Representatives get well down to work, invigorated and renewed by their holiday jamboree. It seems also the general belief here that the destinies of parties and individuals are rapidly shaping themselves in such manner that President Hayes will not much longer be able to stand halting between two opinions; that the relations he is hereafter to sustain toward the two great parties contending for the mastery, will be definitely settled within a short time—a very few weeks—after the re-convening of Congress; and they may be quite as certainly determined by what he abstains from doing as by positive action in either direction, and that too against his desire to continue to occupy a semi-neutral attitude.

It is gratifying to be able to break the monotonous history of business depression and failures by the announcement of an actual reduction of the national debt last month, as exhibit not possible during any prior December for four years.

Since the advent of the new year an indefinite variety in the weather touchsafed us in this locality, has been observed. The temperature of Wednesday morning continued to fall during the day and until yesterday evening, when it left a decidedly Arctic impression upon those exposed out of doors; this morning at daylight there were three good inches of snow on the street; after sunrise it rapidly moderated, and at nine o'clock A. M., it was raining furiously. At this hour (three P. M.) there is not a cloud above the horizon in any direction, the sun is shining genially and there is promised a continuance of the beautiful weather of December.

KNOX.

The Eastern War.

The Russian Gen. Radektzy has crossed the Balkans through Schipka Pass, the Turks having abandoned their positions previously, because of the severe cold.

Sofia was entered by the Russians on the 3d inst., after a brief skirmish, in which the assailants lost only twenty-four men.

The Turks still hold Antivari, which the Monteinegrins are besieging, and a Turkish army is advancing to raise the seige.

Gen Gourkho announces that a desperate engagement occurred January 2d, near Bogros. The Turks attempted to surround five battalians of Russian infantry and a brigade of cavalry, but were defeated, leaving 1000 dead on the field. The Russians lost 200 men. The Russian detachment under General Dandeville, which supported Gen. Gourkho in his movement over the Balkans, had fifty-three men frozen to death on one night and 820 frost-bitten. The official despatch states that the Russian loss in crossing the Balkans, however, was not so great as first supposed. The Turks suffered enormously and immense numbers of the sick and wounded were found in their positions. On December 31st the whole plain of Kamarli was strewn with Turkish corpses.

The "Workingman's Money."

It is rather a pleasant thing to have a handful of silver pieces to jingle and look at; and for the poor workingman such coin has a decided fascination. But when he finds that these trade dollars are worth only ninety-four cents, and the old-fashioned silver dollars but ninety-two; when he finds that the savings bank where he tries to deposit them will not credit him with full dollars; when he finds that the grocer, butcher, shoemaker and dry-goods merchant will not give him a full dollar's worth of merchandise for them, because these people cannot pass them at the bank; then the romance will wear off, and the workingman will see that his employer is cheating him out of six or eight cents on every dollar of his wages. —Norwich Bulletin.

Fellow Workingmen: Let us look at this matter from another standpoint. As the law now is silver is legal tender to the amount of five dollars. If you are fortunate enough to have a little money in the savings bank and wish to draw five dollars, and the teller offers you silver, you are obliged to take it; if you wish to deposit ten dollars in silver they can refuse to give you credit for the whole amount. If you do a day's work you cannot refuse silver in payment. If you wish to buy a half-barrel of flour, five dollars in silver will do it; if you wish to buy a whole barrel and have no money but silver, it will take eleven dollars to pay for it. This is demonetization of silver; or, in plain English, paying your small creditors with silver, but your large ones in gold or its equivalent. To illustrate further: the publishers of the GAZETTE if offered silver for subscriptions, are obliged to take it; and if they collect a large amount of silver and wish to pay for a hundred dollars' worth of paper, will have to pay one hundred and ten dollars. It is in fact only a scheme of the bondholders to get gold alone for their bonds, that silver was demonetized four years ago. Now our representatives in Congress who have looked into this matter see the injustice of such law to the people, and wish to make silver a full legal tender for all purposes. With such a law Government will receive it for all purposes at par; they will require about $300,000,000 per annum. It will be impossible for it to depreciate, everybody will be glad to get it when they can,—or any other full legal tender. A large majority of the present Congress were elected and instructed to support these measures, and if President Hayes vetoes the bill when it passes, the people will send a majority to the next Congress that will establish a currency that will be just as good for the bondholders as it is for you, and no better,—and don't you forget it.

WORKINGMAN.

The Verplanck Mansion—A Relic of Ante-Revolutionary Days.

Here and there, both in New York city and State, relics survive of the old Dutch times that Irving has immortalized alike at home and abroad, as well as not seldom investing with amusingly romantic interest. While on a stroll on a bright autumnal afternoon, a mile or two from the village of Fishkill on the Hudson, my attention was attracted by one of the most antique of dwellings, a story and a half high, built in the Dutch style of wood and stone, with dormer windows. With the first glimpse I had of it came an impression that it might have an interesting history, but how much so I little imagined until it was made known to me. While still viewing it from a little distance, a resident of the place, whose blue dress coat with gilt buttons, buff vest and square gold watch-key, that hung from his fob, indicated him "a gentleman of the old school," came leisurely along, and to my inquiry gave me all the information I asked, and a great deal more in interest than I could have anticipated. Very much did he remind me, as I talked with him, of our late esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. Charles W. Brewster, to whom we are indebted for so much that is interesting in the history of our own locality in years gone by, seeming as he did

"A walking book-case—on its shelves
The archives of the past."

The old mansion was built in 1682, by Julian Verplanck, upon a tract of land he purchased from the Indians, and has been ever since in the family. It is surrounded by extensive gardens, handsome lawns and broad green fields dotted with clumps of stately trees, giving to the whole the appearance of an English park. The house has been carefully preserved with all its antique peculiarities, and during the Revolution was the scene of many an interesting episode. In 1778, General Lafayette was dangerously sick there of a fever; Dr. Thacher, who visited him afterward, described him as "elegant in figure, with an interesting face of perfect symmetry, a fine, animated hazel eye, and most polite in manner." It was the head-quarters of Baron Steuben at the time Washington was at Newburg, on the opposite shore of the Hudson. A cosy room used by the baron as his library, still retains the shelves on which his books were laid. On a day when Washington, Knox, Hamilton and Morris, had dined with the baron, they retired to this little apartment for a confidential lamentation over the destitute condition of the national treasury. Marquis de Chastellux, Count de Rochambeau, and Mabois, the distinguished Secretary of Legation from France, were also among the visitors of the baron at that period. It was within this ancient structure that the idea first found expression which was proposed by Colonel Nicola, on behalf of himself and others, to Washington at Newburg, that he (Washington) should be made King of the United States, "for the national advantage," for which Nicola received from him a severe reprimand for entertaining for one instant such a thought. Here, too, on the 13th of May, 1783, the celebrated Society of Cincinnati was organized, Baron Steuben, the senior officer, presiding, and Washington being its first president. The idea of the society originated with General Knox, its object being to cement and perpetuate the friendship of its founders, and transmit the same sentiment to their descendants. The chairs used on this interesting occasion are still preserved, as well as most of the antique furniture that accompanied them. The Verplanck family is one of the oldest and most honorable of the New York families of Holland origin, every generation of which has had its good and gifted men, of whom in later years was Gulian C. Verplanck of New York city, where he rose to eminence in the law, in politics and literature, holding high positions, state and national, and ministering to the public and private welfare in many ways. The writer has a recollection, in his earlier days, while sitting at his side, of seeing him, on a winter afternoon, drop a bank note of generous amount into the contribution box of a small Episcopal church in New York, where his face was but little known, that must greatly have surprised the wardens when it met their sight, unaccustomed as they were to such sums among the contributions of a church whose attendants were for the most part those of very moderate means. His summer residence was the old homestead, where most of the celebrities of his time were indebted to his hospitality. In the library his private chair was one that had been the property of Bishop Berkeley, and where it may still be seen. Few of the antique dwellings that survive anywhere in the country, have so many interesting associations as the Verplanck Mansion.

News and Notes.

The steamer Atacoma of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, from Valparaiso to Callao, struck on a rock called Quietra Olas on the Chilian coast, near the mouth of the river Copiapo, on the 30th of November. The unfortunate vessel was broken into pieces and went down in a few minutes. One hundred and one lives were lost, including the captain and all of the crew. The mails and cargo were also lost. Twenty-four male and seven female passengers escaped. The officer who took the deck at eight o'clock perceived breakers ahead the moment he reached the bridge, and at once rang the emergency signal. It was too late, however, for although the vessel did not go straight on to the rocks, her starboard side scraped them, and she was rent completely open. The shock appeared to have disarranged the boilers, for an explosion of steam took place, inundating the deck with steam and ashes, so that it was utterly impossible to reach the boats. The ship gave three huge lurches and then went down, within three minutes from the time she struck. A tremendous sea was running at the time.

William Fields, said to be the son of a Providence minister, was killed in an altercation in a Houston, Texas, dance-house last Saturday.

The king of Italy is reported to be very ill, and his death is feared.

The unknown schooner lost on Nauset with all hands proves to be the J. G. Babcock, of Egg Harbor, N. J.

A bloody fight took place some days ago on the south side of Red river, in the Pan Handle of Texas, between a hunting party of Cheyennes, Pawnees and Arapahoes. Thirty Cheyennes and twelve Pawnees are said to have been killed. The loss of the Arapahoes is not stated. The cause of the fight was a trespass of the Pawnees on the hunting-ground of the Cheyennes.

Sergeant Bassler is no longer connected with the Signal Service, having fallen a victim to the peculiar relations existing between that Bureau and the army, with which it has only an unnatural connection. As a meteorologist, there was perhaps no more able man in that service, but physically, the army surgeon deems him unfitted for active service in fighting Indians and Greasers. So he is mustered out of a service for which he is eminently fitted, because of his want of fitness for an entirely different sphere of activity to which he would never have been assigned.

In Boltou, Mass., on Wednesday morning, a box containing shavings saturated with kerosene was discovered burning under the house of Benjamin H. Sawyer, but in time to save the building. The box had two holes bored into it through which candles were set and lighted, so that when the candles burned down the shavings would be ignited. Fortunately the candles were so long that they did not burn down until Mr. Sawyer's family was up in the morning, and thus the incendiary's plot was a failure. John D. Williams of Berlin has been arrested as the fire-bug.

Two tramps on Saturday robbed a rag-picker's house near Camden, N. J., of $200, the savings of years, outraged two little girls, the only occupants of the house at the time, and made good their escape.

Chief Clerk Galpin, of the Indian Bureau, has been dismissed.

Walkeley and Wiggin, ex-presidents of the Charter Oak Life Ins. Co. of Hartford, and Furber, ex-financial manager of the same company, are all to be tried for conspiracy, having been indicted by a grand jury.

Lieut. Alexander Rogers, of the Fourth cavalry, has been detailed to represent the Army of the United States at the Paris Exposition.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured to wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and gives a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

THE CITY.

The city schools re-opened Monday morning, after the annual winter vacation of two weeks.

The thermometer marked eight degrees below zero in this city at sunrise on Monday,—the coldest morning of the season, so far.

Don't forget the dance to-night at Mechanic's Hall. A silver plated comb will be given to the best lady dancer and a gold lined silver mug to the best gentleman dancer.

The crew of the U. S. S. Kearsarge were at work stripping her on Monday, and a number of them were kept aloft a large part of the day, the exposure resulting in several of them being frost-bitten.

A very large number of persons in this city have taken cold within a few days, many of them being unable to tell how, not having exposed themselves carelessly or experienced anything like a chill. The complaint appears to be epidemic.

The schooner Granite State, before reported in a perilous position off Chatham, Mass., was driven close in shore by the gale of Wednesday night, anchored, and cut away both masts; the crew were taken off on Thursday by a surf-boat from the life-saving station. The gale of Friday night drove her on the beach and broke her up. She was owned by Boston parties; was of 167 tons register, and built at this port in 1849.

Mr. J. Buzzell and wife, who recently left this city for Fernandina, Florida, where Mr. Buzzell has purchased an orange grove, met with an accident before getting very far on their journey. They took passage on the Sound steamer Old Colony, but by the bursting of a steam-pipe the boat was disabled and had to be towed back to Newport, R. I., where Mrs. Buzzell was taken to the Perry House and placed under a doctor's care, having been painfully scalded by the escaping steam.

At a primary meeting of the democrats of Ward Four, holden on Friday evening, Henry F. Wendell presided and Wm. S. Hazel was elected Secretary. Delegates were elected as follows to the several conventions: State and Councillor—Henry F. Wendell, Samuel Langdon, Henry L. Marcy, George A. Perkins; Senatorial—Charles W. Norton, George S. Leach, Josiah H. Grover, Wm. S. Hazel; County—Albert B. Trefethen, Henry S. Hartshorn, Joseph R. Holmes, Benj. F. Mugridge.

On Sunday occurred the Festival of the Epiphany, or the manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles, and was observed by the usual religious services at the Episcopal and Catholic churches. The rite of baptism was administered to three children at St. John's Church on Sunday afternoon. The second anniversary of the settlement of Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, Rector of St. John's Church, will occur next Sunday, at which time he will deliver a pastoral letter, being a review of the parish work.

One of the best books that we have examined recently is "Higginson's Young Folks' History" of the United States. It is no dry collection of dates, nor a statistical statement of bare facts, but a pleasant succession of stories, written in such a fasinating manner as to cause the reader a regret in laying it aside. Such a history used as a school text book, it seems must needs be successful; for it is just the kind of reading that will impress the mind of the youth, and cause what is learned from its pages to be remembered as long as memory lasts. It is published by Lee & Shephard of Boston.

The anniversary of the Reform Club occurs to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, and the members propose celebrating the event by a supper and exercises appropriate to the occasion in Mechanics' Hall at half past seven. The ladies of the club have volunteered to contribute the eatables, although any who may feel disposed can give whatever they choose of money or food, toward the banquet. Tickets of admission will be twenty-five cents, to be had of the committee, (J. E. Roberts, John S. Treat, James Sanborn, James Marden, James Janvrin, Wilber I. Trafton, Frank G. Thurston,) and at the door.

One of the livest of all the live papers that come to our table is the Boston Post; as we are told is the case with some other articles of daily consumption, the Post improves with age. Its politics are not very good; in fact they are democratic, which is equivalent to saying that they are very bad; but it is square as a brick on the currency question, and the republican who cannot enjoy its "all sorts" and editorials must be greatly prejudiced,—and the New England democrat who doesn't read it can have no possible hope of salvation. As a news-paper it is first-class; and as a whole it merits a generous public support.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, Jan. 7th.

Mr. Editor: "A Citizen" takes occasion to let out considerable spite in the Portsmouth Weekly of last week—engendered probably by malice toward the Congregational society for the reason that they had such a successful festival. Perhaps "A Citizen" would like a half-column notice of his falsehoods about that festival, but it is sufficient to say of his base libels on the ladies—and in fact on everyone connected with that society—that his "interesting details" and "true facts" are gross misstatements from beginning to end, as every one who attended the festival well knows. And in regard to his insinuations about the selectmen and police officers not doing their duty, and the reference made to "our efficient County Solicitor,"—"A Citizen" who has the welfare and morals of this dreadfully wicked town so much at heart, had better himself inaugurate the reform he wishes so much. There's no law against his entering a complaint against "aristocratic rum holes," and before he again finds fault with the "town authorities," let him remember that somebody has got to enter a complaint to them, before they have any power to stop the sale of liquor in town. Now let "A Citizen" do it, if he thinks this town so much worse than others around us; and if he thinks the morals of the community can be improved by printing "interesting details" such as he seems to approve of, by his effort in the Weekly, he had better continue his correspondence and let the outside world know of all the scandal that may be floating round. A regard for human feelings prevents a reference to such things in this correspondence.

Mr. W. S. Hadley commenced his labors with the Congregational society yesterday, and judging from his utterances on that occasion there will be lacking no effort on his part to have the most cordial relations exist between him and his parishioners; and that the latter will reciprocate the kindly feelings manifested, there seems no reason to doubt.

The concert by the Sunday School of the Christian society was largely attended, and must have netted quite a sum, for the object it was given for, the replenishing of the Sunday School library. A donation visit to Mr. Bowdish, the pastor of the society, on Thursday evening last, was a pleasant occasion to all participating.

The fog horn at Whale's-back kept lots of folks awake Wednesday night, and it was voted a nuisance by the sleepy ones. But sailors running for Portsmouth harbor at such times would no doubt be willing for it to make tan times the noise it does.

The teacher at the Centre school was discharged by the superintending school committee at the close of the afternoon session on Friday last. Lack of requisite qualifications, and improper conduct before the scholars, are assigned as reasons for the step.

There were twenty-one deaths in town during the past year,—and one this, so far, that of Mr. Robinson Foss, who was the oldest man in town, with possibly the exception of Mr. Joseph Philbrick, who is still hale and hearty at the age of nearly ninety-one.

"Harry's" item in the Times last week, about a man finding some kind of a straddle-bug in his watch, brings to mind the experience of another individual, who went all the way to Portsmouth to find out what in the world was the matter with his pocket timepiece, which had ceased running; the watchmaker to whom he carried it for repairs wound it up,—and didn't charge him a cent.

New Hampshire Items.

At present the organized militia of the State consists of two full infantry regiments of ten companies each; two infantry companies, unassigned; two troops of cavalry, five sections of artillery, with two guns each, and the Amoskeag Veterans as a battalion, in all about 1300 men. It is proposed eventually to organize a third infantry regiment, bringing the standard up to 2000 men. The enrolled militia of the State now numbers 48,000 subject to military duty between the ages of eighteen and forty-five. The military organizations of New Hampshire for the past five years have only cost the State from $12,000 to $15,000 annually.

Among the three hundred liquor dealers arrested at Manchester it is said are not only the regular saloon keepers, but prominent grocers, druggists and others; also members of churches, citizens of high standing in society and officials of the Court, who are to be prosecuted for renting buildings for the sale of intoxicating beverages.

Portsmouth Chronicle

Texas Journalism.

A Bangor correspondent sends us a copy of the El Paso Sentinel of Nov. 8th, 1873, (published while he was stationed at Fort Bliss), as a token of the estimation in which Lonis Cardis, the man killed by Howard, was at that time held by his own political party. We find the larger part of that week's issue of the Sentinel consisting of unpleasant remarks, both in prose and verse, upon the said Cardis, who seems to have been nominated for the Legislature by the county convention, but to have been rejected by the Sentinel. Plunderer, thief, cast-off scum, villain, communist fugitive, confiscator, big cur, perjurer, renegade Italian, and rascal are some of the least objectionable pet names lavished on Mr. Cardis, while a sample paragraph of the leading editorial reads thus:

"He is a social Ishmaelite, a moral leper, a thing devoid of honor, principle, or religion. God Almighty could only have created such a being as an exhibition of how much mendacity, meanness, cowardice and general rascality could be crowded in one human skin."

Upon this editorial, which occupies, with its head lines, two and a half columns, follow many smaller ones on the same subject, of which the first begins, in an excursatory way, thus: "We have neither time nor space this week to do justice to the individual whose alias heads this notice." Some verses on the subject describe Cardis as a foreign spy, a sneak, a hypocrite and a petit thief; and then, warming with the theme, go on:

"Sin, vice and infamy will pale
In presence of a man like this Vile moral leper, L. Cardis.
Dickens could not this man portray,
He'd drop his pen in black dismay;
No power that human genius gives,
Conceives that such a monster lives."

If this be true—and we can hardly doubt it, being in a newspaper—it is much to be hoped that Cardis reformed prior to his recent untimely taking off by his political rival, Howard.—Army and Navy Journal.

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the most momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secured for it a larger field of influence than the number of its supporters, and has placed beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the consideration that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independence within the Republican Party, for in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with which the Party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of Republicanism ended. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of public obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the protection of manufactures of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and manufactures. It will steadily oppose all plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by law, to pay the national creditor on any ground other than that of gold, to preserve unjustifiable duties which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding topics that may tend to promote sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen of the Northern immigrants in the south in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and sympathy must follow their return in the enforcement of even handed justice and scrupulous regard for the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the former.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the Russo-Turkish war how ample are its resources, and how well directed is its enterprise. Its voluminous foreign correspondence for the last year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of a highly-important epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same fullness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general research, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the unremitting advocacy of the right. No theories subversive of the principles on which the sacredness of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and nostrums, of immoral character, and all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper especially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, notwithstanding as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to sustain, not only its unbroken record, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have per ormed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvelous. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., N Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefit I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. When the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is easy to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, when use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specific in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? Does not superior success a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, is cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness. Tropid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots before one body, frequently be dizzy or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and bowel constipated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint," only partial or three symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Bullum in Parvo. Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, horrible as much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Full directions for use and the wonderful action is universal, not a gland escaping their salutative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always (if anything can) restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with livelier expressions; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and sure; it cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the rich lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH
THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT
Successfully Treated with
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such reliable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable as it is, it does not represent a thousandth part of the recommendations which are to-day offered by friends to friends in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily exalt its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but shun the publicity of their testimonial to a public statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, is an outspoken indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen.—I have for some months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 30 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age, I think, may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me invaluable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS,
AURORA, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Mutual Afflictions.

Mr. Thorpe is a middle aged widower, and some time ago he paid his addresses to Mrs. Botts, a widow on the shady side of forty. Thorpe is rich, and after the widow accepted him he began to fear that maybe she had taken him for his money, and so he concluded to test her to ascertain if she really loved him for himself alone. So one evening when they were sitting together in the parlor he said to her:

"Hannah, I've something unpleasant to tell you, but I am going to do it because I consider it right that you should know it. Hannah, what should you say if I informed you that one of my knee-pans is gone and that I have a patent hinge on that leg?"

"I should say that I care nothing for that, my dear; I have only one too on my left foot. The others were frostbitten off, and the ankle is all twisted around crooked."

"You don't tell me?" said Thorpe. "Well, but, I've something worse than that. I might as well confess that the bald place on top of my head is not really my scalp; I've been trepanned. I have a silver-plated concern set into my skull. You can lift it up and see down on the inside of me."

"I am glad you mentioned it, dear," said the widow, "for it gives me courage to tell you that I haven't a hair of my own on my head. I'm as bald as a chandelier globe."

"Is that so! Gracious! I never should have expected it. But you will be surprised to learn that none of my teeth are natural. All false, and besides that I have to wear an India rubber thingamagig on my palate to keep it from dropping down."

"I am very sorry for you, John; but it's some comfort that all my teeth are false too, and that I am perfectly blind in my right eye. It looks like a good eye, but it absolutely ain't worth a cent."

"Great Heavens! Why didn't you tell me of this before?" exclaimed Thorpe. "But while we are on the subject, I will say further that I have chronic torpidity of the liver. How does that strike you?"

"Oh, I don't mind it," said Mrs. Botts; "I have been bilious and dyspeptic for twenty years, and besides I am one rib short. It was broken in a railway accident, and the doctor had to cut it out. I'm subject to fits, too."

"This is horrible," said Thorpe. "Mrs. Botts, I think you ought to have mentioned these things to me when I proposed to you. I imagined that I was addressing a woman, a complete human creature. But what are you, Mrs. Botts? Mrs. Botts, you appear to me to be a kind of dilapidated old wreck, with not more than half of the usual machinery about you. It's a wonder to me you don't fall to pieces."

"I am no worse than you are. You said yourself that you have a trap door in the top of your head and a gum elastic palate.

"Yes, but these things ain't true," said Thorpe. "I only told you about them to see if you really loved me. I'm sound as a dollar; no inactive liver or silver-plated skull or anything. But you seem to be kind of strung together, so if you should knock against anything you'd scatter all around over the carpet. I think you ought to let me off."

"Very well, sir; so I will. But let me tell you that I've got nothing the matter with me, either. I only invented these stories to try you, because I knew you were playing a game over me. Now I know you don't love me. You can go, sir."

"Hannah, I take it all back. I do love you."

"Do you really? Then I love you more than ——"

But no; the curtain had better be drawn right here. The cold and selfish world has no business with such scenes as this. They are to be consolidated next month.—Phila. Bulletin.

—David Hottenstein, of Outelaunce, near Reading, Pa., never turned away a tramp from his door, indeed kept three beds for casual visitors and has had as many as thirty weary wayfarers sleeping in his barn. Verily he had his reward, for a tramp's pipe set fire to his barns the other day and burned them down.

—"Now, see heah, Dartmouf, how many times mus' yo' po' mudder tell yo ter frow dat base ball 'way an' stay in de house an' larn yo' A. B. C's? Cornell, quit dabblin' in dat watah, an' come heah dis instan'! You ac' like a fisherman. An' you, Vassar, you de wors' nigger in de pack. Take dat chewin' gum out of yo' mouf, or I'll choke you till yo're black n de face."

The Life Saving Service.

The annual report of the operations of the United States Life-Saving Service for the year ending June 30th, 1877, contains many valuable suggestions for the improvement and extension of the system. The amount expended during the year was $170,228, leaving an unexpended balance on hand of $27,231, out of the appropriation of $197,460. When we consider that in addition to the 1461 lives saved and the 368 ship-wrecked persons assisted and sheltered—services that cannot adequately be represented in figures—the value of property rescued by the service was $1,713,647, or rather more than ten times the outlay, the benefits of an extension and development of the service can be gainsaid by none. The amounts appropriated for its maintenance appear niggardly and parsimonious, in contrast with its accomplishments, no less than its actual requirements. Three stations have been added to the service, along the lakes, and one on the Florida shore. There are now ten districts, including the coast of New England, Long Island, New Jersey, the coast from Cape Henlopen to Cape Charles, and from Cape Henry to Cape Hatteras, in addition to the Florida and lake coasts just included. The crews of these districts are on regular duty from November to May, receiving pay at the rate of $40 per month, and are required to do special duty as needed during the rest of the year. There have been 134 disasters to vessels during the year, within the limits of the operations of the service.

There were 1500 people on board these vessels. The estimated value of the vessels was $1,986,744, and of the cargoes $1,306,588. Of the whole number of persons thus exposed upon stranded vessels, only 39, or 2 1-2 per cent., were lost. As we have before noted, 1461 lives were saved through the agency of the service. "When," in the words of the report, "the frightful marine holocausts upon our shores prior to the reorganization of the life-saving service are remembered, the triumph of this reduction of the former sum of fatality will be appreciated." The general summary of wrecks occurring within the scope of life-saving operations from November 1871, the date of the reorganization of the service, to the end of the period embraced in this report, shows 4650 lives saved out of a total of 4730 upon vessels in danger, in addition to property of the value of $6,967,947.

The report deals at length with the subject of improvements in life-saving apparatus. Life-carrying rockets, with a range of 400 yards are recommended, and it is suggested that vessels should carry an eprovette mortar for the purpose of communicating with the shore by means of projectiles, as they can be thrown to better advantage to a lee shore than from the coast against the force of the wind. The surf-boat is recommended as superior to the English life-boat, being more easily handled and better adapted for the work. The general habit of sailors and others on board a wrecked vessel, of attempting to get ashore in the ship's boats, is deprecated, as tending largely to increase the losses. The perfection of the signal code is urged. One of the most important recommendations in the report is that of greater liberality to the station-keepers and crews of life-saving stations, as their arduous labors are at present but poorly recompensed, and with the low compensation paid it is difficult to secure the best men for the work.

Four vessels cleared Saturday for Liverpool, from Norfolk, Va., with 25,000 bales of cotton valued at one million and a half, and including one cargo of 7860 bales, the largest ever shipped from a Southern port.

T. H. Ellis, of the Ellis House, Bardstown, Ky., eloped with and married his step-mother, Mrs. Mollie Ellis, a widow fair, fat, but not forty.

Two young ladies were drowned at Hyannis, Mass., Monday, by the breaking of ice on which they were skating.

By a fire in the Riverside Press establishment at Cambridge, Monday evening, most of the "Atlantic Monthly" magazine for February was destroyed, and other damage done by fire and water, to the amount of $13,000. Messrs. Houghton & Co. will spare no endeavors to get out the Atlantic at the usual time.

A Washington Jenkins says that at the last White House reception "Mrs. Key hung on the arm of the Postmaster-General, who was in black silk, and Miss Thompson accompanied her father, who was in lavender silk, with cardinal trimmings." The old men must have looked stunning!—Post.

The Roman Catholic hierarchy in Ireland has forbidden any person to be present at wakes except the immediate relatives of the deceased; and no spirituous or intoxicating liquors are to be used on such occasions under penalty of the deprivation of the services of the priest.

The Rhode Island Prohibitionists are threatening to punish Governor Van Zandt, who is one of their number when he is at home, for setting a bad example at Louisville last Summer, when it is understood he took something.

Fred. Douglass was on Monday requested by telegraph to visit Baltimore to see his former owner, Mr. Sears, who was supposed to be dying. Mr. Douglass left Washington by the next train.

The steamer Old Colony came pretty near smashing the Brenton's Reef lightship recently. After bursting her steam-pipe, as before reported, the Old Colony was taken in tow by the Coast Wrecking Co's steamer Relief, but when near Brenton's Reef the towline parted and the disabled vessel drifted down on the lightship. Fortunately the U. S. S. Nina, Lieut. Newell, had just come up, and a hawser was passed aboard the Old Colony just in time to haul her clear, her stern at the time she commenced to move ahead being within eight feet of the lightship. There was a very heavy sea at the time.

Henry R. Hinckley, of Northampton, Mass., one of the private depositors who lost heavily by the robbery of the Northampton Bank, has just received $25,000 of bonds, (Union Pacific six per cent. gold bonds) with two years interest, making their value $27,000. A short time ago, the bank burglars pledged $100,000 of the best railroad bonds, for a loan of $8000. The $25,000 recovered was among the $100,000 collateral. The robbers raised money to pay the lawyers' fees and other expenses of trial. The $25,000 of Union Pacific cost their owner $6000 to recover.

One of the up-town New York police stations is now the headquarters of a band of boy policemen, consisting of a captain, two sergeants and a half dozen patrolmen. They are all under fifteen years of age, and report at the station promptly at six P. M. every day. They are furnished with a list of untenanted houses, which they visit at night and inspect with great care, to see that they are not disturbed by burglars. During the past year no less than three burglars have been caught and convicted through the efforts of these boys.

Captain A. H. Bogardus, who accomplished the greatest feat of shooting endurance on record, by breaking 5,000 glass balls out of 5300 with a ten-pound gun in eight hours and thirty-five seconds on Thursday, was not able to leave his bed on Friday. His right shoulder is blackened and bruised from the recoil of the gun, which, Bogardus says, kicked repeatedly, owing to the fact that the cartridges were too heavily loaded. His right arm is bruised, scraped and greatly swelled, and so are his fingers. In the back of his forearm is an ugly wound, which gives him great pain. He has no feeling in his shoulder, except a numb, aching pain. It will be several days before the Captain will be able to lift his arm, and it is an open question if he ever recovers the use of it. He says he will never undertake the feat again, and did not know what a big job he had undertaken, until he was more than half through with it.

Capt. William B. Seabury of New Bedford brought the Pacific Mail steamer "Constitution" from Victoria to San Francisco, on her last trip, under peculiarly exciting circumstances. She was on fire during the last twelve hours of the voyage, but he ran her at full speed through the fog, and brought her into harbor all in flames aft and with the passengers crowded in the forecastle. When the passengers were afraid to go to breakfast, he went down to the saloon and calmly ordered and ate his meal by way of setting the example. Twenty minutes later the great saloon was all in flames.

New Hampshire Items.

Enos Lovejoy's dwelling at Lyme was burned Monday morning. The furniture was mostly saved. No insurance.

There was an alarm of fire in Nashua on Monday, caused by the smouldering ruins of Sunday's fire kindling up again. The extreme cold caused the hose to freeze up and burst, and several firemen had their hands and feet frost-bitten.

A small house at Beaver Meadow, near Amherst village, occupied by H. H. Manning, was burned on Monday by taking fire from a defective chimney.

Rev. A. H. Morrill, Principal of Proctor Academy at Andover, relinquishes that charge to become pastor of the Christian Church at Marion, Ind., entering upon his new duties the first Sunday in March.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Nashua the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. William Goldsmith; First Vice President, Mrs. Matthews; Secretary, Mrs. J. P. Cummings; Treasurer, Mrs. M. A. Clements.

The tragic death of Mrs. Maud Emma Davis, the young wife of Mr. L. H. Davis, a well-known and respected citizen of Hooksett, constitutes a sad chapter in the history of that place. Mrs. Davis shot herself on Friday of last week, but the family lived in the outskirts of the town and the particulars of her death have just become generally known to the public. The motive for suicide will most likely never be known. There was probably some mysterious cause for it in her life previous to her marriage, which she kept a secret and carried to the grave.

The recent assault at Hopkinton threatens to be more serious than ever. Mr. Curtis, the injured man, was taken insane on Saturday last. Up to Saturday afternoon his wounds had been healing well and he was supposed to be improving rapidly. His first attack of insanity seemed to pass off safely, but on Sunday he was again seized and was with great difficulty confined within safe bounds. Monday morning his doctor, C. H. Harriman, held a consultation with Dr. A. Rogers. Dr. Harriman states that the situation of the wounded man is very grave, owing to the severe injury to his brain, but he does not yet regard the case as hopeless.

Another Snarl.

Recently a party of Americans engaged in loading a schooner with guano at Morant Keys, in the Gulf, were driven off by a British man-of-war,—with the concurrence, it was said, of the American consul at Jamaica. But a later report says: "Recent information from Kingston, Jamaica, regarding an insult to the American flag by the British man-of-war Blanche is evidently incorrect, especially as far as it asserts that the American consul took sides with the British authorities. The official protest of the Consul, George H. Hankinson, is received at the State Department and shows that he joined Prudencio De Murguindo and other citizens of Baltimore in the demand that the American schooner Eva and crew be allowed to proceed with their attempt to take a cargo of guano from an island on Morant Keys, which islands it is claimed, are United States territory. The records of the Treasury Department show the schooner was regularly registered, licensed and cleared, as a coastwise trader, and is in the employ of American citizens. The crew is composed of regular coastwise sailors, and there were eighteen other American citizens, white and colored, on board, sent to aid in getting out the guano. The Treasury Department was directly instrumental in the issue of clearance to the schooner as a coastwise vessel, and there does not appear anything of a fillibustering character about the expedition. A number of men, also American citizens, were in possession of the island so long ago as the 18th of September last, before the arrival of the Eva and the interference of the British man-of-war Blanche."

Political.

This is the way the Southern States, the great Bourbon organ of Mississippi, shows how the reconstruction acts are accepted: "When we have thus obtained the upper-hand, we propose to undo what has been done by the Radicals since 1861, as far as lies in our power. We propose to tear the negro amendments out of the Constitution. We propose to restore the Planter Republic of our fathers in all its original purity and simplicity. * * * When the repeal of the revolutionary amendments is sprung upon the country, it will catch up and carry the popular sentiment with it, from seaboard to seaboard."

—A strange scene occurred recently at Sterck, on the Moselle. Herr Schmidt had a dog which he wished to get rid of. Rowing out into the middle of the river, he fastened a stone around the dog's head and threw him into the water. The animal sank at once, but during his struggles the rope slipped off the stone, and he again rose to the surface and tried to get back into the boat. His master however, continued to push him back, but as the dog persevered, he lost his patience, and striking at him with his oar, lost his footing and fell into the water himself. He was unable to swim, but the dog seizing him by his coat, succeeded in bringing him to land, after having been repeatedly washed away by the current.—London Examiner.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

THE CITY.

Don't forget the anniversary of the Reform Club at Mechanics' Hall to-night.

The new school on State street above Union was opened on Monday, with Miss Laura E. Giddings as teacher.

Mr. Robert H. Marden, who was severely injured by being thrown from his wagon some ten days ago, still lives in a critical condition, being unconscious a portion of the time.

The illuminated clock at C. E. & J. E. Dixon's jewelry store on Congress street is not very great in size, but it is a very great convenience to that portion of the public that stops out late o' nights.

The report of the earnings of the Eastern Railroad for the month of December shows the following increase over the corresponding month of 1876: On passengers, over $15,000; on freight, $10,000; reduction of expenses, $15,000.

At the installation of Rev. Mr. Beane, late of Salem, as pastor of the Unitarian society at Concord, on Wednesday evening, Rev. Mr. DeNormandie of this city is to give the right hand of fellowship. Dr. Peabody preaches the sermon.

Hon. Frank Jones leaves for Washington this morning. He takes with him a remonstrance signed by all the banking institutions of Portsmouth against the passage of the Bland silver bill. He is accompanied by Mrs. Jones, and his private secretary, Mr. Cole. His four fine horses, and his carriages, left by steamer from Boston for Baltimore on Tuesday.

A dialogue between two youngsters, who sought the genial warmth of the steam in the Post-office vestibule the other night, leaves us still in doubt as to the situation. "Well," said No. 1, "Frank Jones has done one smart thing. He's got the Kearsarge ordered here." "Pooh," said the other, "Elbridge Peirce did that." "Peirce be blowed," rejoined No. 1; "Everybody knows that the administration is opposed to Peirce and all the office-holders." This presents an interesting and novel feature in politics.

BANK ELECTIONS.

Tuesday was not only the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, but the day of the election of Directors of the National Banks throughout the country.

In this city the stockholders of the Rockingham National Bank voted to change the par value of their shares from fifty to one hundred dollars. The Board of Directors elected were Geo. W. Haven, Wm. F. Parrott, John S. H. Frink, John J. Pickering, William Simes and T. Salter Tredick.

First National Bank—Wm. H. Y. Hackett, Ichabod Goodwin, Wm. L. Dwight, John Stavers, William H. Hackett, E. P. Kimball.

National Mechanics & Traders Bank—John Sise, Wm. H. Rollins, Chas. Robinson, Chas. H. Mendum, John S. Pray.

New Hampshire National Bank—James P. Bartlett, Daniel Marcy, True M. Ball, John H. Bailey, William R. Preston, Henry F. Wendell, Edwin A. Peterson. James P. Bartlett, President; L. S. Butler, Cashier.

Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Company—Ezra H. Winchester, Jeremiah F. Hall, Frank Jones, Daniel Marcy, William H. Hackett, John Sise, Edwin A. Peterson, Thomas H. Odion, Thomas J. Parsons, William D. Fernald.

THE VICINITY.

We are informed that up to Monday noon Great Bay was still clear of ice, except a narrow rim around its shores and at the mouths of the fresh-water creeks.

A. Mr. Healey has started a "restaurant" in Seabrook, near the "old stone house" in the village. The temperance people look askance at this new institution.

Elder George W. Brown delivered the second lecture in the Eliot Literary Course before an apparently very interested audience on Monday evening; subject, "Divine Knowledge."

Mr. George E. Merrill, Eastern Railroad station agent at Seabrook, on Sunday evening gave a very able and interesting temperance lecture in the "line" Congregational church of Seabrook and Hampton Falls.

The death of Mrs. Hannah J. Gowen, wife of John W. Gowen of York, which took place on New Year's morning, occurred under very peculiar circumstances. It appears that at about one o'clock in the morning she awoke, and, turning towards her husband, said to him: "A Happy New Year to you, John." He returned the greeting, and in a few moments asked his wife a question, but receiving no response, looked upon her face and found that she was dead. Her last kind message had been spoken, and without a struggle her spirit had taken its flight. Mrs. Gowen was thirty-eight years of age, a daughter of the late Joshua Gerry of Kittery, and a lady greatly esteemed.—Times.

SEABROOK LETTER.

SOUTH SEABROOK, Jan. 8th.

The new schoolhouse for District No. Five, (which includes the greater part of South Seabrook,) was dedicated last Tuesday evening. The services were held in the lower room of the building, which was packed long before the time of commencing, there being at least two hundred persons in the room, and as many more were unable to gain entrance. Rev. Wm. A. Rand, Prudential Committee presided; and the Atlantic Cornet Band (all but four of its members are voters in the district) furnished music. After a voluntary by the band, prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Burgess, pastor of the Baptist church of Hampton Falls. A letter of congratulation was read from Rev. Edward A. Rand of Franklin, Mass., and addresses were made by the chairman, Mr. Frank Bayley, Rev. Frank Haley, pastor of the Congregational church of Seabrook and Hampton Falls, and Rev. Mr. Burgess.

The building committee, (consisting of Charles Dow, Simeon L. Eaton and Reuben Eaton, (through their chairman gave an account of expenses incurred. The District voted to raise $1900,—$600 to be raised this year. The work was done by S. W. Dearborn of Hampton. The building is two storied, painted white, and hung with green blinds; the floors are of hard pine; and the desks are of the patent Gothic pattern, with seats on hinges, each room having thirty-two double seats. The cost of the building, including the desks, has been $1575. The schoolhouse lot has been enlarged by the addition of thirty rods of land, and the whole surrounded by a substantial slat fence, picketed on each side save the front; this expense is additional to that for the building proper, as is also the cost of outbuildings and stoves.

After the statement of the committee was heard, a hymn of dedication was read, written by Mrs. Pamelia H. Childs of South Byfield, who is to have charge of the High and Grammar department of the school. Rev. Mr. Rand offered a prayer of dedication. Col. John M. Weare of Dist. No. One was called upon and made remarks, and Rev. Mr. Burgess pronounced the benediction. Music by the band was interspersed throughout the exercises.

There are nearly one hundred and fifty voters in District No. Five; yet of the $600 raised this year Charles Dow and his brother pay $60, Simeon L. Eaton $40, and Mrs. Sally Fowler $50—one-fourth the entire amount being paid by the four persons named. There are 125 children in the district between five and fifteen years old.

Miss Ella Newton of Portsmouth has been secured to take charge of the Primary and Intermediate department. This being the first graded school in Seabrook, much interest is felt in the new order of things. ENO.

Naval Affairs.

Captain Oscar C. Badger is detached from special duty at the navy yard at Washington and ordered to take command of the Constitution. Lieutenant Commander William A. Whiting is ordered as the executive of the vessel. Commander McNair and other officers of the Kearsarge are detached and placed on waiting orders. The Kearsarge will probably go out of commission this week.

Poor Mr. Black.

Mr. William Black, the novelist, while staying at Obau, last summer, felt inclined for a swim one morning, and selecting the quietest nook he could find along the beach, he laid his clothes carefully under a rock, and proceeded to enjoy his sea bath. Presently, a young lady with one of his own novels in hand, came walking along the beach, and absorbed and unconscious, sat herself down close by the unseen garments. Poor Mr. William Black did not know what to do. He made a noise with the water, bobbed up and down, and tried by every modest means in his power to indicate that he was in the vicinity, and not in full dress. He was ashamed to stand up and shout, and hardly ventured, indeed, to show more than the top of his head. So absorbing, however, was his own story, that he could not attract attention. He had never before wished that his literary power was less, but at that moment his fondest hope was that he had written at least one dull chapter in his volume. That wish became an inspiration, an ambition, a desire begot in agony, when presently there came along that way a short-sighted sportsman carrying a gun, who, seeing something acting strangely in the water near at hand, thought it must be game of some kind or other, and presented his gun to shoot. Mr. Black could not stand this. Forgetting the lady with one of his own novels in hand, he startled both her and the sportsman, as, flinging himself bolt upright, he lifted his arms above his head, and cried with pathetic rapidity, "Pray don't shoot; please don't shoot! I'm a man! I'm a man! I'm a man!" The lady by the sea shore took the hint and disappeared.

—There is a Methodist minister in Georgia who walks thirty miles each week in order to fulfill one of his appointments, and works two days in every week in a brickyard in order to earn enough to support his family.

—The funeral of a young artist, Henry Leland, took place recently in Boston. The report that he committed suicide in Paris was incorrect. He was working on a picture, and to give the model whom he employed a rest he walked around his studio. Picking up a handsome revolver he pointed it toward the model and jokingly exclaimed: "Look out, I am going to fire at you." "Oh, no," exclaimed the girl, "I am afraid you will kill me." "But it is not loaded, foolish child; look here," and instantly he pointed the revolver at his head, and to assure the model that he was only indulging in a bit of pleasantry pulled the trigger, and at once fell dead upon the floor.

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Gilea' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are first disappearing."

Heresy and its Treatment.

The traditional treatment of "heresy" rests on two ideas: first, that wrong belief is in itself a deadly sin; secondly, that by repressive measures its spread can be prevented. The first idea disappears before a purer Christianity; the second has been disproved by experience. But something of the old sentiment yet lingers, and shows itself in the desire to purge the church of all who are not perfectly sound in doctrine. We hold that the church is to promote the truth just as it is to promote Christian life. It does not ask that its members should be holy when it receives them; it asks only a sincere purpose to seek holiness, and assumes as its very business to develop that. Nor should it require at the outset a full acceptance of all that it holds as truth; it should ask only a sincere desire to know and follow what is true. And within its walls men should be nourished up into the fullness of truth, by the air of freedom and the sunlight of love.—The Christian Union.

Laundries Spreading Disease.

The London Lancet says that incidents confirming the belief that diseases are spread by laundries, are constantly reported as occuring in England and on the Continent. Clothing worn by diseased persons or persons who have died of infectious disease, are washed together with other clothes. The germs thus sown propagate until an epidemic is created, as has been several times the case. Too much care cannot be exercised in this respect. The clothing should either be burned or thoroughly disinfected and washed apart.

—When a boy, a snow shovel and a drifted sidewalk come together, the bright lexicon of youth contains the word "fall," printed on the title pages in letters big enough for a minstrel show poster.

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had ever, impartially and fairly in determining the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that powerful struggle, has secured for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the consideration that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independent criticism within the Republican Party, in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with which the Party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of Republicanism ended. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of partisan obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the gradual readjustment of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and manufacture. It will always oppose fiat plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resuming honest money that fixed by law, or to pay the national creditor on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve intact its dues which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belongs the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the force of which it is capable, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrants in the South in the possession of rights guaranteed under the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not hesitate to say the fact that Northern confidence and amicity must find their return in the enforcement of even handed justice and strictly impartial regard for the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

Its influence as a healing exponent of political opinion will be secured by all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The unknowing machinery of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown that whatever Turkish war how ample are its resources, and how well directed is its enterprise. Its voluminous foreign correspondence for the last year has emulated to days furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of a highly important epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same fullness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In its sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No theories subversive of the principles on which the sacredness of family life and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the baldness purpose of gain is disguised and the unwary entrapped. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper especially adapted for the family circle.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper appears so fit in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions of the Skin, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most efficacious and gentle yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of everybody, but those formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and causing a fair growth of hair to grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at pleasure. It is reliable, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have per ormed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Contractions, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Mothers should never be without this valuable, pure, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and purpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Medical Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported reaches up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and bowels constipated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Purgative Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the stomach, Bilious Attack, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their searching impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft — under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable as it is, it does not represent a thousandth part of the recommendation which are today offered by friends to friends in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but shun the publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, is an outspoken endorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen—I have for several months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for my CATARRH. For more than 20 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. I at last felt the disease had settled at the back of my head, and was fast approaching my throat, and I was hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case may be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained. Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS, AUROA, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Daily Chronicle.

An Interesting Book.

"Reminiscences and Anecdotes of Daniel Webster," by Peter Harvey; Boston; Little, Brown and Company. To every New Hampshire man, this book has an especial interest. New Hampshire gave birth, education and the first legal and political consequence to Daniel Webster. Mr. Harvey was not only the faithful friend and admirer of Mr. Webster, but he has proved by the Boswellian style of his work, that nothing said or done by the great statesman and lawyer has escaped his notice. The book is replete with anecdotes, many of which will be familiar to one older inhabitants, but which preserved in the substantial form of this publication will be read by the young men of to-day with a keen relish—and so on, we trust, through future ages.

It is in the earlier struggles of the lawyer, before he had achieved greatness, that we have the deepest interest. The story of the trial of a case with Jeremiah Mason opposed to him, is admirably told:

Among Mr. Webster's reminiscences of his professional career at Portsmouth, and of Jeremiah Mason's connection with it, was one relating to a case in which a man named Bramble was implicated. Matthew Bramble, it appears, was a wealthy resident of Portsmouth, and, as the sequel proved, an unscrupulous man. His social position was good, but a feeling of distrust toward him existed in this community. It seems that Bramble had given to a man named Brown an annuity bond, agreeing to pay him one hundred dollars a year as long as he lived. This was to keep dormant a title to some real estate. Bramble had more than once tried to persuade Brown to take a "lump" sum of money, and cancel the bond; but this Brown persistently declined to do, and in this he was supported by the advice of his friends. After in vain offering one thousand dollars, Bramble resorted to the following method of getting rid of his obligation. He was accustomed, when he paid the one hundred dollars, to endorse it on the bond. The next chance he got, he endorsed, not one hundred dollars, but one thousand dollars, adding, "in full consideration of and cancelling this bond." Brown, who could not read or write, unsuspectingly signed his mark to this endorsement. Bramble then coolly handed him back the bond, and of course said nothing of the matter. When the year came round, an altercation took place between them. Bramble said: "I owe you nothing; I paid you a thousand dollars, and it is certified on your bond." Brown was a poor shoemaker—simple-minded, truthful, weak—not capable of coping with this wily scamp. He was friendless, while Bramble was a rich man. Poor Brown did not know what to do. He had convinced his neighbors that he was right. He went to Jeremiah Mason, who told him he was Marthew Bramble's lawyer. Mr. Mason had asked Bramble about the matter, and the latter had showed the bond; and Mr. Mason probably believed him. A friend then advised Brown to go to Mr. Webster; and, after hearing his story, Mr. Webster was quite convinced of the truth of Brown's statement. He had no confidence in Bramble. In relating the story, he said to me: "I knew nothing positively against Bramble, but something impressed me that he was not a man of honor. I was not one satisfied that he had committed this fraud upon Brown, and I told the latter that I would sue Bramble for the annuity. He said he had nothing to give me in payment. I said I wanted nothing. I sent Bramble a letter, and he made his appearance in my office.

"'I should like to know,' said he sharply, 'If you are going to take up a case of that kind in Portsmouth. It seems to me that you don't know on which side your bread is buttered.'

"'This man has come to me,' I replied, 'without friends, and has told me a plain, straightforward story; and it sounds as if it were true. It is not a made-up story. I shall pursue this thing and sue you, unless you settle it.'"

Bramble went to Mr. Mason, who afterwards said to Mr. Webster: "I think you have made a mistake. Bramble is a man of influence. It can't be that the fellow tells the truth. Bramble would not do such a thing as that." Mr. Webster replied: "He has done just such a thing as that, and I shall try the suit."

So the preliminary steps were taken, and the suit was brought. The case came on at Exeter in the Supreme Court, Judge Smith on the bench. It created great excitement. Bramble's friends were incensed at the charge of forgery; but Brown, too, in his humble way, had his friends. Mr. Webster said:—

"I never in my life was more badly prepared for a case. There was no evidence for Brown, and what to do I did not know. But I had begun the suit, and was going to run for luck, perfectly satisfied that I was right. There were Bramble and his friends, with Mason; and poor Brown only had his counsel. And Mason began to sneer a little, saying, 'That is a foolish case.'

"Well, a person named Lovejoy was then living in Portsmouth; and when there is a great deal of litigation, as there was in Portsmouth and many towns in New Hampshire, there will always be one person of a kind not easily described,—a shrewd man who was mixed up in all sorts of affairs. Lovejoy was a man of this kind, and was a witness in nearly all the cases ever tried in that section. He was an important and valuable witness, and never could be shaken in his testimony. Call Lovejoy, and he would swear that he was present on such an occasion; and he seemed to live by giving evidence in this way. I was getting a little anxious about the case. I was going to attempt to prove that Brown had been appealed to by Bramble for years to give up his bond, and take a sum of money, and that he had always stoutly refused; that he had no uses for money, and had never been in the receipt of money; and that he could not write and was easily imposed upon. But although I felt that I was right, I began to fear that I should lose the case.

"A Portsmouth man, who believed in Brown's story, came to me just before the case was called, and whispered in my ear; 'I saw Lovejoy talking with Bramble just now in the entry, and he took a paper from him.' I thanked the man, told him that was a pretty important thing to know, and asked him to say nothing about it. In the course of the trial, Mr. Mason called Lovejoy, and he took the oath. He went upon the stand and testified that some eight or ten months before he was in Brown's shop, and that Brown mended his shoes for him. As he was sitting in the shop, he naturally fell into conversation about the bond, and said to Brown: "Bramble wants to get back the bond,—why don't you sell it to him?' 'Oh,' said Brown, 'I have; he wanted me to do it, and, as life is uncertain, I thought I might as well take the thousand dollars.' He went on to testify that the 'said Brown' told him so and so; and when he expressed himself in that way, I knew he was being prompted from a written paper. The expression was an unnatural one for a man to use in ordinary conversation. It occured to me in an instant that Bramble had given Lovejoy a paper, on which was set down what he wanted him to testify. There sat Mason, full of assurance, and for a moment I hesitated. Now, I thought, I will 'make a spoon or spoil a horn!' I took the pen from behind my ear, drew myself up, and marched outside of the bar to the witness-stand. 'Sir!' I exclaimed to Lovejoy, 'give me the paper from which you are testifying!' In an instant he pulled it out of his pocket; and before he had it quite out, he hesitated and attempted to put it back. I seized it in triumph. There was his testimony in Bramble's handwriting! Mr. Mason got up and claimed the protection of the court. Judge Smith inquired the meaning of this proceeding. I said: 'Providence protects the innocent when they are friendless. I think I could satisfy the court and my learned brother, who, of course, was ignorant of this man's conduct, that I hold in Mr. Bramble's handwriting the testimony of the very respectable witness who is on the stand.' The court adjourned, and I had nothing further to do. Mason told his client that he had better settle the affair as quickly as possible. Bramble came to my office, and as he entered, I said: 'Don't you come in here! I don't want any thieves in my office.' 'Do whatever you please with me, Mr. Webster,' he replied; 'I will do whatever you say.' 'I will do nothing without witnesses—we must arrange this matter.' I consulted Mr. Mason, and he said he did not care how I settled it. So I told Bramble that, in the first place, there must be a new life-bond for one hundred dollars a year, and ample security for its payment; and that he must also pay Brown five hundred dollars, and my fees, which I should charge pretty roundly. To all this he assented, and thus the case ended."

Mr. Webster told me this at Exeter. We went over there from Portsmouth, dined, and went to the academy, where he had fitted himself for college, and to the court-house, where this Bramble trial took place. After dinner he took his nap, and, while he was in his room, several old men who were in the hotel came to me and said they had known Mr. Webster when he was a young man, and that they should like to see him. I said: "Certainly, after he finishes his nap." So when he got up, I said: "These old men would like to speak to you." He came out into the bar-room, received them cordially, and was evidently very glad to see them. They talked over the events of the past quarter of a century with much interest. At last one of them spoke up and said:—

"Would you have any objection, Mr. Webster, to answering a question?"

"Certainly not."

"Do you remember the case of Bramble and Brown, the shoemaker?"

"Oh, yes."

"Well, how did you know that Lovejoy had that paper in his pocket? We have been thinking of that ever since, and I was determined, if I ever saw you, to ask you how it was." After a hearty laugh, Mr. Webster satisfied their curiosity.

The book is received and read all over the country with much interest, showing that the veneration of our people for this great man, not only does not abate but increases. This volume has 480 pages, and is issued from the press of Wilson & Son at Cambridge, and in a style in keeping with the publication of the long established house of Little, Brown & Co.

Committee on resolutions, Gilman Marston of Exeter, Jacob E. Young of Madbury, Reuben W. Page of Gilmanton, Larkin D. Marston of Tamworth, William E. Stevens of Concord, Orrin C. Moore of Nashua, John W. Sturtevant of Keene, Levi W. Barton of Newport, James W. Patterson of Hanover, and Alfred R. Evans of Gorham.

Doorkeepers, Lewis Jenkins, of Gilmanton; Wm. W. Hill, of Concord; Wm. H. Gardiner, of Portsmouth.

Reporters were excluded from the meeting; but notwithstanding this the Boston papers of Wednesday morning had accounts of lively discussions between the leaders as to what the platform should say, Wm. E. Chandler and some others desiring to have Hayes denounced, while Mason W. Tappan, Orrin C. Moore and their followers were earnest that Hayes should be endorsed in the most unqualified manner. Most of the delegates, however, whether "policy" or "anti-policy" men, were reported as being in favor of making haste slowly in either condemning or endorsing the President.

The Convention assembled in Phenix Hall at eleven o'clock A. M., Wednesday, and was called to order by Chairman E. M. Topliff of the State Central Committee. The Convention then organized with the officers previously selected, Hon. Charles H. Bell, on taking the chair, making a brief speech of acceptance which was heartily applauded. On motion of Mr. Sawyer, of Dover, Hon. Benjamin F. Prescott was nominated as republican candidate for Governor of New Hampshire.

Col. Wm. H. Sise of Portsmouth desired to have the business of the meeting conducted in a legitimate way, and called for the report of the committee on credentials, which was presented, showing 647 delegates present. Mr. Sise then moved that Hon. B. F. Prescott be renominated as the republican candidate for Governor of New Hampshire, which was again unanimously carried.

On motion of Mr. Dunlap, of Nashua, a committee was appointed by the chair, consisting of Messrs. Dunlap, Sawyer and Pillsbury, to inform Mr. Prescott of his nomination and wait upon him to the hall.

The vote on Railroad Commissioner resulted on the second ballot in the nomination of David E. Willard.

The delegates from the several counties then went into separate conventions to elect the members of the State Central Committee. For Rockingham County, Wm. H. Rollins, Esq., of Portsmouth, was chosen chairman; S. A. Haley, of Newmarket, Sec. The following were elected as members of the Committee: Wm. B. Merrill and Chas. Marseilles, Exeter; Wm. H. Sise and Wm. A. Hodgdon, Portsmouth; John D. Ordway, (West) Hampstead; S. A. Haley, Newmarket; Chas. F. Cate, Northwood; Wm. Clark, Londonderry; George C. Gordon, Salem; Geo. G. Longee, Rye; Albert Little, Atkinson; Isaac H. Morrison, Deerfield; B. W. Hoyt, Epping; Edwin Plumer, Auburn; James T. Gove, Raymond; Amos C. Chase, Kingston.

The Convention adjourned to meet at two o'clock. On the opening of the afternoon session, Gov. Prescott was introduced, and accepted the nomination in a brief speech. Gen. Marston, chairman of the Committee on resolutions, reported, and read the following

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved 1. That the Republicans of New Hampshire re-affirm and re-adopt the Cincinnati platform which pledged the party to these declarations and principles, to wit: The United States of America is a nation; the full protection of all citizens in the full enjoyment of all their rights; the permanent pacification of the Southern section of the Union; the redemption of the United States notes in coin by a continuous and steady progress to specie payments; that Senators and Representatives, who may be judges and accusers, should not dictate appointments to office; the invariable rule for appointments to have reference to the honesty, fidelity, and capacity of the appointees, leaving to the party in power those places where harmony and vigor of administration requires its policy to be represented; the deprecation of all sectional feelings and tendencies; the speedy, thorough, and unsparing prosecution and punishment of all who betray official trusts; opposition to further land grants to corporations and monopolies; the adjustment of the duties on imports for revenue so as to promote the interest of American labor and advance the prosperity or the whole people.

2. That we recognize the paramount duty of President Hayes to render these high professions actual and living realities, and while we admit honest differences of opinion in respect to past acts, we welcome and approve his sincere efforts to keep faith with the people and secure to the whole country the blessings of a just, efficient, and honest Republican National Administration.

2. That we condemn as recreant and ruinous the second attempt of the Democratic House of Representatives to destroy the Resumption Act and thus render abortive the years of anxiety, waiting and paying to make the greenback dollar the equal of the gold dollar in its capacity to reward labor and pay the public creditor.

4. That we disapprove and denounce any legislation, open or disguised, tending to repudiate the public debt in whole or in part; that we deem a change in the standard of values by making the depreciated silver dollar an unlimited legal tender for all public and private indebtedness a violation of the rights of property, a repudiation of government contracts, and a wrong done to labor, criminal in its nature and dishonorable to the nation; and we call on the President to use the veto if it becomes necessary, as did his courageous predecessor, to shield the national honor from the legislation that threatens to wound and blast it.

5. That a free and unobstructed passage to the ballot box is the constitutional right of every citizen of whatever race, color or condition. In according and defending that right the Republican party has proved that it is the true national party; while the Democratic party, by opposing and denying that right through intimidation and violence, has shown that it is the sectional party.

6. That universal education, aided and enforced by the legal authorities is the only safe and enduring basis on which Republican governments and institutions can rest; therefore we demand the adoption of such legislation, compulsory if need be, as shall secure to the children of the republic a primary education, so that every voter shall be able to read and understand the ballot that he casts.

7. That we are utterly opposed to all further money subsidies and land grants to private corporations and interests, and we demand that our Senators and Representatives to Congress shall sturdily oppose all schemes to rob the treasury, and injure the public credit.

8. That the unchallenged purity, economy and efficiency of all departments of the present administration; the continued reduction of the public debt; the refunding of the bonds at a lower rate of interest, and the wise and hopeful efforts to restore prosperity at home and extend the field of American commerce and manufactures abroad, deserve and receive our unqualified approbation.

9. That we condemn as factious and mischievous all attempts to re-open the Presidential controversy or to question the title of the President to his high office.

10. That the continued frugality and vigor of our own State administration under a Republican Legislature and Executive, call for the re-election of Governor Prescott, and the return of a Republican Legislature in March.

11. That we heartily approve the action of the last Legislature providing for "a thorough revision of the laws relating to taxation and valuation, so that taxation shall be just and equal, and no unjust burdens be imposed on the earnings of labor," as asked for and demanded in the Republican platform of 1874.

12. That we view with undiminished satisfaction the continued progress and vigor of the temperance reform, and we shall hail the day when the virtue, intelligence and manliness of the people shall be proof against those debasing habits and vices so prolific of misery, taxes, rags, and crime, and we pledge ourselves to promote by all loyal and moral methods the cause of temperance.

Hon. Amos Tuck asked for the reading of the third resolution, and moved that the words "second" and "democratic" be stricken out; but the strong protest of Mr. Moore and General Marston prevented any change. The resolutions were received with enthusiastic applause and unanimously adopted; and the Convention adjourned in the best of spirits.

Death of Victor Emanuel II.

Victor Emanuel the Second, First King of Italy, died at Rome at half-past two o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, Jan. 9th, at the age of fifty-eight years. He will be succeeded by his oldest son, Humbert, now about thirty-three years old.

Revolt at a Convict Station.

Commander Rodgers, of the U. S. S. Adams, writes to the Department from Sandy Point, Straits of Magellan, giving the details of a bloody insurrection at that place in November last. Sandy Point is a military and convict station of the Chilian government, and it appears that the soldiers mutinied, murdered several of their officers, liberated and armed the convicts, and committed the most terrible outrages on the towns people, murdering and burning at will. About fifty persons were killed, many of them being of the mutinous soldiers, who got drunk and fought with each other. The mutineers attempted to seize the German steamer Memphis, and sent a number of their men in a boat to decoy the vessel in shore when she touched at the harbor; but the captain hoisted up the mutineers' boat and put to sea, and on meeting the Adams that vessel at once went to Sandy Point to render assistance. On arriving at Sandy Point the Adams found the Chilian corvette Magellanes already there, and order restored, the mutineers and convicts having fled in a body. The priest of the colony is charged with instigating the revolt, and was placed in irons to be tried at Valparaiso. There are no American citizens at Sandy Point.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON., D. C., Jan. 7th.

The report of Mr. Slade, Collector of Customs at El Paso, to Secretary Sherman, relative to the recent disturbances in that county, was ordered to be made public at the Friday Cabinet meeting and is substantially as follows: The origin of the trouble was mainly local, but many Mexican citizens unquestionably came across the Rio Grande and participated. Northern Mexico, and States adjacent to Texas, have long drawn their principal supplies of salt from the lakes in dispute, about one hundred miles from El Paso. It has always been free heretofore to all, and the traffic gave employment to many hundred people. In 1868 a clause was inserted in the Texas constitution, permitting private parties to locate salt lakes, a provision since utilized by politicians of El Paso county in obtaining the votes of such as could be tricked into the arrangement on the promise to obtain for those thus voting, absolute titles to the salt licks. Pestilent office-seekers have thus often been elected, only to repudiate their part of the contract and to leave their dupes under the impression that they had been grossly cheated. These lakes fell into the possession of the Texas Pacific Co. when the State granted their road the right of way through it; and hence it could no longer issue letters patent for them nor could they be located on State certificates. The road having only been completed to Fort Worth, the company could not obtain sufficient certificates to supply the trade, and they consequently command a high price. An Austin company finally succeeded by some sharp practice (probably) in locating the lakes in such way as to give it some shadow of a title, more or less valid, and entrusted their care to a local agent. Severe measures were at once adopted to deter Mexicans from coming for further supplies of the saline product. The then highest authority in the county was the County Judge, a Mexican, who is supposed to have been under obligations to the agent for his election, and decided every question relative to the property in his favor. By his orders several parties were arrested on complaint of the agent, not for actual trespass, but because they had threatened it. The Mexicans were much inflamed against both in consequence; the agent claimed the sheriff's protection against the Mexicans who had run down and imprisoned the Judge; they then besieged the house of the sheriff, who temporarily left to put his wife in a place of safety and who was not allowed to return. The agent was captured and given his choice to either sign a paper making the lakes free to all desiring to use their products until their ownership should have been determined by competent authority, and to leave the country within twenty-four hours after release, never to return, or remain in custody. After three days he complied with the conditions, being warned by a priest that he would be killed if he held out longer. They imposed no restrictions on the sheriff's movements after the agent's capture. The agent soon returned to El Paso, and almost immediately met Cardis, the leader of the Mexican mob (American citizens of Mexican birth or extraction, with a few Mexican citizens,) and killed him. It was generally believed that Cardis instigated the mob in their acts. Howard, the agent, eluded his pursuers, going to Mexico, and returned Dec. 2d. In November a Mr. Jones, under State authority, recruited a company of rangers (20 men) to aid the sheriff in enforcing law and preserving peace. Dec. 12th, Howard left El Paso under ranger escort, with writs of sequestration against the saline contents of many Mexican carts returning to San Elizario from the licks, and to arrest those found in possession of the salt. On his arrival Mr. Slade understands that he conducted himself in a way almost certain to precipitate a conflict with the Mexican residents, "calling them 'greasers' and other opprobrious epithets," and daring them to combat. This exasperating conduct appears as unprovoked as his insults were gratuitous, being probably prompted by the previous indignities to which he was subjected, and based on the supposition that his force was superior to any that could be mustered against it. In the morning they found themselves surrounded by the Mexican residents and others come to assist. After a four days' siege both parties displayed white flags—the rangers first. Howard, Atkinson and McBride (Howard's sub-agents) were induced to visit the Mexicans with the promise that if they should do so, matters could be readily adjusted. They were at once taken out and shot. The balance of the command had meantime surrendered, but were next morning released from confinement; their horses were returned to them, but not their arms. Killed during the four days' fusilade, two rangers and three or four Mexicans, several of both sides being wounded. At the date of the report the few American citizens had fled the town, and the Mexicans were preparing to escape across the river, leaving the bats and owls in possession.

The veterans and recruits of the female suffrage cause are gathering from near and far, for their annual convention in this city on the 8th and 9th inst. Nearly all the old pioneers and those who became prominent later, are here, entertained by their Congressional and other friends. Headquarters at Riggs House. Members of Congress may prepare for a vigorous assault, as their morale is excellent. No sign of demoralization or discouragement, and the belief even of those most uncompromising in their opposition grows more unanimous every year that the cause will ultimately win.

The demand for postal savings banks or something equivalent, where the Government shall act as the responsible custodian of deposits, instead of irresponsible sharpers and thieves, becomes more pronounced and imperative as the number of broken savings banks, wrecked insurance companies and rotten private business concerns is augmented by the failures reported from day to day. Even State rights, "local government," democratic demagogues, always loudest in denouncing paternal government, adjust that a change is inevitable, and yield their opposition as the victimized among the masses become more importunate for relief.

A novel suit has been brought, with attachment upon defendant's stock of goods, by John McNally, against Tyler J. Newton, boot and shoe dealer at Hanover, for $300, said amount being for room rent, besides fuel and lights consumed, during defendant's courtship of plaintiff's step-daughter, a period of over four years.

It was stated at a recent conference of bank officers that people in New Hampshire have deposited over $10,000,000 in savings banks in Massachusetts, on the alleged grounds of higher dividends and greater security than at home.

THE CITY.

Mr. Michael H. Gregg has been appointed Fireman of Sagamore S. F. Engine No. 2, vice Benjamin B. Hutchinson, resigned.

Schooner Lizzie M. Stewart, 85 66-100 tons, built at Kittery, Me., in 1859 has been sold to parties in Somerville and Townsend, Mass.

Elder J. Hill, of Maine, will commence a series of revival meetings at the Advent chapel this (Thursday) evening at half-past seven o'clock. All are invited.

Schooner Ev. Nichols, of Bristol, Me., 25 11-100 tons, built at Bath, Me., in 1867, has been purchased by parties in this city, and will be employed in winter fishing out of this port.

The Portsmouth Athenæum has elected the following officers for the ensuing term: William H. Rollins, President; George Annable, Secretary and Treasurer; Albert R. Hatch, Rev. James DeNormandie, John S. H. Frink, John S. Pray, Joseph H. Foster, Directors.

The first "smelt train" from this city for Great Bay, this year, started out on Monday, 7th inst., but returned in the evening without having taken any fish. On Tuesday, however, one fisherman took forty-six pounds; and if the weather continues to be such that that the ice can be relied on, the smelting season may be regarded as opened. The little fish bring from twelve to fifteen cents per pound.

There was a narrow escape from a serious accident at the junction of Pleasant and Water streets, Wednesday, when a double-runner sled with a half-dozen boys on it went down the hill at the lower end of Water street to the bridge, and at the junction of the two streets met a team going at a rapid rate down Pleasant street, the sled just grazing the runner of the sleigh as the two crossed each others' tracks.

Most of the children who have well-to-do parents are getting tickets for the Skating Rink, which never worked so well and afforded such splendid skating as it does this winter. Those persons not possessing season tickets (which are cheapest in the end) will be admitted by paying a small fee to the door-keeper of the Rink House. Parents of the children who patronize the Rink are always welcome at the Rink House.

It is a matter of gratulation to our citizens that we are to have an instructive and entertaining course of lectures this winter at Franklin Hall, a truly delightful hall for lectures, with its tasteful stage and ample accommodations. The ladies who have burthened themselves with the work of getting up this pleasure for us are evidently bent upon giving us a large return for our small expenditure. We are to have something of the theatre, something of the lecture platform, and something of science. The opening entertainment, Mr. Bartlett's dramatic representation, at which he will present a fine standard comedy without aid of book or prompter, is both a splendid feat of memory and a fine exhibition of dramatic talent, and is already drawing many ticket buyers for Tuesday, Jan. 15th. *

A number of boxes delivered to the Adams Express Company by the Paymaster of the U. S. S. Kearsarge, a day or two after that vessel's arrival in Boston from the Asiatic station, were seized at once by the Custom House officials on suspicion of containing dutiable goods on which it was sought to evade payment. After a very minute examination of the contents of the trunks and boxes, the officials have decided that none of the articles are liable to duty, and the whole lot has been released. The "smuggled" goods consist largely of Japanese and other Asiatic "curios," some of them being the property of officers of other vessels and sent home to their friends in the Paymaster's care, and others being owned by former officers of the Kearsarge, who left them with the Paymaster on their being transferred to other ships. The seizure, and the publicity given it by the papers, make a decided case of "great cry and little wool."

The Newburyport papers say a miscreant in that city "lately made a nice speculation out of the labor of forty or fifty poor work-girls. He started a machine stitching establishment, hiring the girls to saw by the month, and charging customers by the yard for the sewing. After he had collected a pretty amount, he suddenly decamped, and the stitchers are anxious to know where they are to get their pay." We had a somewhat similar concern in this city some months ago. An out-of-town man came here and started a wholesale clothing manufactory, inducing a reputable citizen to go in with him as a partner; things went on swimmingly for a while and a great amount of clothing was turned out for Boston dealers, and employment was given to many sewing girls and several men—the only trouble being that the help never got their pay; and finally the enterprising manufacturer made himself very scarce one morning, leaving his partner and the firm's employes mourners alike.

STREET HORSE-RACING.

Lots of lively horse-racing on Congress street, we are informed. Good sport for the participants, but illegal.

Since the above was in type we have been informed that the police stopped the racing on Congress street Wednesday afternoon, and that the racers then adjourned to Middle street and continued their sport, and had a high old time.

Perhaps, gentlemen of the City Government, the infliction of a few fines for fast driving would tend to stop this sort of thing, and possibly save some pedestrian from severe injury—and the city from the payment of a round bill for damages. The streets of the city are for the use of the whole people—pedestrians and drivers alike—and not a mere race-track for the sole gratification of the owners of fast horses. If the present city ordinances will not suffice to make the streets safe for foot-passengers, you had better make some new ones that will do it; if the present ordinances are sufficient, enforce them, no matter who gets hit.

CAUTION.

The great popularity of "ASTRAL" OIL has induced some unprincipled persons to sell worthless and dangerous imitations for "ASTRAL," while others palm off inferior oils, representing them as good as "ASTRAL." To prevent this fraud, purchasers should demand "ASTRAL" and take no other.

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secured for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed it beyond controversy the journal as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the consideration that the interest of the Republican Party and its ideas to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honorable welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independence within the Republican Party, for in this the way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with which the Republican Party has been identified in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of republicanism ended. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of partisan obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the protection of the public service, and the gradual readjustment of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and industry. It will be steadily opposed to all plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by law, to pay the national creditor on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve any tariff duties which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to prove sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will do what urges, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrants in the South in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and amicably must find their return in the enforcement of the hard fanded justice and serious regard for the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be strengthened by its best efforts to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by all the ablest pens from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has always been during the Associated Press war by simple are its most enterprise. Its voluminous foreign files and its [illegible] year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of a highly important epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same fullness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself to the intelligent appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be freely without sectarian bias, or dogmatism, or dogmatism without being years; at all times it will strive to be fair and independent in the championship of the right. No theories antagonistic to the principles on which the survivors of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES projects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper specially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does a selected miscellany of topics of national and general interest, from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features of interest, seems send it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. Its Republican character approves its political tone, and it will be the aim of its editors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Dropsy and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most compact purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effective. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all scurfiness, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the hair from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

They relieve pain;

They subdue swellings;

They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have per ormed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who has heard of a cure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Honey

To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and Irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.

Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 Dey St., New York:

I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics for the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior article cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported roots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin as Scrofula or Kings Evil; Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption, Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Dyspepsia. Its Cholagogue properties are that an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect a cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and bowels out of order, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

The "little Giant" Cathartic, or Aulium in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude vegetable, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed by any medicine. Being so mild, their action is universal, not a griping pain in the sensative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap, wooden or pasteboard boxes, to be daily used for years, and yet they are the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are the only cathartic pills to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION. DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION. DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION.

The remedial management of those diseases peculiar to women has afforded a large experience at the World's Dispensary, of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for their cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the result of this extended experience, and has become justly celebrated for its many and remarkable cures of all those chronic weaknesses and

WEAKNESSES

FEMALES.

Favorite Prescription is a Powerful Restorative Tonic to the entire system. It is a marvelous supporter of efficacy, and, while it quiets nervous irritation, it strengthens the enfeebled nervous system, thereby restoring to health. The following diseases are among those in which the Favorite Prescription has worked magic cures, viz: Leucorrhœa or Whites, Excessive Flowing, Painful Menstruation, Unnatural Suppressions, Weak Backs, Prolapsus, or falling of the Womb, Anteversion, Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensation, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Internal Heat, Nervous Prostration, Hysteria, Depression, and very many other chronic diseases peculiar to women, but too tedious to here mention.

Many thousands have given testimony of the many thousands who have testified to the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, from experience and observation:

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proved that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; and often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus lonely, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, humor, and itching, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. DOES SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable as it is, it does not represent a thousandth part of the recommendations which are freely offered by friends of friends in favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the practical medical profession, but shun the publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, is an outspoken indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston. Dear Gentlemen—I have for some months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 30 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast or not. If I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 70—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me inestimable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS, AURORA, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

The Case of Fitz John Porter.

Our special dispatches from Washington intimate that the friends of Fitz John Porter propose to make another move in his behalf now, and "feel sanguine that the President will, if the law does not prevent, order his case reopened." In this connection the followtng incident may be of interest. A few years ago, the comrades of the First Maine Cavalry, a regiment with a record second to none in the grand old army of the Potomac, and a regiment which served all through the campaign of Gen. Pope, held a reunion in Portland, Me. When the comrades assembled, they found some documents there awaiting their approval, the purport of which was to ask that the case of Fitz John Porter be reopened. There was, at first, a disposition to agree to this—the war was long over, Porter was an old comrade in arms, everybody else had been forgiven, and it might be as well if the dark cloud were lifted from him. After some talk, pro and con, a comrade (whose name we can give if necessary) arose and made his little statement, with a soldier's straightforwardness, substantially as follows:

"I was an orderly at Gen. Pope's headquarters. About ten o'clock (I should think) of the morning of the first day of the second battle of Bull Run, I started with a written order from Gen. Pope to Gen. Fitz John Porter. There was quite a squad with me, but I carried the order. We found Porter lying down in his tent, with his hands under his head, and the officers of his staff lying round. I gave him the order, he read it and said, 'Give my compliments to Gen. Pope, and tell him I will move shortly.' I went back to Pope's headquarters and found everything was in action. Soon after, two of us were sent with a second order, verbally, to Gen. Porter, to move immediately as we were pressed on both flanks and in the centre. I reached Porter first, the other orderly being left in the rear. Found him in the same place and gave him the order. He replied, 'Give my compliments to Gen. Pope, and tell him I shall move when I get ready.' That night, as we fell back, Porter was in the same place as when I gave him the order, with his troops in line and tents up, as if getting ready to move."

When the soldier got through his long story, as an eye-witness tells it, "silence reigned, a great hush fell upon the assembled multitude, until finally somebody moved to indefinitely postpone the subject, which was done unanimously." And loyal soldiers conversant with the facts will hope that the President, also, will "indefinitely postpone the subject."—Providence Journal.

A New Motor for Vessels.

The "Bradley Promethor," an invention in the way of a vessel, to be propelled by what the inventor claims to be a new "motor," arrived in Baltimore several days ago, and yesterday was visited by John L. Thomas at the request of her owner, who claims that as the vessel is not to be propelled by steam no license is required. Mr. Thomas, however, after examining the machinery and motive power of the "Promethor," decided that she was a steamboat and must take out a government license as such, provided the inspectors are satisfied that her boilers are made in accordance with the steamboat law "in such case made and provided." Mr. Bradley is from Cambridge, Md., and claims that the actual motive power is a certain kind of gas, which is evolved by mechanical disintegration, the water being forced through solid silver by hydrostatic pressure, which is automatic and is operated by the engine. This product is introduced into small cells of one inch internal diameter, made of the best decarbonized steel, and there quickened into gas by heat, which does not need to be over the ordinary temperature to produce steam. There is no water introduced as water into the generators. The apparatus, he claims, contains nothing but pure gas, without any likeness to a steam boiler. Three hundred pounds pressure can be had from a thimblefull of water, and the pressure can be raised any degree to thousands of pounds to the square inch by regulating the supply of water. The gas frequently reaches so intense a state as to show great signs of electrical action, but before being admitted to the cylinder of the engine it is oxidized, which fully prepares it to act with all the smoothness of steam on the piston. The vessel is a yacht, twenty-five feet long, and it is said has made fifteen miles in an hour and a half.—Baltimore American, Jan. 3.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

COUNCILLOR—District No. 1, at Dover, January 11th.

SENATORIAL—District No. 1, at Portsmouth, January 16th.

COUNTY, at Exeter, January 23d.

A Sensible Convention.

The action of the Republican State Convention at Concord on Wednesday was most judicious, and assures a republican victory in March if the minor conventions only select reasonably good candidates to be supported on the ticket with Gov. Prescott and Mr. Willard. No stronger testimony to the good sense of the committee on resolutions could be given than the universal dissatisfaction of the democrats with the republican platform, the democratic papers asserting that it can be "read both ways"—that is, to suit not only the great mass of the republican party (the moderate men,) but the extreme "policy" and "anti-policy" men as well. That one or the other of the extreme wings of the party would "capture the convention" and "force their views down the throats" of the others, had been hoped by the democracy, with a hope so earnest as to amount to a confident belief that such would be the case, thus inevitably assuring a split among the republicans, and a democratic victory that would put Boss Bingham or John G. Sinclair in the United States Senate. But instead of inaugurating the hoped-for inter-party war by denouncing President Hayes and all that he has done or tried to do, or endorsing all he has done or failed to do or even nay do or try to do, the Convention took its stand squarely on the Cincinnati platform, and while according President Hayes credit for sincere efforts to keep faith with the people on that platform, declined to find fault with those who either approve or disapprove any special measures he has taken; and this sensible action has disgusted the democrats, by destroying their hopes of carrying the State through a republican split. The resolutions in reference to the attempts to prevent resumption of specie payments, and to destroy the national credit (which six months ago stood higher than any other nation's ever did) by repudiation disguised as "remonetization," are earnest and explicit enough to stiffen the backbone of the President, if it needs stiffening; and the other resolutions, concerning a free and pure ballot, education, economy in the public service, opposition to money subsidies and land grants to private companies and corporations, the President's title and the democratic attempts to reopen the electoral controversy, and State affairs, are such as to commend themselves to every true patriot and republican. That the democrats are disappointed in and displeased with the platform is proof that the Convention did its work wisely and well.

Another Murder.

Mrs. Marian Berry, of New Durham, was shot and instantly killed, in her own house, Wednesday afternoon about three o'clock, by John Q Pinkham. The particulars are as follows: Pinkham has worked for Mrs. Berry about the farm, at various times, since last August, having lately cut some wood for her, about the pay for which there was some dispute—Pinkham thinking that he was not receiving enough for his work. As Mrs. Berry, her daughter and her daughter's son were sitting in their room, Pinkham came in. After some talk, he raised a gun he brought with him (a double-barrelled shot gun) and shot Mrs. Berry in the face, killing her instantly. Her daughter ran out to go to the neighbors, but meeting one of the selectmen returned with him to the house. Pinkham had disappeared, but was subsequently found about half a mile down the road, with his throat cut, though not badly. He bled considerably, but is expected to recover. Mrs. Berry was the widow of Hiram Berry; was about sixty-five years of age, and very much respected in the place. John Q. Pinkham, the murderer, is about forty years old, a native of Alton, and has borne a fair character, with the exception of getting intoxicated at times. Parties who saw him previous to the murder think he was under the influence of liquor.

News and Notes.

Cashier Whittlesey of Northampton, Mass., on the 8th inst. regained the watch which was stolen from his house on the night of the robbery of the Northampton Bank in January, 1876. The robbers rolled the watch in a paper and threw it under the platform of the old city freight house at Springfield on the morning of the robbery. A trackman found it there a few days after and advertised it, but it was only Tuesday afternoon that Cashier Whittlesey recovered it.

The Secretary of the Treasury has awarded a gold life-saving medal of the first class, to Philip C. Bleil of the New York police, for saving from drowning six persons.

A tenement house in Woburn, Mass., belonging to Stephen Dow, was partially burned Tuesday night, and Mrs. McShaffery, an elderly lady, was burned to death.

The announcement of the final decision of the Pennsylvania court to hang Pat Hester, "King of the Molly Maguires," has raised much excitement among the lawless element of the Shamokin region. The Mollies are organizing and arming themselves for desperate work. About 400 members of the gang have a rendezvous in the mountain and trouble is feared. Captain Alderson, chief of the coal and iron police, has increased his force, and the local authorities have prepared for the worst. Those harbingers of approaching disturbances, coffin notices, have been freely disseminated in certain districts, and several persons who have incurred the enmity of the outlaws have been notified to quit the county. Those who are acquainted with the situation are apprehensive of a general and fearful outbreak.

It is stated by the Brunswick (Me.) Telegraph, that the use of opium has enormously increased in Maine since the enforcement of laws restricting the sale of liquors. A manufacturing chemist, whose business is said to be among the largest of the kind in the country, is reported as having stated that more morphine is sold in Maine, in proportion to population, than in any other State in the Union. This may be true; but before pinning one's faith to it very firmly it would be well to have some further evidence on the subject.

A majority of the first mortgage bondholders of the Connecticut Valley Railroad, have petitioned the State Treasurer to take the necessary steps at the end of the required limit of one year to foreclose their mortgage according to the bonds, on which interest is in default for more than six months. The bonds amount to one million dollars. In case of foreclosure the second mortgage of $1,200,000, which has been held by the Charter Oak Life Insurance Company, becomes worthless.

Captain A. H. Bogardus offers to match his son, twelve years of age, against Mr. Ira Paine, the champion shot of New York, to shoot snipe in the field, for $250.

Advices from Annapolis, Md., of January 7, contain the following: "The Board of Examiners, composed of the following officers, viz., Commodore F. A. Parker (President), Commanders J. A. Howell and A. A. Batcheider, and Chief Engineer A. J. Kiersted, will convene here on the 10th inst., for the examination for promotion to the grade of Ensign of the graduating class of Midshipmen of 1875 and several of the class of 1874. A number of Midshipmen of the above classes are already in Annapolis."

It has been recently mentioned that the verdict of a French jury had been reversed and a criminal saved from death, because the foreman, in announcing the verdict, spelt the word "majorite" with a "g." In a subsequent trial the accused person escaped with imprisonment for life. The Texas Court of Appeals recently had a similar question before it. Ben Krebs was tried in Montague county as an accomplice in the murder of the England family. The verdict of the jury was as follows: "We the juror find the defendant guilty and sess his punishment deth." The jury was polled, and each member announced this to be his verdict. The Texas Court, unlike the French, holds that bad spelling does not vitiate a verdict when it has the requisites of being certain and intelligible.

Political.

The New York Times says that Senator Patterson has certainly arranged not to be present at the session of the Senate in the future, and the Tribune says he will not resign as long as he can draw his pay.

The legislature of Minnesota organized on the 8th inst. by electing the nominees of the republican caucus, democrats and republicans voting for them.

The Connecticut legislature organized on the 9th inst. by the choice of C. H. Bristow as Speaker of the House and Oliver Hoyt as President, pro tem. of the Senate,—both republicans.

The Wisconsin legislature organized on the 9th inst. In the Senate the republicans elected the Clerk; in the Assembly the democrats and greenbackers coalesced, and elected a democrat as Clerk and a greenbacker as Speaker.

There is a sharp scramble among the leading democrats of Ohio for Stanley Matthews' seat in the United States Senate. Pendleton, Thurman, Okelibllen, Banning and a dozen others are talked of, and even an old Bourbon copperhead named Rainey, who has been dead politically for twenty years. One comfort is, that let the Ohio democrats do their worst, they cannot send to the Senate a more thorough demagogue than Stanley Matthews.

Ex-Chief-Justice Lochrane, of Georgia, gives a comprehensive explanation of the meaning of the term "independent" as applied to a class of candidates in his State. He says, the "independents and democrats are all democrats—different shades of the same color. We have no republican party in Georgia." This various-hued democracy is all for silver, he says, Messrs. Hill and Gordon standing almost alone in their opposition to the Bland bill. This is democratic testimony, and it is now in order for some northern democratic editor to accuse the Judge of raising a "partisan cry about a solid South being in favor of repudiation, for the purpose of keeping the republican party in power."

Gen. H. V. Boynton has published in the Cincinnati Gazette a letter on the question of a "bargain" between the President and the southern democrats. In brief his argument is that the southern democrats went to Washington last winter more interested in securing local self-government in their own States than in securing the inauguration of Tilden. They were disgusted with the way that Tilden was forced upon them at St. Louis, and still more disgusted by his letter on the payment of southern claims. They saw that the forcible inauguration of Tilden meant revolution, and they had their fill of that. They saw that if Mr. Hayes kept the promises of his letter of acceptance in his treatment of the South he could do more for them than Tilden could. Under these circumstances they were easily influenced by the republican assurances that Mr. Hayes would keep his pledges, and would restore a constitutional government to the South. There were no promises to individuals, and nothing that approached the character of a bargain. It was the announcement of a policy on the one side, and its acceptance, as the best attainable good for the South, on the other.

The installation of Rev. Samuel Collins Beane, as pastor of the Unitarian society in Concord, took place on Tuesday afternoon, 8th inst In the evening the members of the parish and invited guests met the new pastor and his wife at Rumford Hall, when several hours were passed in pleasant social enjoyment, supplemented by singing by the choir, after which Mr. Blanchard presided at a feast of reason, when remarks were made by Gov. Prescott, Rev. James DeNormandie and William H. Hackett of Portsmouth, Rev. Wm. P. Tilden of Boston, a former pastor, and Rev. Mr. Powers of Manchester. Among the guests present were Secretary of State Thompson, (who with Gov. Prescott was a college class-mate with Mr. Beane,) Col. S. A. Carter, State Treasurer, Ex-Gov. Harriman, Rev. S. Holman, formerly of Portsmouth, and the pastors of several of the churches in Concord. The sermon at the installation was preached by Dr. Peabody, a large congregation being in attendance. Mr. Beane is a native of this county, and returns to his native State after a pastorate of thirteen years in Salem, Mass.

Miss Nellie Wier of Enfield has started a petition for the pardon from the State Prison of her father, Thomas Wier, who was sentenced in 1863 for thirty years for killing the well known Shaker, Caleb M. Dyer of that town. She easily obtained over a hundred signatures in Enfield and vicinity.

The following petition, addressed to the United States Senate and House of Representatives, is being circulated in Manchester; "We, the undersigned, citizens of Manchester, N. H., engaged in manufacturing cotton and woollen goods, respectfully suggest to your honorable bodies that if you wish us to compete in the markets of the world for the sale of our goods, and help us to extend the commerce of the nation, we ask you to stand by the Resumption Act and maintain gold as the only legal tender which will ensure low range values and low cost living, and enable us to compete for and, in the near future, command the markets of the world. It would be an act of injustice to pay us in a poorer dollar than that of our foreign competitors." Similar petitions will be circulated among bankers, merchants and citizens generally.

Buying a Broom.

When Miss Jennie Lee was about to attempt the part of Dickens' humble hero, in the melodrama of "Poor Jo," she went about the London streets bargaining with crossing-sweepers for the transfer of a real well-worn broom, that looked as if it had done hard, honest work. Miss Lee found the old stagers extremely unwilling to sell her a stumpy old besom even for a fancy price. Those practitioners know the trade value of a broom to an actor, for they were themselves actors of long experience. She could get dozens of brooms that were comparatively new, but not an old one would the sweepers part with. After many failures she espied a wretched little arab presiding over a dirty crossing with a very old besom near Westminster Bridge-road. She astonished the urchin by offering him five shillings for the stump of a broom, and after some amusing parley she got possession of the dramatic "property"—or rather the boy promised to bring it to her residence for the five shillings. Miss Lee got the broom and now sets great store by it.

Mrs. Lord's Shipwreck.

The following story is told as among the adventures of the lady who was recently Mrs. Hicks, but is now the wife of the octogenarian, Thomas Lord:

She was attended almost daily while at Nice, France, by Admiral Alden, who commanded the United States Mediterranean fleet. In the early part of 1873 he took her and a lady travelling companion, said to be Mrs. Gen. Meagher, to Alexandria, Egypt. The frigate Wabash and sloop-of-war Wachusett steamed to that port after the party. The Admiral took the ladies on the Wachusett to Port Said, at the mouth of the Suez canal. From there they made a voyage in a steam launch up the canal to Ismalia. After that they were taken to Jaffa. The Admiral there procured a dragoman named Rosedale, a native of Connecticut who had settled in the East, and under his guidance, and the care of sixty sailors from the Wachusett, the two ladies, with Admiral Alden and Commander Thomas Swan, went in a broken-down tumbril to Jerusalem. The Wachusett started on her return trip from Jaffa to Alexandria on the evening of April 2, 1873. On the following morning the jolly old Admiral ran upon deck and declared that the Wachusett must get into Alexandria by sundown. The vessel arrived off the harbor by 8 o'clock in the evening, and signalled for a pilot. None came out to her, and it was decided to run her in unaided. She was started, but missing the channel, she struck upon the rocks. Two holes were knocked in her hull, and she remained fast aground until the following morning. When the shock of striking the rock was felt on the vessel Mrs. Hicks and her companion ran upon deck. She offered 100 francs to each of a crew to row her into the harbor, twelve miles distant. Twelve men volunteered, and rowed the ladies, Commodore Alden, and Commander Swann to the Wabash, which lay in the port. The next day the junketing party started for Cairo and the Pyramids of Ghizeh, and they spent the ten days that the Wachusett was upon the dry dock in journeying to most of the places of interest in Egypt. After that they returned to Nice, where Mrs. Hicks became again a very conspicuous frequenter of the English boulevard.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

COASTING.

Mr. Editor: A notice in Thursday morning's CHRONICLE of a narrow escape from a serious accident by coasting in our streets, brings up the subject with terrible vividness. There is no sport which to foot-passengers involves such peril as this coasting business, not to mention the danger to those on the sleds, though we all know of the broken limbs, damaged noses and bunged-out eyes which have resulted to many a poor young victim. We must confess to more sympathy for the innocent pedestrians and unoffending horses, the former of whom are often knocked down and the latter frightened into running and overturning sleighs. Let the police be empowered to stop coasting in our streets, as well as horse-racing, for we esteem coasting the most dangerous to a middle-aged

PEDESTRIAN.

EXCLUSIVENESS.

The Reform Club celebrated their anniversary on Wednesday evening, by a supper in Mechanics' Hall; the supper was good and abundant, and the occasion was a very pleasant one, appropriate and interesting remarks being made by members of the club after the supper had been properly taken care of. But there was one feature of the occasion (if our information is correct, and our informants are gentlemen in whose truthfulness we have entire confidence,) which had much better have been left out; we mean "exclusiveness," which was entirely out of place on such an occasion. As we hear the story, a decent though poor colored man, a consistent member of the Reform Club, presented himself at the door, he having understood that those members of the club who could not afford to pay twenty-five cents for a ticket would be admitted free. But though other members of the club, and all the boys who hung around in the entry, and men not members of the club, were invited in to supper, the colored member of the club was positively refused a place at the table; and even when a gentleman offered to pay for a ticket for him the offer was refused, and the colored man was left out in the cold—for no other reason, that we can learn, but the color of his skin.

[A later statement by a member of the club, is to the effect that the man was excluded through being mistaken for another colored member of the club who had broken his pledge and thereby forfeited all right to be present at the feast; and that he isn't a very worthy colored man, anyway.]

State—George B. French, Wm. T. Frye, Charles H. Downs, Frank W. Hilton, Daniel E. Leavitt, Calvin Page, Thomas H. Odion, Charles N. Wyatt.

MIXED INTELLIGENCE.

At a few minutes past eleven o'clock, Wednesday evening, a young lady who resides on Summer street and had been to the anniversary supper of the Reform Club, when near the corner of Summer and Islington streets on her way home was stopped by a tall, burly man, who asked her for a drink of water and immediately assaulted her, placing his hand over her mouth and throwing her to the ground. The terrified lady pulled the scoundrel's hand from her mouth and screamed loudly for help, and finding it impossible to stifle her cries the ruffian soon fled, after dragging her some distance and tearing her clothes. The fellow ran up Summer street and down State, and escaped. It is said the same rascal (or one answering exactly to his description) at an earlier hour of the evening annoyed other ladies by following them around and making obscene remarks. [Per contra, the police do not credit all the details of this story, and do not have any suspicion whatever of the man who is generally suspected; they further assert that the man, whoever he was, accompanied the young woman up street from the vicinity of Franklin hall, and was engaged in talk with her for some time before any outcry was made.]

THE VICINITY.

The Eastern Star, hitherto published at Biddeford, is to be removed to Kennebunk village, and will be issued as an independent paper primarily devoted to the interests of Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Wells.

A plan is on foot to start a ship yard in Dover for the construction of small vessels, say ranging from one hundred and fifty to five hundred tons. Vessels of these dimensions can be launched and set afloat anywhere on the lower Cocheco now, and there is plenty of good yard room down in vicinity of the old steam mill. Parties have been here looking over the ground, and some of our business men have offered to take stock and put money into the operation. We are in near proximity to a good supply of oak and other ship timber, and it can be delivered here easier than at any other point. There is also a constant demand for small tonnage vessels. The plan is thought to be entirely feasible, and we hope it will succeed.—Dover Democrat.

A Remarkable Case.

General Charles Clarke, ex-Governor of Mississippi, died a few days ago at the age of sixty-eight. He served in the Mexican war as a volunteer, but was sent home invalided as a consumptive by the surgeons. Their verdict Dr. Warren Stone, the highest authority of the Southern faculty, confirmed, one lung having perished completely, and the Lieutenant was advised to go home and lead the quiet life of a planter, avoiding all excitement, whereby he might prolong his life for eighteen months, or perhaps for two years. He went home but did not die; indeed, after serving in the Legislature and several public offices he was alive to head a Confederate brigade at Shiloh. As he took a parting glass with Colonel W. H. Mc Ardle, a veteran Mississippi journalist, he said: "I think you will have a good chance of publishing that obituary which you promised me thirteen years ago. I have outlived all the doctors, but I am not so confident that I shall escape the Yankee balls and shells which I shall be compelled to face to-day." After the first day's battle Gen. Clarke was borne to the rear, wrapped in a blanket saturated with blood. "You can publish that obituary now—he has met with a soldier's death," was the remark of one of those who bore him, and the obituary was shortly afterward published in the New Orleans papers. Not long after the battle of Baton Rouge, however, General Clarke was seen again at New Orleans. He had been shot through the body at Shiloh and left on the field, to be taken prisoner, to recover and to be exchanged, and at Baton Rouge a minie-ball broke his thigh near the socket. Dr. Stone was the surgeon who now brought round the man he had condemned to a speedy death in 1848, and though his leg was shortened several inches, General Clark lived to be Governor of Mississippi and to die fifteen years later quietly in his bed, having buried several generations of doctors, gone through two wars with only one lung, been twice left for dead on the field of battle and seen his obituary published.

—"Augustus, my love, what are you thinking about so intently?" "Why, Aurelia, you know when we're married we shall be made one, and I was trying to make out which of us that one would be."

—A young man who left home in Connecticut some years ago to seek his fortune, recently wrote from Texas, saying: "I've settled here." It has since transpired that he was right. He had settled at twenty cents on the dollar.

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 22, 1877:

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing."

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secured for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed it beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the consideration that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interest of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independent criticism of the Republican Party, for in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with which the Party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of Republicanism ended. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of partisan obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the gradual readjustment of the fiscal system to meet the changed conditions of trade and manufactures. It will steadily oppose all plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postponed payment of the national debt beyond that fixed by law, to pay the national creditor on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve any tariffs which cling the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrant in the enjoyment of the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and a reunion between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and amicity must find their return in the enforcement at every hazard justice and scrupulous regard to the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

Its influence as a leader of public opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The editorial department of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the late Turkish war how ample are its resources, and how well directed is its enterprise. Its voluminous foreign correspondence for the last year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of a busy and eventful epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same full-ness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In its notices of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being scurrilous; at all times it will strive to be fair-minded and independent in the championship of the right. No theories subversive of the principles on which the independence of the American people and of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the blandishments of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper especially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Heartache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing not-long has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.

They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bedridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinarians. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Callo, Strains, Strangle, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling on crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a miracle. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Honey

To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castorin is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
SORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior article cannot succeed a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported goes up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties gain an equalled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, disturbed, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They, however, recommend not to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always restores to its youthful color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. This brushy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows, with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and thorough. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR, and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of proprietary medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable as it is, it does not represent a thousandth part of the recommendations which are to-day offered by friends to friends in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily attest its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but aside the publicity incidental to a published statement, indeed the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, is an outspoken endorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen—I have for some months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 30 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that it must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 70—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me inestimable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and live to arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS,
AURORA, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Daily Chronicle.

An Entomological Fact.

"One might suppose," continued the buggist, "when a grub is encased in two inches of solid green hard maple, that he is pretty well protected from the outside world. But it is not so, for here we have a fly," drawing out one of his cases, "that finds and destroys him."

There were rows of flies in the case. The wings were transparent, the body was black, the legs and antennæ yellow, the waist wasp-like, and a tail, like a horse-hair, five inches long, ran from the end of the insect. Through this fine hair she deposits her eggs.

"This," said the savan, "is the ichneumon fly. It has been a great mystery to know how this fly can tell the exact spot in the tree to find the grub. She undoubtedly does it by listening, for a man, placing his ear to the tree, can hear the grub boring."

Here Mr. Fuller picked up part of an old limb and held it to the writer's ear. A faint noise was heard, as though some mite was running a grist mill.

"It is a grub," exclaimed the bug-collector, "hard at work. Well, the ichneumon fly, by listening on the tree, knows where to find her grub. The next thing is to get in to it. She places her egg through this fine horse hair or tail. Here is a microscope. Look at the end of this egg placer, and you will see a two-bladed back saw. See it?" The writer nodded. "With this saw," said the scientist, "the fly cuts through the solid wood to the grub. But when she reaches him she does not destroy him. She simply drops an egg upon his back, the egg hatches another grub, and the second grub bores into the first one, feeds on him, destroys him, and enlarges, until in time, after various changes, it emerges from the tree another ichneumon fly. It cannot propagate its species without finding this grub."

—Pocket pieces made from two double eagles or two trade dollars, hollowed out and opened by a secret spring, have frame and glass for picture, while outwardly they appear like a single solid coin.

—Ole Si, of the Atlanta Constitution, on the "no-hell" theories: "Yer jess make er nigger belebe der ain't no heararter, an' see whar yer comes ter. Ebery secon' house'll be er court-house, an' de houses twixt 'em 'll be jale-houses. Hit's mighty hard to keep 'em strate now, wid de sheriff an' hell bofe 'fore dar eyes!"

—Mr. Webster's famous receipt for making punch was as follows: "Four pounds lump sugar; one pint strong green tea; one dozen lemons, the peel cut off in small bits, and the juice squeezed out; one once of mace; two bottles of cognac brandy, six bottles of champagne and eight bottles claret." This filled the large bowl that stood on Mr. Webster's sideboard in Washington, and was never empty during Christmas week.

—A Lexington editor going away, left his paper in charge of a minister. During the minister's stay in the sanctum, the following letter came from a mountain subscriber: "You know very well I paid my subscription to your paper the last time I was in Lexington. If I get any more such letters from you as I received last week, I will come down to Lexington and maul h—l out of you!" The minister answered: "I have been trying to maul that thing out of the editor for ten years past, and if you will really come down and maul it out of him, then, my dear sir, I have twenty members of my church I will also get you to operate on."

—Politicians and other people will have to be even more than usually careful as to what they say in epistolary correspondence. Incombustible writing paper has been invented by two Salamanca savants, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat. A single sheet will carbonize, but will not burn, while if a roll of prepared paper be placed in the fiercest fire, although the outside leaves and the extreme edges may carbonize, the interior will remain unaltered, and the writing or printing will be perfectly legible. This will inaugurate a new departure in novels. Obnoxious documents can no longer be snatched and burned, and "the rightful heir" will not have half his old trouble in getting his rights. The new invention will carry terror to the hearts of many ambitious politicians who have, as sometimes happens, written too many letters, since it appears that paper already written or printed upon, may undergo the process of preparation without injury. There will probably be a general recall of correspondence before the new stationery comes largely into the market.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

COUNTY, at Exeter, January 23d.

What "Remonetization" Means.

Mr. Editor: It would seem that the 4th resolution passed by the New Hampshire Republican Convention should commend itself (as they all do the writer) to every thinking man. To the writer, who has length of experience in business matters, if nothing else, the remonetization of the silver dollar, as proposed, means:

1st, A loss of 7 1-2 per centum on every greenback dollar held by the people or institutions.

2d, A loss of 15 per cent. to every man living upon wages, salary or income; for prices will inevitably rise to double the depreciation—that is sure as fate.

3d, Ten per centum reduction in the value of all savings bank deposits, all bank stock, all insurance policies, etc., etc.

4th, And greatest, National dishonor, disgrace, humiliation!

Do you ask for the other side? Who is to profit by it? Who advocates it? The answer is:

1st, The Bonanza owners, whose mouthpiece disgraces the United States Senate by the unblushing impudence and sophistry with which he advocates his own interests upon its floor.

2d, All who are in debt and are willing to repeat the shameful cheating of the legal tender act (retrospective) of fifteen years ago.

3d, Those who honestly believe in its benefits and will change their views and their votes after the mischief is done, and a gold standard—the world's money—is too far off for the present generation to see!

Were one-half the self-seeking, buncombe-talking politicians where they "would do the most good"—were Congress out of sight for three years, we should without doubt have specie payments inside of six months. X.

Facts for New Hampshire Voters.

The following facts may be contemplated now with profit by all honest men:

First—The credit of the United States, when the democrats were forced to give up power, was lower than that of any other civilized nation.

Secondly—The credit of the United States, in the hands of the republican party, has reached the highest point among civilized nations.

Thirdly—The very first use which the democratic party make of power, when they begin to grasp it once more, is to debase American credit again.

The Eastern War.

Grand Duke Nicholas telegraphed the following to the Emperor from Lortcha, Jan. 9: "I am happy to congratulate your Majesty upon a brilliant victory gained on Tuesday. Gen. Radetsky has, after desperate fighting, captured the whole Turkish army defending Schipka Pass, consisting of forty-one battalions, ten batteries and one regiment of cavalry. Prince Mirsky has occupied Kezanlik. Gen. Scobeleff holds Schipka." The Bucharest correspondent of the London Times says that the battalions captured in Schipka Pass will probably number from 300 to 400 men each. The victory was the result of a combined movement by Radetzky and Skobeloff through the Schipka and Trojan Passes.

It is reported that the Christians in Crete have risen in insurrection against the Turks.

From Constantinople comes a report that the Sultan has ordered all military operations suspended, and that Mehemet Ali has left to treat with the Russian commander in the field.

News and Notes.

Lester Wallack has been elected Commodore of the Brooklyn Yacht Club.

Wm. H. Mundy of New York, counsel for the "Law and Order League," who has been active in prosecuting liquor sellers, has mysteriously disappeared.

William H. Pontin, of New York, on Wednesday shot himself while on board a ferry boat, and then jumped overboard; he was picked up, but soon after died. He was to have been married that evening, and it is said he killed himself because his father refused to attend the wedding.

Mrs. Lucy of Houlton, Me., aged 102 years on Sunday, December 30, walked one mile to church and returned. She steps off as lively as a cricket. She lately received a letter from a sister three years her senior.

Thurlow Weed is dangerously ill.

Congress.

Congress met on Thursday with a quorum in each house.

In the Senate the day was partly taken up by the discussion of a resolution offered by Mr. Sargent, that the representatives of the Women's Convention be heard on Saturday in favor of suffrage for women. This resolution was negatived. The silver bill discussion used up the rest of the day's session.

In the House, Fernando Wood—specimen democratic "reformer," having once barely escaped the penitentiary through the statute of limitations—introduced a resolution to transform the House into a machine to make party capital for the democracy, disguised as a resolution to "investigate" a la the last Congress. The republicans fought Wood's partisan scheme, and temporarily defeated it by securing the substitution of an amendment which provides for the rigid investigation of any accused official, but does not empower a "committee of the democratic House" to seize private correspondence and telegrams, and pay the expenses of democratic bummers from all parts of the Union to Washington, on a bare hope that something may be discovered to implicate some republican.

Political.

George H. Pendleton is to be the next United States Senator from Ohio, having been nominated by the democratic caucus on the third ballot, Thursday evening.

The uproar against Ben Hill, on account of his opposition to the Silver Bill, is shaking Georgia like an earthquake. The press of the State, ably assisted by the journals of neighboring States, is giving him the most lively talking to he has ever received. If he withstands it and votes as he declared he would, he will prove himself worthy of his place. His sentiments are all the more refreshing because of their almost entire novelty. With the exception of Mr. Lamar and Mr. Bayard, he stands almost alone in the Solid South as a defender of the National credit and honest finance. It is absurd to say his words are in any sense a refutation of the charge that the attitude of the South is seriously alarming. He only proves the astonishing unanimity of his section when he calls out nothing but opposition by his utterances.—Tribune.

New Hampshire Items.

William S. Curtis of Hopkinton, who was recently assaulted at his home in that town, as it is supposed, by tramps, died Thursday afternoon. The tramps have not yet been apprehended.

Rev. J. N. Rich, of Guilford, while riding with Rev. Lewis Malvoren of Laconia was thrown from a sleigh in Lake Village Thursday morning and seriously injured. Fears are entertained that he may not recover.

Amherst furnishes a singular case of lead-poisoning. A man called the physician, who after studying his case, pronounced it lead poison. The patient said it could not be as he drew all the water used in a bucket. The physician thought he could not be mistaken in the symptoms, and in questioning the patient it occurred to him that he had in his cellar a keg of cider in which was a leaden faucet, and from which he had drawn an occasional glass to drink. This, of course, afforded the best possible mode for poison to work. The cider would eat the lead, and the first glass drawn would take the contents of the faucet, which contained the poisonous mineral. The mystery was solved.—Cabinet.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 9th.

The Woman's Suffrage Convention met at two o'clock yesterday in Lincoln Hall, this city, as it has done annually for ten years. About all the veterans and many recruits who have joined the movement within the past twenty years are here. Every State is represented by delegate or letter, mostly by the former. The headquarters are at the Riggs House, though the prominent leaders are entertained by Congressional and other friends, a suggestive fact when taken in connection with the antecedent one that less than a quarter of a century ago they could hardly find where to lay their heads, the few favorably disposed shrinking from the odium and the social ostracism that would surely have fallen to their lot had the direction of their sympathies been publicly known. It requires no great stretch of memory to recall the time when a "woman shrieker" could only traverse our streets under police protection; and even then she was in danger of being bombarded with addled hen-fruit, and very sure to hear the world's estimate in language profane and nasty. At Monday's caucus held in the Ladies' Reception Room adjoining the Senate Chamber, it was stated that their request to be allowed to present their case in open Senate had been met by the statement that there was no precedent for such a proceeding; but during the discussion it was alleged that Mrs. Sherman and Mrs. Dahlgren had been permitted to make an appeal against woman suffrage before the Senate, which spurred the latter to a denial in toto in last evening's Star; however that may be, we are all confident that the delegates will insist on the full measure of their rights to be heard before both Houses. By persistent agitation they have been enabled to report progress at every annual meeting, and Senators and Representatives may prepare themselves one and all, for a vigorous assault. It has now become quite the thing for society leaders to attend the sessions of the convention; and no one now presumes to question them for encouraging a dangerous heresy, and a startling innovation. One of the Smith sisters of Glastonbury, Conn., who has fought taxation without representation to such purpose that her cow has been many times distrained, made a pleasant speech at the afternoon session, and Mrs. Stanton's effort was generally spoken of as one of the most eloquent ever listened to in Washington. Among the resolutions (slightly varied in form from those of preceding years) was one covering new grounds, viz., deprecating the efforts of certain individuals to have God distinctively recognized in a 16th amendment, and the exemption of pastors and church property from taxation was referred to in words of unqualified dissent. Both sessions were attended by a crowded house. The appearance of a colored woman on the stage was greeted with applause, and also that of Marshal Douglass. A prayer meeting at the Capital this morning and three sessions at Lincoln Hall during the day and evening complete the programme. Miss Smith holds a reception to-morrow evening at the Riggs House. In conclusion it may be said that public interest and sympathy were never more manifest than now.

The substance of Col. Shafter's testimony before the House committee, Monday and yesterday, was to the effect that judging from the efforts of the Diaz Government to suppress raiding, its sincerity and desire to avoid war—a sentiment shared by nearly all intelligent Mexican citizens and military officers along the Rio Grande—cannot be doubted; that marauding has been much lessened during the past two years, the Mexican military co-operating with our forces to that end; that he knew no instance where Mexican officers had refused to surrender plunder on application by the proper parties; that order could be much more certainly preserved and a peaceful adjustment of difficulties reached, without the aid of the Texan Rangers; and, finally, that with the feeling now prevailing among the military and better classes on both sides of our southern boundary, war, in his opinion, could only happen by a gross disregard of international obligations, or by indiscreet management. Except giving details of his several excursions into Mexico after raiders, the testimony of Lieut. Bullis was mainly corroborative of that of Col. Shafter. As a consequence the Mexican lobby is unusually depressed.

Secretary Evarts is being severely criticised for his action in going into Court to make a plea, and the President is reported as very much nettled. Members of the Cabinet are very reticent, though it is hinted that his resignation may be asked for.

Without a full hearing of Mr. Galpin's side, reasonable people will not attempt to decide as to the justice of Mr. Schurz, peremptory dismissal of that official on the findings of an alleged Star Chamber commission, whose methods are said to have been as repugnant to the genius of our institutions as they were inconsistent with any hope of judicial fairness toward the accused. But it puzzles every one to understand how the Ex-Commissioner could have merited the appointment of Consul General on the record he made as head of the Indian Bureau, when his general incapacity and his inexcusable ignorance of, or his complicity with the frauds and irregularities said to have been pervading every department, were so apparent as to demand his incontinent retirement from that position. KNOX.

Demoralizing Literature.

"Puck" has just rendered, none too soon, an excellent service to a community which now is literally breakfasting, dining and supping on horrors, by a two-page cartoon labelled "Cause" and "Effect." The first represents a young man fallen asleep amid a pile of our low illustrated weeklies and sensational novels, and in the air around him are the "dreams" with which such reading must inevitably inflame the imagination. The second design represents him in a convict's dress sitting on a prison bed in a felon's cell, his head buried in his hands, the victim of ideas and passions completely disordered by the poisons on which his moral nature has so long been fed.

Truly, it is a curse to teach American youth to read if the community will continue in the insanity of allowing these pernicious weeklies with their exciting tales of real and imaginary crimes, illustrated by the most bloodthirsty and immodest pictures, to be exposed in every newspaper window and sold at every newspaper stand. The Society for the Extirpation of Immoral Literature does not go far enough. The safety of life and morals actually demands the suppression of a whole horde of pernicious journals that flaunt in our faces at every corner. The late lamented Prof. Winlock of Harvard University remarked, three or four years ago, that probably these illustrated weeklies were the principal causes of the crimes of the boy-murderer, Jesse Pomeroy. "It is a great thing," said he "for such a boy to know that he is the hero of these illustrations, week after week—to fancy what a figure he is making in the eyes of other boys—and in imagination to fill a large space in the world with his exploits."

Boston has just been startled and shocked a second time by a similarly successful child-murderer, and who can ever get over the horror of the crimes of the doubly and trebly brutal Piper—the devourer, as we saw in the papers, of this very kind of literature! The city had better not boast of her ninety-eight per cent. of children in her schools, if such things as these are among the results of her education. Certainly if such young fiends are developed by "separate" education, it would be well to try and humanize them by placing the gentler and more merciful sex in the school-rooms with them as quickly as possible. Parents should petition the Legislature against this wicked literature, and mothers should guard their boys by the most earnest warnings, and bind them by solemn promises not to buy or read such journals. What children are exposed to in these days through the powers of the press and of photography is truly terrifying.—Post.

—The mania of New England housewives for "jam" seems to have a counterpart in Bulgaria, where it is to be found everywhere. Even in Plevna, "jam" held out to the last. Eggs, milk and sugar gave out in September and meat in November. Bread was scarce in October, But the jam held out well. The Bulgarian housewives emptied their shelves, and sold at famine prices all the jam that remained from several years' preserving.

—P. T. Barnum's discovery of the necessity of advertising is said to have been occasioned immediately after his engagement of Jenny Lind. Having secured her at an almost fabulous sum for the time, Mr. Barnum was not a little chagrined when the conductor on a Washington train asked, "Who is she? is she a dancer?" Then, said Barnum, I found I had got to let people know who Jenny Lind was. And then began in earnest his use of the press, by whose judicious use he has won his remarkable success and fortune.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years and by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The product should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

THE GALE.

The most violent gale experienced here for years blew Thursday night, and considerable rain fell with it —the rain continuing to fall at intervals throughout Friday, but the gale blowing itself out before daylight. The heaviest gusts of wind were between 1:30 and three o'clock Friday morning, during which time the barometer was very low, and fluctuated rapidly, repeatedly rising and falling from three hundredths to five hundredths of an inch in a few moments.

Considerable damage was done in this city and neighboring towns by the high wind. Scores of trees on the streets and in gardens were denuded of limbs, and a number of fences were blown down; the top of the chimney on the City Building was thrown down, and part of the tin roofing of Cyrus L. Brown's (late John Stokell & Co's) store on Market street was rolled up in such manner as to let in a good deal of water. A barn on Union street and another in the Marden field at the South End were blown down; the belfry of the Universalist church was injured and glass broken; the roof of the Buzzell house on Boyd road was displaced; railings were torn from the roof of Mr. Lewis Davis' house and others, the chimney of the Portsmouth Brewing Company's brewery was damaged, and much other minor damage is reported.

Two fishing schooners, the Rover's Bride and Flying Cloud, of this port, and the schooner Ida May, of Bucksport, Me., dragged their anchors and went ashore at Newcastle, near Fort Constitution; but it is thought they will come off without much damaged or trouble. Another schooner, the Paragon, of Searsport, Me., was driven hard and fast on Clark's Island, and is reported to be in a very bad position.

Newcastle suffered some in fences misplaced and chimneys razced, and several trees were uprooted.

In Kittery a number of trees were torn up by the roots; chimneys were thrown down from Stover & Hill's store and M. H. Goodsoe's house; and at Mr. B. Keen's residence several windows were blown in. The house of Mr. S. F. Fuller was also slightly damaged.

On the navy yard, several of the heavy doors of the timber sheds were blown to pieces, though no other harm was done.

At Eliot Neck a new henhouse in course of erection by Mr. Staples, and nearly finished, was blown to pieces. It was two hundred feet long, and eighteen thousand shingles were laid on its roof on Thursday.

ALMOST TOO THIN!

Mr. Editor: Is not the excuse given by a member of the Reform Club (as per the addendum to your "Exclusiveness" item, published in Friday's CHRONICLE,) for the refusal to admit a colored member of the club to the anniversary supper even when a ticket was offered to be purchased for him, a trifle thin? It certainly seems very gauzy to the general public. That one colored member could be "mistaken for another colored member of the club" is certainly possible; but oh! is it probable? There are not so many colored men in the city—certainly not in the Reform Club, that they cannot be told one from the other; and it is incredible that among all the Reform Clubbers present that evening there were none who knew who the colored member really was, particularly after the matter had been brought to their attention—as it was brought—by the talk consequent on the refusal to admit him. From what I heard that evening, and the next day, I feel assured that he was kept out solely on account of his color, and that his moral character (of which I know nothing, not even knowing the man,) or "mistaken identity" had nothing whatever to do with it. Not being myself a member of the Reform Club, I care nothing whether its managers run it as a "white man's club" or in any other way; but having excluded a member for the crime of being a "nigger" it would have appeared more manly to have boldly given that as the reason, rather than to sneak behind so pitiful an excuse as "mistaken identity"—which only shows that the said managers are ashamed to publicly defend the motives of their action, though they were not ashamed to act upon them.

BRICKBAT.

THE CITY.

The Flying Cloud, one of the schooners blown ashore at Newcastle by the gale of Thursday night, came off unharmed on Friday.

The Pullman train from Bangor for Boston was several hours late in reaching this city, Friday morning, owing to an accident to the engine near Portland.

P. T. Barnum, the showman, notifies us that he will certainly give at least two displays of his great menagerie and circus in this county the coming season.

The high wind of Thursday night blew a chimney from the house of Mr. John Kinnear of Newcastle, and lodged it in the well. The owner thinks the chimney was well enough before.

Members of the Band of Hope are requested to be at the meeting at Faith Home this afternoon at three o'clock. Through the winter the service is to be held in the chapel at the Home.

The following petit jurors have been chosen from Ward Two, to serve at the Supreme Court at the coming term at Exeter: Moses H. Tilton, Charles E. Walker, Joseph G. Harvey and Alfred S. Goss.

The new Music Hall will probably be opened on Tuesday evening, the 29th inst., by Messrs. Thayer & Atkins of Boston, with a first-class company composed of accomplished artists from the principal Boston theatres, now performing at Portland. The company will remain four nights and will give a matinee on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 2d.

During the gale of Thursday night, the schooner Fred Gray, of Ipswich, Mass., Taylor master, from Elizabethport for Ipswich with a cargo of coal, parted one chain while at anchor in Vineyard Haven, and dragged the other anchor, driving foul of the schooner Jesse Williamson, Jr., of this port, Seward master, both vessels then going ashore on the west side of the harbor. The Fred Gray was badly damaged, and leaks five hundred strokes an hour. The Jesse Williamson, Jr., lost both anchors and chains, and had her jibboom carried away; also lost boat. The latter vessel was bound from South Amboy for Boston, with coal. Both vessels will have to be lightened before they can be got off.

CONVENTIONS.

At the Councillor Convention of District No. One, held at Dover on Friday Hon. John D. Lyman of Exeter presided. Hon. Joshua B. Smith of Durham was renominated by acclamation as candidate for Councillor, and the resolutions of the State Convention held on Wednesday were adopted.

At the Senatorial Convention of District No. Five, held at the same place, Hon. David H. Buffum of Somersworth was renominated. Each of the candidates appeared before the respective conventions and made speeches of acceptance of the nomination.

THE VICINITY.

Twenty-seven persons died in Epping during the past year, and three others, natives of the town, and who died in other places, were brought home for burial. Of this number twelve were upwards of seventy years old; the oldest being Mrs. Mary Wiggin, aged eighty-five. The list includes but four persons between the ages of twenty and forty.

Burglars entered the depot of the Eastern Railroad Company at South Berwick, Me., Thursday night. After gaining admittance they blew open a safe of the Eastern Express Company, whose office is in the depot, carrying away a small amount of money. The shock from the explosion shattered the windows and caused other slight damage, being about the only loss to the railroad company.

The case State vs. Thomas H. Nudd, for violation of the sea-weed law in piling it up below high-water mark, was commenced in the police court of Hampton on the 29th ult., before Justice N. H. Roble. Mr. Eastman of Exeter appeared as counsel for the complainants and C. M. Lamprey of Hampton for the defendant. The defence was that the sea-weed was not piled below the medium or ordinary high water-mark. The entire afternoon was consumed in hearing the evidence and the case was then adjourned for one week. On Saturday evening, Jan. 5th, the case was resumed, and counsel on both sides made able arguments, but the judge ruled that no evidence had been given to show exactly where the ordinary high water mark was, and he therefore found a verdict for the defendant. This leaves the question still unsettled, much to the dissatisfaction of the public, who are desirous of seeing the points of law decided.

—A pleasant example of family good feeling was shown at Providence the other night, when a father and son were seen playing billiards together, while a little grandson of the former sat on a stool and kept the score.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

Sch Geo E Prescott, Nash, left New York, Thursday week, coal laden for this port. During the gale of Friday, lost gaff topsail and jib, split flying jib, had davits carried away, though boat was saved by trailing far astern. Vessel was blown over and lay on beam ends four hours, with cabin half full of water. Afterwards righted and was found to be tight and very little water in her. Arrived at Seal Harbor, South Thomaston, Sunday morning.

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 22, 1877:

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

The New York Times

FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Music pal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secure for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed it beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the conviction that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independence within the Republican Party, in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with which the Party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will continue to consider the work of Republicanism unfinished. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of partisan obligation in the treatment of political affairs, the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the gradual readjustment of the fiscal system to meet the changed conditions of trade and manufactures. It will steadily oppose all plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resuming (no beyond that fixed by law, to pay the national creditor on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve tariff duties which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedman and the Southern immigrant in the full enjoyment of the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and amnesty must find their return in the embrace of men of even handed justice and scrupulous regard to the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance its value as a family journal, as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world, will be maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the Russo-Turkish war how ample are its resources, and how well fitted it is to meet the demand for trustworthy foreign correspondence for the last year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of the most eventful epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same fullness, fairness, and accuracy that have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No inexcusable expenditure of the principal or of the earnestness of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its Columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies for the dissemination of forms of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper specially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the Unit d States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to a natural brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, nerve, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ringbone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling on crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
MESSRS. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.:
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest covered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as much superior to Castor Oil as Castor Oil is to the nauseous compounds of the druggists. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that wholesale thrift and plenty. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot succeed against a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivalled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Bilious cases. Tropical Diseases, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a regulator of the system, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, here so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Costiveness, Indigestion, Biliousness, Fever, Inflammation of the Bowels, Piles, and all internal Inflammations and Diseases of the Digestive Organs, they are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their salutary impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the cure with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. The best answer, to commend to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, mutiny the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the ailing of the hair immediately; it restores a healthy growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus lraeth, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, and humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or has ended in more breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system stacks every vital organ, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, frequently assisted by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is done, though, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all paved the to hands at home competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won for it an unprecedented demand which will succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the poisoned blood, while it heals the ulcerated membranes by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NONSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1871.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who are not only from their knowledge of its merits, but it lends families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"Yes, I do so say," said a celebrated city physician, "that my obligations to the Radical Medical Society are such that I cannot honestly recommend other prescriptions. Radical Cure; but just as I received so much relief from the use of Sanford's Radical Cure, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to Sanford's Radical Cure no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint.

I am not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we think the sooner it is made to convince of its great merit, that the suffering will be relieved. Yours truly, S. S. BALDWIN & CO.

ELECTRICITY

As a great curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any remedy or combination of remedies in the healing art. Unlike the vital spark lashed the body, to stimulate by repetition, it is possible for the first time, for all physicians and surgeons, and has proved invaluable in suffering, from an ordinary gravy, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the medicinal oils of Eastern Asia are well known to require description. Their grateful healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect the Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which produces its distinction and uniquely produces more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. TRY ONE. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Silver at "The Corners."

Ez a matter of course, the Corners is impecunious. There never wuz a time in the history of this place that it wasn't in that state of finanshel helth. The disinclinashen of the people to labor—the porousnis of ther clay which requires so much likwid fillin, and the loss of time resultin, makes it extremely difficult for anything like accumulashen to happen, consekently borrerin is the principal industrial pursoot, wich would be well enuff if there wasn't any payin. Payin is wat blites a man, and cripples his energies. Payin is slowly but surely underminin the Corners and sappin its prosperity. I hate payin. It robs a dollar of all its delite to know you hev got to pay it agin, and after you hev spent it. Wat I shood like wood be to hev dollars wich reprodooce theirselves. If two dollars cood only marry and hev large families! That wood be suthin like.

The silver bill which Bland is pushin pleases us here for several reasons. The Corners is largely composed of the debtor class. We are all in debt. That graspin Shylock, Bascom, hez furnisht us the necessaries of life these twenty years, and hez kept on "chargin it up," when we didn't pay, with the remorselis accoracy of a feend. He never cood get no mortgage out of me to secoor hisself, for the reason that I don't happen to hev anything to mortgage; but he does hold mortgages on Deekin Pogram's place, and also on every other place in the vicinity, for money lent and supplies furnisht. Wat happens? Why, Bascom wants his pay. He sincerinly sez that if we don't expect to pay wat do we drink far? "Kin I buy likker in Louisville and sell it to yoo without pay?" sez he.

Ah! if he only knowd how pleasant it is to drink and how onpleasant it is to pay, he would change his mind about it. But there are very few large-hearted men in the world.

Bascom wants his money, and Bascom is consekently a Shylock. He is a oppressor, and a grinder of the faces of the people. We wood rise up in our wrath and mob him, but alas! there aint one of us wich hez credit enuff for a barl of likker in Looisville, and so we hev to endoor him.

Therefore when we heerd of this silver biznis we wus rejoist. Er silver is made a legle tender, and is only wuth ninety-two cents on the dollar now, we hev, at least, rescood ourselves from the grasp of this mersenary cuss wich wants his money, eight per cent's wuth anyhow. And we are satisfied it will go lower than that. When Sharon and Jones and the silver miners of Nevady hev got things fixed so that they kin pay wat they owe in ther own silver, they will bist it out to an extent wich will make it ez cheep ez cood be wished. Then we will hev this yoosurer, wich holds destruckshen over us. Our land,—I am speekin of the other citizens now wich hev land—will go up ten times in valyoo. Land wich is now wuth $40 an acre will spin up to $400—in silver—and we will sell an acre or two off our farms. We will sell enuff to git wat we owe Bascom, and we will load a cart with it and take it to that unmerciful creditor and compel him to take it, and release us from his dominashen.

I see in my mind's eye that deer, delitful old saint, Deekin Pogram, makin a deed for two acres uv the hundred and fifty he hez. That miserable, grindin Bascom lent him $1000 four years ago, which hez bin running on interest ever sence, and he hez a bar bill uv perhaps $500 more, making in all perhaps $1500 wich this shylock holds agin him. There will be a spekilator from Looisville, down to the Corners a buyin land.

"Deekin, wat will you ask me an aker for two akers off the east side uv your place," sez the spekilator.

"Mirandy," sez the deekin, "wat do I owe that crooel, hard-hearted shylock uv a Bascom?"

"One thousan five hundred dollars," will be Mirandy's anser.

"Sir," sez the Deekin, "you kin hev two acres for just $1500. I must git out uv the clutches uv that monster wich demands remorselisely the money he lent me. Oh, the hard-heartidnis uv this world! Thank heaven, I hev but a few more yeers uv it. Mirandy, send the jug to Bascom's, and tell him I'll try to pay him suthin on account next week."

And then the land will be sold (the two akers), leavin the Deekin 138, wich is enuff, and the Deekin will load the silver in his cart, and will take it over to Bascom's and dump it triumphantly down on the floor, and demand his release. Then will he be free uv this shark—he will satisfy this cormorant—he will walk the streets erect, a free man. Then will everybody do likewise, but me, and I persoom I will, for silver will be so cheap that I kin probably borrer enuff to pay the graspin man what I owe him.

We held a meeting last nite and resolved that it wuz the sentiment uv the Corners that silver shood be remonetized, and resumpshun put off. The Corners will allez resolve to put off payin anythin. It wuz a enthusoosiastic meetin, made up entirely uv the debtor class. I made a stirrin speech wich would hev bed an immense effect but for one trifling drawback. I wuz dilatin on the "Dollar uv the Fathers," and sed with a bust uv elokence, "Look at this piece uv money! It wuz this kind uv money wich carried the country thro—"

It wuz an unfortunit way uv gittin at things. For I didn't hev a piece uv silver in my pockit, and I appealed to the aujence to hunt one up that I mite give plot to the flite, but, alas! ther wuzn't a peece uv silver in the house, not even a dime! But I turned this to akkount even. I pride myself on being able to pluck the flower Safety from the nettle Danger. Most men wood hev bin disconcerted at this, but not me. "My friends," I sed, "when we hev this silver bill past, I wont be caught in this awkward fix. Every man in the Corners will hev a cart-load uv it."

And they give three cheers for the silver bill, and adjourned.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, Finanseer.

P. S.—That graspin Bascom hez throwd a fire brand into the Corners. Ex silver is at a discount uv eight per cent., he hez watered his whiskey jist that amount. He sez if we want to pay him in debased currency we hev got to take debased likker. That man will hev to be killed, yit.

The Eastern War.

A Russian official despatch says that the Turks left 300 dead in the fortifications of Trojan Pass. Besides these a Turkish battalion was almost annihilated in the encounter with the Russian turning column. At Schipka the Russians captured 28,000 men, 1000 horses, twelve mortars, twelve siege guns and eighty field guns.

The Servians, after five day's hard fighting, have captured Nisch, with 8000 Turkish troops, ninety cannon, 12,000 rifles and many flags.

A despatch from Constantinople says: "Two Russian columns from Kezanlik have arrived, one near Zeni Saghra, and the other near Tartar Bazardjii, and the Yamboli Railway is threatened. The civic population are ordered to quit Adrianople, and 8000 persons have already gone. The civic government is transferred to Rodosto. "A despatch from Vienna says the Cossacks have cut the Yamboli Railway.

Ativari on Thursday surrendered unconditionally to the Montenegrins. The main army of the Montenegrins is marching on Scutari.

A formidable insurrection has broken out in Crete against Turkish rule. The Turks have retreated into the forts, and the governor has telegraphed to Constantinople for 5000 troops and a man-of-war. Exiled Cretans are flocking home from Greece, and the insurgent forces are said to already number 20,000.

The London Times, commenting on the Russian victory at Schipka Pass, says it is evident Turkey's power of resistance is broken, and adds: "An English alliance is impossible. There is not the remotest prospect of any other power coming to her aid. England will protect British interests if they are threatened, but will not defend the Turk from the consequences of his misdeeds." The Duke of Sutherland delivered a strong anti-Russian speech in London Friday afternoon.

The "Surreptitious" Demonetization of Silver.

The New Era, the representative in Maine of the Independent Greenback party, gives the following account of the act of 1873, by which the gold dollar was recognized as the unit of value, and the silver dollar of 412 1-2 grains was dropped from the list of American coins:

In 1873, the Director of the Mint submitted to Congress a bill for making some changes in the operations of the mint, which his experience suggested. The bill was referred to the proper committee, and there being no objection to it, was submitted to the House by the committee. So far all was well. But right here the plan was started, by some member moving an amendment. No attention was paid to this. Neither the bill nor the amendment were ever read in the House. It passed the House without discussion, and no one but those in the ring ever dreamed that this amendment demonetized silver. The Senate took notice of it, and Buckner says that Grant did not know until long after he had signed the bill, that it demonetized silver. This act was signed Feb. 13, 1873.

No one word of all this is true. The act was not even signed on the 13th of February. It was signed on the 12th.

The bill was not submitted to Congress by the Director of the Mint, but by the Secretary of the Treasury. It was not even prepared by the Director of the Mint, but by Mr. John Jay Knox, now Comptroller of the Currency. It was not prepared in 1873 but in 1869. In March, 1870, Secretary Boutwell, in his annual report, called attention to the measure, and on the 28th of April, 1870, Mr. Sherman presented the bill, not to the House, but to the Senate, with Mr. Knox's elaborate report and a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, and the bill and documents were printed. Mr. Knox's report called particular attention to the fact that the silver dollar of 412 1-2 grains was worth three cents more than the gold dollar, and had become obsolete, and for that reason had been omitted from the list of authorized coins. This was a feature of the bill on its first appearance, and not an amendment.

The bill was before the Senate until January 10, 1871, when it passed thirty-six to fourteen, after a discussion which lasted two days, and then went to the House, and was printed again. Mr. Kelley said afterwards, in debate, that the committee on coinage, of which he was chairman, "proceeded with great deliberation to go over the bill, not only section by section, but line by line and word by word."

The committee was so deliberate that the bill was not reported at the end of the session, and was offered by Mr. Kelley in the new Congress which met on the 4th of March, 1871, as a new bill, and again printed. On the 9th and 10th of January, 1872, the bill was taken up by the House in committee, read section by section, discussed, and recommitted. On the 9th of April, it was taken up again, and Mr. Hooper, of the committee on coinage, explained the measure in detail. Of the 14th section, he said:

It declares the gold dollar of 25.8 grains of standard gold to be the unit of value, gold practically having been in this country for many years the standard or measure of value, as it is legally in Great Britain, and most of the European countries. The silver dollar, which by law is now the legally declared unit of value, does not bear a correct relative proportion to the gold dollar. Being worth intrinsically about one dollar and three cents in gold, it cannot circulate concurrently with the gold coins. The committee, after careful consideration, concluded that 25.8 grains of standard gold, constituting the gold dollar, should be declared the money unit or metallic representative of the dollar of account. (Globe, p. 2305.)

In the same debate, Mr. Kelley said:

All experience has shown that you must have one standard coin, which shall be a legal tender for all others, and then you may promote your domestic convenience by having a subsidiary coinage of silver, which shall circulate in all parts of your country as legal tender for a limited amount, and be redeemable at its face value by your government. I again call the attention of the House to the fact that the gentlemen who oppose this bill insist upon maintaining a silver dollar worth three and one-half cents more than the gold dollar, and worth seven cents more than two half dollars, and that, so long as those provisions remain, you cannot keep silver coin in the country. (Globe, p. 2316.)

The bill passed the House, May 27, 1872, by a vote of 110 to 13, and went back to the Senate. The next December, it was printed again for the Senate. On the 17th of January, 1873, it was read, debated and passed, with unimportant amendments. Committees of conference were appointed, and their report was adopted by the Senate Feb. 6 and by the House Feb. 10. Two days afterward, the President signed the bill, and it became a law.

This measure was before Congress three years. It was printed thirteen times. It passed the Senate twice and the House once. It was thoroughly debated in both chambers. The section making the gold dollar the unit of value, remained unchanged during the whole time. It was pointed out in Mr. Knox's report. It was explained by Mr. Hooper. It was defended by Mr. Kelley, who now says he didn't know it was there. In the committee room and in the public discussion, this feature of the bill was fully considered.

These facts appear by the printed record, which is accessible to everybody who cares to look into it. The writers of the New Era have substituted for them a series of assertions which have absolutely no foundation. If their statements of plain matters of fact are so wildly erroneous, what are we to think of the theories which they build on such unstable foundations?—Portland Advertiser.

Congress.

The House on Friday passed the democratic "drag-net" bill by a majority of four votes.

The Senate committee on elections heard the arguments of the advocates of woman suffrage. At the close of the hearing on Friday the committee adjourned to Saturday forenoon, when other ladies were heard on the same subject.

News and Notes.

A negro named Rice in 1876 killed Tom West, the democratic candidate for sheriff in West Feliciana, La. The homicide recently gave himself up for trial, and was lodged in jail, from which he was taken by a mob on the night of the 8th inst., and hanged. Rice claimed that he killed West in self defence, West being a leader of the West Feliciana bull-dozers during the electoral campaign of November, 1876.

One of the best known fashionable dressmakers of Augusta, Me., has just had married at her residence a young lady in her employ, making the twentieth of her "girls" within four years who have entered the marriage relation. The lady now will doubtless be overrun with applicants.

New Hampshire Items.

The post-mortem examination of the body of Wm. S. Curtis of Hopkinton, who died Thursday from the effects of an assault by some unknown persons about two weeks ago, was made Friday. It was found that the skull was fractured entirely around and the front badly shattered.

Two hundred and four indictments were called in the Supreme Court Friday against Manchester parties for selling liquor. In each case the respondents pleaded not guilty; trials commence on Tuesday. Wholesale and retail dealers, druggists and hotels are included in the list. Several parties have left the city and were not arraigned. These indictments were all obtained on the evidence of Richard C. Hale of Newburyport and George W. Brown of Lynn. The feeling against these parties is exceedingly bitter. The parties indicted are among the better class of dealers, the small beer places having escaped in almost every instance.

Victor Emmanuel.

The "Re Galantuomo" is dead, after a career almost as full of romance as if he had been a knight errant, and as successful as if he had been a statesman and a soldier of extraordinary ability, while a more commonplace man can hardly ever exist. He was brave; and he had a personal and political pride, which prevented his sinking into a pensioner of Austria; but otherwise he was a coarse, stolid, stupid good fellow. He was the star of hope for the unification of Italy, the object of adoration of all who followed the Italian flag; but he shared none of the romance or the enthusiasm, and it required the kindliest blindness to prevent his personal vices and his stupidity from being palpable. Fortune favored him as though born under a lucky star, and dynasties shocked themselves to pieces that their fragments might enrich him. The time had come for Italy to reunite itself, and he was present to receive the crown. Cavour was at hand to manage with wisest statemanship and Garibaldi to excite the purest enthusiasm, but chiefly the fates working out the problems of greater nations made his success possible. The Crimean war brought him into prominence and prestige. Ambition and necessity combined compelled Napoleon III. to go to war with Austria, and gave him Lombardy and Naples. The first stirrings of German unity gave him Venice, after Sadowa, and its final completeness Rome and the whole of Italy after Sedan. It is to his credit that he chose the better instead of the worse course, and had the courage and the right instinct to follow the wise and bold counsels instead of the weak, but he was not a statesman or a soldier, and but for fate, would have had nothing to distinguish him from a thousand petty Italian princes, except personal courage. His death makes no change in the policy of the kingdom, for Prince Humbert is just such another as himself. It is a curious fate which has left the long-dying Pope to survive one whom circumstances made his most conspicuous enemy. But it will not give him back the temporal power.—Providence Journal.

Bismarck and his Boots.

Before Otto Bismarck had reached his seventeenth year he was at the university. He wanted to go to Heidelberg; but the mother preferred Gottingen. She was afraid that the art of imbibing enormous tankards of beer—an art so assiduously cultivated in the former town that it may almost be said to form part of the curriculum—would become a habit with her son. "A beer vat cannot scale a mountain, and you have one before you, on the top of which is Fame," said she. Otto conformed to the wishes of his mother, and to Gottingen he went.

He was by no means a strait-laced young man; he joined in every amusement of the Burschen life, dressed like them, adopted their tone and manners. He was foremost in freaks of all kinds, but displayed that strong will and determination for which he afterward became so famous. Having been invited to a ball, at which the prettiest girls in the town were to be present, our young student orders a pair of varnished boots for the occasion.

As the eventful day drew near and the chaussure was not sent home, he grew somewhat uneasy, the more as his friends kept repeating to him, "You'll not have your boots; the shoemaker disappoints every one." "I'll have them in spite of that," replied the future Chancellor. The day before the entertainment Bismarck enters the shop. "And my boots?" asks he. "I am very sorry, sir," is the reply; "but I have so many orders on hand for to-morrow's ball—" "Ah is that it?" cries the furious youngster; and, banging the door behind him, he leaves the house. A quarter of an hour afterward he comes back, accompanied by two of those enormous dogs which the German students are in the habit of feeding at the expense of the association. "You see these dogs?" This to Crispin. "Yes." "Well, I swear, that they'll tear you to pieces if you do not send my boots by to-morrow afternoon, five o'clock." With this he went out again.

But a commissionaire paid ad hoc, was kept stationed in front of his dwelling, reminding the poor fellow every minute, "Do not forget Mr. Bismarck's boots." He had but the night to finish them. At ten o'clock he closes his shop, resigning himself to pass the hours on his stool instead of in his bed. Suddenly the stillness is broken by the barking of the dogs, and the voice of their master singing out, "Snob of my soul, your life is in danger! Remember your family!"

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equaled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

THE CITY.

A select assembly is to be given at Congress Hall on Thursday evening. The tickets are fast being taken up.

We were informed on Saturday evening, that there were on that day thirty-four cases of diphtheria in this city.

Service at Faith Home this (Monday) evening at half-past seven o'clock; subject, "Preaching, and the preachers of the Bible." Conducted by Dr. Goodall.

A large pine tree between two and three feet in diameter, standing near the road on the western side of Powder-house hill, was snapped in two some twenty feet from the ground by Thursday night's gale.

Some small boys while skating on the South Millpond on Saturday afternoon, broke through the ice, but as the water was only up to their arms they extracted themselves without assistance, but not without a wetting.

It was the coasting schooner Ida May that got off the beach at Fort Point on Friday, and not the fishing schooner Flying Cloud, as before reported. The latter vessel still stuck on the Point on Saturday, with her forefoot and part of her shoe gone, and much water in the hold. The Paragon, on Clark's island, is in a very bad position, and may never get out of it all in one piece.

The brig Clara J. Adams, Capt, Laithwaite, sailed from this port on Saturday for St. John, N. B. Since she first came in here, some months ago, and was wrecked on Beacon ledge, she has been almost as good an item-mine for the papers as the schooner Ceres was before her; and we feel considerably bereaved at her departure. However, we wish her the best of luck for the future.

The opening entertainment of the Portsmouth Lyceum takes place to-morrow (Tuesday) evening at Franklin Hall, at half-past seven o'clock. The recitation must not be interrupted by the entrance of late individuals. Those who are not there at the beginning will wait till the commencement of another scene. Mr. Bartlett's entertainment is highly dramatic, and would be marred by the opening and shutting of doors.

For some months past Mr. Sowersby, the baker, has frequently had bread pilfered from his cart. On Saturday morning two young fellows (whose names we suppress on account of this being their first case of "trouble") were detected with four loaves of "confiscated" bread from Mr. Sowersby's cart, and were captured by the police. In consideration of previous good character, and their assertions that they only took the bread for a lark, they were allowed to settle by payment of $10 each.

In the programme of a grand concert in Fraternity Hall, Newburyport, on the evening of the 15th inst., we notice that Mr. Willis E. Nowell of this city is down for a violin solo; Miss Marion A. Ricker, of Boston, formerly of this city, for three songs— Mendelssohn's "O, for the wings of a dove," Schumann's "The noblest," and "Vioni Ognor Fedel," by Mulder; and Messrs. Willis E. and George Nowell, for a violin and piano duet. Mr. Charles A. Meinerth, formerly of this city, is assigned a piano solo, and one pianist's share in a piano duet, and in several quartettes for two pianos.

THIEVES CAUGHT.

On Friday a despatch from Great Falls was received by the police of this city, giving a description of a man who was "wanted" in Great Falls for stealing money. Shortly after receiving the despatch the officers arrested a man who answered the description furnished, he giving the name of Charles Kershaw, and a strict search resulted in the finding of eighty dollars nicely packed away in his undershirt. As soon as the money was found the scamp admitted his guilt, acknowledging that he stole $405 from John Mahoney of Great Falls. The thief was on Saturday taken to Great Falls for trial, by Officer Hurd of that town, who had been sent for as soon as the fellow was arrested.

On Saturday afternoon the police arrested George Kershaw, a brother of Charles, for complicity in the theft, and found more money on him than he could give a satisfactory account of; and he was locked up to await the action of the Police Court. The money was stolen from Mahoney on the night of Jan. 5th, Charles Kershaw asserting that he was intoxicated when robbed; and after the robbery the thives went on a grand "bust" in Lawrence, Mass.

THE VICINITY.

The barn of Gilman Folsom of Rye was partially unroofed by the gale of Thursday night.

The blow of Thursday night threw down two chimneys on a house owned by Mr. Moses Mann at Greenland Parade, taking both chimneys down level with the roof.

Mr. James Marden, of Greenland, who has been very nearly blind for some time past, had his eyes operated on at the Eye Infirmary in Boston recently; the operation was successful, as he has recovered his sight and is doing well.

The third Newcastle bridge had its railings damaged by the late gale, a number of stanchions and rails being blown out of place. A boat belonging to Mr. Urch, which was bottom-up on shore, was picked up by the wind and carried into the river.

A correspondent at Kittery Point, under date of Jan. 11th, says: "The heavy northerly gale of last night made harsh work about here. A large old locust tree in the 'Follette'—Gerrish's grove, near the old Congregational church, was broken off and blown down; several vessels driven ashore—one of them badly damaged; a chimney of the new Baptist church here, blown off; other chimneys alike served; many fences prostrated; the large barn at the old Gerrish place on Gerrish's island, completely prostrated and badly smashed; and havoc otherwise ran riot in our midst and in this vicinity."

DANGEROUS HAYING.

On Thursday, shortly after noon, Mr. Jacob T. Brown, of Hampton, started in a sleigh, accompanied by six men and two-ox-teams, to go on the marsh and haul home two loads of salt hay from a stack. Arrived at the marsh the ice was found to be less solid than was desired; but after one or two of the men were sent back after boards to use in case of need, the rest of the party with one ox-team went on, and loaded the cart with hay. All went well enough until the party had started to leave the marsh, when on crossing a particularly weak piece of ice it gave way, letting cart, oxen, horse and men through, the water being up to the men's waists. The hay was pitched off, and the men bent all their energies to getting themselves and the teams on dry land; and after three hours (five hours, according to one account) of exhausting toil and exposure they succeeded in extricating themselves (possibly with the exception of one man) and the animals, with the exception of the horse, which had broken a leg and had to be killed; the hay was lost. The wreck of the expedition did not get off the marsh until long after night-fall. It is reported that one of the party is missing, and it is feared that he may have perished in the storm or was drowned. The above account is received from a reliable man, who qualifies it by saying that he gives the story upon the authority of a neighbor of Mr. Brown's.

—She wouldn't stand to have a tooth pulled for one million two hundred thousand dollars, she said, and yet she walked two miles in tiny gaiters two sizes too small for her, and thought nothing of it; but then nobody saw that tooth, and several saw the gaiters.

—The small boy now goeth out to play, and he taketh his brother imp aside and telleth him where his sister hath hidden the cake, which her friends clad in ulsters will devour in the evening. Then do they conspire together; and they seek that cake, and lo! it melteth away like boiling ice, and is seen no more. Neither is the small boy seen for one whole week; and when he cometh forth he is much sore, and he doth eschew evil for one day.

—Modern weapons of precision can be used to advantage in the school-room, as well as at the seat of war, especially in Western villages, where the young ideas are quite apt to shoot in the direction of the schoolmaster. A breach of discipline in a public school at Foster, Minn., led recently to an encounter on the floor, in which the teacher was flogged by the pupil whom he had undertaken to punish. The next morning the schoolmaster appeared upon the scene armed to the teeth, and having laid on his desk a big bowie-knife, a huge club, an axe and a large whip, glared at his pupils, and began to sharpen his jack-knife on his boot. The big boys winked at one another, and the little girls stopped whispering; and so overwhelming was the effect of this formidable armament that at a signal from one of the ring-leaders, there was a rush for the door, and a helter-skelter retreat from the school-yard. School was over for that day.

The Supreme Court, Judge Bingham presiding, comes in on Tuesday at Exeter. The jurors report on Monday, 21st inst. There are 419 cases on the continued docket, 67 on the equity docket, and 23 State actions.

—The following announcement lately appeared in a paper: "Edward Eden, painter, is requested to communicate with his brother, when he will hear of something to his advantage—his wife is dead."

—A quaint little note of thanks written by Jenny Lind in 1850 is just published. She said: "Allow me to thank you most sincerely for your kind attention toward me in sending such a number of little birds, which I consider to be a very great delicacy, although it is a cruelty to not let them have their peace to jump about and enjoy themselves in the woods."

—The heaviest court in the United States, in proportion to the number of its Judges, is probably the Court of Appeals of Kentucky. Chief Justice Lindsey weighs 232 pounds, Judge Elliott 220 pounds, Judge Pryor 208 pounds, and Judge Cofer 201 pounds. The average weight is 215 1-2 pounds. If wisdom and weight go together, then Kentucky justice is all right.

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 22, 1877:

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the heck. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

—A card of matches—Wedding announcements.

—The priest of a country church, where the men sit on one side of the aisle and the women on the other, being annoyed in the middle of his sermon by a babbling conversation, gently reminds the congregation that it should be silent. One of the women arises and triumphantly exclaims: "I want you to notice, father, that the chattering isn't on this side of the aisle this time." "All the better," replies the priest, meekly; "it won't last so long."—French paper.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate

For the County of Rockingham.

RESPECTFULLY represent MARY P. MORAN, Administratrix of the Estate of WILLIAM RAMICK, late of Rye, in said County, deceased, that the Personal Estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the just demands against his estate by the sum of four hundred dollars; that said deceased died seized of certain real estate, to wit: a lot of land situated in said Rye, with the dwelling house and buildings thereon, upon the Foss' Beach road, so called, and bounded northerly by said road, land of William Dowst and land of Joseph J. Seavey, easterly by said land of said Dowst and land of Clarence Mathes, and southerly and westerly by land of George Marden, containing two and one half acres, more or less. That said deceased left no other real estate, and the above may be of more than sufficient value to pay said claims but is situated that a part thereof cannot be sold without injury to said estate and the persons interested therein. Wherefore she prays that she may be licensed to sell at public auction the whole of the land Estate of said deceased above described, for the payment of said demands.

MARY P. MORAN, Administratrix.
By her Attorney, CALVIN PAGE.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE,

ROCKINGHAM, ss.

Probate Court at Portsmouth in said County, January 8th, A. D. 1878.

Upon the foregoing Petition it is Ordered, that a hearing be had thereon at the Court of Probate to be holden at Exeter in said County, on the Wednesday next following the third Tuesday of February next; and that the Petitioner notify the heirs of said deceased and all persons concerned or interested therein, to appear at said Court, and show cause, if any they have why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the New Hampshire Gazette, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of Judge,
WOODBURY M. LURGIN,
c317-24-31 Register of Probate.

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the most momentous crises in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secured for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed it beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the conviction that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered before party. Its attitude is that of independence within the Republican Party, for in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with whose life the party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of Republicanism ended. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of political obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the adjustment of adjustments of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and manufactures. It will steadily oppose any plans, no matter by whom suggested, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by law, to pay the national creditor on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve impaired credits which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all topics that tend to propose sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the Southern and the Northern immigrants in the south in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution, and will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and sympathy must find their return in the enforcement of even handed justice and scrupulous regard to the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the Russo-Turkish war how ample are its resources, and how well directed is its enterprise. Its voluminous foreign correspondence for the last year is admitted to have furnished contents of more valuable data available for the record of a highly important epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be followed with the same fullness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself to the intelligent appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, serious without being tedious; at all times it will strive to be a generous journalist in character and influence. No honorable adversaries of the principles on which the sacredness of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, quacks and gift enterprises, and shuts all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper specially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Worms, Colic, Tumors and Soft Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and Dropsy, Inflamed Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole living. They cure not only the every day complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate hard-ridden cripples, and have relieved more severe pain in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth their weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of their limbs. The effects are most to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have for nine of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give my testimonial on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. While the White Liniment is for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot succeed to a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's medical preparations have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported finds its way to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternate with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Purgative Pellets, are much larger than usual size, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative influence. Age does not impair their virtues of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues remain, thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth; and always and surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brash, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or has baffled skill the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all prove to be destroyed in its influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the strongest constitution. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, frequently assisted by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is now, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed 1 to hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won my heart's approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz. the acidified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the seat of disease. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure. GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in private, not only freely recommend its use in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguish d city physician, "that my obligations to the Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for many one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its merit and unnecessary suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but you stand at the first. If you see proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish. Yours truly, S. H. RANDWIN & CO.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a great curative and restorative agent is not equaled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Unless the vital powers have shaded to the last trace of all physicians and agencies, and has rescued thousands, apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the balms of the East are too well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and astonishing properties in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which is a marvel of healing, and uniformly produces more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. TRY ONE. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

Jeremiah Mason.

The American Law Review for January contains an interesting article entitled "Jeremiah Mason and the Bar," by C. H. Hill, which is a review of Mr. G. S. Hillard's privately printed "Memoir and Correspondence of Jeremiah Mason," from which we make a few extracts: "In the autumn of 1795, being in Boston, he was induced to make a journey to Virginia on business. At Richmond, Bushrod Washington, the President's nephew, and afterward judge of the Supreme Court, gave him a package, which he asked him to deliver to the President personally. 'At Philadelphia I called with the package at the President's house and inquired for Mr. Dandridge, his private secretary, who showed me into a room, saying he would inform the President. In a few minutes General Washington entered the room. I immediately presented the package, saying I had received it at Richmond, with directions to deliver it to him. He pointed me to a seat, sat down himself and opened the package and began reading. He soon turned toward me, and inquired when I left Richmond, and when it was expected the Virginia Legislature would rise. He then said something about New Hampshire, by which I saw he had learned from the package I was a Yankee. As I rose to leave he rose, and asked me when I should leave the city. I answered immediately, and made my best bow. As I rose I saw he measured my height (six feet six inches) with his eye. I stood erect, to give him the whole of it. It obviously exceeded his. This was the only time I ever saw General Washington, except when addressing Congress.'

"He heard Fisher Ames make his famous speech in the House of Representatives on the Jay treaty—'It was a masterly display of the highest kind of eloquence. Such was the obvious effect on the feelings of the House that on his sitting down and nobody rising to answer, and the question being about to be put, one of the opposition (I think Mr. Giles) moved an adjournment, saying that under such feelings the House was incompetent to act wisely or safely.'"

"His antagonists in New Hampshire were certainly a remarkable set of men—strong, hard-headed, and deeply versed in the common law. Mr. Webster removed from Boscawen to Portsmouth in 1807; and until he removed to Boston, in 1816, he and Mr. Mason were constantly pitted against each other. Other distinguished men were Jeremiah Smith, Richard Bartlett, George Sullivan and Richard Fletcher. Samuel Dexter, too, and Chief Justice Parsons and Mr. Justice Story, until they accepted seats on the bench, used occasionally to attend the New Hampshire courts."

"The most celebrated case in which Mason was engaged in New Hampshire was Dartmouth College case. The case was undoubtedly shaped by Mr. Mason, who was senior counsel for the plaintiff in New Hampshire, but who did not go to Washington to argue in the Supreme Court; and whoever examines his argument, as printed in Farrar's report of the case, will see that Mr. Webster added nothing either to the legal argumentor to the authorities, although his great powers of oratory and advocacy gave increased force to the positions taken below."

"Mr. Hillard's remarks on his professional position deserve quoting: 'Mr. Mason was a great lawyer, perhaps the greatest lawyer that ever practised at the bar in New England. But, when we call a man a great lawyer, we use language which has a certain degree of vagueness. Mr. Mason's superiority as a lawyer may be thus stated: that, of all men who ever practised law in New England, he was the most fully equipped with all the weapons of attack and defence needed in the trial of causes. It is but putting the same thing in another form to say that, of all men who have ever been at the bar in New England, he was the most formidable opponent. And, of all lawyers, he was the most successful; that is, no other man ever tried so many cases and lost so few in proportion to the whole number that he tried. There was nothing which a client ever wants a lawyer to do for him which Mr. Mason could not do as well as any and better than most. No man could argue a legal question before a court with more learning and power. No man could try a cause with more tact, judgment and skill. Though not eloquent, in the common acceptation of that term, no man could address a jury more persuasively or effectively. No man's opinions as chamber counsel, whether oral or written, were more carefully considered or wiser. No man in all the departments of professional life ever made fewer mistakes.'"

"On being asked what he thought of a judicial appointment, he replied, 'He'll make a slow judge.' 'Do you mean, Mr. Mason, that his mental processes are slow?' 'No it's not that; but he'll have twice as much to do as most other judges. He'll have first to decide what's right, and then to decide whether he'll do it.' Calling once at Mr. Summer's office, he found him engaged in writing an address to be delivered before a peace society, which gave rise to some good-natured tantering on his part; and as he rose to go he said, 'Well, Summer, you may be right, but I should just as soon think of joining a society for the suppression of thunder and lightning as a society for the suppression of war.'"

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

SENATORIAL—District No. 1, at Portsmouth, January 16th.

COUNTY, at Exeter, January 23d.

"Some One Has Blundered."

We cut the following from the Portland Advertiser of Friday, and as we have seen the same statement in the Boston Herald and other papers, we consider it well enough to correct the errors therein:

It has been decided by New Hampshire politicians that their new constitution does not permit them to elect a Senator at the June session of the Legislature, so that that question is eliminated from the campaign. There will be another election next November, when a Legislature will be chosen which will meet in January, 1879.

The constitution of New Hampshire originally contained the following provision:

The Senate and House shall assemble every year on the first Wednesday of June, and at such other times as they may judge necessary, and shall dissolve and be dissolved seven days next preceding the said first Wednesday of June, and shall be styled the General Court of New Hampshire. [PART II, ARTICLE 3.]

This is plain enough; the Legislature was to assemble on the first Wednesday of June, and remain the Legislature for one year minus seven days, dissolving by constitutional provision seven days before the meeting of the next Legislature on the following first Wednesday of June. The constitution as amended contains precisely the same provisions, with the exception that the words "every year" are replaced by the word "biennially," so that the first (and each subsequent) biennial Legislature will hold office for two years minus seven days, instead of one year.

The present Legislature, at its session in 1877, passed an act (approved July 10th) providing for the election this year of two Legislatures, one to be chosen in March "under the old constitution, and that the officers then elected shall hold their offices for one year, as they now do; and that at the election in November, A. D. 1878, all the officers above enumerated shall be elected under the amended constitution, for two years, and shall take their places on the first Wednesday of June, 1879."

There is no possibility of a mistake here. The Legislature to be chosen in March will assemble on the first Wednesday in June, 1878, and continue to be "the General Court of New Hampshire" until seven days preceding the first Wednesday in June, 1879; the Legislature to be chosen in November will assemble on the first Wednesday of June, 1879, and "dissolve and be dissolved seven days next preceding the first Wednesday of June," 1881. The Legislature which will meet next June will elect a United States Senator—and the republicans of the State propose to carry that Legislature by a sweeping majority, and have already done excellent work toward it in their State convention, as shown by the unanimity and hopefulness of the party press throughout the State, and the disgust of the democrats in the State and out of it; and we venture the assertion that no "New Hampshire politician" whatever has ever "decided" or pretended to decide any such ridiculous thing as that the coming Legislature cannot elect a Senator. This ludicrous misstatement, however, is a pretty fair illustration of how much reliance can be placed on the authoritative assertions of papers outside the State regarding New Hampshire politics and politicians. And if any other State has got a typical politician superior to the New Hampshire one—a clearer-headed, more obstinate and justly self-reliant, harder-fighting politician than the New Hampshire one, republican or democratic, it had better trot him out, for the public would be glad to admire him.

[Communicated.]

"Assistant Inspector General?"

Mr. Editor: I have noticed a number of contradictory statements going the rounds of the press of not only our own city, but that of the State, in reference to the title of Col. D. J. Vaughan of the Governor's staff. Some papers give as his title, "Assistant Inspector General." Others find fault with this, and make the statement, that "there is no such officer of this title in the State," and further that "Col. Vaughan is Inspector General, and being fully capable of filling the duties of his office needs no assistant," etc. The facts in the case are these: Adjutant General Cross, of Manchester, is Adjutant, Inspector and Quartermaster General. [See Chap. 3d, Sec 1st, Revised Militia Law.] The undersigned has the honor to have been commissioned by Gov. Cheney and his honorable Council, Assistant-Inspector General, [See Chap. 3, Sec. 4, Revised Militia Law,] although the duties and work of this position, which his oath and commission require him to perform, have, through the political instrumentality of a couple of our stone-house politicians—one of whom never belonged to our militia and the other but a very short time—and to the surprise and disgust of most of the militia officers of the State, and because of the three dollars per day attached thereto, been given to this title-disputed officer. Few of our militia officers who are acquainted with the facts in the case have any scruples in expressing their disapprobation and exhibiting their disgust at this unheard-of departure from all military law and usage, and at this introduction of Portsmouth stone-house politics into a branch of the State government, which is necessarily composed at all times of men of both parties, and which was intended by the constitution and laws of the State to remain unbiased and untrammelled by the fluctuations of party politics. Our worthy Executive, failing to find authority to remove his predecessor's appointment of an inspector, resorts to the unheard-of alternative of ordering another to perform the duties belonging exclusively to that inspector's position. The next step of His Excellency was to find a position in the military for this newly-created official, and failing to find a vacant one suitable to the work required to be performed he was placed on the Governor's staff, [for title thereto, see Chap. 3, Sec. 1, revised militia law,] a position which has never before been considered other than as an honorary one. Governor Prescott claims to have received his authority to make this appointment over the head of the party already appointed, by an act of the last General Court, but if this office was already legally filled and no provision made for the repeal of the law by which it was created, then His Excellency could have no authority to usurp by an appointment of his own, any office already legally and lawfully filled by Governor Cheney and his Honorable Council.

No wonder that the press of the State is all in the dark, and have got the title of this office so sadly mixed. Now, Mr. Editor, I wish to throw reflections on no one except those dabbling political emissaries who, ignorant of all that pertains to military, and particularly he who having no connection with this branch of the State service, presumes to recommend and dictate, this contemptible imposition on one who is fairly entitled to this position by not only the law of the land but by hard work and long service in this particular branch of the State government.

Yours most respectfully,

DAVID URCH,
Assistant Inspector General, N. H. V. M.

The Eastern War.

The Turkish fleet has bombarded Eupatoria, damaging the barracks, guard-houses, arsenal, quarantine establishment and some private residences.

In a cavalry engagement near Baiburt, in Armenia, the Turks have been defeated and driven to Kog Dagh. Erzeroum has been completely invested since January 9th.

Despatches from Constantinople state that thousands of fugitives are coming in before the advancing Russians, and there is terrible suffering.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON D. C. Jan. 12.

The Women's Suffrage Convention was a success in the number and character of delegates present, in the defence and attention paid them and in the crowded houses of our most cultured and intelligent that characterized every session. Their efforts looking to a presentation of their case at the bar of Congress were unsuccessful, Edmunds and Crittenden, in their respective chambers, demanding the regular order when Sargent and Kelley introduced a joint resolution granting them leave to appear. Edmunds subsequently receded, but the proposition was defeated by a vote of thirty-one to thirteen—the latter all republicans. The ladies go before the Senate committee on privileges and elections this A. M. and the matter is still pending in the House.

The reconvening of Congress attracted no unusual attention, though its return has multiplied rumors, and imparted a much more animated appearance to our city. The Matthews silver and Wood investigation resolutions came up first as unfinished business, and the latter, amended, was passed. Rankle and Draper, supposed to have been restored to their old positions in the Army and Navy by Presidential and Departmental favor, were notified by Mr. Conkling that he proposed to have a word to say about it; and it may be that they are not yet out of the woods, though Rankle has got his $12,000 back pay and Draper hopes to get about $25,000.

Mr. Montgomery Blair's memorial to the Maryland Legislature to review the work of the electoral commission and test its legality with a view to oust President Hayes, if his title should be found defective, bids fair to react rather damagingly on the mover, whatever the motive, whether to keep Mr. Tilden prominently at the front for a re-nomination in 1880, to forward the object of his own aspiration to represent Maryland in the U. S. Senate, or to substitute Mr. Hayes by Mr. Tilden through a bloody revolution, he seems bound to miserably fail of accomplishing more than a feeble sensation. No representative democrat here appears ready to endorse Blair's disinterestedness in the matter; Gen. B. F. Butler has promptly disavowed any sympathy with the movement, or any other seeking to re open the dispute settled by the Electoral Commission's verdict; and very few who fully appreciate the sagacity of the New York Senator, believe he would voluntarily sacrifice the sympathy now his, by giving aid and comfort to such a mad scheme.

No one seems to question the truth of the findings of Secretary Schurz's commission appointed last May to investigate the affairs of the Indian Bureau. The report, just made, charges or intimates almost universal fraud, corruption or irregularity, and that each individual head of sub-divisions acted as a law unto himself in the transaction of the public business, without much regard to any other, and preserving very few records of their work. Chief Clerk Galpin was found guilty on two of the many specifications contained in the dozen charges made against him, and he has been peremptorily ordered to step down and out. But it is claimed that the methods of the commission were like Star Chamber proceedings throughout; that the accused were never allowed to see their accusers or to know the purport of their testimony, that it could be met in rebuttal; and a suspension of judgment seems fair in Mr. Galpin's case, till he can be heard.

But what is most puzzling to the public is to know how a Commissioner, whose inexcusable ignorance and credulity, if not positive guilt, was such that he knew nothing of the shameful condition of his Bureau, and was so potent as to demand his immediate retirement, could have merited by his record as a blind Commissioner, the appointment of Consul General to Canada, which the Senate refused to confirm.

I trust you are not disturbed over the accounts of the new party movement telegraphed hence. Its originators are gentlemen who are not sufficiently appreciated by existing parties to insure them offices; "hence these tears." KNOX.

Another raid into Texas by Mexicans and Indians is reported. The Governor of Texas has written to the President asking that the citizens of the State be protected from the invaders and charging upon the Mexicans the most barbarous outrages.

The difficulty between manufacturers and operatives in Lynn came to an issue on Saturday, and a general strike is probable. Both sides held meetings on Saturday and expressed their determination to stand firm.

Robert Fishbourne and Walter S. Harley, lawyers and democratic politicians of Walterboro', S. C., fought a duel with revolvers on Saturday afternoon, and Harley was killed. Fishbourne's wife is Harley's sister; and in a note written by Harley to his own wife a few minutes before the fatal conflict, he stated that he was about to meet Fishbourne, but would not shoot him and make a widow of his sister. Fishbourne has fled.

Alfred Smith, a wealthy real estate broker of Newport, R. I., over sixty years old and reputed to be worth $2,000,000, has been arrested for committing an indecent assault on a respectable married lady. Smith is a married man, and has grown-up children. The affair has created great excitement in Newport, where Mr. Smith is a kind of king, and much sympathy is expressed for his family.

The fishing schooner Little Kate, of South Boston, was wrecked off Duxbury on Thursday night, and her entire crew of thirteen men was lost. The men were all related, either by blood or marriage. They leave seven widows and twenty-one fatherless children.

John Garvey, a tramp, entered a bagging factory in Brooklyn on Friday, and was ordered out. Going into the basement he touched a match to a pile of jute, and ran away. One hundred and thirty girls at work in the upper rooms barely escaped with their lives, getting out on the roof of another building; and the bagging factory was badly injured by fire and water. Garvey was arrested, and hung himself in his cell; but he was cut down in time to save his worthless life, and on Monday was held for trial for arson.

The forenoon train from Portland for Boston on Saturday was an hour or more late in arriving at this city, the engine having broken down at Eliot. An engine was sent from this city to bring in the train.

In the Boston stock market, on Saturday, Boston & Maine Railroad shares sold up to $100; Eastern at $5; Salmon Falls Manufacturing Co. at $234; Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire at $30 1-8; Michigan Central stock $60.75; Eastern Railroad scrip $50; Eastern Railroad 3 1-2 per cent. bond $55 3-8; Cocheco Manufacturing Co. brought $712.50.

The fourth Prize Assembly at Mechanics' Hall this evening will be an enjoyable affair,—if it is the same as the preceding ones. A delegation of students from Exeter will be present if the weather is favorable, these gentlemen having been "strongly impressed" by some of the fair dancers at the last assembly. Elegant presents given to the holders of lucky numbers,—a silver napkin-ring and silver-plated comb.

George Kershaw, who was arrested in this city on Saturday on suspicion of having been concerned in the stealing of $405 from one John Mahoney of Great Falls, was taken to the latter place on Monday, having confessed his guilt. Charles Kershaw, George's brother, who was taken to Great Falls from this city on Saturday, was sent to jail in default of $1000 bonds, to await trial; and his brother, and brother-thief, will at once join him.

The entertainment this evening by Mr. J. P. Bartlett in the Lyceum at Franklin Hall will be one of rare brilliancy. As a feat of memory it is wonderful, and as an exhibition of dramatic talent and power of voice is beyond anything that an amateur has ever offered to our community. Single tickets twenty cents; tickets for the course of six entertainments, one dollar. Doors open at seven; commence at half-past seven. Harlow's Orchestra will be in attendance this evening. ,

The corporators of the proposed new Piscataqua Savings Bank in Portsmouth held a meeting in the Directors room of the First National Bank on Saturday afternoon and chose the following Board of Trustees: Ichabod Goodwin, Edward P. Kimball, William L. Dwight, John H. Broughton, Robert C. Peirce, Augustus Lord, J. Albert Walker, John H. Hutchinson and Alfred F. Howard of Portsmouth, Emmons B. Philbrick of Rye, John W. F. Hobbs of North Hampton, Ephraim C. Spinney of Kittery. President, William H. Y. Hackett; Secretary and Treasurer, Robert C. Peirce. A Committee has been chosen to prepare suitable by-laws, to report the same at an adjourned meeting to be held in two weeks. The new institution, which will commence business soon, will doubtless be run in connection with the First National Bank for a while, thus without cost for rent or separate offices.

POLICE COURT.

John Dixon was complained of for violation of the Sunday ordinance in keeping his bar room open for reception of company the previous day. Case postponed at the request of the defendant.

George Lane was complained of by Marshal Entwistle for violation of the Sunday ordinance in keeping the bar room of the "White Hart" open on Sunday. Lane asked for a continuance in order that he might prove by two men, Call and Gunnison, who were present in the room, that there was no liquor drank, but they were in the bar room on other business. The City Solicitor having agreed to admit what was claimed they would, if present, testify, the defendant stating that each of them had gone out of town, the case proceeded, and a conviction followed. The respondent was fined ten dollars and costs. From this sentence he appealed, but subsequently thought better of it and settled. He was defended by John Hatch, Esq.

REFORM CLUB.

The following-named gentlemen were elected officers of the Reform Club for the ensuing quarter, Monday evening:

President, John E. Roberts;
Vice Presidents, James Marden, Geo. W. Randall, Walter Costello, Samuel Langdon, Jr., James R. Eaton, Clinton Everett;
Secretary, Mrs. S. A. Pickering;
Treasurer, Joseph Pettigrew;
Ticket Seller, Morris Tobin;
Ticket Takers, Benjamin Powell, Chas. E. Fernald;
Chaplain, Joseph French;
Finance Committee, John S. Treat, Charles W. Gardner, Sewell W. Webber; Trustees, Alfred W. Haven, James Janvrin, Stephen W. Clarke.

THE WRECKS IN THE HARBOR.

The condition of the vessels driven ashore in this harbor on Friday morning, was as follows on Sunday:

Fishing schooner Rover's Bride was still hard and fast ashore, but apparently not damaged.

Schooner Paragon, of Searsport, Me., Capt. Shute, which draws seven feet of water, has but three feet of water alongside at high tide as she now lies on Clark's island, and has lost her shoe. She dragged a 1200 pound anchor, and went ashore at three o'clock Friday morning. She was in ballast when she went ashore. [Rider & Cotton have contracted for $500 to get her off, and but for the storm of Monday would have commenced operations that morning.]

Schooner Ida May, (sixty tons register,) of Bucksport, Me., Capt. T. K. Gray, was on her way from Boston to Bucksport when she put in here for a harbor, took the gale and went ashore, with a cargo of 440 bushels corn, five barrels of flour, and some kerosene and white lead. Has been on shore three times since leaving Boston. Came off Friday, with rudder unshipped and windlass broken, shoe split to pieces, and leaking badly; has not been able to find the leak. Went on Friday morning, half an hour after midnight, and slipped both chains, to keep her from pounding to pieces; dragged across the river from Pepperell's cove. Capt Gray lost two vessels last year, one of them being the schooner J. P. Ames, wrecked at the Shoals. The Ida May is now lying at the government wharf at Fort Constitution, and will not be able to proceed without repairs. Her rudder has been rehung.

The Flying Cloud was gotten off on Monday, and towed to Neal's railway at Kittery on Monday evening by the Clara Batemen.

THE VICINITY.

The first speech of Hon. Thomas B. Reed, the representative from the first district in Maine, is well spoken of by many of the Washington correspondents, and our trans-Piscataqua friends may be assured that their member has made a good impression.

A well dressed tramp, bearing a two-quart jug, called at a Hampton Falls farm house and asked to have it filled with cider. The farmer, not suspecting any trick, filled it, when the tramp started to run. He was followed by the farmer throwing stones, one of which demolished the "little brown jug" and another broke a rib for the tramp, who then surrendered and was taken to Exeter jail. On trial he was fined ten dollars and costs. The farmer was also fined ten dollars and cost for brutal assault. The tramp paid his fine from a good-sized roll of bills and handful of silver, while the farmer was obliged to borrow.—Post.

It was Mr. John Thayer Batchelder's gang of teams and men, and not Mr. Jacob T. Brown's, as at first reported, that got into such serious trouble on the night of Thursday, on Hampton marsh. The later report is that the party had gotten several loads of hay off the marsh when they were caught by the tide; the cattle broke through the ice and it was impossible to reach the solid ground, and the party were exposed to the full fury of the terrible storm of that night. Mr. Batchelder broke through the ice into the river, and was carried under, but was rescued by the others; the tide overflowed the marsh waist deep; one of the men found a haystack on which he remained all night, and the rest of the party stood up in the sleigh till morning, with the exception of Oliver Wright, a native of South Seabrook, who was lost (probably through the ice) in trying to get ashore. The party were rescued in the morning by men in boats, nearly every one of them being badly frost-bitten. Wright, who has lived in Newburyport, leaves a wife and child.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years as a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

—Speaking of school examinations, the editor of the San Antonio Herald says: "We examined one of our boys the other day with a fine comb, and it is asking too much of us to say that we were pleased with the result."

—A spendthrift, who had wasted nearly all his patrimony, seeing an acquaintance in a coat not of the newest cut, told him he thought it had been his great-grandfather's coat. "So it was," said the gentleman; "and I have also my great-grandfather's land, which is more than you can say."

—Sunday school teacher: "Well, children, how many have a verse?" Two little brothers hold up hands. Teacher to the older: "Well, dear, say yours first and then your brother." Older boy: "I am dead in love." Younger: "So am I." Teacher, gravely: "Why, my children, where did you find such stuff?" Both boys together: "Out of peppermint screws." Teacher, with a twinkle in her eye: "Ah, I see! I thought there must be a screw loose somewhere."

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the arrangement of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secured to it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed it beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by no consideration that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honest and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independence within the Republican Party, for in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with whose defeat by fraud THE TIMES has been in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of republicanism accomplished. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of patriotism, religion in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the gradual readjustment of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and manufactures. It will steadily oppose all plans, no matter by whom proposed, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by law, or to pay the national creditor on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve rigid credits which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to provoke sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrants in the south in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern conciliation and sympathy will find no return in the enforcement of even handed justice and scrupulous regard to the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political equities will be strengthened by its fidelity to maintaining the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the Russo-Turkish war how ample are its resources, and how well able and to its enterprise. Its voluminous foreign correspondence for the last year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of a highly-important epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same fullness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No interest subversive of the principles on which the successes of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, quack medicines, immoral publications, and all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as it has been, a newspaper specially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its present circulation, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Ulcers, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their efficacy is now beyond question, and they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but power all to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole system. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent surgeons, and the best men in the world, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the sweetest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take, and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It promotes a healthy growth, but from druff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
Its effects are so thoroughly and effectual, or disorder.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "It combines, in the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Centaur
Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have per owed more wonderful cures of obstinate hidebound cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ringbone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a single dollar's worth of good to have resulted from it. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping-Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. Recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefit I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all Beasts, Insects, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S
STANDARD
REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial priority of medicines? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outvalued all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties prove it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic property makes it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If your feet dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and bowels costive, you need the great Liver and Blood Purifier, Golden Medical Discovery.
In all cases of "Liver Complaint" and "Biliousness," in many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a rule for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

Dr. Pierce's
Pleasant
Purgative
Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or A Salvum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness and Fullness after Meals, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say to that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The use of these Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores the color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brittle, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or baffled the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, it generally succeeds by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is due, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acrid blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORSCOTT BLOCK, 80, FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in preference, not only freely commend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguish d city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure, but there I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to this one store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint yet.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation merits the wants of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its great merit so that the suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but have no sale at all to equal it. If you see proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish.

Very truly yours, S. D. BALDWIN & CO.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Unless the vital spark has fled the body, restoration by means of electricity is possible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued thousands, apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are too well known to require description. Their generic healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

☞ Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and unitedly produces more cures than any ointment, lotion, wash or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

John Calvin.

In a recent sermon by W. H. H. Murray, pastor of the New England Church in Boston, and leader of the progressive wing of the Orthodox Congregational church, Calvin is thus summed up:

"A hard, bloodless man was Calvin,—cool, clear and cruel; embodying the resources of mathematical calculation, and typing the least degree of generous human sympathy, which being possessed by one would still by the width of a narrow margin leave him a man. His portrait, still preserved for the curious to see, is ample condemnation of his theology. A man of exactest instincts as to justice, but, incapable of that mercy without which justice loses its divinity and becomes simply human, with a strong inclination to be devil'sh. A man of ambitious logic; egotistic enough to attempt to square the circle of Deity, and vain enough to live and die with the complacent assurance that he had done it. A man so puffed in his self-conceit, that he could conceive for years that his mind, and his alone, saw the perfect truth so that he was one with it, and might make law even unto death, as if he were indeed its sole vicegerent on the earth. A man who, therefore, could condemn his best friend—and the whitest-hearted saint of the time, Servetus the mild, the gentle, the good, the Saint John of his age—who could send such a man to the dungeon because he would not accept one logical conclusion which he, Calvin, deemed essential to his system, and then pass his head up to the block, which when it fell—if cruelty gets award in heaven—brought down with it the wrath of all the upper world on the perpetrator of the dastardly and unrighteous deed."

—The newest thing in weddings took place in Aurelia, a town on the Iowa division of the Illinois Central Railroad, a few days ago. The conductor of a freight train, W. H. Reynolds, stopped his train, jumped off, went into the depot, was married to Miss Jennie Denio, who was in waiting with her friends, placed his bride in the caboose and started his train again. The arrangements were so complete, the knot so swiftly tied, and the bride and groom so self-contained, that none of the train men had any suspicion of what had occurred.

She lives at Ottawa, Canada, and this is how she managed it: She thought it would be just as well to commence housekeeping right away and begin the new year with training up a husband in the way he should go, but her father thought differently. So she invited all her friends to the wedding at a certain church at a given hour. Of course there was a big crowd, including the angry father, who was prepared to forbid the bans with a shot-gun. Meanwhile the young lady and her adored William went to another church and were quietly married, and as they left the sacred edifice she remarked that where there was a Will there was a way.

—A young gentleman of Prairie Grove, Texas, proposed to his lady love, but was gently refused. He went a second and a third time with the same result. But at length he rode over one evening and told her he would neither eat, sleep, nor speak until she consented to become his bride. She invited him in to dinner; he shook his head. She talked on; he merely looked dejected. Then she requested him to take supper; a negative shake of the head was the only reply. She played, sang, and chatted on till bed time, when a servant showed him a room; a negative shake. She tripped away to her chamber; he sat determinedly still. About twelve o'clock she came back and said, "I don't wish to cause the death of a good officer, so I will marry you." The released one rose, and with much earnestness said, "My dear, have you any cold victuals on hand?"

—A day or two ago, as the San Francisco steamer was moving away from her landing, a portly German, much excited, ran as rapidly as possible down the staging, fearful that he would be left, his speed being augmented by the kindness of the idlers on the wharf, who encouraged him with such shouts as "Let out another link, old boy!" "Hurry up—you are late!" "Just see him fly!" etc. The boat had only got two or three feet from the wharf, when he made a jump and landed on board all right. Taking his handkerchief from his pocket he mopped the perspiration from his face, drew a long breath, and then, happening to glance back toward the landing, from which the steamer was then about two hundred yards distant, he ejaculated, in the tone of one who has escaped a deadly peril, "What a yump I did made!"—Sacramento Union.

COUNTY, at Exeter, January 23d.

A Mystery.

On Sunday last the hull of a schooner of about forty tons was picked up in North river, New York harbor. On examination it was found that the vessel had been scuttled, there being three two-inch augur holes in her bottom forward and three more aft; her name, and everything by which she could be identified, had been obliterated; her masts were gone, having been cut away two feet above the deck; and the hulk had been stripped of everything, even to the galley stove. About half a mile from where the wreck was found her masts were picked up, without either sails or rigging attached. From scraps of paper, business cards, etc., found on board the schooner, and a name pencilled on the foot of one of the masts, it was soon discovered that the vessel was the schooner E. H. Pray, of Bangor, Me., Capt. Melvin J. Clark, which vessel about Jan. 10th was at Pier 54 North River, and after insuring her cargo, which consisted, among other things, of 400 barrels of Nova Scotia herrings, had sailed, afterward touched at Jersey City, and was supposed then to have proceeded to her destination. It was evident that there had been foul play somewhere; but whether the vessel had been scuttled by her captain to get the insurance, or the small crew (captain and one man) had been murdered by river pirates, who had then stripped the vessel and attempted to sink her to escape detection, could not be decided, though the latter opinion generally prevailed, as the vessel it was said was not insured.

Congress.

In the Senate, on Monday, Mr. Edmunds of Vermont submitted an amendment to the preamble of the resolution introduced by Mr Matthews before the recess, declaring the right of the Government to pay its bonds in silver. It recites that the silver dollar is practically obsolete and was not in existence at the time of the passage of any of the acts authorizing the issue of bonds, but that gold alone is and has been for a long time the only standard of value; that the United States Government should not attempt to save money at the expense of its creditors, and that it would be unjust to public and private creditors to pay them in a dollar worth only ninety-two cents. A mass of petitions for and against repudiation under the name of remonetization were presented in the Senate and House. In the House, Mr. Kelley of Pennsylvania introduced a resolution granting a hearing at the bar of the House to the advocates of woman suffrage; rejected, 140 to 107.

Among the bills introduced in the House is one by Mr. Blair of this State, providing for an amendment to the constitution, prohibiting the manufacture and exportation of alcoholic liquors, except for medicinal, manufacturing, chemical and scientific purposes, and for use in the army. Mr. Joyce, of Vermont, introduced a bill repealing the section of the revenue law increasing the tax on wholesale liquor dealers, and repealing the tax on matches and the stamp tax on checks and drafts. Mr. Phelps, of Connecticut, introduced a bill to protect women's franchise.

Sec. Schurz's "Reform."

There is considerable indignation expressed in some quarters concerning the exhibition by Secretary Schurz of his idea of "Reform," as exemplified in the Star Chamber inquisition into the affairs of the Indian Bureau, and his summary discharge of Chief Clerk Galpin. The worst features of the democratic "investigations"—the examination in secret of the most worthless and vicious characters, and the publication to the world of their reckless statements as proved facts, while the accused persons had no chance to examine their accusers, and did not even know of the charges made against them until they were proclaimed guilty—have been reproduced in Mr. Schurz's Board of Inquiry into the affairs of the Indian Bureau. It is charged that the Board has been manipulated by adroit rascals and "Indian rings" entirely in their interests; concerning this point the following extracts are published from a private letter written by Professor Seelye, of Amherst, the noted "independent reformer," whose familiarity with Indian affairs and the methods of the Indian Ring is not likely to be disputed: "After the Board had been organized, and was holding its sessions nominally in secret, this man —— wrote me a letter in high glee declaring that he had got the commission which he wanted, and that he was attending the meetings, having things his own way, and that he would rip up things generally before he got through. I have little doubt that the whole finding of this Board of Inquiry was inspired by the worst villains in the Indian Ring, so-called, and I cannot but look upon it as a very gross travesty upon justice." And in an earlier letter, to another person, President Seelye wrote: "I know so much of the adroitness as well as unscrupulousness of these men that I think it altogether possible that they may carry their point, and may even delude the commission and Secretary Schurz with the idea that the most honest men in the Indian Bureau are scamps, and that these rotten wretches themselves are paragons of good."

News and Notes.

United States Marshal Coggeshall visited Bristol, R. I., Monday morning, and made a formal seizure of the steam yacht Estelle, under direct orders from the President, in accordance with section 5287 of the Revised Statutes. The Marshal is ordered to take possession of and detain the Estelle with a view to preventing the carrying on of any military enterprise from the territories or jurisdiction of the United States against the territories or dominion of any foreign power or State, or of any colony, district or people with whom the United States are at peace. The Estelle will be detained at Bristol for the present.

Counterfeit nickels have frequently been found in circulation in Rockland, Me. For three weeks past the police have been engaged in tracking the issue of the spurious coin. Suspicion having been directed toward Howard Hart, Sheriff Lowe, with several officers, made a raid on his house Monday afternoon and arrested Hart and his wife and captured moulds for making nickels and fifty cent pieces, together with several pieces of the counterfeit coin. Lewis Packard, who lives with them, was subsequently arrested on suspicion of complicity. All three were surrendered to the custody of a United States Marshal.

They rushed upon her with a sponge saturated with ether, and she recollected nothing more till noon, when she was found insensible on the floor, and resuscitated. It comprises eighty persons, twenty-six men and fifty-four women, over ninety years of age. Three centenarians died, Mrs. Margaret Evans of Concord, aged 101; William Devine of Dover, 100; Mrs. Elizabeth Allen of Charlestown, 105.

Mrs. Ellen O'Brien, the oldest person in Nashua, died on Thursday. Her exact age was not known, but it is believed to have been more than 100 years.

On Wednesday morning, 9th inst., Mrs. Phebe Ann Otis committed suicide at the residence of her father, James S. Furniss, at Colchester Centre, by shooting herself through the heart with a revolver. She was only twenty-two years old, and had always borne an excellent character, and there is no doubt but that her domestic troubles were the cause of her suicide.

On Thursday evening the house of O. A. Bidwell of Swansey was burglariously entered through the window and robbed of two gold watches. Although the thief had several hours start he was pursued by officer Rice of Keene and overhauled between Ashuelot and Hinsdale and captured. He gave the name of Ransom Guillow, and is said to be an old offender. He was arraigned at Keene, plead guilty, and in default of bail was committed to jail.

Political.

"Your Uncle Dick" Bishop, the new democratic governor of Ohio, was inaugurated on Monday with considerable pomp.

The democratic Congressmen had a caucus in Washington, Monday night, and while the caucus did not pass directly on the question of an investigation based on Mr. Chandler's charges, there was so strong a private sentiment against such inquiry that Findlay, of Ohio, who has had a resolution to begin one, was prevented from offering it. He first made up his mind to move at the time Wood's resolution came up, but his democratic brethren insisted that he should not do it, and Monday night they turned a cold shoulder on him again, and the matter was found to be so weak that it would only have made its author ridiculous.

An impudent, shallow-pated demagogue from Missouri goes to Washington as a Representative in Congress, and boldly proclaims that if the creditors of the United States will not accept 90 or 92 cents on the dollar, he and fellows of his sort will come back next year and "wipe out the whole National debt as with a sponge." Instead of receiving the contempt and opprobrium he deserves, he is hailed at the West and the South as a great financier and a friend of the people. —Cleveland Herald.

Mr. M. Blair's bombshell has gone off, but seems to have done no damage to any one but himself. He is now politically felo de se— "one," as Blackstone says, "who, shooting at another, the gun bursts and kill himself."—Baltimore Gazette, dem.

The people of the United States acquiesced in Mr. Hayes' installation, and they have seen no reason to regret it since. They are satisfied—and that ought to be the end of the matter.—St. Louis Republican, dem.

Tilden is going to Florida. Why not have himself inaugurated down there, and set up a little government of his own? All the alligators and crocodiles would support him.—Memphis Avalanche, dem.

—A horse's is a life of wo'a.

—Rev. Mr. Tooth, the English ritualist, has a beautiful set of twins, who are commonly known as his "little double teeth."

—On a recent trial a witness was asked as to the common sense of Joseph Buckley. "When Buckley was sober," he said, "he was very sensitive—as sensitive as any other man; but when drunk he was very much exaggerated."

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. feb13

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 22, 1877:

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

THE CITY.

An adjourned annual meeting of the "Rockingham Masonic Relief Association," will be held at Masonic Hall on Thursday evening, Jan. 17th, at half-past seven o'clock.

The first concert in the new Music Hall will be given on Tuesday evening, Feb. 5th, by Messrs. Willis E. and George Nowell of this city, aided by leading vocalists and musicians of Boston.

At a meeting of the Veteran Artillery Association, held in the Common Council room on Monday evening, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for a grand ball for the evening of February 22d. They will report at the regular meeting on the first Monday in Feburary.

George Kershaw, who confessed being a party with his brother to the stealing of $405 from John Mahoney of Great Falls, and who was taken to that town on Monday from this city, had his case settled by his wife, who gave up $200 of her own, the savings of many years' hard work in the mills.

The U. S. S. Kearsarge paid off her crew and went out of commission on Tuesday. A number of the men, whose time has not expired, were taken to Boston by rail to be put on the receiving ship there; and they made things lively about the depot while waiting for the train, the presence of the police being required to prevent disturbance.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, Jan. 15th; Bufford, Special Justice.

Peter Whalen, for drunkenness, was ordered to pay $9.90, fine and costs. Not happening to have that amount just then, he was ordered to the County Farm.

[Communicated.]

THAT "EXCLUSIVENESS."

Mr. Editor: As no one else seems to care enough about "Brickbat's" attack upon the Reform Club in regard to the refusal to admit a colored man to the anniversary supper, to answer it, I will. He was not excluded because he is a colored man, but because he as a man and member of the club was unworthy admission, having (as reported on good authority) previously broken his pledge, —hence he had no business there.

WHOLE BRICK.

THE E. H. PRAY AFFAIR.

The schooner E. H. Pray, found derelict in New York harbor, as related in another column, and her missing captain, Melvin J. Clark, are both well known here. The schooner was in the lower harbor on the 27th of November, bound to New Bedford with a load of lumber from some port in Maine; and during the summer she carried one if not more loads of brick from Dover to Boston. Capt. Clark was the first commander of the steamer Mystic, after that boat came to this port; and he was in charge of her at the time she made the abortive attempt to tow the schooner Ceres up the river to Dover, which resulted in the schooner's wreck against Portsmouth bridge. Previous to taking charge of the Mystic Capt. Clark had commanded the Ceres. From Capt. James A. Ford, of the Portsmouth City Guards, who is a brother-in-law of Capt. Clark, we learn that the E. H. Pray was the sole property of her captain, and was not insured a dollar; she hailed from Pembroke, Me., and not from Bangor as stated in the New York papers. Capt. Ford on Tuesday telegraphed the New York chief of police, and received for answer that nothing further had been discovered regarding the vessel. Capt. Clark was not long ago a resident of Kittery Point.

The Boston Traveller of Tuesday evening says: Additional facts concerning the mysterious dismantling and sinking of schooner J. H. Pray are furnished by Wm. Chalmers, of New York, who states that he chartered her from Captain Melvin J. Clark to load for Baltimore Dec. 20th, and the vessel was to sail last Friday for Baltimore. Chalmers says "the captain is a good sailor, of more than ordinary intelligence and ability. I have known him for the past three years, and always considered him a good and honorable man." The cargo of the schooner was as follows: 20 cases of astral oil and fishing tackle, valued at $2000; 38 barrels and 25 half-barrels of pickles; five barrels of varnish; 100 boxes of capers; 40 cases of axle grease; 400 barrels of fish; nine cases of wine and vinegar; six tons of powder. It is understood that the captain had a considerable sum of money on board. None of the cargo was in the hull of the wreck when it was found floating in the Hudson river.

A QUEER SPRING.

On the farm of Mr. Daniel Cook, which is in one corner of Kittery, close up to the York and Eliot boundary lines, is an intermittent spring, which is not only a most eccentric natural curiosity but a very great convenience to its owner. Its existence was unknown to Mr. Cook (or any one else in the neighborhood) until one of the parched summers of five or six years ago, at which time all the springs, swamp-holes, etc., in his and the neighboring cattle pastures dried up, and the animals had to be driven quite a distance twice a day to get water. One evening, on turning the cattle out of the pasture in which they had been feeding during the day, into the one in which the intermittent spring is situated, on their way to water, the thirsty creatures utterly disgusted the boy who had them in charge by deserting the path in spite of all his endeavors to keep them in the way they should go, and running to a distant part of the pasture in spite of the boy's vigorous use of language and stones. Following them up, the boy was astonished to find them engaged in drinking heartily at a spring which was discharging a goodly amount of water, but which he had never known or heard of before. This new-found-out lasted until the advent of wet weather in the autumn, when it disappeared, and did not again show itself until the following summer, which was also a dry one. Since then it has been watched by the farmer, not so much on account of its odd performances as because of its usefulness; and he has found that whenever a drought becomes so severe that all the other springs in the vicinity fail, this one commences business, and keeps it up until rain enough falls to start the other springs at work, when this one immediately knocks off. This spring evidently knows just how to put its water where it will do the most good.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

The court come in at Exeter on Tuesday, Hon. George A. Bingham presiding; Col. John Horace Kent, Sheriff; Chas. Gilman Conner, Clerk. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Ferguson of Christ's Episcopal Church.

The equity docket was gone over, with a view to learn what was for hearing. Case town of Newcastle vs. B. Cheever, Moses Yeaton, Joel B. Smith and others, which had been on the docket since July, 1873, was recommitted to Hon. J. F. Wiggin as referee, and continued.

No. 31, Sophia W. Haynes vs. Hiram G. Gove and Phineas Gilman, was heard in the afternoon. Small for complainant; Thomas Leavitt, Guard at litem for Gove.

James M. Willey, of West Deerfield, appeared before the Court seeking a divorce from his wife, Elizabeth A. Willey, who left him on the 11th of September last and eloped "with a handsomer man," as James supposes. The libellant was married in 1833, and complains of the adultery of his wife, who is sixty-one years of age, while he is sixty-four. The Lothario is twenty-nine years of age. Divorce decreed.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. Ananias Fowler, of South Seabrook, found a 200-pound hog dead in his stye one morning recently. The animal was apparently all right over night, and a post mortem examination convinced Mr. Fowler that the hog had been poisoned.

The heavy sea raised by the gale of Friday morning threw a lot of coal ashore at the "sandy cove" of Seabrook, and one man on Sunday gathered about a ton. It is supposed to have come from the sunken wreck of the British steamship Sir Francis, which was lost on a rock not far from that beach several years ago. The same sea that threw the coal ashore also carried off some of the trawls which the Seabrook fishermen had set, and most of those that were not carried away were rolled up into such inextricable snarls as to be ruined, as it would take more time and trouble to clear them than they would be worth when the job was done.

The Piscataqua Association of Congregational ministers held their quarterly meeting at Newmarket on Tuesday. The concio, by Rev. F. D. Chandler, of Kensington, was a review of the action of the North Adams and Old Orchard councils, and argued for an assent to the truth of the doctrine of "the eternally lost condition of those who die impenitent," as an essential to fellowship with Congregationalists. In the discussion which followed the ground taken in the concio was most decidedly upheld by every member present, showing that there is no departure from the Faith of the Fathers among the Congregational preachers of this section.

Somewhere about a year ago Reese Owen, of Seabrook, was found guilty by the Police Court of Portsmouth on a charge of cruelty to animals; he appealed, and the County Solicitor declined to try the case on the ground of insufficient evidence. On Thursday last Mr. Owen commenced proceedings against two of the witnesses (Moses Eaton and Police Officer David Souther) in the cruelty case, for perjury, and they were brought before Charles Lamprey, Esq., of Hampton, who held Court in the Congregational vestry at South Seabrook, Nathan H. Robie, Esq., of Hampton Falls, being counsel for the plaintiff. After the case had been heard and a decision rendered, it was discovered that there was a fatal flaw in the proceedings, and the defendants were dismissed. Mr. Owen, it is said, is in no wise discouraged by this first failure, but will make further trials to get satisfaction.

The big storm made things interesting for the keepers of White Island light. The seas made a clean breach over pretty much the whole island, and carried off everything they found laying around loose; the tremendous squalls shook the new dwelling so that none of its inmates dared go to bed, and one puff took away the front steps; rocks of many tons weight were tossed about like marbles, and the rocky island trembled to its centre. The sea broke over the light-house for hours together, and at about five o'clock in the morning an extra big wave jumped up and smashed in a window seventy feet above high-water level, and poured hogsheads of water into the interior of the tower. The structure vibrated so much that the revolving machinery almost stopped; and the keeper, who was inside the lens at the time, got outside with great alacrity, fearing that it was "a call for all hands" so far as he was concerned. Had the wind been from the southeast the covered walk, boat house, coal shed, and the wooden casing of the old tower, would probably all have taken French leave. As it was, the old tower was partially stripped.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The expense should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

—The streets of London, if placed in one line would form an avenue of 7000 miles in length. In the daily cleansing of the streets 14,000 men find employment and 6000 horses and 2500 carts. The work goes on day and night, but the actual sweeping does not begin until eight o'clock P. M.

—His wife caught him with his arms around the hired girl's neck, but his courage ever in this trying extremity never forsook him. "I suspected some one of stealing the whiskey or the preserves, Jane, for some time, and you know her breath would have told it if she was the guilty party."

—A little drummer boy was taken prisoner. Around the bivouac fires the soldiers said to him: Now beat us a "reveille." And he beat them a "reveille." Now beat us an "advance." And he beat them an "advance." Now beat us a "charge." And he beat them a "charge." Now beat us a "retreat." "No," said the drummer boy, "I cannot do that; I never learnt that."

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW YORK TIMES had a very important share in determining the result of one of the most momentous crises in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secured for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed it beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the consideration that the interests of the Republican Party are in a last case to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honor and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independence within the Republican Party, for in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with which the Party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of Republicanism ended. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of partisan obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the practical readjustment of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and manufactures. It will steadily oppose all plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by law, to pay the national creditor on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve trade relations which clog the development of American industry, or to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity, THE NEW YORK PEOPLE, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrants in the South in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and a cordial reunion between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and kindness will not be reciprocated in the enforcement of even handed justice and scrupulous regard to the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the South.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance its value as a NEWS JOURNAL and record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the Russo-Turkish war how ample are its resources, and how well directed is its enterprise. Its telegraphic and mail correspondence for the last year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the record of the most eventful epoch. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same fulness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In its province of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fair and independent in the championship of the right. No innocent amusement need be shunned for fear of the sacredness of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the traffic in articles of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper strictly adapted to family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other matter which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its wet-spread supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have per formed more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, String-halt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates where valuable animals have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Wounds, or Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to miracles. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a failure. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it to preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle affections, Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of nations? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By a seem o superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business count grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors, Ulcers and Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Bilious Disease, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, but little appetite, tongue coated, bitter taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as its effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Purgative Pellets, are much larger than usual pills, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, here before so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Lightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thin brushes, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER
From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, are one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system stacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all pasted i to hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz. the acidified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORSCOTT BLOCK, 86. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies that receive the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in private, not only freely recommend it to their families in preference to any of the preparations prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but I have to say that I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but if any preparation merits the wants of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its great merit, it is that for confirming will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for catarrh, but none lends all the relief, if you see proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish.

Truly yours, FOSTER, BALDWIN & CO.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Drugs, Books and Stationery, Washington, Ind., Feb. 23, 1876.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicinal Healing Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Until the vital spark has fled the body, restoration by means of electricity is possible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued thousands from apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are too well known to need comment. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in chemistry, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect this Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

☞ Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and unitedly produces more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, or by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

War Documents Lost.

It will be of interest to many surviving Connecticut soldiers to know that all the reports of the campaign in Western Louisiana preceding the siege of Port Hudson and including the siege are missing from the records of the War Department. They have apparently been made away with, but by whom and for what purpose is a mystery. These facts are ascertained by private letter from general Weitzel to a former officer of his command in Hartford. The campaign was a severe one, and the losses under General Banks at Port Hudson were very severe, and included many Connecticut soldiers. As General Weitzel says, "It is outrageous that any part of our record in that hot climate should be lost." In a letter on the subject to the War Department General Weitzel suggests that the Secretary of War advertise the fact of the loss, and request the senior surviving officers of each organization which served in that campaign to make another report.

The Marvelous Jug.

In the years agone, when the old Marine Barracks were over on the hillside, outside of the Navy Yard, in Brooklyn, N. Y., some of the soldiers, one cold, stormy day, thought what a grand thing it would be to brew a whisky punch, hot and strong, in honor of a squad who had been detached, and were upon the following day to go on board ship for the Brazilian station. There was money enough to pay for the whisky—to pay for a barrel of it—but how to get it into the barracks, that was the question. Never a man came in from liberty without being overhauled by the sergeant of the guard from top to toe; and, if Orderly Sergeant Moore chanced to be at hand, he was pretty sure to take a hand in the examination. Not a vial as large as a finger could be hidden from these sharp eyes and sharper fingers. At length up spoke Tim Murphy. Said he:

"Make up the money, boys, and I'll go out and bring in the whisky. I'm down for liberty to-day."

Tim was not the man to boast emptily, and when he had seriously declared that he was in earnest, the money was made up—enough to purchase two quarts of whisky and a jug—and in due time he went out. It was in the edge of the evening, or just at dusk, that Tim came back, openly swinging a large jug in his hand. Arrived in the guard-house, both the sergeant of the guard and Sergeant Moore took him in hand for examination.

"What have you got in that jug?"

"Molasses, sir."

"Let's see."

They took the jug, pulled out the cork, and smelled. It certainly smelled like molasses. Then they procured a stick and poked it down into the big-bellied chuet, and, upon pulling it out, something like molasses dripped from its end. They both tasted, and were satisfied, and Tim was told to pass on; and he did pass on, jug in hand.

Arrived in the barrack-room, those in the secret gathered around. He led them into the rear apartment where the bedding was stored, and closed the door. Then he called for a tin dipper and a good-sized ewer. Taking the cork from the nozzle, Tim tipped up the jug over the tin dipper, and presently, in the midst of slowly-dripping treacle, out dropped a leaden bullet with a strong cord attached. By means of this line he drew up the neck of a bladder, and, when the molasses had been emptied out, perhaps a pint of it, he slipped the cord from the neck of the bladder, and poured forth considerable more than two quarts of fine old Monongahela whiskey.

A Parrot's Practical Joke.

In his new volume on the voyage of the Challenger, Sir C Wyville Thomson relates an incident which may be cited in proof that animals are not destitute of the sense of humor. The vessel stopped at the port of Bahia, Brazil, and some of the voyagers went to Santo Amaro, a town about twenty miles distant. There a new line of tramway had recently been laid, with a sharp incline to a steamboat wharf. Dr. Thomson's party arrived in season to take the trial trip on the new tramway. As the truck that carried the party went down the incline, the agonized cries of a child, followed by low moans, were heard, apparently from beneath the wheels. Instantly the brake was applied and the truck stopped with a sudden jerk. The scientific party jumped out and looked around and under the truck in vain. A lot of swarthy native children stood near the rails, looking on vaguely and curiously, but not as if anything had happened to any of their number. When the passengers, mystified, returned to their seats, a parrot, hanging in a cage on the track, burst out into a loud, mocking laugh, and was at once recognized as the performer in the previous screaming and moaning. Although Dr. Thomson is not familiar with Babian patois, he is convinced that the observations thereupon addressed by the truck-drivers to the parrot included some vigorous language.

Terrible Railroad Accident.

A serious railroad accident happened on the Connecticut Western Railroad, just beyond Tariffville, Conn., twelve miles from Hartford, at ten o'clock on the evening of the 15th inst. As an excursion train was returning from the Moody and Sankey meeting at Hartford, it fell through the trestle bridge into the Farrington river. Two baggage and three passenger cars went down. Word was telegraphed to Hartford, and a special train, with surgeons, was sent out. The excursion train contained ten crowded cars and two engines. Three cars went into the river. The two engines were capsized in the river, which is about four feet deep, and the cars fell on top; the roofs of the cars were broken, so that many passengers escaped through them. The citizens of Tariffville hurried to the scene and rendered all possible aid. Up to Wednesday at five o'clock P. M. six men and four women had been taken out of the wreck dead, one mortally wounded, and over twenty, more or less badly hurt. One of the engineers also has died. Other bodies were supposed to still be in one of the cars.

Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic State Convention met in Concord on Wednesday. Henry O. Kent was chosen President of the Convention, and there was the usual array of vice presidents and secretaries. Before the Convention assembled it was taken for granted that the gubernatorial nominee would be Frank A. McKean, of Nashua, whose friends confidently expected he would get the nomination last year, and were so mad with Capt. Marcy on account of his refusal to waive the customary renomination that they "threw him over" on election day. The chances for nomination for Railroad Commissioner were regarded as lying between Charles W. Webster, of Boscawen, and Edwin A. Peterson, of Greenland. The first ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number cast	607
Necessary for a choice	304
Hadley B. Fowler	1
Warren F. Daniel	2
J. F. Cloutman	12
Frank A. McKean,	592

And Mr. McKean was declared the nominee, his nomination being then made unanimous. Hadley B. Fowler, of Bristol, was nominated for Railroad Commissioner.

The Eastern War.

A despatch from Constantinople on the 15th inst., reported a panic at Philippopolis, and that the people were flying to Constantinople. A great battle was fought Monday between Tatar Bazardjik and Philippopolis. The fighting was resumed on Tuesday. Suleiman Pasha afterward took up position nearer Philippolis and ordered the inhabitants to leave the town. The Russians have now reached Tichirpan, south of Yeni Saghra, and are marching on Yeni Mahalgre. A London despatch reports Philippopolis evacuated by the Turks, and ordered to be burned. Towns in the vicinity have already been destroyed.

The Turkish fleet has bombarded Theodosia and Anapa, on the Black sea, doing but little damage to either place. The fleet also shelled Sebastapol.

News and Notes.

Gold was down to 101 3-4 on Wednesday—the lowest point reached since 1862.

Two old and formerly respectable citizens of Pittston, Pa., have been arrested for passing counterfeit money.

W. S. Harley, who was fatally shot at Savannah last week by his brother-in-law, in a duel, died on Wednesday. A coroner's inquest was held, and the Georgian jury returned a verdict that he died from a gun-shot wound inflicted by some person unknown!

At the Cabinet session on the 15th inst. the subject of national finances was earnestly considered. It was determined to give notice to the syndicate that the Treasury Department intends to terminate its contract with them. Secretary Sherman will immediately prepare an advertisement for the popular loan. The Cabinet also gave attention to the Chinese question. The President will address a special message to Congress on the subject.

The plan of Sherman, as explained by him to the House committee on ways and means, is to have certificates of deposit, bearing interest at 3.65 per cent. issued by the Treasurer of the United States, for which postal orders in sums of the multiple of ten dollars shall be received. These certificates shall be redeemed in United States four per cent. bonds, and either certificates or postal orders may be held as reserved by national banks.

A telegram from Hillsboro, Ohio, announces the capture there of McKenna, alias "Reddy," the last of the famous road agents who operated on the stage route in Wyoming Territory during last summer. He had settled down and married, and bought a farm from the proceeds of his summer's work on the road. The last exploit was June 26th, when $14,000 was taken by a party of five, all of which McKenna got away with.

By an explosion of gas in the Potts colliery at Pottsville, Pa., on the 15th inst., four men were killed and three wounded.

Sitting Bull is still at Fort Walsh, Manitoba, has never recrossed the United States line since he got into British territory, and says he has no wish to return.

While the National Cemetery at Antietam was transferred to the United States last fall and was formally accepted by the Secretary of War, it cannot become the property of the government until the title is perfected. Maryland originally set apart the reservation for cemeterial purposes and portions of it were deeded to sixteen different States. When the United States accepted the transfer, it assumed a debt of $15,000 on the handsome monument erected by the Association. The law provides, however, that no money can be expended until the title is perfected, which will require action by the Legislatures of the several States interested in the cemetery. The necessity for immediate outlays has induced the Secretary of War to ask Congress that the law be modified so that the government can make expenditures before the title is perfected.

Political.

Gov. McClellan, of New Jersey, in his inaugural at Trenton on Monday, counselled upholding the political rights of the negro, approved the southern policy of the administration, condemned the proposition to pay the national debt in silver, and advocated a gold basis. He was presented with a medal made from silver dollars picked up on the field of Antietam.

Judge McLin, formerly of Florida, now of New Mexico, is in Washington. He says Manton Marble offered to make him a rich man, if he would have the vote of Florida counted for Tilden. This was the only offer he received from anybody.

The Iowa House of Representatives elected John Y. Stone (repub.) Speaker by a decided majority — ninety-four to six!

George H. Pendleton was elected United States Senator from Ohio on the 15th inst. The republicans threw blank ballots—about the same as though they had voted for Stanley Matthews.

Senator Blaine was at Hot Springs, Arkansas, for his health, during the vacation of Congress, and was serenaded at the end of his stay. He made a little speech of thanks, in the course of which he said: "I desire, gentlemen, also to express the very great satisfaction I have experienced in witnessing the harmony, friendship and cordiality that exist between the two races in your community. Perfect peace in the South will everywhere follow perfect justice. There is no man in the country who desires strife for the sake of strife, but there will always be so long as there is wrong. I believe that you set a great example to your entire State, and I believe that in following it, Arkansas will share generally in the prosperity that you will have concentrated here."

Montgomery Blair finds that he cannot set anything on fire with his torch. Even the combustible Maryland legislature refuses to burn. They are willing to resolve that Mr. Tilden was legally elected, but there is a paragraph in a Western poem which intimates that "you may resolute 'till the cows come home" without accomplishing any practical purpose. It is notable that the only attacks upon the President's title from either side have been from those who have not escaped the suspicion of being factious in their hostility. Sensible men of both parties have agreed that nothing but evil could come from reopening the question, and it is practically as dead as slavery. Every effort to create a disturbance about it only makes the fact more evident, and there is every reason to believe that this fiasco of Blair's will be the last public attempt. If the legislature of Maryland cannot be stirred into action, there is nothing to hope from any of the other States. Maryland is more southern than the southerners themselves, and more democratic than democracy, so that apathy there leaves not the slightest hope anywhere else. We have probably heard the last of resolutions of inquiry into the title of President Hayes, unless Parson Nasby should desire to distinguish himself. Even he would hesitate at a time so far beyond the eleventh hour.—Providence Journal.

From the Alabama line to the Mississippi river, and from the sea coast to the Tennessee line all kinds of crimes are being daily committed—husbands are being torn from the bosom of their families, dragged away and murdered in cold blood; wives are frightened, their lives endangered, and tortured to death. Where are the officers, the conservators of peace? Where are the magistrates of peace and order, the executors of the law?—men whom the people have honored with their respective high positions in life, and lavishly support them to watch over and protect them as a shepherd would his flock? They are reared back, we are ready to assert, in their great chair, saying: "These things can't be helped." And when the campaign of another election is opened they will mount the rostrum and would, if possible, make their voices ring out from hell to heaven, "we are the choice of the people—we work for the peace and harmony of the country and execute the laws to the letter!" Heaven, what false assertions!—Kemper (Missi-sippi) Herald.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 128 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. 4eb13

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 22, 1877:

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

THE CITY.

Read H. M. Clark's advertisement of fine pork at low prices.

There is good skating on the South Millpond—the first of the season.

Ship Paul Jones, Capt. Gerrish, will sail from New York for China to-day, wind and weather permitting.

At the dance at Mechanics' Hall on Tuesday evening, Miss Nellie Buckley drew the silver-plated comb, and Mr. Charles H. Stiles the napkin ring.

We would inform those who have been fortunate enough to procure tickets for the dance at Congress Hall this evening, that the Grand March will be at 8 o'clock.

In the Democratic State Convention at Concord, Wednesday, Mr. Henry F. Wendell of this city was one of the vice presidents, and Calvin Page, Esq., a member of the committee on resolutions. Mr. Wendell was placed on the State committee.

The Thayer & Tompkins Dramatic Company, already announced as the organization to give the initial performance in the new Music Hall, will play on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Jan. 29th, 30th and 31st. There will be no matinee and no performance on Friday evening, as it has been reported would be given. "Caste" will probably be cast for the opening night.

The Concord Railroad has just cut down the wages of certain classes of the employes. This is the third reduction, the one next previous to this having occurred about a year ago. The one just made was ordered by a vote of the Directors. It falls principally upon the more subordinate classes of workmen, and does not affect conductors or engineers. The cut-down is understood to be from five cents a day up to several dollars a month.—Post.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The Republican Senatorial Convention for the first District met at the Court House in this city on Wednesday, at eleven o'clock A. M. The Convention was called to order by Lewis G. Davis of this city; W. Russell Foster of this city was chosen chairman, and Frank R. Drake of North Hampton secretary. The committee on credentials, consisting of Charles H. Joy of this city, F. H. Burleigh of Stratham and John Leavitt of North Hampton, reported thirty-one delegates present. William H. Sise and Lewis G. Davis of this city, and John O. Foss of Rye, were appointed a committee on resolutions.

On motion of Col. Sise, Emmons B. Philbrick, Esq., of Rye, was unanimously nominated, by acclamation, as the republican candidate for the office of State Senator for District No. One.

The committee on resolutions reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we endorse and heartily approve of the resolutions passed at the recent Republican State Convention.

Resolved, That in presenting the name of Emmons B. Philbrick, Esq., of Rye, as a candidate for the office of State Senator from District No. One, we invite the suffrage of every voter in the District, in the belief that in the well known integrity and acknowledged capability of our candidate they will find a gentleman well worthy of the hearty support of every intelligent voter in the District.

Mr. Philbrick was introduced and addressed the Convention, which then adjourned.

POLICE COURT.

N. H. S. P. C. C.

The annual meeting of the N. H. Society for the prevention of cruelty to children, was held on the afternoon of the 15th inst. The Secretary, Miss S. E. Christie, made a report, from which it appears that there have only been two cases of importance before the Society during the past year. One was of a deaf and dumb child, cruelly neglected by its drunken and brutal parents. Proper legal measures were taken to get possession of the child, who was finally provided for, after being comfortably clothed, at an Orphan Asylum at Concord, with the understanding that she should be sent as soon as possible to the Deaf and Dumb Asylum at Hartford, which has since been done. The other was of two poor little children abandoned by their drunken mother while their father was at sea. These children were rescued, clothed, and their board paid until they could be received into the Orphans' Home in this city, where they now are. Besides these cases one or two others have been investigated, including one of a circus visiting the city, having a child performer with them. The child however was not on exhibition—whether from fear of the society or not is not known.

The treasurer, Dr. J. R. May, reported a balance of about $25 in the treasury.

The following Board of Directors was then elected for the ensuing year:

T. E. O. Marvin, James R. May, Chas. W. Gardner, Rev. C. A. Holbrook, Augustus W. Odiorne, Mrs. J. J. Pickering, Mrs. A. W. Haven, and Misses E. H. Pearson, Mary R. Lyman, Carrie A. Morrison, Mary A. Foster, and Annie F. Jenness.

The meeting then adjourned, and the Board of Directors, organizing, proceeded to elect

Charles W. Gardner, President;
Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, Rev. Eugene Grant, Mrs. Stanton Parker, Miss Eliza A. Haven, Vice Presidents;
Dr. James R. May, Treasurer;
Miss Mary A. Foster, Secretary;
The Board then adjourned.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

A special meeting of the Board of Instruction was held on Wednesday evening for the purpose of hearing reports of District committees that were due at the regular meeting (first Wednesday in January) but from various causes were not fully completed.

The Grammar School Grade and the Intermediate Grade committees having submitted their reports at the last meeting, it remained for the committee of the Primary Grade to make their report, which was read by the Secretary, and accepted and adopted by the Board.

The committee on salaries recommended that the pay of Miss Mary F. Garrett, teacher of the Plains school, be increased from $400 to $500 per year, thereby placing the compensation at the same figure as that of the teachers of the second grade of Grammar Schools.

The chairman of the District committee No. Three reported the overflowed condition of the Manning School at the South End, and introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That the sub-committee of District Three be and hereby are authorized to transfer the primary department of the Manning school to the room in the State street school recently occupied by Miss Giddings.

The whole matter was referred to the sub-committees of Districts No. Two and Three.

THE MYSTERIOUS SCHOONER.

The mystery regarding the stealing of the cargo of the schooner E. A. Pray, the dismantling and scuttling of the vessel and the disappearance of her captain and crew, was not unravelled up to Wednesday morning, though New York advices reported that the general impression among shipping and insurance men there, and the harbor police, was that the cargo was taken by the captain and crew, and the vessel wrecked by them. The cargo was a valuable one, being worth at least $10,000; but in the cargo was no such thing as gas lime, fifteen tons of which was found in the water-logged hulk when it was picked up. This lime was evidently put in the vessel to sink her, and as the New York river and harbor pirates, who operate in boats, do not carry such bulky stuff about with them to sink vessels they plunder, or indeed bother themselves with trying to sink them after plundering them, it is argued that the cargo of the E. H. Pray must have been transferred to some other vessel, from which in turn the lime was put on board the schooner. The very evident care taken to obliterate the schooner's name and official number, and every other mark by which it was likely the vessel could be identified if she should be picked up, is another performance which hardly carries the ear marks of the river pirates; and if it should turn out to be their work, it will no doubt be found that they have graduated from small boats and taken to good sized schooners in prosecuting their nefarious business. The E. H. Pray was valued at about $4000, and Capt. Clark not long ago laid out $1500 on her in repairs; the hulk as found floating in the river is considered worth about $800.

The above was in type on Wednesday forenoon. Wednesday evening's New York despatches to the Boston Traveller announced the discovery of the sails and cargo of the E. H. Pray, and Capt. Clark's private papers, on board a worthless old schooner named the Guide, anchored on Communipaw flats. The Guide was in charge of William May, late cook of the E. H. Pray, who says that he, Capt. Clark and a seaman named Charles Ross shifted the cargo, dismasted the schooner and put the lime in her, and scuttled her, being three days engaged at the work. He acknowledges helping until the others began to cut away the masts, when he became frightened and knocked off; he went ashore and bought the augur to scuttle the schooner. The Guide was bought at Greenpoint by Capt. Clark for a small sum, and brought alongside while the E. H. Pray was anchored opposite 51st street, in North river; when the latter vessel commenced to sink the trio left her, and took the Guide into Communipaw flats, Ross and Capt. Clark soon going on shore, leaving May in charge, and promising soon to return; May understood that they went to dispose of the plunder; he was to share the booty. He was terribly frightened when the police boarded the Guide, and was almost incapable of answering a question. If his story is true it can easily be verified; but it may turn out that Capt. Clark has been foully dealt with by his men.

THAT "EXCLUSIVENESS."

Messrs. Editors: The anniversary committee* of the Reform Club, after floundering about in a sea of miserable excuses for a week, relative to the exclusion of Mr. J. W. Sewell from their anniversary supper, have, after "almost prayerful consideration," resolved that the said Sewell was kept out for the reason that it was reported on good authority that he had "previously broken his pledge—hence he had no business there," and not for his being a "nigger." This thrust at the character of a man so well known as Mr. Sewell, (he having been for many years and is now a worthy member of a church in this city, and is constantly being employed by some of our best citizens,) will only react on the author of this slander. I undertake to say that he was kept out for no reason save that of his being black; else why should a prominent member of the committee say that he was "bound to show a 'nigger' his place," and that he "did show him it;" and that "if a dozen policemen offered to buy his ticket, the 'nigger' could not go in?" As to his having "no business there" if he had broken the pledge, (he has not,) all I have to say is, that the chairman and several members of the committee urged white former members (who had broken the pledge) to go into the Hall and that too in the presence of a number of gentlemen, of whom the colored man was one. I await the next excuse. BRICKBAT NO. TWO.

*"Whole Brick" is not one of the anniversary committee, and we believe not one of the Reform Club.

† Please do not give us the "next" any more on this subject, gentlemen.—Ed.

THE LYCEUM ENTERTAINMENT.

The W. T. L. Lyceum was successfully opened on the evening of the 15th inst. by a brilliant entertainment given by Mr. J. P. Bartlett. It had been announced that he would recite the play of "The Good Natured Man" without book or prompter. We anticipated pleasure, but we must acknowledge being surprised at the ease, elegance and perfect abandon with which he entered into the play; he went into it con amore. Our first acquaintance with this play dates about a year back, when we were stirred up to going to see it played by Mr. Bartlett and others, because we were warned through the papers by one of our "croakers"—whom, like the poor, we have always with us—that the amateurs would miserably fall in so audacious an enterprise. We thought we would just be in at the death; if there is anything we like better than a brilliant success it is a stupendous failure, particularly of socie'y friends—Heaven save the mark! However, the army of croakers vanished like the clan of Roderick Dhu, and for safety joined the throng of admirers and acknowledged a splendid success. Mr. Bartlett's presentation was "as good as the play," and more wonderful. C. L.

THE VICINITY.

A horse and wagon belonging to Mr. John T. Batchelder, of Hampton, was stolen in Newburyport on the evening of the 15th inst., but the team was recovered within a half-hour by City Marshal DeRochemont of Newburyport.

The firm of Staples & Adams, shoe manufacturers of South Seabrook, has been dissolved; the business will be continued without interruption by Mr. Staples, who has bought Mr. Adams' interest. The retiring partner has purchased an interest in the Goodyear Turned-sewing Machine Co., and assumed that company's agency.

Kennebunk, Maine, boasts of a house which is painted from foundation to roof with alternate bands of red, white and blue, about one foot in width; at each corner of the house is a huge "Union Jack" about seven feet wide, and the chimneys are also painted with the national colors and studded with stars. The barn is painted in similar style.

Judge Stanley has just rendered a decision in the case of Abbie A. Dunbrack, against Washington H. Hobbs, both of Hampton, the defendant having been tried at the October term of the Supreme Court in Portsmouth, for bastardy. The trial occupied several days. Hobbs is a married man. The court found the defendant guilty, and ordered $75 and costs to the complainant, and security for maintenance of child until ten years of age.

Our Rye correspondent, under date of Jan. 16th, writes us as follows: The fifty-mile walking match between J. E. Morrison and William Quinn, both of Portsmouth, advertised to take place at the Town Hall last night, did not draw a very large crowd, but the contestants commenced walking at six o'clock P. M., and continued until about eight, when for some reason not known to the writer, Quinn withdrew. Morrison continued and finished at about five o'clock in the morning, having taken a rest of about one hour at the conclusion of his 25th mile. His best mile was made in seven minutes and ten seconds. Afterwards Morrison started to walk to Portsmouth, and probably reached there in good time.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still takes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you. The protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

The Whale Fishery.

The American whale fishery for the past year was moderately successful. It was free from great disasters, and there were notable additions to the fleet. On the 1st of January, 1875, the number of vessels employed was 163; in 1876, 169; January 1st, 1877, 172; and the present number is 186. Twelve whalers were built during the past year. The Atlantic whale fishing grounds have been crowded, while those of the Pacific have been neglected. The North Pacific fleet was very successful, especially in the latter part of the season. In the South Atlantic many vessels have been engaged in right-whaling with good success. The catch of sperm oil in the North Pacific was the largest for some years.

John Smith.

The Spaniard's version of John Smith is Juan Smithus; the Dutchman adopts it as Hans Schmidt; the French softens it into Jean Smeets; the Russian roughens it into Jouloff Smittowski. John Smith goes into the tea trade with China, and then he becomes Jahon Shimmit. Among the Icelanders he is Jahne Smithson; among the Tuscororas he is Tom Qu Smittia; in Poland, Ivan Schmittiavelski; among the Welsh we are told they talk of Jihon Schmidd; in Mexico he is written down as Jonti F. Smitri; among the classical ruins of Greece he becomes Ixon Smithon; in Turkey he is almost lost sight of as Yoo Seef.

The New York Times
FOR 1878.

A Political, Literary & General Newspaper

Devoted to Reform in Municipal, State and General Government.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

During the long and exciting Presidential campaign of 1876, and the anxious period of political uncertainty which succeeded it, THE NEW-YORK TIMES had a very important share in the result, the result of one of the momentous contests in American history. The course of THE TIMES during the whole of that eventful struggle has secure for it a large addition to the number of its supporters, and has placed it beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican newspaper in the United States.

The course of THE TIMES will be guided in the future, as it has been in the past, by the consideration that the interest of the Republican Party are in all cases to be set above the interests of its leaders, and that the honest and welfare of the country are to be considered before either. Its attitude is that of independence within the Republican Party, for in that way can the interests of the party be most effectually served.

So long as any of the great principles with where the Party has been identified remain in dispute, THE TIMES will refuse to consider the work of Republicanism ended. It will labor to maintain the highest standard of public obligation in the treatment of questions affecting the financial honor of the nation, the purification of the public service, and the gradual reconstruction of the fiscal system to meet the changing conditions of trade and manufactures. It will steadily oppose all plans, no matter by whom urged, which tend to postpone the date of resumption beyond that fixed by law, to pay the national credit on any other basis than that of gold, to preserve high protective duties which clog the development of American industries, to perpetuate in the public service the pernicious principle that "to the victors belong the spoils."

While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrants in the South in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will never lose sight of the fact that Northern citizens cannot be expected to leave their return in the enforcement of even handed justice and scrupulous regard to the letter and spirit of the law in the portion of the Union.

Its influence as a leading exponent of efficient opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all quarters of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the Russo-Turkish War how ample are its resources, and how well fitted to its enterprise, the voluminous foreign correspondence for the Last year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the review of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all quarters of the world will be fully maintained. THE TIMES has shown during the Russo-Turkish War how ample are its resources, and how well fitted to its enterprise, the voluminous foreign correspondence for the Last year is admitted to have furnished some of the most valuable data available for the review of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The events in Europe and elsewhere during the coming year will be treated with the same fullness, fairness, and accuracy as have distinguished its treatment of those which now belong to the past.

In its sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, THE TIMES will address itself as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive within a legitimate sphere, at all times it will strive to be fair and independent in the championship of the right. No theories subversive of the principles on which the security and peace of society rest, and no extreme of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE TIMES rejects all advertisements of lotteries, of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the baddest poison of evil is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past, a newspaper especially adapted for family reading.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily edition, as well as a condensed summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No Republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, etc., Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but power ul to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole living. They cure not only the every day complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate, long-hidden maladies, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules habit to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tendons and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are next to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a single case, such a case has never been reported to us. The Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Fletcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castorir is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Inflammation, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that human life in the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's medical preparations have outravaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exceeded fifteen hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Chologogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Chologogue properties render it the most sequential remedy for Bilious cases. Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic property enables it equally to eliminate from the system Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, but tender in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
The "Little Giants" of Cathartic, or Saltus in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escapes their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, therefore, remaining thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with other pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of confirmed Costiveness, Piles, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often restores the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft — under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The seat of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system stacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, importantly assisted by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved or it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed 1 to hands at once competent and trustworthy. The n ward hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the accident blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed laws, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NONSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in private, not only freely r. commend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised others to use, and present I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint. &c.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of humanity, and we think these afflicted should be convinced of its great merits; that the suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but your cures all 'em out. If you are proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish.

Very truly yours, R. H. BALDWIN & CO.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Unlike the vital spark handled the body, restoration by means of electricity supplies the lost resources of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued hundreds from premature graves, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have rescued. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are too well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect this Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and unitedly produces more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canada, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

[Written for the Chronicle.]

A TERRIFIC ADVENTURE IN NORWAY.

In the early years of the present century, ere the facilities for travel at present enjoyed had sent adventurous tourists into every region where the foot of man has ever trod, two English travellers, a father and daughter, arrived one day at a village on the wild coast of Norway, at the period just preceding the change from the season of perpetual day to that of perpetual night. While ever lovers of travel, they were journeying then for the excitement they needed amid a heavy bereavement in the loss of the wife and mother who had been the light and joy of their once happy home.

Among the many novelties of the Norwegian scenery, so unlike anything on which their eyes had ever looked in their various wanderings, was a vast cavern that had an outlet at its termination far down beneath the bed of the Northern ocean. Thrilling as was the scene, when, after exploring its various windings, they reached the farthest extremity, and gazed, by the light of torches, into the seemingly fathomless depths below, they learned it was nothing when compared with that presented during the storms that were wont to visit the region, especially at the season when they chanced to be present; and an opportunity was not long wanting for viewing the scene with every accessory a commotion of the elements could give it. On the third day succeeding their arrival, they were awakened in the morning by a tempest rarely equalled even on the Norwegian coast. Rain, hail and slow, mingled together, were borne upon the blast, that shook the frail tenement in which they had found shelter to its foundation. As they looked forth from the casement, the mountain waves, as they rolled inward from the shore, farther and farther at each return of the tide, seemed ready to engulf the little dwelling. At the first sign of the abatement of the storm, the daughter could no longer restrain her father in his desire to visit the cavern at such a moment of strife in the elements, and who, in taking his leave of her, promised to return within an hour. But two and then three hours went by without a fulfilment of his pledge, and then the daughter became painfully convinced that something beyond his control prevented his doing so. The only male inmate of the cottage, the father of the family, was unable, through illness, to leave his bed, and when she could no longer endure the suspense under which she labored, she resolved to venture forth alone to endeavor to fathom the terrible mystery that hung over the continued absence of the being who was dearer to her than aught on earth besides. Just as she was about taking her departure, after preparing herself for the purpose the best she was able, a young German student, from a neighboring dwelling, who, in his travels, had preceded them to the village, entered at the moment, and sympathizing in her distress, in the kindest manner volunteered to accompany her. The storm still raged with fearful violence, their progress was slow and difficult, and but for the aid she received from her companion, the frailer of the pair would have been unable to proceed. Repairing to the dwelling of the guide, who was absent at the time, busied with his neighbors in securing their fishing boats, they learned that the father had been there some hours before, and procuring a torch, proceeded alone to the cavern. Hastening thither, on reaching its extremity, the depths below seemed a vast cauldron; the rocks were covered with boiling foam, while the water was thrown upward in columns at each surge of the sea, as it was forced through the outlet beneath the bed of the ocean, until they were wet with its spray. It was a scene, viewed under happier circumstances to have excited alike their admiration and awe, had not deeper interests absorbed their thoughts in having thus far failed to find the object of their search. It was a moment, as will not be doubted, of intense emotion to the anxious girl, for no recess of the cavern, as they passed through its windings, had been left unsearched. In looking from the precipice, upon whose verge they stood, another portion of the unknown depths below, apart from that where the foam was seen and from whence the water arose, presented alone impenetrable darkness, and a stone dropped from above returned only a dull sound, in moments of stillness, unlike that of dashing water. So far as could be seen with the light of their flaming torches, formed from knots of the Norway pine, it was not an abrupt descent, but seemed a succession of crags. No answer came back when they called; indeed it would have been difficult for a human voice to have reached them from beneath, amid the deafening din at the time from the wind and the roar of the sea.

Half hoping that he, so deeply loved, might be found elsewhere, the anxious girl was about proposing a return to their quarters at the little cottage, when her companion in looking from a projecting point of rock a few feet beneath the summit of the precipice, discovered upon a ledge far down below, the remnants of a torch that was still faintly burning. A new thought was at once presented, terrible as was its contemplation, for no hope could exist that anything human could survive a fall into such a pit of darkness and death. Returning to the dwelling of the guide, with the aid of his wife they procured the help of two men among their nearest neighbors, to whom she made known for what their services were desired, (as, unlike herself and husband, they knew not a word of the English tongue,) and then, with ropes and such other requisites as were needed, the youthful pair again returned to the cavern. Sounding the depths below with a line, the weight used for the purpose found a resting place at a depth of more than an hundred and fifty feet, and from the condition in which it returned, it was evident no water existed there; being at an elevation above that where the foam was seen, and the water thrown up by the action of the sea without. The only hope of solving the mystery connected with the disappearance of the missing one, was in exploring the region of darkness into which, so far as was known, no human foot had ever penetrated; but who would have the courage for such an attempt? A superstitious dread, ever rife among the simple-minded natives of the locality, of the existence there of hideous shapes that would appal the stoutest heart, prevented the otherwise kind-hearted Norwegians from lending their aid in such an extremity; proof, even, too, they were against the gold offered with an unsparing hand by the distressed daughter for such a service. In her dire extremity, when the help failed on which she had relied, she expressed her readiness to run the hazard herself of searching in the dismal pit below, when some else dared to enter, for him she would have died to save; but the young German was not proof against the tears of the beautiful girl, among the fairest as she was of Albion's daughters, still less against the heroism she displayed, and making known his intent, by signs, to the Norwegians, assisted them in placing around him the ropes for the purpose, when, with a torch in his hand, he commenced the descent; resting for a moment upon the projecting crags as long as they were visible, and such aid was offered him, and then disappearing in the darkness beneath. When the last length of rope was nearly exhausted, it suddenly slackened, indicating that the bottom was reached by the noble-hearted adventurer, but no voice could convey the tidings of what had been the reward of his labors. Lying upon the mass of seaweed that covered the spot at the bottom of the abyss upon which he had fallen, was what at first seemed the lifeless remains of the father of the beautiful girl in whose service he had risked so much; but to his great joy he was soon made aware that, though wounded and bleeding, he still lived and breathed. Making known by a signal he had arranged before his descent, his wish again to reach the surface, on doing so, procuring from the nearest cottage one of the skins of the reindeer with which its walls were covered, and placing it around the wounded man, on his second descent, in the form of a hammock, he was once more presented to the eyes of his daughter, who, calm in the hour of distress, was frantic with joy when deliverance had come.

It was not long when the father had been removed to the cottage that served as their resting place, ere signs of returning consciousness were visible, and soon his eyes were opened and his welcome voice was once again heard by his child as she hung over him in her anxiety and fear lest its music would never again fall upon her ear. All he could tell, by way of explaining the manner in which the misfortune had befallen him, was that while gazing with wonder and awe from the brink of the precipice upon the scene before him, a sudden dizziness seized him, he became conscious of falling, and then, striking his head, as doubtless he had done, upon a projecting crag, that rendered him insensible, he knew nothing more until finding himself again in the cottage. There was a terrible wound in his head, and he was covered with bruises he had received in falling from rock to rock in his passage to the bottom of the dismal pit, but no bones were broken. Had the direction he took in his descent been a few feet distant in either direction he must have been instantly killed, the recess into which he fell, filled with an accumulated mass of seaweed washed in from the ocean, being surrounded by the points of bare and ragged rocks, upon which it would have been certain death to have fallen. His injuries, severe though they were, were such as soon yielded to simple remedies, assisted by nature, and in a few weeks from the time of the accident he was able to go forth with his daughter and their friend to whom they owed so much, under a merciful Providence, to witness the novel spectacle to them of the moon and stars, but no sun, shining at noonday from a cloudless sky.

After the signal service for which one was indebted to the other, of like social position, kindred tastes, and familiar from education with each other's language, nothing could be more natural than that an affection should spring up between the fair representative of England's daughters and the instrument in the hands of Providence of delivering her father from the inevitable death that awaited him in his dismal prison; and a few years later, when the student had passed through the requisite course of study for the profession he had chosen, he took up his abode in London, where the parties were united in marriage. The father long lived to enjoy a happy home at the fireside of his children, and among the memories of the travels of their earlier years, none left so deep an impression or was so often recalled, as that of their visit to the coast of Norway.

JOHN H. BOWLES.

—The rabbit is timid, but no cook can make it quail. This is a fact in natural history.

—Half of a house was cut off in Napa, Cal., and moved away. The family that continued to reside in the remainder temporarily stretched muslin across the open space. That evening a crowd gathered to see the shadow pantomime that the inmates unconsciously made for public amusement. The supper table was close to the curtain, so that the movements of the eaters were seen in grotesque silhouette on the cloth. Then the husband kissed his wife, and the sight made the spectators laugh so loud that the show was instantly broken up.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

COUNTY, at Exeter, January 23d.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14th.

The lady advocates of a 16th amendment conferring the right of female suffrage were granted a hearing of several hours duration, Friday and Saturday. Delegates to the Convention and their sympathizers filled every available sitting or standing place in the room, and the arguments were listened to with great interest. The arguments advanced were generally relevant and to the point, those of Mesdames Stanton, Hooker, Blake, Lockwood and others being especially noted for their logical style and very pointed, cogent reasoning. Opponents of the movement are, gradually abandoning every position other than that of the inexpediency of widening the circle of suffrage as demanded by these persistent agitators. Mr. Hoar offered a resolet on to the effect that the advocates had presented their side with great propriety, dignity and ability, and that the Committee proceed on Tuesday at 10:30 A. M. to give the subject the deliberate and careful consideration that its importance demands, which was unanimously adopted. Several of the most prominent of the leaders called at the White House, and left their cards on being informed that Mrs. Hayes was engaged. She subsequently sent a note requesting them to renew their call at a stated hour. They were cordially received and entertained by both Mr. and Mrs. Hayes, the several rooms being opened for their inspection; and they retired after an hour's conversation pleasantly impressed with the courtesy shown them and with an invitation to repeat their visit.

The Union reports that among the subjects for investigation under the Wood resolution passed Friday are the following:

The letting of mail contracts in the latter part of Grant's administration;

Robeson's naval construction contracts;

The jobs of the "District Ring;"

The market-house "swindle;"

The decision of the Presidential votes of South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana;

The restoration to rank of Runkle and Draper;

The construction of public buildings throughout the country;

The means by which the "desert-land steal" was passed through the last Congress, and the subsequent transactions in that connection;

The whole business of the Indian Bureau;

Our diplomatic relations with Mexico, and the non-recognition of Diaz;

The management of the finances of the Territories;

The naval administration, with a view to frauds in general; The expenditures of the House of Representatives since the 40th Congress—covering all the investigations—together with a reopening of the investigations of the 42nd Congress.

It comments thusly:

"Here is, certainly, a broad field for labor. Let us hope the laborers are in earnest, moved simply by a desire to purify the public service, with no thought of partisan advantage or electioneering effect. Even though the business of legislation should be delayed—with the woman question unanswered, and with silver hanging, helpless, between de and re-monetization—still the gain is ours if the result is an exposure of official dishonesty, and if the people's money—single standard or double standard—is thereby saved."

The several lobbies are here in force, particularly those advocating the various schemes for securing Government aid for a Southern Pacific Railroad and subsidies for other enterprises of more or less doubtful utility. It is claimed that the strength of the silver remonetizers has perceptibly waned during the recess, but a renewal of the contest within a few days is one of the events counted on with most certainty.

Murphy is coming some time this month, and the advance skimishers are already showing unwonted activity in their preliminary movements. Certainly no enemy to the deadly reign of King Alcohol can be so partisan in his hostility to Murphy as to wish him anything other than success, if his motives are disinterested. But there's the pinch; the enormous rate of compensation he is alleged to have demanded, being urged against him with considerable effect.

KNOX.

The Railroad Disaster.

The bridge over Farrington river, the fall of which was so disastrous, was a "Howe" truss, built in 1870, with two spans, each 163 feet long. The bridge where broken appears to have been perfectly sound, well put together, and sufficient for all ordinary traffic of the railroad; but the enormous weight of the two engines (over sixty tons) close together broke the span. Up to Wednesday night the bodies recovered from the wreck, with those of the wounded who have died since the accident, numbered thirteen; and others of the wounded were not expected to live, while it was considered possible that more bodies might be remaining in a car which was still in the river.

Congress.

In the Senate, on the 16th inst., an attempt was made to refer the Matthews silver resolution to the Judiciary Committee, but it was lost by a vote of nineteen yeas to thirty-one nays. After much miscellaneous talk the Senate postponed the vote on the silver question until Friday, and mortuary addresses on the late Senator Bogy of Missouri were read. In the House no business of importance was transacted.

News and Notes.

Samuel Bowles, of the Springfield Republican, died Wednesday night.

Major Runkle has published a pamphlet stating that he was illegally arrested, that Secretary Belknap gave him only six days to prepare his defence, that the court refused to receive in evidence a black-mailing letter received from one of the witnesses, and that witnesses were hired to testify against him. He intimates that Secretary Belknap was a party to the black-mailing operation attempted.

Lead City, three miles from Deadwood, was taken possession of on Wednesday by a mob of 150 roughs, who called a town meeting of their own, upset all the existing laws and made a set to suit themselves, "jumped" all the streets, yelled and fired pistols, and in other ways made themselves objectionable. The citizens in the evening commenced to arm and organize for protection.

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Lovell made her appearance at the Mother Mine at Deadwood, Wednesday, and ordered the men at work therein to leave the mine, at the same time drawing a six-shooter to enforce her demand. The men withdrew, when she cut down the windlass and threw one car down the hill. One of the owners of the mine began expostulating with her, when she again drew the revolver and fired, but with no other effect that to convince the miner of the earnestness of her intentions. The miners had Mrs. Lovell arrested.

Miss Kate L. Sanborn, daughter of Prof. Sanborn of Dartmouth, and great-niece of Daniel Webster, is about beginning her annual winter course of Wednesday morning lectures to ladies on reading and literary topics, at Dr. Howard Crosby's church parlor in New York.

A Portland court has decided, in a suit against the city, that a person injured by a defect in the highway while racing cannot recover damages, because he is putting the road to an illegitimate use, and thereby forfeits the right of a traveller.

At a recent auction sale of patent rights in New York, a "rolling rail to prevent cats from walking on fences," brought $650, while an "improved sugar evaporator and refiner" sold for only $400.

Major-General Pearson, commander of the Sixth division, National Guard of Pennsylvania, has concluded to resign, and all the members of his staff have already done so, with the exception of Major Murray.

New Hampshire Items.

Nathan Morgan of Salisbury was seriously injured a few days since while drawing wood from Cook's hill. The front part of the load slipped forward and he fell with it in front of the wagon, the wheels of which passed over his body.

Mrs. Hannah Peaslee of Nashua fell and broke her hip on Monday night.

William Leonard of Rumney lost three children by diphtheria in one week.

Mr. Albert Cole of Lyme was so badly injured by a falling tree in the woods a few days ago that his recovery is doubtful.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

The "New Hampshire Register and Business Directory" for 1878, published by the Claremont Manufacturing Co., and sold at 25 cts. per copy, is the cheapest State Register published. How they can give so much valuable information for so little money, in a State of such small population as our own, we cannot see,—unless every politician and business man in the State buys a copy, which we believe is not the case. The New Hampshire Register, from being a great convenience has grown to be an absolute necessity, and its publishers should receive a generous support from those who profit by their labors.

Biddeford now has two daily papers, the Times, which is neutral in politics, and the Post, a new comer and of ultra democratic faith. The Star, which was the republican daily, has emigrated to Kennebunk. The first number of the Post was issued Monday, 14th inst.; it is well printed, about the same size as the CHRONICLE, and we should say ought to just suit the unterrified of Biddeford and Saco.

"Harper's" for February is out, and is a very strong and brilliant number of the excellent and popular magazine. The contents are; Along the Jersey Shore, with twenty-four illustrations; The Fieschi Conspiracy, nine illustrations; The Dunmow Flitch, four illustrations; Joseph M. W. Turner, (the great painter,) nineteen illustrations; The Turkish Wars of the Hospitalers; with a poem, stories, sketches, etc., and the always interesting Easy Chair, Literary and Scientific records, and the stuffed-full-of-good-things Drawer. For sale by Moses Bros., W. E. Myers and Wm. B. Lowd.

The number of Littell's Living Age for the week ending January 19th, contains The Ninety Years' Agony of France, by Prof. Goldwin Smith; an instalment of "Erica," translated from the German of Frau von Ingersleben; The story of Maximilian at Miramar and at Quaretaro, a very interesting sketch translated from the French of Victor Tissot; Modern Life and Insanity, from MacMillan; Macleod of Dare, by William Black, from advance sheets; The Celt of Wales and the Celt of Ireland, Cornhill: Smith's Poor Kin, Spectator; Valentine's Day, an unpublished poem by Charles Kingsley, with other short articles and poetry. The back numbers containing the first instalments of "Erica," and a story by Miss Thackeray, are still sent to new subscribers for 1878. For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each, (or more than 3000 pages a year), the subscription price ($8) is low; or for $10.50 any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies is sent with The Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Gay, Boston, are the publishers.

"Peterson's Magazine" for February is already on our table, and more than maintains the popularity of this favorite lady's book. We thought the steel engravings in the January number, could not be excelled, but the principal one for February, "The Challenge," representing a mischievous girl about to throw a snow-ball, is one of the best that has appeared anywhere, for years. There are many who would give a year's subscription for this picture alone. The stories are even better than usual, and this is saying a great deal. "Her Creditor," by Frank Lee Benedict, is very powerful; so also is "The November Night;" both such stories as one rarely reads in these days. There are about fifty wood engravings of the latest styles in fashions, of patterns for the work-table, etc., etc., besides the usual double-size colored steel-plate of late Paris fashions. At its price, two dollars a year, this is one of the very cheapest of the really good magazines. If you have not subscribed already, do so at once, or get up a club for it, and earn a copy free. Specimens sent to get up clubs with. Address the publisher, Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

—A countryman at the telegraph office recently would not believe that the operator had sent his message, of which he still saw the copy on the desk, until the method of telegraphing was illustrated by passing a current through his body, when he was convinced.

—How an ice-dealer collected a bill is told by the Springfield Union: "A dry goods dealer, who lately has tried to best his creditors by a pretended failure and offer of ten cents on the dollar, encountered an ice dealer the other day. The ice man presented his bill of $10, and the merchant coolly stated that he was paying ten cents on the dollar now. The ice man maddened at the reply, told the merchant to pay the bill in full or take a thrashing then and there. The merchant hauled out a well-filled wallet and paid the full amount.

—King Alfonso's trouble in keeping his mother (Isabella, ex-Queen of Spain) away from his wedding recalls Thier's management under similar circumstances. His father was an enterprising, Micawberish old gentlemen, living in the south of France, who had the habit of turning up in his distinguished son's presence when he was not wanted. Thiers particularly desired his absence from the celebration of his marriage with a rich lady of Paris, and so he engaged for three weeks all the seats in all the diligences running to Paris from the paternal neighborhood. The plan succeeded, as would, probably, equal generalship now on the part of King Alfonso's friends.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

A petition for one naphtha lamp on Lincoln avenue was referred to committee on gas lights to report.

Report of the City Marshal for the last quarter was received.

Same on fines and costs, both accepted and referred to committee on police.

Petition for the erection and maintainence of seven naptha lights on Middle street, between the residence of Mayor Broughton and the house of Hartley W. Mason was reffered to committee on gas lights with power.

A motion was made that a request from the residents on the old part of Union street for three naphtha lights be granted; also ten from Frank Ayers' store to Newington line.

A motion was made that seven naphtha lights be erected between Alderman Coffin's residence and the Plains, including one at the railroad bridge; also two on Noble's Island bridge.

An amendment was offered that the committee be instructed to erect the above posts and lamps, which was adopted.

John Sise, Esq., appeared before the Board in behalf of the owners of the new Music Hall, stating that the proprietors of the hall wished that an annual license be granted them.

The matter was referred to a committee appointed by the Mayor, consisting of Aldermen Hadley, Yeaton and Perkins.

Committee on records and accounts, to whom were referred several bills, reported they be paid. Accepted.

A number of dealers asked for licenses to sell kerosene. Granted.

The committee on claims, to whom were referred several bills, reported that they be paid. Adopted.

The committee to whom was referred the choice of persons to take the census, recommended the following: Charles A. Shannon, Joseph T. French and Frederick W. Rogers.

The matters concerning the naphtha lights were reconsidered by a vote of four to three.

Adjourned.

THE E. H. PRAY AFFAIR.

The discovery of the old schooner Guide, with the most of the cargo of schooner E. H. Pray on board, (the 400 barrels of fish were missing,) was due to the statement of Capt. Eckford Goodale, of Greenport, who notified the New York police that he recently sold the old hulk to Capt. Clark for $500, and that a vessel which he believed to be her was at anchor off Communipaw. The man May, who was found in charge of the Guide, at first said he was a tramp and had been hired by Capt. Clark to look after the vessel in his absence; but the police were satisfied that he was William Mayo, the former mate of the E. H. Pray, though a sailer identified him as her cook.

In opposition to the theory of Capt. Clark's guilt, Mr. Bliss, of the firm of J. Bliss & Co., of Boston, says that Capt. Clark formerly commanded a schooner which was owned in part by that firm. He had always found him honest in money matters, making correct returns on account of the cargoes entrusted to him, and paying promptly whatever might be due from him. He would at times take storm risks which would have been avoided by older and more cautious sailors, but he never exposed the property of others to a danger of which he was not himself in peril. Of the events connected with the E. H. Pray, Mr. Bliss says that to him the mystery surrounding them is deepened rather than dispelled by the story of the man who claims to have been cook upon her. The vessel was owned by Capt. Clark, and even if the inducement to destroy her was sufficient, (which Mr. Bliss does not credit,) the choice of a place in which to sink her, and the attempt to do so while she was light, would seem to be very singular. Had Capt. Clark desired to destroy her, he was sailor enough to take her outside, where she could have been sunk without leaving a trace of her to cause a suspicion that all was not right about her. Mr. Bliss is of the opinion that half the story has not yet been told; that when the facts are learned it will be found that river thieves are at the bottom of the matter, and that Capt. Clark will be found to have been the victim rather than the perpetrator of a crime.

Lucy A. Boothby vs. John M. Boothby; divorce. Mellows for libellant.

John D. Ordway vs. Alex. McMurphy and Caleb Moulton; decree for plaintiff. Bartlett for plaintiff. Wiggin for McMurphy, Hatch for Moulton.

Thursday, Jan. 17th, Bingham, J.

W. H. Y. Hackett, administrator de bonis non of Eliza Powers, vs. Robert P. Locke. Bill in equity brought to determine whether the destributive share of Locke in the estate of Miss Powers can be appropriated towards payment of a debt due from said Locke to said Powers. This is resisted by Locke. The Court of Probate declined to order such disposition of Locke's share, and the administrator now asks this Court to order and decree that the amount due said Locke as heir at law may be endorsed on an execution held by the administrator against Locke, who is insolvent, and who was indebted to the deceased in about the sum of $700. Defendant filed demurrer. Demurrer overruled. Case reserved. W. H. Y. Hackett for plaintiff; Hatch for Locke.

In case of Converse and others vs. Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway, Eastern, and Eastern in New Hampshire railroads, further time was allowed the E. R. R. in N. H. in which to file an answer.

Betsey Morse, Timo Bailey, and Mary T. Bailey, vs. Linda Morse, May, Bertie, and Margaret H. Morse. Bill in equity concerning land in Derry, conveyed by mortgage. The question was as to construction of a deed. Heard. Marston and Eastman for plaintiff; G. C. Bartlett & Son for defendant.

Joseph W. Pierce, Wm. A. Peirce and Robert C. Pierce, administrators of the estate of Ann. R. P. Burroughs, vs. Henry Burroughs, Jr., executor of the will of Charles Burroughs. Bill in equity relative to the income of the estate of Charles Burroughs, payable to said Ann, during her life. The administrators claim that certain sums, charged as payments, should be paid out of the principal, instead of from the income. The defendant contended that the sums were the amount of a lapsed legacy, paid at Mrs. Burroughs' request; a note paid in the same way; and for certain rights to new railroad shares belonging to the principal instead of to Mrs. Burroughs, who had the income of the estate during her life. Questions of law reserved. Hatch for estate A. R. P. Burroughs; William H. Hackett for the executor of Chas. Burroughs.

Ella C. Twombly, vs. George Twombly, libel for divorce, was heard Thursday evening. Harriman for libellant.

The Court will come in on Monday at 10 A. M. for jury trials.

Case No. 161, Craig vs. Gerrish, on the civil docket, was continued to the next term.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the recipe, made of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wond rful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using, sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. feb13

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 2, 1877:

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever received as wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about fifty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent; and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The result should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it to you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—The famous dragon on the vane of Bow Church, Cheapside, London, was almost doubled up by the recent gales, and it was determined to remove it. Its length is eight feet six inches, and its height above the pavement 220 feet. From the highest point that could be reached by the stairs inside the tower, a ladder was placed close against the building, and secured by a spike at the top; a second ladder was then hoisted from the first with a block and rope, the foot being well secured to the top of the other, and the second made fast as before, and so on until the top was reached. Three ladders were used to get to the vane from the top of the balcony. A stage was then erected around the top of the spire about three feet below the ball. From that the engineers hoisted a derrick, by which the dragon was lifted from its place, and lowered to the ground.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, ulcers, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but power ful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Centaur
Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate hidden cripples, and have alleviated more pain in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules habit to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are not to manyels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a case of incurable rheumatism, Neuralgia, Salt rheum, etc., that it has not been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
MESSRS. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human body, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

STANDARD
REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specific in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot succeede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and skin as scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties recommend it to unpalled favor for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If your food dulls, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and loss of confidence, irregular appetite, and irregular costiveness, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

Dr. Pierce's
Pleasant
Purgative
Pellets.
The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anilum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a single one failing of their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, nearly one-half of the Pellets have crumbled about, and are of scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are sold by druggists generally in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the ravages of the hair immediately; then restores the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and prevents both the hair and its beauty. Thus brittle, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and healthy. Under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is prized for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER
From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or has ended in the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system stacks every vital force, and breaks up in the most subtle of constitutions, ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed 1 to hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acidified blood. While it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages, its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen. "You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot openly recommend or prescribe Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of those who suffer with these distressing and old be convinced of its great merit as a remedy for suffering will be rewarded. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours is all in one. If you are a proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish.

Very truly yours, S. D. BALDWIN & CO.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Drugs, Books and Stationery, Washington, Ind., Feb. 23, 1876.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaler, Tube, and full directions for use in all climates. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, governing the most intense pains and aches in the World or Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or agent in the history of the healing art. Unless the vital spark has fled the body, restoration by this means of electricity is possible. It is the test of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued thousands, apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have saved them. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine, and the gums of the East are too well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. This Porous Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its distinct mission, and produces more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. TRY ONE. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

A Chicago Romance.

Some four years ago there came to this city from Germany Baron Von Daren, a young, handsome man of good education, and, as his name shows, noble family. At 24 he had spent three fortunes and was so heavily in debt that he was obliged to leave der Vaterland and seek fame and filthy lucre in a foreign land—America, of course. He came, he saw and he well-nigh starved. He could not speak English. He had been brought up in the lap of luxury, which has a disagreeable way of letting its pets down on the floor. He could not dig, to beg he was ashamed, and 'twas only when the fox of hunger gnawed under his German surtout that he thankfully accepted the position of coachman in a well-to do family on Calumet Avenue, and there he has remained with Micawber expectations, the mystification of the male servants and a Teutonic puzzle to the daughter of the family, a pretty blonde, with a fondness for the language. She had been to school in Germany; she loved the stolid, warm hearted people of that land; she knew their ways and customs; could speak their tongue, and now she could keep in practice by talking to Carl. Carl was willing and not averse to display his knowledge of something and all his charming young mistress, who wondered at the care with which he kept his hands white, the courtly bow with which he received her orders, and made up her mind he was somebody! Finally as time went on, his heart already gone, his confidence followed, and he revealed his history but said nothing about his love; for he was too honorable, and then where would the pretzels and beer for two come from? But the love of Carl was not unreturned, though with true Yankee sharpness our fair-haired heroine worked away until she had proved the truth of his story, and after that many a dangerous conversation was carried on between "coachee" and the young lady in silk and seal-skin, who occupied the carriage. But last week came a letter from Germany. Exit a spinster aunt and entree Baron Carl Von Daren into a fortune of 300,000 thalers. And the end is to be a pretty, quiet wedding, and a tour to the old country, to live, as the fairy stories say, "happy ever afterward."—Chicago Letter to Cin. Enquirer.

Barnegat Shoals.

Along this desolate coast so many vessels have come to grief, and so many bodies have been washed ashore, that it is known among fishermen as the Graveyard. Treasures from many lands are gathered from the wrecks, and a fisherman's family is often helped through a trying winter by the provisions which the sea casts up. When an orange schooner is wrecked, there is a dessert after every meal in the cottages; or should the cargo be prunes, that fruit becomes a common article of diet. A visitor is sometimes surprised to see foreign brands of olives and canned stuff on the shelves of the village stores; he learns that they have been secured from a wreck; and the host of one inn at which we spent a night had some excellent Maria Benvenuto claret, labelled, with grim suggestiveness, "Importation direct via Barnegat Shoals." Much queerer things than these are occasionally picked up. A forlorn old parrot, feeble from its un-English complainings, drifted in on a spar; and at another time a pair of Manx cats were saved from a wreck by a noted old beachman, Caleb Parker, of Harvey Cedars, near the Barnegat Light, who has raised a family of eleven more, and meets a visitor at the door of his cottage with a purring retinue of his furry friends, one of them perched on his cap, two others playing on his shoulders, and the rest brushing his legs. "Did" Parker is one of the heroes of the coast, and carries a silver medal presented to him for life-saving.—Harper's Magazine for Feb.

—A long report of a trial in San Francisco contains this parenthesis: "At this point in the proceedings it was noticed that one of the jurors was asleep, but no one took the trouble to awaken him."

—Incident of the Commune of Paris: Several Versailleses were being led away to be shot, one man in the crowd that accompanied them to see the shooting made himself conspicuous by taunting and reviling the prisoners. "There, confound you," said one of the prisoners at last, "don't you try to get out of it by edging off into the crowd and pretending you are one of them. Come back here; the game is up; let us all die together;" and the crowd was so persuaded that the Communard's vehemence was only assumed to cloak his escape that he was marched into file with the prisoners and duly shot.

Congress.

In the Senate on Thursday, Senator McDonald submitted resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Senator Morton, and made suitable remarks upon the life and character of the deceased. He was followed by Senators Conkling, Edmunds, Booth, Morgan of Alabama and others.

It is considered certain that a bill introduced by Senator Sargent, for the removal of the U. S. Naval Observatory to a more suitable location than it now occupies, will pass. The bill appropriates $300,000 for the purpose.

The House passed the bill providing that any person charged with crime in the United States Courts shall, at his own request, but not otherwise, be a competent witness.

Mr. Blair of New Hampshire made an able speech on finance, insisting on the nation keeping faith with its creditors, and opposing the remonetization of silver as an act of bad faith and a most egregious folly besides.

Mr. Blair has introduced a bill to facilitate open correspondence through the mails, and to reduce postage thereon, providing that all matter now sent on postal-cards may hereafter be sent in unsealed envelopes, of a form to be prescribed by the Postmaster-General, and made known by public notice posted by each postmaster in his office, and postage on these envelopes shall be charged at the rate of one cent for quarter of an ounce. The Postmaster-General shall continue to supply postal-cards.

The House committee on naval affairs has determined to report favorably upon the Weeks torpedo system, and to bring in a bill providing for its adoption in the United States navy.

New Hampshire Items.

James G. Jesseman, aged twenty-three years, of Dorchester, Grafton county, a year ago married Ida Hardy, aged twenty. They have had frequent quarrels, and a month ago separated. On Wednesday, 16th inst., Jesseman, who is a desperate fellow, went to his wife's residence, knocked her down and choked her. The wife's sister, Mrs. Hannah Dow, separated them, and handed Ida a revolver with which to shoot Jesseman; Ida fired two shots at her husband as he ran out of the house, but failed to hit him; Hannah then took hold of the revolver to prevent its being fired again, when a third chamber was discharged, the bullet striking Mrs. Dow in the abdomen, inflicting a fatal wound. Mrs. Dow leaves two little girls. The sympathies of the towns-people are strongly against Jesseman, who is said to be a very hard case.

The observers on the top of Mount Washington have experienced some very severe weather lately. The storm of Thursday and Friday, the 10th and 11th inst., was very violent, the wind coming in terrific gusts and increasing to 186 miles an hour early Friday morning.

The charitable contributions of the First Congregational Church of Keene last year amounted to $1278, against $1044 in 1876.

It is reported that the tobacco crop in New Hampshire averages 1500 pounds to the acre, being exceeded only by Massachusetts, which rates 1640 pounds.

The tenth anniversary of the Grand Encampment of New Hampshire of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held at the G. A. R. Hall in Manchester on Thursday, January 24th.

The new stock of the Page Belting Company at Concord was all sold to the old stockholders at a premium of $5 per share, and the corporation received applications for nearly one hundred shares in excess of the 760 issued.

The Eastern War.

An official account of the capture of Schipka Pass states that four pashas, 280 officers, 25,000 prisoners and 81 guns were captured. The Russian loss in killed and wounded is 5464 men. The Russian vanguard has occupied Eski Saghra and Yeni Saghra, which were evacuated and burnt by the inhabitants. Gen. Skobeloff has captured Tatar Bazardjik and Vetrenowa.

Constantinople advices say that Sulieman Pasha has cut his way through a large intercepting force of Russians, and reached Philippopolis on the way to Adrianople. A Vienna despatch says the Porte has given up all hope of Sulieman being able to reach Adrianople, and the Turks are preparing to evacuate that city.

News and Notes.

A treaty of amity and commerce between the United States and the Samoan islands was signed on Thursday by Secretary Evarts and the Samoan envoy.

In the Supreme Court at Saco Thursday, in the case of Benjamin C. Jordan against William H. Smith and Francis A. Swett, an action to recover damages against defendants, the Selectmen of Hollis, for corruptly and wilfully refusing to receive plaintiff's vote at the last Presidential election, the defendants claimed that plaintiff was not a resident of Hollis. A verdict of not guilty of malicious intent was rendered, but the jury also found specially that the plaintiff was entitled to vote.

The "Moonshiners" of Wayne county, Ky., recently defeated a government force of thirty men, seriously wounded an officer, and drove the command some distance; the outlaws are well organized, and bid the government defiance. Two negro men, accused of complicity in the killing of one Jacob Shootman in Fayette county, were taken from jail and hanged, Wednesday night; the mob then went to the cabin of another colored man, and murdered him by shooting, in the presence of his wife.

Louis Meacham, sporting editor of the Chicago Tribune, the son of the late Hon. James Meacham of Vermont, and formerly connected with the Rutland Herald, was cowhided and narrowly escaped being shot by a swindling intelligence office man whom he had exposed in the Tribune.

Jennie Post, fifteen years old, has been arrested at Spring Valley, N. Y., for poisoning Gen. Von Weicht and his wife, with whom she has been living. She confessed the crime, and also that she poisoned Mr. Peter de Baum, with whose family she previously lived, because he rebuked her for making immoral advances. She says she poisoned Gen. Von Weicht for the same reason, and Mrs. Weicht that she might get her dresses and jewelry. She is of a low order of intellect.

A freight train on the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad ran off a trestle near Hyde Park, Vt., Thursday afternoon, seven freight cars and a passenger car being tumbled into the creek fourteen feet below. Six persons were badly injured, but it is thought none will die.

Ship Carrie Clark, while being towed up East river in New York on Thursday, had her fore and main topmasts carried away by the wires of the Brooklyn bridge.

The British Parliament convened on Thursday.

King Victor Emmanuel was buried at Rome on Thursday, with imposing ceremonies. The Italian residents of Providence, R. I., Richmond, Va., and Cincinnati, had funeral processions in honor of the deceased monarch.

William Mullins, of New Bedford, fell in a fit Thursday morning, struck his chin on the sidewalk, and broke his neck.

Ex-Governor Washburn has given his residence and grounds, situated in Madison, Wis., valued at $100,000, to the State, for the establishment of an industrial reformatory school for girls.

A Biddeford girl has just got a husband by means of her graduation essay. It was published in one of the papers of that city, and an extract from it, in which the young lady declared her intention of earning her own living, was widely copied and met the eye of a Mr. P——, a Cincinnati iron merchant, who was so much taken with it that he sought the author's name and address. A correspondence ensued, and the young lady was persuaded to abandon the determination announced in her essay.

Political.

Senator Conover, of Florida, expects a re-election, hoping for republican votes because he helped to seat Kellogg, and for democratic votes because he let Butler in.

John S. Williams was on Thursday elected U. S. Senator from Kentucky, by a vote of 126, to 11 for Boyd, republican.

The right of Gen. Massacre C. Butler to a seat as U. S. Senator from South Carolina is to be investigated, further evidence having come to light that Patterson's support of Butler was in consideration of a corrupt bargain between two scoundrels.

The operation of all offers of pecuniary reward hitherto made for the detection and punishment of persons employed in illicit distillation of spirits is suspended, so far as regards North Carolina, South Carolina, Arkansas, Missouri and Kentucky. The South must be conciliated.

The Louisiana Senate has voted, 23 to eight, against reopening the Presidential question.

A bitter attack on Speaker Randall and Fernando Wood in the Washington Post, (democratic,) for alleged lack of ability to lead the House, has occasioned much comment among Congressmen. The immediate cause of attack is unknown, but it is understood to give expression to southern and western dislike of these two men, which is very marked. The northern democracy may as well "accept the situation" first as last; the southern wing of the party is to rule, as it always has done when the party has been in power; and the democrats of the North, after voting as their southern rulers direct, may take back seats when the spoils come to be distributed. History repeats itself.

Fortune's Wheel.

Yesterday afternoon a handsome woman of middle age entered the office of John McLosinan, the Overseer of the Poor of Newark, and asked for bread tickets. Her appearance was in such striking contrast with the habitual dependents upon the city that inquiry was made concerning her condition. It was found that the woman's husband had been a commission merchant in this city, and just before the great fire in Chicago had invested all his capital in business in that city. All of his property was swept away by the fire, and the family have since passed through every stage of poverty until now they are reduced to extreme destitution. The eldest daughter, a handsome and accomplished girl, has vainly sought employment in teaching music in Brooklyn, and the father is sick and helpless. Soon after this applicant left the almshouse another woman of refined manners appeared and also asked for bread tickets. It was learned that she is the mother of five children, the eldest of whom is only eleven years of age. A little more than three years ago the family resided in a fashionable neighborhood in this city, and the mother was a leader in her circle of society. The husband went down with the wreck of an insurance company, and is now unemployed. Not long ago the lady pawned a camel's hair shawl, valued at $600, for $75, and a few days ago sold the pawn ticket to a Newark woman for $50.—N. Y. World, 12th.

—A mischievous and talented boy in South Boston amused himself by drawing, with various colored chalk, caricatures of well-known residents on the front doors of their residences. Every morning for a week some one found his distorted but easily recognizable likeness displayed for the diversion of the public. The young artist was soon caught at his work, and warned, in a police court, of the error his ways.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaint, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 128 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. tfeb13

FROM The Christian Union, Aug. 22, 1877:

"A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the hock. Swelling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore healed up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

—The latest invention is an attachment for a fifteen-ball pool table. This is so arranged that as fast as a ball is holed, it drops into an alley, terminating at the foot of the table, each of the six pockets having an independent alley. With this attachment a pool-keeper's duties are greatly simplified, as he does not require to leave the foot of the table, but can rapidly gather the balls as fast as holed. It saves a great deal of time, and in this game every minute saved is a penny earned.

The great popularity of "ASTRAL" OIL has induced some unprincipled persons to sell worthless and dangerous imitations for "ASTRAL," while others palm off inferior oils, representing them as good as "ASTRAL." To prevent this fraud, purchasers should demand "ASTRAL" and take no other.

THE CITY.

Sagamore S. F. Engine, No. Two, was tried on Friday evening. Steam was raised to ten pounds in five and a half minutes from the time the fires were lighted.

At the annual meeting of the Masonic Mutual Relief Ass'n, Thursday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: William P. Walker, President; John H. Cheever, Vice President; Amos S. Foster, Secretary; William H. Sise, Treasurer.

Schooner Jesse Williamson, Jr., of this port, crowded on shore by another vessel at Vineyard Haven in the heavy gale of the 11th inst., has been floated off after discharging a large part of her cargo of coal. She will reload and continue her voyage, being little if any injured.

Mr. Daniel Hurd, who for nine years past has each winter sold hulled corn, popped corn and corn balls in this city and vicinity, still keeps up the business, carrying his wares around in baskets, and visiting Kittery one day in each week. He has always had a good trade, in hulled corn especially,—and deserves it, for the corn is prepared with extra attention to cleanliness, and is as palatable as any we have ever eaten.

The schooner Mary Ella, hailing from Kennebunkport, Me., bound from Newburyport for New York, was abandoned in a sinking condition January 7th. The crew were rescued by the steamer Crest, from New York bound to Antwerp, and transferred to the bark Athena, which landed them in New York. The Mary Ella was 155 tons register, and was owned in Wells, Me. She was not insured. She was built at this port in 1861.

The Portsmouth Weekly says: "Miss Mary Miller, of this city, the artist in water-colors, crayons and oil, exhibited at the New Hampshire State Fair, among other pictures, an original design in oil called 'May Morning,' being a large spray of arbutus tied with a blue ribbon and attached to a ring or knob, and which was much admired. A New York gentleman who visited the Fair, was so much pleased with it that he has ordered a copy, which Miss Miller is now painting for him, with an original companion piece of apple blossoms. The exhibition of her paintings at the Fruit Show of Portsmouth Grange also brought her several new pupils—of which, however, as of orders, her studio never lacks. These facts show that advertising—publicity, will generally pay, when you have anything worth advertising and know how to doit."

Mr. J. E. Lord will furnish the second entertainment of the W. T. L. Lyceum course, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 22d, at Franklin Hall. Tickets at the usual places and at the door.

At the annual parish meeting of the Middle street Baptist church, holden at the chapel on Thursday evening, Mr. Benjamin M. Parker was chosen Moderater, and the following-named gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year: Wardens, Joseph D. Akerman, Moses Yeaton, John M. Tobbetts; Parish Clerk, William G. Kidder; Treasurer, Joseph D. Akerman.

Owing to the Crispin troubles in Lynn, some of the large shoe manufacturers of that city are looking out for business sites in other places, asserting that the tyranny of the Crispin organization renders it impossible to conduct their business with profit where they now are. Kennebunk, Damariscotta and other places in Maine are likely to reap benefit from the great Crispin strike. Would it not possibly be of benefit to Portsmouth, if our Board of Trade would bring to the notice of the Lynn manufacturers the advantages this city offers for their business? There are many good shoemakers here who would be glad of a job at very reasonable wages, and there is no Crispin society here.

THE NAVY YARD.

The following are the estimates of the Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair for the Navy Yard at Portsmouth:

For repairing floating dock	$9,000
For paving gutters and drains	$5,000
For waterworks	$3,000
For timber shed	$30,000

The floating dry-dock is the most costly and important work in the yard, and is of perishable materials. No extensive repairs have been made for some years, and the sides, sloping ribs and end gate now require caulking and painting, and some of the planking should be renewed. These repairs are of the utmost importance, as the dock is the only means in this harbor by which access can be obtained to the bottoms of vessels needing repairs. A small appropriation for paying gutters and drains is much needed, as in some places water stands after rains, and in others a considerable space drains into the dry dock basin, carrying sediment, which endangers the dock and ship when one is landed or docked to be taken on shore. On Seavey's island several artificial ponds or reservoirs have been constructed, which are fed by springs, affording an abundant supply of pure, fresh water. The elevation of these reservoirs is such as to supply the cisterns in the yard, and their capacity is quite sufficient to furnish good, pure water for all the purposes of the yard, and, to render the arrangement complete, a small appropriation is needed for furnishing and laying the necessary pipes. The object is an important one. Increased accommodations for the stowage and safe keeping of timber are much needed at this yard. Large quantities of valuable material are exposed to the weather, which causes rapid deterioration, and the annual loss from this cause is very great. The saving which would be realized by proper protection would soon pay for the cost of the building.

THE VICINITY.

The Democratic Senatorial Convention for the First District met in Dover on Thursday, and nominated William J. Walker as the democratic candidate.

Mr. Horace McIntire, of York, has shot twenty foxes within two months past. Mr. McIntire is not only a mighty hunter, but a kind of independent branch of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals; he buys old, worn-out horses and puts them out of their trouble at once —incidentally he uses their carcasses for fox-bait. He has used up five of them so far this season, one of them being thirty years old (must have been good tough bait) at the time he was killed; he paid a dollar apiece for the five. He puts the carcass in some previously selected spot, not far from a stone wall, and makes a gap in the wall for the foxes to pass through, within easy shooting distance of a good hiding place for himself; after the foxes have got to using the gap regularly as a pathway he sets his hound on the track of one, conceals himself by the gap, and when the fox (which will always stick to its accustomed run until driven from it) comes along and jumps the gap he shoots him. Whether his theory of the foxes' habits is correct or not, his plan works first-rate in practice. Foxes are said to be much more plentiful in York county this year than for many years past.

DEMOCRATIC SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

At the First District Democratic Senatorial Convention, at Hampton on Friday, Uri Lamprey, Esq., of Hampton, was elected President, and Mr. James J. Jenness, of this city, Secretary.

The committee on credentials reported forty delegates present. On motion of Mr. Benjamin M. Parker, Hon. Marcellus Eldredge was nominated for Senator by acclamation. The resolutions of the State convention were adopted, and a committee of three appointed by the chair to notify Mr. Eldredge of his nomination. Adjourned.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

The Sabbath School Institute, appointed by a committee from the Rockingham Christian Conference, opened its session in the Second Christian church, (Rev. S. A. Hutchinson, pastor,) at Kittery, on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, about one hundred persons being present. After singing, prayer was offered by Rev. E. C. Abbott of Manchester. Rev. John A. Goss of Portsmouth then delivered the opening address, giving therein a brief history of the rise and progress of Sabbath School work. Rev. A. Beck of Haverhill, Mass., followed with an address upon "The Church in the Sabbath School." A spirited discussion followed the reading of this essay. Rev. S. A. Hutchinson, pastor of the Methodist church, gave an address upon the "Finances of the School." In the evening the church was well filled, when Rev. E. C. Abbott of Manchester gave an interesting address upon "Temperance and the Sabbath School." Remarks were made by several of the clergymen upon the same subject. On Thursday the opening address was made by Rev. Charles A. Beck, of Haverhill, Mass.; subject, "How to secure prompt attendance." Rev. S. B. Bowdish, of Rye, read an essay on "The best methods of teaching the Bible class," and a spirited discussion followed. In the evening Rev. Daniel P. Pike, of Newburyport, spoke on "How to increase the number and efficiency of the schools." The next Institute will be held at Haverhill, Mass., in May.

The February number of the "Folio" contains, besides the usual amount of music and miscellaneous reading matter, a fine portrait of Miss Mary Anderson, the favorite actress.

A Doctor's Joke.

Mr. F. B. Sanborn in the Springfield Republican tells the following story of Dr. Josiah Bartlett of Concord, who died recently, aged eighty-one years:

"He used to tell with great effect the story of what had happened to him one day when, many years ago, he was attacked with small-pox while attending his patients in that disease, and retired for isolation to the town hospital, on an unfrequented road leading to the Walden Woods. One day, as he was convalescing, he saw a man drive up toward the house as if in quest of something. Dr. Bartlett went to the door or window to hear his errand, which was to inquire the road to the next town, Stow. 'I didn't like to go down through the middle of the town,' said the man, 'for I heered say they'd got the small-pox in the village.' 'That is the road to Stow,' said the doctor, pointing back to 'Seven Star Lane,' 'and this is the small-pox hospital—and I've got it!' The seeker after knowledge jumped into his wagon, wheeled about, and imitating Coleridge's wayfarer,

'Who, having once looked round goes on,
And turns no more his head,
Because he knows a frightful fiend
Doth close behind him tread.'"

Ex-Commodore James Gordon Bennett's keel schooner yacht Dauntless has, it is said, been sold to a prominent member of the New York Club, for $15,000.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Wormsiness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but power ul to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have performed more wonderful cures of obstinate bedridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been speedily restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are most astonishing. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a miracle. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Grubs and Stomach complaints. Fletcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gives nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest covered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Sprains, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. We use the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels, and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported looks up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Chalagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Chalagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness—Tropid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and as Tonic, imparts to make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and you may be troublesome, irregular and difficult to cure, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or Anthlon in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, unsafe, sickening pills, here before so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair their properties or make them less efficacious. Being sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Be daily use of Two Pellets are cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They, however, recommend to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

IT IS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; it then restores the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER
From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The loss of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system stacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust constitution. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment (this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed) to hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed where all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the modified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORSCOTT BLOCK, 86 FRANKLIN ST., Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in private, not only freely recommend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or certify to the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised friends to use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint yet.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but if any preparation merits the wants of humanity, and we think those who offered it will be convinced of its great merits, that the suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but never heard all that praise. If you see proper you can use this letter in any part of your paper.

Very truly yours, S. D. BALDWIN & CO

A NEW CONGRESSIONAL SONG.

[To be sung after an all-night session on the Silver bill.]

O, say can you by the dawn's early light
The Swindle we had cut at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose cuteness and cheek through the perilous fight,
Kept us up to our mark in our dodges and scheming;
And the hobnobber's glare, looking on in despair,
Gave proof through the night that our best hold was there—
O, say does our fraudulent standard still wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the knave!

And where are the fools who have thought it a spee
To lend their spare cash on the word of the Nation,
Who thought Public Conscience would keep us in check,
And we hadn't the brass to spell re-pudi-a-tion?
They are skinflints and Jews, and their gold they must lose,
And the National Honor may go to the deuce;
For the star spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the knave!

O, thus be it ever when creditors stand
Demanding hard money and penny for penny,
Let the bloodhistry rascals at once understand
That silver at ninety is the hardest of any;
Then to coin it is just, and stamp it we must
With the blasphemous motto, "In God do we trust;"
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the knave!

—From the Harvard Lampoon.

An Abrupt Wedding.

A wedding as abrupt if not as fantastic as Mr. Wemmick's took place on New Year's night at Marlboro' on the Hudson. During the afternoon a well-known resident of the village called on Rev. Dr. Osborn and invited him to dinner at seven o'clock. "Bring a marriage certificate with you," said the host; "we may have a wedding there to-night." The doctor is a discreet man, and did as he was told. At his friend's house he met a large company, and after dinner was announced took his seat at the well-appointed table. The host undertook to carve the turkey, made such bungling work of his duties that one of his guests was constrained to remark to him, "you should get married then your wife would teach you the proper way to do these things." The host did not deny the soft impeachment, but told what manner of woman he should like for a wife, ending by saying: "Now, before we proceed any further, 'spose we take a vote as to who I shall marry." The company entered into the canvas with great hilarity, and after a vote was taken it was declared that the host was in duty bound to marry his housekeeper, a young and well-educated lady who had presided over the establishment for more than a year. The young lady had stepped into the kitchen to give some final directions to the cook, and when she returned she was informed of the views of the company. She was completely taken aback, but after the ladies had coaxed her to give her consent, she placed herself in the hands of her friends. "Halloo, let's get married now!" exclaimed the host, with the imperturbable Wemmick's self-possession. The dinner was suspended—indeed it had scarcely begun; the bride took off her white apron; the bridegroom dropped his napkin; the two were made one; the marriage certificate was signed; the company kissed the bride and then sat down to dinner with a first rate appetite.

A Woman Acting as Sheriff.

In announcing the recent death of the widow of the late ex-Sheriff James H. Latty, of Des Moines, Iowa, the Hawk-Eye, of that place, recalls some interesting incidents in her life as follows: "At one time a desperado confined in one of the cells attempted to escape by making a man of straw reclining upon his couch as usual, while the flesh and blood prisoner secreted himself in an empty cell and awaited the advent of Mrs. Latty, who, in the absence of her husband, entered the jail-room to look up the prisoners for the night. When she came to the cell containing the man of straw, a very clever imitation of a man at sleep, she called his name, and, getting no response, entered and detected the cheat. Instead of calling for outside help in an emergency which plainly indicated a plot and a determination upon the part of the prisoners to break jail, Mrs. Latty quietly proceeded to the other cell and marched the prospective fugitive back to his cell and locked him up. As he was a heavy, muscular man, and the Deputy Sheriff a slender, light-built woman, it is evident that nerve triumphed over muscle. Womanly courage was more than a match for brute force and the desperation of the criminal seeking to fly from the hands of justice. On another occasion, two young men in a cell refusing to stop their profane and boisterous language, the Deputy entered the cell and gave them a sound flogging with a whip, until, with tears in their eyes, the rascals promised better behaviour. The last exploit of our Deputy, and one which recalled to our mind the preceding incidents, was the taking of a prisoner to the Penitentiary a few days ago. A man who had been arrested for stealing a carpet-bag at the Union depot in this city, last January, was sentenced at the last term of the District Court to two years' imprisonment at the Penitentiary, and was taken to Fort Madison by Mrs. Letty alone, and without any assistance from others, and duly delivered to Warden Helsey. The astonishment of the Warden and the Fort Madisonians knew no bounds."

SHORT SKIRTS.

One by one, they are coming out. The short skirts for street wear, of which, premonitions have been given. Gladly we hail them, those of us who mingle in the practical battle of life, and would fain array ourselves for conquest over dust and mud, in garments other than trains of silk and velvet. As yet, we find these serviceable costumes of woolen twill, mosaic cloth, and jauntily mixed bourettes, since so far no rich goods have been thus devised. Now we are all familiar with the kilt skirts worn by little boys. Just imagine these made large and long enough for their mammas, and you have the short skirts worn by ladies. The plaitings, about two inches in width, are kept in position by tapes, and are usually attached to a yoke fitting plainly to the hips, to conceal which, a short apron falls over, and is finished in two long plaited ends pendant at the back. Said apron is often fancifully cut, and may be longer on one side than the other. The waist is a blouse, made either plain, or laid in plaits, and shows a square yoke and deep collar. The sleeves are tight. Some ladies, of very slender figure, dispense with the yoke, but the apron is always seen. Occasionally we find short costumes having the skirt plain except with the finish of a plaited flounce, but these also have the apron overskirts. So much for the dress; now for the garment which is added for street wear. Figure to yourself a gentleman's coat; long according to the present fashion, and you have it; the only feminine feature about it being the material, which is the same as the dress. This peculiar garment, however, although more stylish than anything else, is not obligatory.

GOOD THINGS TO COME.

I have dwelt at some length on these new costumes, not only because they are admirable in themselves, but because they are the foretaste of better things in the future. I cannot believe but what they will enter in and bring improvement to the whole range of attire for the street. The evil has been so monstrous that it is working its own cure, nor can I suppose that any lady who sees relief from a train, which she is forced to hold up with frozen, crippled fingers, will not hasten to seek that relief, and I do not fear to prophesy that ere long we will see these short costumes made up in handsomer materials, and generally patronized for our door promenades. Summer dresses will share largely in the improvement, as by the coming of spring these new ideas will have fully penetrated. At present, we have invested so heavily in trains, that we must wear them out or go into bankruptcy, but in choosing costumes on the change of season, we will be free. Short skirts, moreover, cannot be very tightly tied back, and once again a woman may hope for comparatively free use of her limbs.

STYLISH NOVELTIES.

The Elfride polonaise is a stylish model for a dinner or reception dress, but if one should prefer a basque, the Delphine may be suggested, and this is especially adapted to the Honora overskirt. The Clotilde is a very dressy trained skirt, and parts with the Norine basque. The Carrick capes—three short capes reaching half way to the waist—are becoming quite popular, characterized as they are by a certain quaint jauntiness; but quite as striking are the new broad collars, which, assumed timidly at first, are rapidly coming into use. They are in all materials, and very broad, with cuffs to match worn on the outside of the sleeve. But we have not given up the small upright collars nor ruchings of all kinds.

HOTEL LIFE.

Last fall, Judge Hilton, in the interests of Mrs. A. T. Stewart, assumed control of the Metropolitan Hotel, and in doing so, called to his aid Mr. Henry Clair, manager of the celebrated Grand Union, Saratoga. First in the way of improvement, has been a thorough re-furnishing, accomplished in the richest materials, combined with the most refined and beautiful taste. Simultaneously, also, the cuisine has been perfected, while rates have been reduced, so that we now find in this truly elegant establishment the unusual combination of first-class fare, fine surroundings and moderate prices. These advantages are of course due to the fact that A. T. Stewart & Co. possess facilities unattainable by smaller capitalists, and now that this great firm has taken possession, the Metropolitan may be regarded as the Hotel of the city. Not only the comfort, but the security of guests are vigilantly looked after, for even by day special watchmen are employed, while at night each floor is patrolled. Under the present management, the idea is to give as much as possible, asking as little as possible in return.

MRS. HICKS LORD

is still a beautiful and fascinating woman, of the blonde style, and commanding in appearance. Mr. Lord is not the infirm old man that he has been represented, but is remarkably well preserved, and for his years, good looking. He has been extremely attentive to Mrs. Hicks (that was) for a long time, and mutual friends declare that it is really a love match on both sides. The lady, although lavish in expenditure, has not encroached on her capital, and possessed as she is of a fine income, it does not seem even politic on her part to marry for money. So let us believe it a case of true love, which as everybody knows "never runs smooth."

News and Notes.

Bristow has been dined in Boston.

John Simms, an ex-convict, was shot through the heart while attempting to break into a store in Kirkwood, Mo. The proprietor has been in the habit of sleeping in the store ever since he was made the victim of a burglary some time ago. The breaking of glass aroused him, and taking his revolver he went to the front of the store and shot the burglar dead.

A boat with nine boys swept over a dam on Simes' creek, near Huntington, Va., on Thursday, and four boys were drowned.

H. C. Secrest was arrested at Monroe, N. C., on Thursday, for the murder of his wife and step-child. Their bodies were found buried in the woods.

The Norfolk Virginian says: Since the new administration began persons residing in the vicinity of the different navy yards, having personal complaints against the employes therein, have annoyed the Secretary of the Navy by writing to him, and making charges to such an extent that the department has concluded to send to the commandants of the different yards for their investigation of any charges that may be made against the employes under them. Charges of indebtedness and personal charges of the most scandalous character, sometimes so disgusting that no notice can be taken of them, have poured in from all sides. In many cases the charges have been preferred over anonymous signatures, to which, of course, no attention has been paid. It is no more than proper that the commandants of the navy yards should have supervision over their employees, and it is hoped that they will see that this system of abuse is ameliorated.

The Newburyport Herald says that an Irishman and a negro living in a suburb of that city went to a well-known tinsmith a few days ago, and engaged him to make for them an apparatus for the manufacture of whisky for home consumption. The apparatus was completed in due time, and the couple, who were far from being adepts in the art, undertook the (to them) new operation. The machine worked well for a time, but by and by there was too much pressure to the square inch, and the concern exploded, tearing the inside of the room to pieces, knocking down the Irishman and his wife, nearly putting out the Irishman's eyes and working sad havoc with the complexion of the curly-headed brunette. The Irishman is not yet able to resume his work in the mill where he is employed, and concludes that with him distilling is a "lost art."

The Western Union Telegraph Co. has raised the rates for Western messages from twenty to twenty-five per cent. The great monopoly did not swallow the Atlantic & Pacific Co. for nothing.

Alfred Smith, the Newport, R. I., millionaire, was on Friday bound over to the Supreme Court for felonious assault on Mrs. Fleis. On the examination it was shown that Mrs. Fleis is a lady of excellent reputation, and Smith acknowledged that neither she or her husband had suggested any possible settlement of the case, or asked for money. Smith denied that he intended to commit a rape, but Mrs. Fleis' account of the affair showed the assault to have been most outrageous.

Two employes in a brewery in Lebanon, Pa., quarrelled on Christmas eve, and in the fight one bit the other's hand. The injured man began to feel considerable pain in the bitten hand on the following Thursday, and on Monday morning he died.

Death of a Famous "Medium."

Mrs. M. M. Perkins, formerly Mrs. Hardy, well known as a remarkable medium for the manifestation of the so-called spiritual phenomena, died in Boston, Monday evening, 14th inst., of consumption, aged thirty years. The Boston papers say:

"She took a violent cold at the Tabernacle one evening last spring, where she went to hear Mr. Moody preach, and from the effects of that exposure she never recovered. She died in the full possession of her mental faculties, quite reconciled to death, and asseverating the truth and genuineness of her mediumship to the last. She declared that the manifestation at her sittings for the production of molds in paraffine of hands, which she knew to be temporarily materialized by spirit-power, was a genuine phenomenon. Mrs. Perkins' maiden name was Mary M. Smith, and she was born at Raymond, N. H., in 1847. She early gave evidence of medial powers. When quite a child she would at times perceive a dim, shadowy presence near her, though she could not fully discern the form. Several times she heard what she afterward claimed to be spirit voices. At the age of sixteen she came to Boston, and thenceforth her medial reputation has been steadily on the increase. As a trance medium she gave many startling tests, which could only be traced to some super-sensoal faculty. She visited England in the year 1875, and was recognized there as a remarkable medium. Her troubles did not commence till she began to sit for the physical phenomena. This led to attacks on her good faith, which she bravely combatted, but which had an adverse effect, and put her repeatedly on the defensive. She had a large circle of friends, who fully believed in her mediumship and her good faith. Almost her last words to her husband were, 'I shall be stronger on the other side, to help on the good work here. I have every assurance from my spirit friends that I can continue my medial labors on the other side with greater strength than ever.'"

—The following story is told by General Harry Heth: One day General (now Senator) Gordon and I were ordered to attack General Grant's lines near Petersburg, and we accordingly moved out toward the front. Gordon, you know is a preacher, and a man of pious, devotional habits. Just before the action began he said, "General, before we go into action, would it not be well to engage in prayer?" "Certainly," I replied, and he and his staff retired into a little building by the roadside, and I and my staff prepared to follow. Just then I caught sight of my brother, who was with some artillery a little way down the road, and thinking to have him join us, I called out to him by name. "Come," said I, pointing to the building we were just entering. "No, thank you," he answered, "I have just had one."

—The following message recently passed through the Chicago telegraph office; "I lent you, one year ago to-night, $4.87. If you have not had it long enough, please keep it one year longer." To this delicate hint this answer was returned: "Had forgotten it, and hoped you had. Let her run another year."

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. 16eb13

Political.

From Washington come reports that the opponents of Collector Simmons of Boston are busy, and that his most formidable competitor for the nomination is ex-Mayor Frederick W. Lincoln; also that Attorney-General Devens and Secretary Evarts have agreed to present the name of Mr. Lincoln.

About the last democratic employe from New England in the national House of Representatives is T. J. Leary, an assistant doorkeeper. He was discharged Monday. Hon. Leopold Morse, a democratic member from Boston, took the matter in hand, and showed fight. He told Speaker Randall that he was "getting tired of this sort of thing. Frank Jones and myself are pretty good fellows when you want to raise $5000 or $10,000 for a campaign, but here you think you can walk over us as you please." He intimated that, if the democratic party cared nothing about them, they would show by their votes that they cared very little for it. Mr. Randall at once directed the restoration of Mr. Leary, and pacified, temporarily, the democracy of New England.—Providence Journal.

The banking house of the Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank will be sold at auction on the second day of February. The building has a costly safe, is located in a street which has always been and doubtless always will be the business street of Portsmouth, and is in a complete state of repair.

The Boston Traveller of Saturday says: "Captain William Robinson, of Salisbury, formerly captain of the steamer Appledore, running to the Isles of Shoals, and the present owner of the steamer Major, will probably be superintendent of the Pentucket Navigation Company, and will run the Major in connection with the other boats of the company."

Ship Paul Jones, Capt. Edwin A. Gerrish, sailed from New York for Shanghai on Thursday. Her carpenter is Mr. John Wilson, of Kittery; and Clarence Martin and Arthur N. Goodrich of this city have gone out in her, the former as ordinary seaman and the latter on his first voyage. The ships' steward is a Mr. Wheaton, of Kittery, and one of the ship's boys is from Wells.

The Eclectic Club will on Friday evening give an entertainment consisting of "Scenes from Dickens." The scenes will represent portions of Nicholas Nickleby, Dombey & Son, Bleak House, Pickwick, Old Curiosity Shop, etc., and will doubtless, like the representations of the club on former occasions, be highly enjoyed by all present. The entertainment will be given in Franklin Hall.

Hon. Frank Jones has presented in Congress the petition of the presidents of the six banks of Portsmouth, opposing the passage of the Bland silver bill, which is referred to the committee on banking and currency. He has also presented the petition of John S. Pray and eight other ship owners of this city, for reimbursement out of the Geneva award fund for war premiums paid by them.

At Miss Morgan's school, on Friday evening, was an attendance by invitation of quite a number of the friends of the Principal and her assistants and pupils at a fete given in honor of Mdlle. Fournier, French teacher, who was the recipient of several elegant bouquets from her appreciative pupils. A French play in which five young lady students took part was listened to, and the proficiency of the young ladies in French dialogue highly commended; refreshments and dancing followed.

The coming event in Portsmouth is the opening of the new Music Hall, which competent judges have said to be the handsomest theatre in New England outside of Boston. Governor Prescott has signified his intention of being present on the opening night, on which occasion Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett will deliver an address, and Thayer and Tompkin's company of Boston will present the beautiful domestic comedy of Caste and the farce of John Wopps. The scenery will be all new and beautiful, and Harlow's orchestra will furnish appropriate music. The sale of tickets will begin on Wednesday morning at Preston's drug store.

A Washington despatch of Friday says: "The Treasury Department is investigating the recent smuggling by the officers of the United States steamer Kearsarge, and there are reasons for believing that there have been other similar cases. In addition to the packages seized at the Charlestown navy yard a large number had been sent by express to different parts of the country, and more are on the United States steamer Tallapoosa. Many of those who are thus evading the payment of duties are naval officers; others are clerks in the naval department." A previous announcement was to the effect that the seized packages had all been released, as they consisted of clothing and other personal property, and Japanese "curios" that are not liable to duty.

Sch Lizzie M. Stewart, formerly a Boston, and subsequently a Bangor packet while owned in this port, sails under her new ownership, from Boston for Saint Thomas and a market.

Dr. Goodall was unable, on account of sickness, to give the lecture at Faith Home on Monday evening of last week, but will deliver it this evening; subject, "Preaching, and preachers of the Bible."

A complimentary dinner was given to Ex-Mayor Frank A. Allen of Cambridge, (formerly of this city,) at Young's Hotel, Boston, on Tuesday evening, 15th inst.; the dinner was attended by about sixty of the most prominent citizens of Cambridge including, Mayor Montague, Ex-Mayors Merrill and Parmenter, President Eliot of Harvard College, and others.

On Saturday evening, at the residence of Mr. A. T. Goodrich on Linden street, a kerosene lamp which had been left on a table in the sitting room, exploded. The family were at supper at the time and knew nothing of the accident, which was discovered by a visitor who fortunately made a timely call, undoubtedly preventing a serious conflagation. All the articles on the table were burned, the heat being intense enough to melt two silver fruit knives which were in a basket. The "fire-fiend" has attacked the old mansion many times, but has not proved a success.

THE E. H. PRAY PIRACY.

The police authorities of New York took charge of something like an elephant when they captured the schooner Guide, with a portion of the stolen cargo of the schooner E. H. Pray on board. The old hulk leaks like a sieve, and after she was taken down river from where she was found to an anchorage off the Battery, two policemen had to keep the pumps going all the time, to keep her afloat, the officers being relieved at each roll-call. The Police Commissioners were holding the vessel and cargo as evidence, and announced that the stolen property would be delivered to its owners as soon as an indictment was found against Capt. Clark.

The four hundred barrels of fish reported to be missing from the cargo of the E. H. Pray when the Guide was found, have been recovered; two hundred barrels were found in Jersey City on Wednesday, having been purchased of Clark by one Meyers for $3 a barrel; the other two hundred barrels were found on Thursday in Brooklyn, in possession of a brother of Meyers. The fish was valued at $5.50 a barrel, and the purchasers could hardly have been ignorant that they were buying stolen property when it was sold them at so low a price; and it is a satisfaction to know that they will lose the money they paid out, as the owner of the fish, Richard P. Currie, has replevined his property. A Hartford insurance agent was in New York on Friday searching for the fishing gear which was in the E. H. Pray, which was valued at $3000 and insured $2000; but he failed to find it, though it was hoped it might yet be found in the Guide's hold, the cargo not having been thoroughly overhauled.

The man May, or Mayo, who was cook or mate, or both, of the E. H. Pray, and was in charge of the Guide and her cargo of plunder when the police seized her, it was announced would be arraigned on Saturday before U. S. Commissioner Betts; and it was stated that if he would turn State's evidence in order to secure an indictment against Clark, he would be held only as a witness, and criminal proceedings would not be taken against him.

Throwing aside the story of the man Mayo, the facts that Capt. Clark himself purchased the old rattletrap schooner in which most of the stolen cargo was found, and that he personally sold the fish after it was stolen, seem effectually to dispose of the "river pirates" theory at first advanced; and unless very different and more favorable evidence is discovered, Capt. Clark's position is a most unenviable one.

DEATH OF JOSHUA BROOKS.

We regret to announce the death of our esteemed fellow citizen, Deacon Joshua Brooks, which occurred on Sunday at noon. Mr. Brooks has for some time past been an invalid, and his decease was not unexpected. He was born in Eliot, Me., March 19th, 1814. At the age of 17 he came to this city and learned the tanner and currier's trade with the late David Libbey, which occupation he followed, as an apprentice and on his own account, until the building of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad; his premises being taken by that corporation, he was employed by them as conductor for about eight years. He afterwards, about the year 1851, engaged in the flour and grain business, at the stone store in Market street, which business he continued (the last few years with his son-in-law) until his death.

Mr. Brooks was twice elected a member of the Legislature, and served acceptably in that position; but he generally declined a public office. He joined the North Congregational church in this city in 1834, and for twenty-seven years past has been a deacon. He was warmly attached to that church, and has been devoted to its interests.

By his skill and industry he acquired a competence, which he used with a wise and liberal discrimination; his cheerfulness and honesty gained him hosts of friends; he was loved, honored and respected by the community; he was a stout staff for the church of which he was so long a member, and leaves an unblemished business and Christian character.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. Edwin C. Nealley, of Kittery, has been appointed Justice of the Peace and Quorum by the Governor of Maine.

An antiquarian supper is to be given in the Free Will Baptist vestry at Kittery Point on the evening of the 24th, by the Ladies' Benevolent Society.

Bradford. W. Blaisdell, Esq., of York, was stricken down by paralysis while attending court in Saco on Friday. His condition was no better on Saturday, his whole right side being paralyzed.

Jonathan Hanson, a much respected citizen of Dover, committed suicide at his home Friday. Insanity induced by softening of the brain is supposed to have been the cause. He was forty-five years old.

On Friday evening officers were installed over Dirigo Encampment, No. Seven, I. O. O. F., of Kittery, as follows: George H. Hayes, C. P.; Charles Chickering, H. P.; F. E. Rowell, S. W.; Wm. W. Locke, J. W.; George O. Wilson, Scribe; John Gottermeyer, Treasurer.

The teacher of the Centre school of Rye having been dismissed some weeks ago, and "lack of requisite qualifications and improper conduct before the scholars" having been "assigned as reasons for the step," according to the papers, we are requested to publish the following, which was addressed to Mr. John O. Drake, Superintending School Committee of Rye: "Sir: We, the undersigned, citizens of the Centre School District, respectfully represent that it is important to re-establish Mr. Charles F. Larrabee as teacher of the Centre school." This document was signed by Orin Drake, John S. Marden, John O. Foss, Jenness Rand, Morris A. Drake and thirty-six others—forty-one voters out of seventy-three in the district signing it; and out of twenty-three persons sending children to the school, sixteen (more than two-thirds) signed the request for Mr. Larrabee's reinstatement,—which would seem to show that so many, at least, regarded his qualifications as sufficient and his conduct not heinously improper.

Destroying Mites on Canaries.

Take some carbolic acid and put just enough water to make a liquid, and after cleaning your cage with hot water, put on the carbolic acid with a paint brush, both on the inside and outside of the cage; let it dry in the sun, and it will be sure cure, and no injury to the bird.—Exchange.

—An Ohio lover inadvertently, while asking the blessing of his future father-in-law, said that the girl was worth her weight in gold, and the future father-in-law, a confirmed bi-metallist, refused his consent, and chased the lover off the place with a pitchfork.

—The recent suit of Ira Melendy of Bradford, Vt., in which he recovered $6,000 from the town for injuries suffered on the highway, was a singular one in some respects. He claimed that his accident caused paralysis of his legs, so that these were dead as far as movement and feeling were concerned. The defendants attempted to prove that he was shamming. They called in medical experts, stuck pins into his legs, made cuts and applied ammonia and ether to them without making him wince or contract his muscles. Some of the physicians testified that such a paralysis was an impossibility, but the jury did not believe that a man could have sufficient nerve to stand such tests if there were any feeling in the members experimented upon. He will probably have to go through all this again, as the case has been appealed.

Wingate in Hampton in said County, all the right in said land which the said Aaron P. Wingate had on the tenth day of April 1877, the day on which the same was attached on mesne process, or now has or any other right or interest in said real estate at any time since the attachment, in the towns of North Hampton, Exeter and Stratham in said County, to satisfy said debt, to wit:

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Dropsy, Liver Complaint, Worms, Tumors and Salt Rheum, and Neuralgia, are a Cleanser of the Blood, and Purifying the Blood, are the most concentrated purgative yet produced. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but power in the cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole living. They cure not only the every-day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, the most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take, and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.
This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.
Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.
It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.
By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.
As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.
Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for the intended purposes."
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.
This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to a brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur Liniments.
They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.
The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Caked Breasts, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have per ormed more wonderful cures of obstinate hard-skin cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been saved by it restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are not to marvels. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a miracle. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

Honey
To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gives nor gripes.
COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.
Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.
I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.
Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest and most powerful remedies ever discovered for all Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Rheumatism, Bites, Bruises, Swellings, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is pleasant to take as honey. It contains no morphine or other deleterious ingredient, and is superior to castor oil, or any other medicine for the bowels and stomach, and overcomes irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, when use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and prosperity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot succeed against a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any basis than that of merit.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties never fail to relieve and remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and abscesses, or Pain in the Bones, Golden Medical Discovery will effect a speedy cure. If your blood, dropsy, rheumatic, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, mornings heat or chills alternate with hot flashes, low spirits and loss of vigor, bowel complaint, irregular appetite, and a tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "Bilious ness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms may be experienced. As a rule, for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
P.P.P.P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.
The "little Giant" Cathartic, or Anti-bilious Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, unsatisfactory, sickening pills, here so much in vogue.
As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Inactivity of the Liver, Jaundice, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escapes their sensitive impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and enclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, which daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of scrofula, Tumors, Salt-Rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brushy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER
From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or has tended the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, hopelessly assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed in hands of some competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won my heart's approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acidified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NORMCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1876.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who prescribe it not only from a conviction that it is but one in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe any Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a fair trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent a dozen more so no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We LEAVE to learn the first complaint.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but as a preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we find those effects it is said to confer, the great merits of this long suffering will be rewarded. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but you may safely say, if you use proper care, it must be the best. If you are proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish.

Very truly yours, R. S. BALDWIN & CO.

NEW AND YET OLD.

God, who has made the heavens and earth and caused the wheels of time to move, has made known through His word that as long as the earth stands there will be seed time and harvest time, cold and heat, summer and winter, night and day; He has also made known that the wheels of time shall stop, and when, by prophetic numbers. Then He has given in His word, and told us what He will then do by dissolving this earth by fire and creating a new heaven and new earth out of its ruins; and all those who have complied with His will in this life shall have resurrection to life, and live forevermore on the new earth. He has informed us through Daniel the prophet—eighth chapter—that after 2300 days the sanctuary (or earth) shall be cleansed, and gave Daniel no clue when to commence reckoning those days from, at that time; but afterward sends an angel to him to give him information as it is recorded in the ninth chapter, and tells Daniel he had come to give him skill, and understanding; therefore, understand the matter and consider the vision that he had 2300 days, (that none understood it, and says that seventy weeks are determined upon thy people the Jews and thy holy city. By locating the end of the seventy weeks where he does, at the overthrow of the Jewish nation and their city Jerusalem.—by this light we get a key to unlock the mystery where 2300 days will end. Those days are symbolic of years, in seventy weeks there are 490 days or years; they are a part of the 2300 days or years. History tells us that in the year seventy the Jewish nation and their city Jerusalem ceased to exist. At that date the seventy weeks expire, four hundred and ninety years from the year seventy; we want 1810 years to fill out the whole number of years, twenty-three hundred, so that seventy years and 1810 when run out will end in the year 1880. There are only two points of time given that any man can reasonably take to show when the earth will be cleansed; these points of time are in the ninth chapter of Daniel when the two seventy weeks or four hundred and ninety years expire, one is at the destruction of Jerusalem in the year seventy, and the other at the crucifixion of Christ in the year thirty-three; and as time has proved what man could not do, it has proved we made a mistake in commencing at the crucifixion of Christ; we have shown where the end will be from the other point in the year seventy. Then the earth will be cleansed. There is one more event given and time given to locate the time when it shall take place; this event is the second advent of Christ and the resurrection of the dead to life again.

In the book of Daniel we have a number of chains of prophecy commencing at different points of time, and running down the stream of time to the Advent of Christ and the resurrection of the dead, and the end of time. In the eleventh chapter we have a chain commencing with the Mede and Persian kingdom, through the Grecian and Roman kingdoms to where we now live; and see what is now transpiring between the Russian and Turkish armies, and what has yet to transpire until Christ stands up to deliver his people, living or dead; we are told where the war shall get to when Christ stands up to deliver his people. We could not tell how long this war would continue, one year or three, to the standing up of Christ, if the angel had not given Daniel more light which is recorded in the last verses of his book, telling him that from the time the daily sacrifice shall be taken away and the abomination that maketh desolate set up there shall be 1290 days, and then says: blessed is he that waiteth and cometh to the 1335 days; then says to Daniel, go thy way till the end be, for thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the days. Daniel to-day occupies the same position that Lazarus did when Jesus said to his disciples, our friend Lazarus sleepeth; I go that I may awake him out of sleep; and when he came back where Lazarus' grave was, he said, Lazarus, come forth; and Lazarus, who was dead and buried in the earth, came out of it alive. When Christ comes back He will do what He has said He will do; all that are in their graves shall hear His voice and come forth to life again, and He will judge them according to the deeds done in the body. Daniel with the rest of the dead, at the end of 1335 days. The days are symbols of years; when pagan Rome ceased then sacrifices ceased, and the abomination that maketh desolate was set up, Christ referring to this power to those who should live to see it to understand it, for it was what Daniel the prophet spoke of. Paul spoke of it and says, he that now letteth will let until he be taken out of the way, and the man of sin be revealed, whom the Lord will destroy by the brightness of His coming. This power is spoken of in the book of Revelation, where a woman is brought to Rome sitting on a beast with a cup in her hand, who was drunk with the blood of the saints. A woman is a symbol of a church, a beast is a symbol of civil or political governments.

The dark age in which it is said by history, that 50,000,000 were put to death, that would not acknowledge the Catholic faith, the commencement of these powers is no other than the commencement of Papal Rome, the Catholic church and political government united together, and the head of the church become Dictator. History says Justinian, a Roman Emperor, made over the civil power and army to the Pope of Rome, in the year 542; then commences the 1335 days or years in which Daniel was told he should stand in his lot at the end of the days, which will be this year, 1878. Every sign that is given in the Bible is in the past, but a fiery stream that will come forth before Christ, then all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and when Russia drives Turkey out of Europe, then all the nations of Europe will be in war; then Christ comes to deliver his people.

There is a space of time that intervenes after Christ comes and takes his people from the earth and cleanses the earth by fire. Christ refers to this when he says that there shall two be in one place, one shall be taken and the other left. Paul and the Revelator, when speaking of the last trump and the seventh trumpet, the third woe was to follow. Jeremiah speaks of it in the twenty-first chapter; when none but the wicked will be on earth, which are to be destroyed by fire, which will be their second death, when the earth is cleansed by fire, which must take place in the year 1880.

All that I have to say now is, that if these events do not take place by the year 1880 no man can ever tell by the Bible when they will come. Then what shall we say to what God said to Daniel, that after 2300 years the earth shall be cleansed and at the end of 1335 years he should stand in his lot, and at the time appointed the end shall be.

Union Meeting Of Farmers.

Arrangements are in progress for a general meeting on Wednesday and Thursday, January 30 and 31, at the Manchester City Hall. The design of the originators of the meeting is to include all horticultural and agricultural organizations in the State, granges, farmers' clubs, town and local associations, county and State societies, the Board of Agriculture, and the Agricultural College. Among the speakers already engaged are Gov. Prescott, Col. Daniel Needham of Manchester, J. H. Wallace of New York, (author of the "American Stud Book" and editor of the "Trotting Register,") and several gentlemen from our own State. There will be an unusual number of good speakers, and it is expected this will be one of the best meetings of the season. It is announced that the Manchester people will be hospitable to accommodate visitors, and the hotels will be reasonable in their prices. The Secretary of the Board of Agriculture will be prepared to distribute gratuitously seeds of cereals and vegetables, and it is suggested that persons desiring to sell by sample or exchange seeds, will find this a favorable opportunity.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 164.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

The oldest two-story dwelling house in Concord is the one erected by Rev. Timothy Walker, the first minister. He was settled in 1730. In the settlement, besides the salary, it was agreed to give him £100 to enable him to build a house. It seems that no house was built, for in 1733, or three years later, it was voted by the town to give £50 to be appropriated in building him a dwelling house. It is toward the north end of Main street on the east side. It fronted the street, was 40 feet long and 20 wide, with an ell. Mr. Walker had several elms set out soon after the house was built. They are there now and among the grandest in Concord, which is saying much.

The chimneys of this house were of flat stones laid in clay mortar, and plastered inside. The rooms were finished with nice panel work, as was customary in those times. More than twenty years passed before the outside was painted and then it was painted yellow. That was its color about fifty years ago. The rooms were of various colors. The north parlor and south chamber were green. The south parlor was blue. The north chamber and a sleeping room were white. The kitchen was red. Cowper says, "variety is the spice of life." There was much of it here. One was not tired with sameness. This house about six years after being built was made a garrison house, being fortified by a wall of logs around it.

In 1848 it was reconstructed and additions put on. It does not appear as of old, still the main front part is the same, with its gambrel roof as was the case with several of the best houses in old Continental times.

I think it has been occupied by the Walker family all through. Rev. Timothy Walker died. His son Hon. Timothy Walker followed. Then probably a son of the last. And now Joseph B. Walker, Esq., great grandson of the first proprietor.

Standing in and about this dwelling in June, 1876, the mind mind went back 143 years when Concord was in its infancy, the faithful pastor with the sturdy pioneers building a town, sustaining the worship of God amid many deprivations and the yells of savage Indians, several times lurking near. They toiled on and laid foundations upon which great blessings came to succeeding generations.

News and Notes.

In Newburyport, Saturday, a boy named Frank W. Little, fifteen years old, was showing a pistol to another boy of the same age, named Elmer Perkins; Little "didn't know it was loaded," and consequently shot Perkins in the forehead, but the wound is not fatal. James Hennessy, aged twelve years, son of Paul Hennessy of Newburyport, while his parents were at church Sunday, took a loaded gun, intending to frighten some little girls, when it went off, instantly killing Rosa Farrell, aged six years, shooting her through the body, and wounding two smaller girls, one severely in the leg. There is no doubt that the shooting was accidental, but the little girl is just as dead as if she had been killed on purpose.

Mrs. George Brown, of Belmont, Mass., is suspected of causing the death of a little orphan girl by most outrageous cruelty. The child was taken from the Catholic Home by Mrs. Brown. The case is being investigated.

At Lynn on Saturday Mayor Bubier, who furnishes steam power to forty or fifty shoe factories, stopped his engines and the factories had to suspend operations. Bubier claimed that the engines required repairs. On the other hand, most of these factories did not join in the crusade against the Crispins, and Mr. Bubier's action in stopping their motive power was regarded as a strategic movement to compel them to suspend. He was hooted by a large crowd in the streets, and at length started the engines again.

A young couple named Bragdon, living in Melrose, Mass., were found Friday evening by friends who called upon them in their sitting room, Mrs. Bragdon lying dead upon the sofa, and her husband near by unconscious, but still alive. Medical aid was summoned, and the man's life saved. The affair is most mysterious, but it is thought to have been caused by coal gas escaping into the room through a register. Thorough investigation will be made.

The death of Commodore Geo. N. Hollins is announced, at the age of seventy-nine. He was appointed midshipman in 1814, and was with Decatur when he was captured by the British, and afterward when he waged his war upon Algiers. In 1854 Lieutenant Hollins, then commanding the Cyane, gained not a little notoriety as the bombarder of Greytown. At the outbreak of the war, being then a captain, he resigned and escaped to the South, where he was made a commodore and where his principal exploit was the scare given by the Confederate rams and fire-rafts to the Union squadron blockading the Mississippi, early in the fall of 1861.

Robert A. Way, a saddle maker, was smothered by an incendiary fire at 284 Harrison avenue, Boston, Sunday morning.

Allen Haines, Esq., died in Pittsburg, Pa., last week. He was formerly prominently known in Maine having filled several positions of honor and trust in Portland.

A highly interesting invention is now being tested in Philadelphia, by which it is claimed that illuminating gas can be made at a cost of from twenty to thirty-five cents per thousand feet. The inventor generously offers the city the free use of the patent, provided consumers are furnished at the rate of fifty cents per thousand. He guarantees a saving of from $10,000 to $25,000 a day, and intends making the same offer to New York city. In the new process slack or refuse bituminous coal dust is used.

The clergy of the Roman Catholic Church in England have resolved, it is asserted, to reform, if not wholly abolish, the custom of "waking" the dead. The riots and excesses arising from these occasions, and the onerous expense sometimes incurred, are well-known and are to be at once suppressed. Hereafter no intoxicating liquor will be permitted nor will any person beyond the relatives of the deceased be allowed—under pain of excommunication—to take part in the ceremony.

Sparrows at the Jersey City ferries have been seen taking care of one of their number, evidently sick. There was much chippering among the birds, until it was finally settled to put the patient behind the top cornice of a pillar. The sick bird was then carried between three of its companions and deftly dropped into the chosen place. Then a dozen sparrows perched on the telegraph wire and chippered loudly at the passengers beneath. When last seen the sick sparrow was bundled up in some straw.

The U. S. S. Pensacola, flagship of the North Pacific station, Rear-Admiral Murray commanding, arrived at Honolulu December 23d, twenty-one days from San Francisco. The passage was usually stormy. Charles Roscoe, seaman, died December 15th of pneumonia. On the 28th of December the Admiral was presented to the King of the Hawaiian Islands by the American Minister, General Comly.

John P. Neilson, one of the crew of the brig Lizzie H. Kimball, states that the vessel was unnecessarily abandoned at sea on the plea that she was leaky, and that a few moments after leaving her and going on board the schooner Eva. C. Yates, the brig was discovered on fire and was burned. He intimates that the fire was set by one of the officers while the crew were being transferred to the schooner.

The report of two Massachusetts detectives, who lived with tramps as tramps for a long time, says: "During all the time we were engaged in tramping, we made it our business, at the suggestion of the chief detective, to ascertain whether it was the lack of employment that caused these people to become wanderers and vagrants. Of the entire number with whom we conversed, we found but two who did not scout the idea of going to work for the purpose of earning an honest livelihood; and we very much doubt if these two were ready to engage in any laborious employment."

The Eastern War.

The Turks have abandoned Adrianople, after burning it. The Russians have occupied the city.

The Grecian inhabitants of Thessaly and Macedonia have revolted against Turkish rule.

Refugees from Roumelia are swarming into Constantinople. The mortality among the Turkish prisoners is frightful. It is reported that the Bulgarians have massacred the inhabitants of two Turkish villages near Kezanlik.

New Hampshire Items.

It is said that Jesseman, of Dorchester, whose sister-in-law, Mrs. Dow, was fatally wounded on Wednesday of last week with a revolver, was in the habit of calling at the house throwing stones, smashing windows and furniture, and abusing his family generally. He had repeatedly threatened the lives of the women, who provided the pistol anticipating they might have use for it. Mrs. Jesseman has become insane, and her ruffianly husband has cleared out.

It is now said at Hanover that there is no foundation for the recent report of Prof. Young's intended return to Dartmouth College.

Mrs. Dow, the unfortunate victim of the Dorchester tragedy, died Saturday. Nothing has been done toward taking legal steps in the matter.

"Kent" sends the following to the Boston Traveller: "A man by the name of John Robinson, better known as "Jack" Robinson, formerly of Candia, died a day or two since at Newmarket, and on his death bed confessed to the murder of a pack pedler at Candia twenty-three years ago; and further that he was assisted by two other parties who are now both dead, one of whom was named Ward, of Candia; and that the murdered man was sunk in a swamp at Candia known as 'Dead Pond.' It is known that a pedler was missing at Candia at about the time referred to."

Dr. Andrew J. Flagg, of Claremont, has gone into bankruptcy. He seems to have sent a tidal wave over the entire press of New England, and even the Gospel Banner is one of Flagg's creditors.

Rev. J. J. Hall, pastor of the Pine street Free Baptist church at Manchester, has given notice to his people that the pulpit was not an advertising box, and tore up all the notices that had been sent from other societies, travelling shows and reformed orators whose pay depended upon the receipts of their Sunday entertainments. He stated that the daily papers contained the news, and to them they must look for such information.

Messrs. Dumas & Son, of Gorham Hall, at Exeter, have since they have taken charge of this establishment made great improvements in introducing bath-rooms and other conveniences, which can be appreciated by visitors at the "Gorham."

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. THE CITY.

Who's lost a jack-knife?

Caniata: "The Fairy Bridal." Jan. 24.

A steam tug from Boston on Saturday arrived at the navy yard with the new boilers for the U. S. S. Kearsarge.

The dance this evening at Mechanics' Hall is next to the last one of the course. Two elegant prizes will be drawn for.

Mr. John J. Leavitt has been notified that his services as conductor on the Eastern Railroad are no longer required.

The cantata, "The Fairy Bridal," founded on Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream, will be given in the Universalist vestry on Thursday evening.

Charles Harmon, confined in jail under sentence of the Supreme Court at the October term, and who is subject to fits of epilepsy, was on Saturday an application of Sheriff Kent removed by order of Judge Bingham to the hospital at the County Farm.

The locomotive which drew the train on the Eastern Railroad arriving in this city at three o'clock on Monday, was draped with insignia of mourning in honor of the memory of Bradbury Paul, its former engineer, who died on Monday morning from the effects of a cancer.

Schooner Paragon, which went ashore on Clark's island in the lower harbor on the night of the late heavy gale, was hauled off at noon on Sunday by tug Clara Batemen. She is little harmed, and will proceed to her destination when she gets a slant of wind. Schooner Ida May, Capt. Gray, another of the vessels beached in that gale, sailed for Bucksport, Me., on Sunday.

A cable despatch from Sourabaya, in the island of Java, dated Jan. 19th, was received in Boston on Sunday by Henry Hastings & Co., owners of the ship Midnight, announcing the loss of that vessel, which was abandoned in the Banda Sea; crew and part of cargo saved. The midnight left New York for Yokohama, Japan, on the 29th of July last, under command of Capt. George Wallace Tucker of this city; she was built here in 1854, by Fernald & Pettigrew, and though an old vessel was a good one, having been thoroughly overhauled but a short time ago; she was a handsome craft, and has been noted for making good passages. She registered 838 tons.

The season tickets to the opening of our new Music Hall will be placed on sale at W. R. Preston's drug store on Wednesday morning. Single tickets for any one night will be sold on and after Thursday morning. Out-of-town people wishing to attend the opening may order seats of Mr. Preston by mail or telegraph. Seats thus secured will not be held by Mr. Preston after Monday night, after which time they will be sold to the next comer if not claimed. The exercises on the first night will consist of music by the orchestra, an address by Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, and the comedy of Caste and the farce John Wopps by Thayer and Tompkin's Boston company. In addition to the other artists already advertised, Mrs. Thomas Barry and Mrs. Pennoyer of the Boston Theatre are to play on the opening nights.

Mr. Lord, of Providence, R. I., who is to favor the lyceum audience, at Franklin Hall this evening, is universally praised as a gifted delineator of dramatic productions. With a just discrimination of the popular taste, his selections abound in humorous passages, which fill the hour with fun and frolic. He shows his rich and musical voice, of great range, in several tragic and pathetic pieces, and altogether he is pronounced by the Boston papers to be one of the most successful and agreeable delineators commanding public attention. We heard many say if they had known Mr. Barlett's entertainment was going to be so brilliant they would have been present. Now there is another opportunity for an evening's entertainment at a trivial cost. The intermissions will be filled with music. Doors open at seven o'clock. Season tickets 80 cents each; for sale at Kimball's drug store, and Goodrich's and Myers' book-stores.

POLICE COURT.

Monday, Jan. 21st; Batchelder, J.

SUPREME COURT--JAN. TERM.

Monday, Jan. 21st, Bingham, J.

The following-named jurors were drawn for the second and third weeks:

Austin Cass, John Rowe, Candia; John H. Whittier, William F. Chase, Deerfield; Nath'l Ripley, Jona. H. Clement, Derry; Wm. D. Burnham, John G. Ordway, Epping; John Norris, Samuel J. Colcord, Exeter; Chas. McAllister, Frederick N. Gilcreast, Londonderry; George O. Hilton, John A. Robinson, Newmarket; Moses H. Tilton, (excused,) Joseph G. Harvey, (exc.,) Chas. E. Walker, (exc.,) Alfred S. Goss, Portsmouth, Ward 2; Wm. Holmes, (exc.,) Richard D. Smart, Ward 4; Joseph Buxton, Ezra B. Hall, Salem; Edward L. Gove, Calvin Buswell, Seabrook; Wm. G. Cole, Wm. E. Lane, Hampton; George A. Fogg, David C. Haines, Hampton Falls; Joseph N. Austin, Thomas H. Blake, Kensington; Augustus K. Brown, Nath'l L. Maloon, (the last two to report on Tuesday) Portsmouth, Ward 2; latter excused.

On the call of the docket, after empanelling of the jurors, the case Gordon vs. Boston & Maine Railroad was found to be ready for trial on Tuesday; case Chas. W. Martin, (formerly of Portsmouth,) vs. Levi G. Towle of Exeter, to recover damages for injuries received while being carried from Exeter to Hampton Beach, is also in order for trial.

Cases Calvin Page vs. Lewis W. Brewster et al., executor in review, and of Wm. H. Brewster, appellee, vs. C. Page, adm'r of George G. Brewster, appellant, were continued.

Case John W. Wilson vs. John Dame, for the reward for apprehending a convict escaped from Charlestown (Mass.) State prison, was referred and continued.

In case Jane S. Janvrin vs. Geo. Janvrin, on the equity docket, libel for divorce, a judgment on report of referee denying the divorce prayed for, and the case dimissed. The libellee had filed since the last term his libel for divorce against Mrs. Janvrin, which has also been dismissed without prejudice. So the parties are now in condition to begin litigation anew.

The first case in order is Creswell, Trustee Freedmen's Bureau, vs. Rev. James Pike, a suit to recover $5000 for a promissory note given to the bank, but which Pike says was given by him, but not discounted for him by the bank. It is claimed that his son used it as collateral.

In case Dunbrach vs. Hobbs, the defendant has asked for a review.

THE E. H. PRAY PIRACY.

On Saturday the examination of William May, late mate of schooner E. H. Pray, was commenced before United States Commissioner Betts of New York, a son of Commissioner Betts appearing for May.

Mr. Chalmers, the first witness, testified that he chartered the E. H. Pray for Baltimore, and loaded her with fish, axle grease, oil, varnish, pickles and powder. May, as mate of the vessel, signed the bills of lading; witness saw May on the 16th inst., under arrest, when he claimed to be the cook of the schooner. When witness asked him why he signed the bills of lading if he were only the cook, May replied that Ross, the mate, could not write, and Capt. Clark requested him (May) to sign for the cargo. Witness told May he was in a bad fix, the crime he assisted to commit being piracy, to which he answered that he had supposed it was robbery only. May was evidently in the greatest terror while in the court.

The police officer who arrested May testified to the circumstances of finding the Guide at Communipaw, and to May's statements. May told witness he had been hired as a watchman by Capt. Clark, and accounted for some money in his possession by saying Capt. Clark gave him $10 to get the Guide towed down in case she should get adrift. May then told the officer that the last time he saw Capt. Clark was on Monday, 14th inst., when he went ashore, taking two packages with him; he afterward admitted having helped load the E. H. Pray, and that he was on board of her five days. The enquiry was adjourned to Monday.

On Saturday night the whole cargo of the Guide was transferred to schooner G. W. Baldwin, of Rockland, Me., to be taken to Baltimore, Mr. Chalmers, the shipper, having given bonds of indemnity to the police authorities.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, Jan. 21st.

Mr. Hoyt, of Newington, is to teach the Centre school for the remainder of the term, a petition signed by quite a number of the voters in the district for the reinstating of the former teacher not being successful in its object.

The ladies of the Congregational society have funds sufficient to purchase an organ for the church, and the procuring of one is in the hands of a committee.

Messrs. Bowdish and Hadley joined together their congregations last Sunday evening week at the Christian church, and last night did the same thing at the Congregational. Both meetings were fully attended; and it is pleasant to note such evidence of Christian feeling and brotherly love as is thus manifested by the two societies which worship at the Centre.

The Rye Musical Union has not come together since the visit to North Hampton; neither is there any singing school held this winter, so that the Town Hall is not in so much demand as it was last winter. The band meet once a week, but have for the present lost the services of their leader, Mr. C. M. Rand, who has left town temporarily. During his absence G. H. Jenness, Esq., serves in that capacity; and, by the way, he was the lucky individual to whom was voted the silver pitcher at the Fair at Little River last week, and it is said he intends holding a reception some night soon,—and of course he won't have anything but what is perfectly lawful to go into, or come out of, that pitcher on that occasion; but, if it should happen that the receipt for Daniel Webster's punch, which has been published in all the papers except the Portsmouth Weekly—and of course came under the eye of G. H., should by any means be concocted and find its way into that pitcher, don't anybody believe that it would stay there long, even if there is a petition in circulation praying Congress to pass laws to prevent the importation of champagne on and after A. D. 1900.

Ten marriages and thirty-seven births in Rye during 1877. It is possible that these figures are not correct and any one is at liberty to dispute them, and give the right ones if they can.

Excepting the summer cottages, there is but one unoccupied house in town—the Congregational parsonage.

Four new-married couples were at church yesterday, and they did look so nice that it was real happiness to gaze upon them. NAT.

THE VICINITY.

At the auction sale of stock in Boston on Saturday, Boston & Maine Railroad shares sold at $99.75, Cocheco Manufacturing Co., at $712.50, and Salmon Falls at $230.

Mrs. Bennett of South Newmarket, whose ante-mortem statement as to the shooting by the tramp was taken by direction of the County Solicitor, is reported as being in an improved condition of health.

A large party of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Shaw, of York, gave the happy couple a congratulatory surprise party on Wednesday evening; they were most hospitably received, and a very pleasant evening was passed.

It is proposed by parties in Seabrook, Exeter and that region, to form a company, obtain a charter, and build a road from South Seabrook to the beach, and erect a hotel,—the title of Richard Fowler and Ananias Fowler to the beach from Hampton river to the State line having been confirmed by the Supreme Court of New Hampshire after a litigation of eight years.

Mrs. Burleigh, of South Newmarket, who died two years ago, gave by her will property (real and personal) to the amount of $8000, to the Congregational society, after the death of her husband, Capt. N. E. Burleigh. Capt. Burleigh has released his claim to the property, and the society is now in full possession of the same. The society pay to Capt. Burleigh a certain sum annually during his lifetime. Including their parsonage the society now have property to the value of $10,000, outside of their church property.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—A young lady was undecided whether to accept the addresses of James or John. James gave her a seal-skin sacque, and she immediately gave the sack to John.

—A Milwaukee man, who deposited one hundred dollars in a bank, and was told the interest would be five per cent., came promptly at the end of the year with five dollars in small currency to pay that interest. When told that the five dollars went the other way, he looked up in astonishment, and he went away wondering why a man should pay him for being allowed to take care of his money a whole year.

—The first thing is to make your sermon plain. Mr. Blomfield preached on the text, "The fool hath said in his heart, 'There is no God.'" Wishing to find out how it pleased his people, he called a poor foolish man to the pulpit and asked him how he liked the sermon. The reply, which made Blomfield a sadder and wiser man, was: "Well, sir, I must say I can't agree with you. In spite of all you've said, I think there must be a God."

CAUTION.

The great popularity of "ASTRAL" OIL has induced some unprincipled persons to sell worthless and dangerous imitations for "ASTRAL," while others palm off inferior oils, representing them as good as "ASTRAL." To prevent this fraud, purchasers should demand "ASTRAL" and take no other.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Centaur

Liniments.

They relieve pain;
They subdue swellings;
They cure burns without a scar.

The White Centaur Liniment is now the standard remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Frost Bites, Cakes, Bruises, Itch, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc. These Liniments have stood the test of time. They have yet earned more wonderful cures of obstinate bed-ridden cripples, and have alleviated more pains in a shorter space of time, than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Ointments and Salves in existence. Their sale is increasing regularly and rapidly. Their best endorsers are physicians, surgeons and veterinaries. There is literally no case of flesh, bone, or muscle ailment upon either man or beast which the Centaur Liniments will not alleviate and generally cure. But it must be understood that there are two kinds of Liniment; the White is for family use and the Yellow for horses and animals. For horses and mules liable to Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Strains, Stringhalt, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold. We have thousands of certificates relating how valuable horses have been specially restored by a dollar bottle of this wonderful all-healing remedy. The same is constantly told of the effects upon the human frame. Persons hobbling upon crutches for years from Stiff Joints, Tumors and Old Sores, have, by the use of a few bottles of the White Centaur Liniment, been restored to the use of all their limbs. The effects are not so marvelous. We will give the Liniment to any person who ever heard of a sinew. Such a case has never been reported to us. These Liniments are now sold throughout the habitable globe.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Honey

To the taste but death to Gripes and Stomach complaints. Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. No remedy is as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gripes nor gripes.

COLUMBIA, CONN., May 3, 1876.

MESSRS. J. B. ROSE & CO., N. Y.

I have a family of eight children, and have used your CASTORIA. I have never found anything equal to it. My children have been saved from severe sickness by the use of CASTORIA. I recommend it in preference to any medicine I know. I feel it a pleasure to give this certificate on account of the benefits I have derived by the use of your admirable preparation.

Very truly yours,
NORMAN P. LITTLE.

The Centaur Liniments are the greatest remedies ever discovered for all flesh, bone, and muscle ailments—Bites, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, etc. What the White Liniment does for the human family, the Yellow Liniment does for horses and animals. They are cheap, they are convenient, and they are certain in their effects.

Children cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey. It contains no opiate or other deleterious ingredient, and is sure to expel worms, cure wind colic, regulate the bowels and stomach, and overcome irritation caused by rash or cutting teeth. Mothers can rest, and children enjoy health, who use Castoria. It is harmless, it is certain, it is speedy, and it is cheap.

DR. PIERCE'S

STANDARD

REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot succeed against a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

Golden Medical Discovery

Is Tonic.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an equal remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is all warped and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or scrofula-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, morbid heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irritable and easily offended, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only some of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P.P.P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

The "little giant" Cathartic, or Sylphide Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seed, and as easy to take as sugar-coated pills. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, here-to-fore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed by any medicine. It would pay to either action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair their powers of these Pellets. They are so sugar coated, and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved uninjured for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, being daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Pimples, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

O ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either or them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; then renews the growth; and always (if a germ remains) restores its color, when faded or gray.

It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and prevents both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft — under which conditions, disease of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

IMPORTANT LETTER
From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or ha tened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system stacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope or belief of cure of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed 1 to hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acidified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membranes by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.
NORSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1876.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in private, not only freely recommend it but use it in preference to the majority of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure but between you and me, I received an immediate relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised many of my friends and I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN:—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint of it.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we think hence afflicted should be convinced of its great merit as a thorough remedy. It is relieved. We have been in the drug business for the last twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. If you care proper you can use this letter or any part of it for your benefit.

Very truly yours,
S. D. BALDWIN & CO

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any discovery in the history of the healing art. Until the vital spark has fled the body, restoration by means of electricity is possible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has frequently thousands, apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and the pine gums of the Eastern forests will known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its distinct and entirely produces more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. Price, 25 Cents.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Charles Henry Moulton, who recently surrendered himself in London for extradition to this country on a charge of forgery, is said to be a most accomplished scoundrel, who by making use of religion as a cloak succeeded in swindling people in Hartford out of about $75,000.

At Pittsfield, Mass., Monday, George Howard was found guilty of outraging Mrs. Wm. Marcy in Otis last fall, and goes to State prison for life. Howard is a colored tramp. Herbert L. Blanchard, the hero of the Savoy shooting cases, pleaded guilty and throw himself on the mercy of the court.

Some time since a man named James Rose was shot in the street in New York, and a notorious rough and Tammany politician named Martin Geoghegan was found close by with a smoking pistol in his hand. A coroner's jury has just brought in a verdict that Rose was shot "by some person unknown," and the assassin has been discharged. Geoghegan "swings too many votes" for the democracy to be punished for such a trifle as cold-blooded murder, in New York.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wond rful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using, sent by mail, by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W.
